TAYLOR OUT IN A NEW ROLE

Scheme by Which He Hopes to Retain His Official Position.

HE JOINS HANDS WITH THE POPOCRATS

Forces Davis Off the City Ticket in the Eighth Ward and Will Make the Race for the City Conneil.

Cadet Taylor, who was a candidate for the council and was turned down at the to get out of his agreement not to run as a republican for the council from the Eighth ward that at last he seems to have found the way. In order to do so, however, he published in two newspapers on the day has been compelled to change his politics before each registration day, the law being and run on the democratic ticket. Such as follows: The boundaries of all election is a well authenticated rumor that was prevalent among a few politicians yesterday. necessary to induce the democratic nominee of the ward, J. H. Davis, to withdraw his name and it is said that this has already been done. Tuesday Davis confided to a lasue of each of the papers so selected prior friend that he had come to the conclusion, to each day of registration or revision of that he had no earthly show against Tom registration, and on such days only." It Crocker and had no money to spend in the was shown that the city council had directed effort to secure an election. Therefore he the city clerk to publish only the location had determined to get off the ticket and of the voting booth and the times of regisleave the field for some one else.

For the past week or more Taylor has been laying siege to Davis' store and it was confidently predicted by the politicians that Davis was playing the part of the coy maiden, for one day he would tell his friends that he would not withdraw from the ticket and the next that his chances were so poor that he was sure that he could not be elected.

With Davis off the ticket the next step. in the plan will be to put Taylor on. A prominent politician of the free silver party when questioned on the matter said: "I presume that Taylor will be put on the Eighth ward ticket. I see no objection to that because I have always favored non-partisanship in municipal elections. Taylor will certainly win. He will hold his own the Irish vote, which would otherwise have gone to the regular democratic nominee."
Prior to the republican primaries Taylor made an agreement with the four other re-publican candidates in the Eighth ward This agreement was to the effect that each should abide by the result of the primaries and should make no further run for the council. Each of the five. Taylor included. signed this agreement in black and white

Taylor affixed his name in the firm be lief that he would win at the primaries. When Tom Crocker beat him out, however another phase was put upon the matter. He did not then hesitate an instant in go-ing back upon the agreement he had made. His first attempt to squirm out of it was made in the republican city convention, but that was a flat failure, as he was turned down worse than at the polls.

It was then that Taylor made his first overtures to the democrats. It is stated that the proposition was made even then that he be placed on the popocratic ticket. The deal went so far that it was the intention to present his name to the con-vention as the Eighth ward candidate, but at that time the deal with Davis could not be consummated and Davis held the key to the altuation, as he was the choice of the Therefore Davis was allowed to secure the nomination

Since then Taylor has been feeling his way toward running as an independent candidate. Secret meetings have been held at his house, at which his chances have been discussed in detail. The apparent con-clusion, however, scemed to be that his following in the ward would not be able him to victory if Davis remained in the field. The only way out of the difficulty, therefore, was to induce Davis to withdraw and to corral the democratic vote

VERY ANXIOUS TO RUN FOR OFFICE.

Alstadt, as a Candidate for Justice. Files His Petition. William Alstadt filed a protest with the county clerk yesterday against the action of the republican county central committee in appointing George Cockrell as the republican nominee for the vacancy in the office of justice of the peace. The main ground of the protest, as published Tuesday, to of the protest, as published Tuesday, is that the county committee was not authorized by the convention to fill vacancies which might occur on the ticket. It is also alleged that Alstadt is entitled to the appointment by virtue of the fact that he was nominated first by the convention. There are other minor reasons urged in support of the protest. The county clerk has given notice that he will hear arguments on the protest at 1 p. m. today.

In order to be on the safe side, Alstadt has also filed with the requirty clerk a non-

M'KINLEY SENTIMENT GROWING.

South Dakota Now Placed in the Me-

Kinley Column. Charles V. Miles of this city has returned from Hot Springs, S. D. He says that republican sentiment has developed at an extraordinary rate in South Dakota, and that there is no longer any question but that it will give McKinley a decisive majority. "Last Monday," said Mr. Miles, "there was a big rally at Hot Springs, which was one of the most enthusiastic political meetings ever held in that part of the state. During the day I talked with James Munn of the state central committee, who assured me that a most conservative estimate gave Mc-Kinley at least 7,000 majority. The people are getting down to sober thinking, and the result has caused a tremendous change

In sentiment during the past three weeks.
"Secretary O'Dell of the democratic central committee, who has been a lifelong demo-crat and an active worker for the party announced to the republican committee that he had become converted to the sound money cause. He took off his Bryan button and replaced it by one which bore Mc Kinley's picture, and is now working for the republican ticket."

IJAMS COMES OUT FOR M'KINLEY.

