

THE OMAHA SUNDAY BEE

PUBLISHED EVERY MORNING.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION. Daily (except Sundays) One Year, $1.00. Daily (except Sundays) Six Months, $0.60. Daily (except Sundays) Three Months, $0.35. Daily (except Sundays) One Month, $0.12. Single Copies, $0.05.

ADVERTISING RATES. One square (10 lines) first week, $1.00. Each succeeding week, $0.75. Long copy, $0.50 per line per week.

STATEMENT OF CIRCULATION. Total copies printed, 100,000. Total copies distributed, 85,000. Total copies on hand, 15,000.

LINCOLN, BLAINE, GARFIELD, BRYAN

The republican silver apostates who are coveting the country under pay of the silver trust never tire of desecrating the memory of Abraham Lincoln by parading him as the prototype of William Jennings Bryan. They constantly and persistently pretend to cite Lincoln, Blaine and Garfield as endorsers of the dishonest scheme to scale public and private debt by the free coinage of the world's silver at a ratio only one-half its commercial value.

The only tangible thing that in any way connects Abraham Lincoln with the silver question, which was not even thought of in his day, is the verbal message said to have been given by the martyred president to Schuyler Colfax when he was about to start across the continent in 1845.

Blaine's position on the silver issue was clearly defined during the debate over the Bland-Allison act. In that speech Mr. Blaine said: "To monetize silver now as though the essential conditions had not changed is willfully and blindly to deceive ourselves."

McKinley's speeches will be read and quoted years after Bryan's speeches shall have been forgotten.

Should the workman vote to cut down his own wages just because by so doing he will also cut down his employer's profits?

These Colorado bank robbers doubtless intended only to make a forced loan which they will pay back if they are able to do so as soon as they can discharge the debt in 50-cent dollars.

McKinley seldom talks without uttering some lofty patriotic sentiment. Bryan's speechmaking consists entirely of appeals to passion and prejudice and denunciations of the so-called "money power."

If the weekly clearing house report does not show an increase for Omaha, at least her percentage of decrease is among the smallest in the list, and is a little less than the average falling off in the entire country.

Remember that there are twelve constitutional amendments to be voted for at the coming election. Read the amendments over carefully and convince yourself that you have no reasonable excuse for not voting for them.

If the Bismarck letter can be translated from one language to the other a few more times nothing will be left but the date and the signature, which are the only two parts which have not been tampered with and distorted.

Ex-Surgeon Hamilton of the Marine hospital corps has learned that resignations in his branch of the federal service are so uncommon that they are snatched up by the superior officers like bargains in a department store.

Tom Reed and Tom Watson are not often associated by any combination of circumstances. But with both of them temporarily removed from the stump by sore throat the Bryan forces claim to be making giant strides toward success.

The old soldier must not forget that when he votes to decrease the purchasing power of the dollar he votes to cut down by just that much every pension drawn by every dependent veteran or his widow that a grateful nation has seen fit to bestow upon his brave defenders.

Archbishop Ireland has pointed out the true path of patriotism so many times before that his present warning against the destructive policy of the popocrats will carry weight with it to those who recognize in the enlightened prelate an authority born of insight and experience.

With its historic elephant burned down and its hotels and pavilions washed away by floods, Coney Island's glory is departed for a time; but it is safe to say that the coming season will see the great summer resort rehabilitated and once more prepared to entertain its throngs of pleasure seekers.

The freight car famine, which is reported as increasing in severity throughout the grain producing region, indicates two things. In connection with the advancing prices of grain it shows the dawn of coming prosperity. And it demonstrates the inadequacy of the shipping facilities of the railroads, which have had weeks to prepare for this inevitable emergency and still are not ready to meet it.

What the silver members of the Typographical union ought to do is to demand the demonetization of the type-setting and typesetting machines. What has made employment scarce for the printers has been the introduction of these improved mechanical devices.

What the silver members of the Typographical union ought to do is to demand the demonetization of the type-setting and typesetting machines. What has made employment scarce for the printers has been the introduction of these improved mechanical devices.

silver? The supply exceeds the demand. China and Japan, being the ultimate consumers of most of the white metal produced, are not increasing their supply of silver. The commerce of those countries is not so active as it was a short time ago and this of course decreases the demand for silver.

Mr. Bryan has made no reference to the advance in the price of wheat and the decline in the price of silver, although he must be aware of it. It is one of those stubborn facts, however, which like the record of the democratic tariff he finds it convenient to ignore.

MARK HANNA'S CONSPIRACY. We live in an age of great conspiracies. We have had conspiracies when the dollar of the daddies was dropped from our coinage.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST. There is a confident feeling in the east that William McKinley will be the next president of the United States and it is beginning to manifest itself in business, thus clearly indicating what would immediately follow republican success.

Only One in Doubt. Chicago Times-Herald. From present appearances about the only doubtful northern state next month will be Canada.

California's Gold Mine. Chicago Record. With over 10,000 tons of wheat leaving the Golden Gate for India, and with a prospect of still further shipments, the gold mine in California is beginning to realize that the great San Joaquin valley is a more profitable gold mine than any the forty-miners discovered.

Better Times Approaching. St. Louis Times. The wheat famine in Ireland must be added to the great shortage in India and Argentina to get the measure of the deficiency they still have to supply in the foodstuffs markets of the world.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION. It is to be hoped the statement that comes from Washington regarding an understanding with Great Britain for an amicable settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute has a substantial foundation.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

of the union and if the ambitions and jealousies of leaders do not cause trouble there is reason to think that the new republic will be permanent. In that case the example could hardly fail to exert an influence upon the other countries of Central America favorable to the establishment of one great republic, which is the hope of some Central American statesmen.

