Broadway-Council Bluffs, Ia. Laustrip Convicts Himself. William Wray has brought a foreclosure suit against W. A. Mynster, trustee of the Maria Mynster estate, on a $1,000 note given December 9, 1893.

Suit was begun yesterday by J. J. Stewart, Suit was begun yesterday by J. J. Stewart, and it is not improbable that the plaintiff will be prosecuted in the district court for a confessed flagrant violation of the Iowa election laws. The suit was brought by P. P. Laustrip against the property of the relate of A. Cochran against R. N. Whittlesey, who was chairman of the democratic city central committee last year. Laustrip alleged that Whittlesey owed him $2.50, and when he went on the witness stand to support his claim he frankly adnitted that the debt was created at the last election and grew out of an arrangement by which he was to cast his vote for the democratic nominees. His explanation and testimony relieved Chairman Whittlesey of any responsibility of the crime. Laustrip had been placed on duty as a special police-man at one of the polling places, and during the day he got very drunk. Just before the polls closed it was discovered that he had not voted and Whittlesey called upon him mated that if Whittlesey would advance the same amount he would vote anyhow. The oposition was declined. A few moments later another man approached Laustrip and inquired the reason of his delay in voting and was given the same answer. This man told him to go ahead and vote and he would get his $2.50. Laustrip ollowed his advice and voted the democratic ticket. The next day he presented his bill to Whittlesey and was cordially told to go to Texas. Lausirip glibly testified to the foregoing facts while on the witness stand. The court informed him that as he was try-ing to commit a crime when he was offering to vote according to Whittlesey's dictates he could have no just claim upon him. The The election law declares that any person offering to sell his vote, or trying to in-fluence another by the offer of any consideration, or who agrees to refrain from voting shall be deemed guilty of a felony, and upon conviction shall be sent to the penitentiary

He had become sober and was penitent and very anxious to get out. An order was issued suspending the remainder of the sentence pending good behavior and the man was given his liberty. Yesterday afternoon he was caught in the act of putting something through one of the rear grated windows of the jail. A prisoner inside was receiving whatever wa being delivered. Anderson was taken to the office, searched and locked up to serve out the unexpired portion of his sentence. Nothing could be found, but the officers believe that the fellow was getting a saw into the jail for the use of Ripley and Hand-ley, the two supposed bad men awaiting a hearing upon the charge of pocket picking. CROWDING OUT TO REGISTER JOHN P. IRISH'S WARM SPEECH. Eloquent Democrat Denounces the Brynnite Assault on Liberty.

"If all of the democrats in the United States could have heard that speech they would feel that they were traitors alike to their country and their party if they roted for Bryan and his populist heresies," was a remark made by a democrat at the close of the speech made by John P. Irish in the Odd Fellows' temple last night. Every seat was occupied and if the room had been three or four times as large there still would have been insufficient room to accommodate those who desired to see and hear. In the audience were many peo ple from Omaha. One motor train load of about fifty men and women entered the hall in a body, W. H. M. Pusey called the meeting to order and Emmett Tinley made a ten minute introductory speech There was little coaxing necessary to get Mr. Irish was given a dignified reception the men to the registration booths, though when he arose to speak.

His voice was somewhat husky from excessive speaking, but his intense interest in the outcome of the great presidential contest and his earnest conviction that the success of the populist prin-ciples mean the ruin of American prestige and prosperity carried him frequently to great heights of eloquence.

Five minutes of his speech he devoted to the men who issued the scurrilous cir-cular inviting the hoodlum element to break up the meeting. It was a most scathing rebuke.

Election Held at the Session of the Grand Lodge Yesterday.

NORRIS OF BEAVER CITY IS ADVANCED

Chosen Grand Master for the Order in the State_Harry Hotchkiss' Memory Alive with His Brethren.

In his report Acting Grand Master Norris

said: general condition of the order in this jurisdiction is not as prosperous as could be desired. The past year has not been as successful as most of those which have precoded. The terrible financial stringency that has pervaded the entire civilized world has had a very noticeable effect upon our order. The season of the year has arrived when a revival of the work in subordinate when a revival of the work in subordinate lodges should begin, but the present exciting political contest is overshadowing lodge work as well as other things, and, with the business of the country, it must wait until election is over and all things have resumed their normal condition. The report of the grand secretary will show a small loss in membership. This is not due to a lack of interest on the part of our members nor to any instability in the principles of our order, but upon the return of prosperity and bounti-ful harvests we will prosper and advance as we have in the years that are past. Indeed believe that, taking all things and conditions into consideration, we have, during the last year, done remarkably well."

