Eczema made its appearance on my head in its worst form, and it continued spreading until my face was covered with scales and became a horrid sight. I had a fine head of hair, seven years' growth, and had to sacrifice it. I was in despair. The physicians had failed even to relieve me, when one recommended CUTIOURA SOAP. My father procured a set of CUTIOURA REMEDIES, and in three weeks the scales left my face and the skin lost its florid line. In six useks I was entirely cured. My face was smooth and my complexion clearer and finer than it had ever been before.

Suit of the Rock Island Against the City Causing Comment.

EARLY MAPS ARE MUCH IN DEMAND

Many Interesting Points Involved in the Contest for the Opening of South Seventh Street to Citizens.

The case of the Rock Island Railroad company against the City of Council Bluffs is on trial in the district court. An effort is being made by the company to prevent the opening of South Seventh street over the opening of South Seventh street over sion to denounce in the most vigorous man-livered an address to the Epworth League its right of way. Many interesting points nor the members of the Jackson family and been a source of considerable worry to the city council and the plaintiff for many years. As far back as 1887 an effort was made by the city to have this street brought to grade, R. C. Berger. An injunction proceeding was brought by the railway company, and after remarks the judge declared that he felt and the contract for the work was let to hanging, fire in the courts was finally stricken from the docket.

> Many of the residents in the southern part of the city are interested in having the street made a public highway over the right of way of the company. Grading and viaduct schemes have been proposed at Get your winter supply of coal now before the rush and rise in prices. L. M. Shubert will fill your orders promptly and his prices are the lowest. Telephone No. 70; 628 West viaduct schemes have been proposed at various times. The council in December, 1894, passed an ordinance practically vacat-ing all the city's rights in the street, and when a mighty howl went up from the res idents in that portion of the city it made an attempt to reconsider its action. This | hall, 2 o'clock. was in the January following when the present action was brought by the Rock Island to restrain the city from in any way attempting to establish a highway over their > tracks at Seventh street. POSITION OF THE COMPANY. The position taken by the Rock Island is based on the original grant of right of way to the old Mississippi & Missouri River the soundest bank in Sioux City went down Railroad company that was started here in today, carrying with it another bank and the 50s. In this connection an interesting piece of evidence was dug up lately in the shape of an old map made in 1857. For years efforts have been made to locate this map, which is the original plat of Riddle's subdivision to the city, dedicated by John T. Baidwin and wife July 5, 1857. The drawing was made by Thomas Tostevin, the nt city engineer, nearly forty years N. P. Dodge appears as the notary public on the acknowledgment and D. L. Nye was the county judge, who approved the document before it was recorded. The copy of the map filed with the recorder was either stolen or destroyed some years ago, and a long search for the original finally resulted in finding it among the musty piles of old papers in L. P. Judson's garret. On this map the right of way of the Missis-sippl & Missouri River railroad is shown and the crossing on Seventh street does not provide for any street, the lines of the railroad being clearly continued across the highway. This will be one of the main points urged by the Rock Island company, as it succeeded to the old Mississippi &

Missouri in 1868. The case will be argued today by the atorneys, among whom is John T. Baldwin, nephew of the original grantor of the Rock Island right of way in 1857.

Schaffer Dismisses the Suit. Henry Schaffer of Omaha realized that he had made a serious mistake in securing the arrest of Robert Budatz, a Council Hluffs outcher, on the charge of cheating by false etonies, and when the case was called for rial in Justice Vien's court yesterday after-icon he filed a motion for dismissal. Budatz was arrested on Tuesday upon a on a butcher shop on East Broadway. datz gave Schaffer a mortgage on the shop to secure $000 indebtedness, which had arisen through some real estate deals in Colorado. The butcher shop was located in a brick building belonging to Benedick Haag and the mortgage was meant to cover only the contents of the building. Judge Beneke of Omaha drew up the mortgage and nadvertently made it include the building. The mistake was not discovered until after was filed and became a cloud upon Haag's title to the property. Hasg called the at-tention of Schaffer and Budatz to it and both were surprised, and Schaffer promised to release at once. This was not done, and after a time the matter was apparently forgotten. EXAMINING MUSTY RECORDS REBUKES THE JACKSON FAMILY.

Judge McGee Delivers Some Vigorous Remarks in Court. Judge McGee spent a portion of yesterday as the third day devoted to the hearing of the case against the Jacksons for assaulting young Machan. John Jackson's younger brother voluntarily declared in court on the previous day that he was the party who had slugged Machan, and when court convened yesterday morning the young man had recollected the stern manner in which Judge McGee had rebuked a number of the witnesses when they had committed the clearest and rankest of perjury, and he hired a lawyer to get him out of the scrape. The lawyer took the case to Justice Cook's court, and made a hard fight to show that young Jackson had been greatly abused. The justice did not altogether agree with him, and fined the boy $1 and costs, which made a fine of $10. Before letting the younger Jackson's case go from his court Judge McGee took occasion to denounce in the most vigorous manare involved, and the question at issue has some of the witnesses who had committed board. reserved his decision in Frank Jackson's case until this morning for the purpose of waiting to see what punishment Justice Cook would mete out to the younger brother.