Has Been Cured of a Tariff for Reve-

County Clerk Redfield has received a letter from Captain W. H. Ijams, who is in Chicego, asking certain information regarding his right to vote at the coming election The captain states that he is confined to his hed by rheumatism, and will be unable to return in time to register, and asks the clerk about qualifying as a voter on election

Captain Ijams is well known about Omaha as one of the fathers of the democratic party, and has been a consistent member of that party through thick and thin, and of that party through these and thin, and in view of these feets the fellowing paragraph in his letter is of particular interest: "I am a McKinley man on the American protective system, and shail vote accordingly it has been left to a democratic administration to cure me of the folly of a 'tariff for revenue only."

"The State of Nebraska ex rel Victor Rose Beecher Highy, City Clerk," is the title of a case brought before Judge Keysor yesterday afternoon for the purpose of compelling a compliance with the law requiring the publication of the boundaries of voting districts in two newspapers having a gen-

The case was set for hearing at 2 o'clock, but upon request of the city attorney it was postponed until 4:30 o'clock in order to af ord him time to lock up authorities.

Shortly after 3 o'clock City Attorney Concell called at the office of the relator and in the presence of a third party attempted to induce him to withdraw his suit on promrepublican city primaries, and who received another defeat at the hands of the city convention a day later, has wiggled so hard

The contention of the relator was that the law clearly specifies that a detailed description of the voting districts must be precincts, and the location of all places of registration, or revision of registration, shall article in the store. So thoroughly have the publicly advertised in at least two news-In order to put the plan through it was papers published and of general circula-secessary to induce the democratic nominee too in said city, in the last issue of each of said papers selected preceding the first day of any general registration, or revision of registration, and one notice in the last tration, ignoring entirely the requirement regarding publishing the description of the boundaries.

The city attorney appeared for the city and said the action of the council had been taken at his suggestion, and he said there was no necessity for publishing the lengthy description of voting districts for the reason that every veter in the city knows the boundaries of the district in which he lives and knows where to register and that, therefore, the publication required by law was an unnecessary expense. He stated that there was not enough money in the treasury to pay the salaries of city officials, and the expense of advertising could not be borne. The city attorney also took the ground that the law did not enjoin upon the city clerk the duty of publishing the notice in ques ion and that it was not a part of his duty to do so, and it was therefore asserted that the suit was not properly brought. Judge Keysor took the matter under ad-visement and gave notice that he would

Well Laid Plans. It has leaked out that the action of the city council in refusing to receive the mayor's communication, withdrawing John T. Clarke's name at the last meeting before the city primaries, has caused a serious disarrangement of the plans of the council combination. A councilman, who is known to be on the inside, is authority for the statement that up to that time it was definitely understood that after Clarke was turned down the mayor would appoint J. H. Winspear as chairman of the board. In return for this concession the local corpora-tions that had been making a vigorous fight against Clarke were to turn in and effect the re-election of Mayor Broatch. But Mayor Broatch wanted the Clarke matter decided at once, and certain councilmen were equally anxious that it should be held over until after the primaries. The result was that the mayor broke over the traces, and, it is said on the same authority, that he has now refused point blank to appoint Winspear.

THOSE CUT RATE TICKETS AGAIN. Chairman Caldwell Will Take Up the Investigation.

Chairman Caldwell of the Transcontinental Passenger association has taken up the investigation of the cut rate tickets that have been offered by local brokers for secondclass trips between here and the Pacific coast. It is known that either the Burlingon, the Colorado Midland, the Rio Grande Western or the Southern Pacific has been paying generous commissions to the Omaha brokers, and it is commonly supposed that the Midland is "the colored man in the wood This suspicion is strengthened b the fact that Chairman Caldwell sent for George W. Ristine, receiver and genera nanager of the Midland, the other day, and told him that appearances were very much against his road, and that such practices as dealing with brokers and paying commissions to outsiders must be stopped at The general manager promised to shake up his passenger department and to warn them against further tricks of that

BARBER CLAIM IS NOT YET SAFE. Movement to Reconsider the Action of

Tuesday Evening. The action of the city council Tuesday night in voting to pay the Barber Asphalt company $34,395, practically the full amount of its long-disputed claim, was the subject of much unfavorable comment on the streets yesterday. Part of this claim is outlawed under the statute of limitations, and its collection has been turned down by five successive councils. The reasons why the claim has never before been allowed are well known o the majority of taxpavers. The fact that the company refused to repair the streets as ordered by the Board of Public Works has never been disputed, and over and over again the council has refused to pay for work that was never done. But Tuesday night the bills were reported by Chairman Kennard of the finance committee with a recom-mendation that they be paid after a reduction of something over $1,000 had been made and the report was adopted by a vote of 13 to 14. It is not entirely settled, however, that the effort to secure the payment of the claim will succeed. The matter has been secretly worked up for several weeks past and according to the vote Tuesday night the Barber company has enough votes to pass the concurrent resolution, closing the deal. Several of the members who voted for the committee report, however, now assert that they voted for it under a misapprehension and that they will assist in having it recon-

Councilman Axford, who voted for the report, has filed the customary notice of a motion to reconsider at the next meeting, and he and Mercer declare they will vote to reconsider. Whether they will suchave apparently enough votes to prevent a reconsideration. On the other hand, unless the situation changes, those who oppose the claim can prevent the passage of a concurrent resolution carrying the recommenda-tions of the report into effect. In this exigency it is intimated that the mayor is n favor of allowing the claim, and that the city attorney may confess judgment in the case on the authority of last night's action of the council, and without waiting for the passage of a resolution.

