Some indignation is expressed at the action of some overly enthusiastic McKinleyites at an early hour yesterday morning. After the McKinley guards and a host of volun-teers had returned from sereniding T. J. extending similar compliments to other prominent Bryan supporters was followed In pursuance of this purpose a heterogenous mob gathered around the residence of F. A Bixby, president of the Bryan political club who has taken a modest and deep interest in the campaign. There were a number of flambeau torches in the crowd and the men bearing them entered the yard of Mr. Bix-by's residence. The torches revealed the fact that a great amount of bunting and flags and many Ergan pictures had been used to decorate the dwelling. The enthusiasm of some of the members of the crowd prompted them to strip these ornaments. The returns from several of the outlying townships were not brought in until late yesterday and others failed to have the required tendary and others and throw them in a pile. from the house and throw them in a pile in the yard. He started at 8 o'clock in the morn-ing and returned the team to the livery-man at 5 o'clock in the afternon, after having made the journey of thirty miles. One of the horses was taken sick during the trip and the last seven miles of it was traveled with great deliberation. During the night the horse died. Roderick offered to pay half of the value of the horse, and the liveryman doubled the value of the animal. While the dispute was pending Roderick left the village and came to Council Bluffs to vote. Immediately after his departure the warrant was issued. Roderick will go down to Portsmouth this morning.

Took Chloroform by Mistake.

The assistance of a physician was called for last evening at Mrs. Scott's millinery store, on Broadway, to save a young girl from the possibly deadly effects of a small quantity of chloroform. The young girl had men suffering from toothache, her friends say, during the evening, and to get relief she had been bathing the affected member with chloroform. She had been applying it by wetting her finger with the fluid and rubbing the gums with it. She inhaled a quantity of it in this way and also swallowed a small portion. Her friends were alarmed to see her suddenly fall over in a At of unconsciousness. When the physician prived she had recovered her senses, but was suffering severely from the irritation in the stomach by the chloroform set up in the stor

Political Headquarters Closed.

An air of settled, ceaseless gloom prevalled all around the vicinity of the Bryan gloom was in evidence from midnight of the previous night until 3 o'clock yesterday 2.334 afternoon, when it was partially and temporarily dispelled by the receipt of the gambler's bulletins sent out from the Bryan headquarters in Chicago announcing the reversal of the great republican victory. It quickly gathered again when it was learned that the wild stories of democratic gains and republican losses had been sent out to and republican losses had been sent out to let the Bryanites hedge on their bets. At 8 o'clock the lights of the building were shut off and the doors of the McKinley headquarters were locked. The Bryan quarters were still occupied by a most bosterous gang, and one little lamp illumined the big hall. Complaints were made to the police, and a squad of officers were sent around to clear out the growd. This was around to clear out the crowd. This was done with some difficulty, and the place permanently closed. To accentuate the gloom some bad man tied a piece of black trans to the door with a piece of black crape to the door, with a Bryan badge attached to each end.

She is adored majority in the county is still unsettled. weeks, and she speaks English imperfectly. County Chairman Dawson said yesterday She has lived all her life in a convent in Madrid, Spain, and the story of it is like

When General Sickles was United States minister to Spain under General Grant, he married a beautiful senorita of excellent family. Two children were born of the mar riage—a boy, George Stanton Sickles, and Eda Sickles, When General Sickles was ready to return to America his Spanish wife preferred to remain, and her father, a wealthy old Spanish nobleman, made his will providing that the boy and girl should inherit all his riches provided they should remain in Spain till they were of age, the boy to stay with his mother and the girl to be educated in a convent. The daughter became of age a little more than a month ago and she and her brother sailed at once for America. When they got to New York they learned that their father was out in the country making political speeches and would be back the next day. They were at the Grand Central station to meet him. The meeting between the old general and his daughter, whom he had not seen since she was 6 years old, was thus described in a newspaper of New York:

"As General Sickles alighted from the train and walked down the platform a young girl with a beautiful face and figure stepped forward and exclaimed in a sweet, well-modulated voice: 'Is this not General Sickles?' He bowed and answered, 'It is.' Thereupon the young woman, looking him straight in the eyes, exclaimed with a merry laugh, which revealed two rows of perfect teeth. 'Don't you know me?' The general teeth. 'Don't you know me?' The general, again bowing, but this time also smilling, said. 'Pardon, but I must confess and also regret that you have the advantage.' The young girl not a bit embarrassed, looked at the general affectionately and replied: "Look at me. Don't you know me? Don't you know your daughter Eda?" Then the general clasped her to his breast.'

A few days after this meeting General Sickles started out on his campaign tour and his son and daughter went with him. It is affecting to see with what love and adoration affecting to see with what love and adoration the daughter looks upon her father. She is always by his side when he makes a speech. The sight of the old veteran soldiers crowd-ing around to class the hand of the father has moved her deeply, and she says she loves the American people, though she cannot un-derstand why they make such a fuss over

At every station through Kansas bouquets of flowers were passed up to the train, and those were all gathered up to the train, and those were all gathered up by the newspaper men and given to Miss Sickles. At one station she was asleep when the train stopped and the armful of bouquets were piled against her stateroom door. When she opened her door next morning the flowers fell in over her feet and she clapped her hands in delight.

Solving the Pole Question. A rallroad telegraph superintendent, in speaking of telegraph poles, says: "In Arizona there is a sort of woodpecker that picks the poles absolutely to pieces, thinking there may be some insects inside of the wood. They hear the humming and haven't sense enough to know what causes it. Then near the hills the black hears impoling the property of the state of the pick hears impoling the pick hears. causes it. Then hear the hills the black bears imagine each pole contains a swarm of bees, and they climb to the top and they the glass insulators to pieces. Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts-gentle efforts-pleasant effortsrightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of siekness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condi tion of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs. prompt-ly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its bene-ficial effects, to note when you parchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrop Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