MARK HANNA'S CONSPIRACY. We live in an age of great conspiracies. We have had conspiracies when the dollar of the daddies was dropped from our coinage. We have had conspiracies when the greenback was made exchangeable for gold.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST. There is a confident feeling in the east that William McKinley will be the next president of the United States and it is beginning to manifest itself in business, thus clearly indicating what would immediately follow republican success.

Only One in Doubt. Chicago Times-Herald. From present appearances about the only doubtful northern state next month will be Canada.

California's Gold Mine. Chicago Record. With over 10,000 tons of wheat leaving the Golden Gate for India, and with a prospect of still further shipments, the gold mine in California is beginning to realize that the great San Joaquin valley is a more profitable gold mine than any the forty-miners discovered.

Better Times Approaching. St. Louis Times. The wheat famine in Ireland must be added to the great shortage in India and Argentina to get the measure of the deficiency they still have to supply in the foodstuffs markets of the world.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION. It is to be hoped the statement that comes from Washington regarding an understanding with Great Britain for an amicable settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute has a substantial foundation.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

first regarded as unique soon became a bore, and has finally become intolerable. As soon as the people decline to lend themselves and their substance to promote this kind of imposture, the peripatetic beggars will have to turn to something else or work for a living.

MARK HANNA'S CONSPIRACY. We live in an age of great conspiracies. We have had conspiracies when the dollar of the daddies was dropped from our coinage. We have had conspiracies when the greenback was made exchangeable for gold.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST. There is a confident feeling in the east that William McKinley will be the next president of the United States and it is beginning to manifest itself in business, thus clearly indicating what would immediately follow republican success.

Only One in Doubt. Chicago Times-Herald. From present appearances about the only doubtful northern state next month will be Canada.

California's Gold Mine. Chicago Record. With over 10,000 tons of wheat leaving the Golden Gate for India, and with a prospect of still further shipments, the gold mine in California is beginning to realize that the great San Joaquin valley is a more profitable gold mine than any the forty-miners discovered.

Better Times Approaching. St. Louis Times. The wheat famine in Ireland must be added to the great shortage in India and Argentina to get the measure of the deficiency they still have to supply in the foodstuffs markets of the world.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION. It is to be hoped the statement that comes from Washington regarding an understanding with Great Britain for an amicable settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute has a substantial foundation.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND'S LETTER.

Philadelphia Press: Archbishop Ireland's private opinion publicly expressed is that Bryanism is a fraud. There is a general disposition among the clergy, irrespective of denominational lines, to coincide with the archbishop.

MARK HANNA'S CONSPIRACY. We live in an age of great conspiracies. We have had conspiracies when the dollar of the daddies was dropped from our coinage. We have had conspiracies when the greenback was made exchangeable for gold.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST. There is a confident feeling in the east that William McKinley will be the next president of the United States and it is beginning to manifest itself in business, thus clearly indicating what would immediately follow republican success.

Only One in Doubt. Chicago Times-Herald. From present appearances about the only doubtful northern state next month will be Canada.

California's Gold Mine. Chicago Record. With over 10,000 tons of wheat leaving the Golden Gate for India, and with a prospect of still further shipments, the gold mine in California is beginning to realize that the great San Joaquin valley is a more profitable gold mine than any the forty-miners discovered.

Better Times Approaching. St. Louis Times. The wheat famine in Ireland must be added to the great shortage in India and Argentina to get the measure of the deficiency they still have to supply in the foodstuffs markets of the world.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION. It is to be hoped the statement that comes from Washington regarding an understanding with Great Britain for an amicable settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute has a substantial foundation.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

BLASTS FROM BAME'S HORN.

Better be a lamp in the house than try to be a star in the sky. Do what you can do well and you will soon be able to do much better. Time is wasted in trying to make a crotchet out of a horse with a broken leg.

MARK HANNA'S CONSPIRACY. We live in an age of great conspiracies. We have had conspiracies when the dollar of the daddies was dropped from our coinage. We have had conspiracies when the greenback was made exchangeable for gold.

THE FEELING IN THE EAST. There is a confident feeling in the east that William McKinley will be the next president of the United States and it is beginning to manifest itself in business, thus clearly indicating what would immediately follow republican success.

Only One in Doubt. Chicago Times-Herald. From present appearances about the only doubtful northern state next month will be Canada.

California's Gold Mine. Chicago Record. With over 10,000 tons of wheat leaving the Golden Gate for India, and with a prospect of still further shipments, the gold mine in California is beginning to realize that the great San Joaquin valley is a more profitable gold mine than any the forty-miners discovered.

Better Times Approaching. St. Louis Times. The wheat famine in Ireland must be added to the great shortage in India and Argentina to get the measure of the deficiency they still have to supply in the foodstuffs markets of the world.

THE VENEZUELAN QUESTION. It is to be hoped the statement that comes from Washington regarding an understanding with Great Britain for an amicable settlement of the Venezuelan boundary dispute has a substantial foundation.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Doing Something for Silver. How the Government has Supported the White Metal. The number of silver dollars in the country in September, 1892, according to the official Monthly Summary of Finance and Commerce, just issued by the Bureau of Statistics, was 415,742,355, and the value of silver bullion in the treasury was $86,000,554.

Peerless as a Land Grabber. St. Louis Republic. Lord Roscher's remarkable statement as to the extent of the territory acquired by Great Britain within twelve years—about 2,500,000 square miles—calls attention to the extraordinary love of land grabbing which has always characterized British statesmanship.

Browning, King & Co. S. W. Cor. 15th and Douglas Sts.