HOT ON TRAIL OF THE ROBBERS.

One Man Arrested Supposed to Be Implicated in Fast Mail Hold-Up. The government marshals, nided by deectives of the Union Pacific railway and of the Pacific Express company, are said to be on a hot trail of the robbers who successfully help up the Union Pacific's fast mail at Uintah, Utah, last week. A man was arrested at Spokane, Wash., on Tuesday night with upwards of $200 worth of postage stamps in his possession. It is believed that he is connected with the Uintah affair and that he knows of the whereabouts of more valuable matter and its possessors.

Superintendent Bancroft of the Union Paoffic's mountain division, under whose di-rection the search for the robbers is being onducted, immediately telegraphed for a complete description of the man arrested. The officials in this city have not yet heard whether the description tallies with that of the man seen by the conductor and engineer Chief Canada is now out in that country himself, and has taken charge of the search. There were two Davises, one Joe and the other Charles, and both were arrested for burglary. They had separate trials and Charles was convicted first. When sentend was pronounced, however, Joe Davis took his place before the bar instead of Charles and was sentenced to fifteen months in the penitentiary. Joe intended, in case the other case was diamissed, to allow Charles to get out of the country and then escape punishment by disdlosing the fact that the wrong man had been sentenced. The plan was nipped in the bud, however, and Charles went to the pen.

SOLO BY THE MARROAD COMPANY. COOPER IS SEEKING PROTECTION.

Asserts Other Stockholders in Company Propose to Freeze Him Out. The courts have been called upon to settle another squabble between contending stockholders in a corporation. In this case Francis D. Cooper has secured an order from Judge Keysor restraining Henry Livesey and Mark Hansen from doing certain things which he alleges are for the purpose of freezing him out of a corporation in which they are all directors.

In his petition Cooper states that he is the owner of a patent process of making brick, known as the continuous kiln pro-cess. He says he owned all the stocks in a corporation organized for the purpose sushing the process and also owned a half atterest in a company called the Grand View Brick company, which owned twelve lots in Grand View addition, in the south-eastern part of the city, on which were erected a number of buildings, all valued at $50,000. On this property there was a mortgage for $5,500 and unpaid taxes amounting to $1,500. The mortgage was in process of foreclosure and Cooper states that he sold the defendants, Livesey and Hansen, a two-thirds interest in this property, the agree-ment being, as he alleges, that the property was to be foreclosed and then the defendants were to pay off the mortgage and taxes and have the property deeded to the Continuo Kiln company

Cooper alleges that he has only recently discovered that instead of having the property deeded to the Continuous Kiln company the defendants had the property deeded t themselves as individuals, and he further alleges that only a few days ago Livesey conveyed a half interest in the property to the Brick Maunfacturing and Building assothe Brick Maunfacturing and Building asso-ciation, a corporation composed of the de-fendant Livesey, and his sons. Cooper al-leges that the latter deed contains an ex-pressed consideration of $500, but he charges that there was no consideration. He prays the court to compel the defendants to deed the property in dispute to the Continuous Kiin company and asserts that unless this is done the defendants will transfer all the is done the defendants will transfer all the roperty of the Continuous Kiln company he new organization and thereby defrauc him of all his interest in the concern.

Were Arrested.
C. B. Evans, traveling salesman for P. B Haight & Co., local grocers, and Henry C. Templar, one of the members of the firm have begun suit against a number of Sweet Springs, Mo., merchants for $10,000 damages each, for false imprisonment.

The suits grow out of the arrest of the two men on December 20 of last year. They were canvassing for the firm in Missouri taking orders for goods directly from the farmers and others. This aroused the ire of local merchants, who maintained that the firm was violating the state law by failing to take out a license. The case came to trial last March and the court dismissed it. It was held that inasmuch as the grocery firm was located in Omaha and sold goods on orders and not directly, it was not compelled to take out a license. It was held that they had the same rights as drummers who solicited orders from merchants. Held to the District Court.

Nebraska Overcoats wear better, hold their shape better and look better in the long run than any Overcoats at the same price. It is wisdom to get all you can for your money. It is wisdom to buy as cheap as you can. It is wisdom to get as much as you can and pay as litt'e as you can, but it very is poor wisdom to overlook wear. Nebraska Overcoats have got to wear. We haven't got an Overcoat in our house that we can't guarantee to wear and we have them as low as $3.75. Our $9.50 Dress Kersey is a marvel of style, goodness and wear.