Grand Secretary I. P. Gage reported that $10,946 had been paid out during the year for relief. During the year 302 were re-ceived by initiation and 832 were dropped for nonpayment of dues. The total membership on June 30 was 8,910, a loss of 480 for the

Miss Mary C. Sperry, Beatrice; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Stuht, Omaha; warden, Mrs. Emma Talbot, South Omaha,

The assembly decided to do away with the executive board this year and the newly elected officers will act as such board ex There are today assembled 132 Daughters of Rebekah, and aside from the election of officers this afternoon and memorial services held at 4 o'clock there was little of interest to give out. The order as is well known, is a benevolent one and one of the most important actions of this assembly was the passage of a resolution authorizing the appointment of a board o trustees, to be composed of three past presiwith the regular treasurer in handling the fund now in process of collection for the erection of a benevolent home for indigent Old Fellows, their wives and daughters This plan for a home has been in existence for three years past, but owing to the hard times the fund has increased but slowly and chiefly through the medium of small penny boxes in the lodge rooms of the state in which sums ranging from 1 cent to $5 are deposited. The total membership of the order in Nebraska, as reported at the end of June last, was 4241. The increase in membership for the year 1895-96 in the nation was 27,854. The year's gain in sisters in the United States was 20,027, and the gain in brothers was 7,827.

City Leases a Lighting Plant.

PLATTSMOUTH. Neb., Oct. 22 .- (Special.) Tomorrow evening it is expected that this ity will enter into a contract to lease and operate the Gas and Electric Light company's plant for a period of four years, with the privilege of an extension of the lease at that time for another ten years and optional purchase. The rental of the plant has been placed at $2,800 per year together with $1,800 per year interest on the $30,000 bonded indebtedness of the coneern. A new schedule of rates will be inaugurated, and the city expects, with the lowering of the charges, to double the private consumption, and thereby make a profit on the investment. At the end of the four years the lease will be renewed at a rental of only $1,800, just enough to pay the interest on the bonded indebtedness. The contract does not meet with the unqualified approval of the taxpayers, but as only one or two of the heaviest taxpayers raised a little objection the city council felt justified in making the deal. It is an experiment in the theory of municipal ownership, and the progress of the undertaking and its cutwill be watched with considerable interest.

AMUSEMENTS. CHARLES IN THE REPORT OF THE PARTY OF THE PA

ome succession of serious theatrical entertainment, an opportunity is at last afforded where she will visit relatives for a month. to laugh. The theaters have presented legitimate tragedy, melodrama, problem plays and some very doleful comic opera since Creek, after a visit of a week in this city. the season opened, but nothing avowedly designed to amuse. Judging from the size of the audience last night at the Creighton, ping at the Barker. and its manifest enthusiasm, the people are glad of a little wholesome relaxation. "The Gay Parisians" is a screaming farce from the French; one of those ingeniously constructed trifles which depict the endless complications into which jealous husbands and wives lead each other in the frivolous French capital. It is superlatively well done by the artists who have it in hand. Ferguson, Miss Martinot, Mr. Wells, Mr. Barrows, Mrs. Phillips, Mr. Shirley, Gordon, are all admirable, and the fun is terday to see how things were getting along ninterrupted and uproarious from overture at the free silver headquarters. to final curtain. "The Gay Parislans" good for the blues. No one should miss of this city, though now of Cripple Creek, the chance which it affords of an evening left last evening for home, after a visit of wild hilarity. It may be seen at the Creighton for the remainder of the week.

Last evening a decidedly novel entertainnent was given at Boyd's theater under he management of Miss C. C. Tennant Clary, in the presence of a fair-sized audience. The foreign attraction was Miss Maud Morgan, the justly noted harpist from New York. It is a rule with harp players to consume more time in tuning their instrument than in playing it, but Miss Morgan broke the rule and played away with wonderful technique and expression on an instrument many of the strings of which were Events in North Platte Church Circles not in tune with anything on this terrestrial NORTH PLATTE, Neb., Oct. 22.—(Special.) globe. As a performer she is certainly one —A class of sixty-five young people were of the best in this country and produces a remarkable volume of tone and of shading. She was warmly applauded by the audience and for encores sang a couple of ballads with a very full, rich mezzo soprano voice and accompanied herself upon her harp. Speaking of accompaniments there are a lot of people on this earth who could have learned more than they know about that subject by listening to Mr. J. E. Butler last evening. The performance opened—long after 8:30

It has been said that there is material enough and original ideas enough in "At American Beauty" for half a dozen comte operss, so "fat" is it, to use a theatrical expression. George Lederer, whose inspira-tion it is and who commissioned Messrs. Hugh Morton and Gustave Kerker to write the libretto and the music respectively, was resolved to present Miss Lillian Pussell in a production that couldn't fail to hit the popular taste and it is said succeeded far beyond his fondest expectations. It is a well known fact among the craft that the last two operas in which Miss Russell appeared were failures and she freely ex-pressed that opinion. For "An American Beauty," however, she has the most enthu-siastic admiration, and with her own role she is simply delighted. # FACE RAW

My little boy was afflicted with Eczema in acute form for a year, during which we tried without success every known remedy. The disorder appeared on the right check and was of a blistery and bloody form. His pillow, mornings, would bear the bloody imprint of the side of his face, while it was impossible to prevent him from scratching his face owing to the itebing. Advised to try CUTICUEA, I bought a box. The first application was made at sight, and it is a fact, that the appearance of the affected parts showed a noticeable improvement the next morning, and, continuing the treatment, as a result, my child has as fair and smooth skin as can be found anywhere. my child has as last successful and anywhere.
