WITH A BURLESQUE CIRCUS

Very Elaborate Preparations for the Thanksgiving Entertainment.

SOCIETY IS INTERESTED IN THE AFFAIR

Leading Young Men of the City Will Participate and Furnish Fun Throughout a Lengthy Performance.

With foot ball, turkey and the Burlesque Circus by the Council Bluffs Field club, at the Dohany theater, society promises to have a busy time Thanksgiving day. The last named attraction promises to be a rare treat, and will rank far ahead of the usual home talent entertainment.

Some clever plans have been studied out in introducing the various parts of the performance. The circus will be in the gilded rooms of the Metropolitan club, and with a coterie of congenial souls, will evolve the greatest sixteen-foot one ring circus ever seen anywhere.

Another feature that promises to detract greatly from the charms of the Circus is beauty, David Stuart, is the grand entry in the parade. He is dressed in the costume of a knight, and will be followed by a number of other knights.

ANOTHER PIONEER HAS GONE.

Charles Baughn Dies at His Home After a Few Days' Illness.

Charles Baughn died at 11 o'clock yesterday at his home on North First street after an illness of only a few days. He was 74 years old. Mr. Baughn's illness took a dangerous turn only twenty-four hours before his death, and although all of the surviving members of his family were notified by wire, but few arrived in time to see him alive.

Mr. Baughn was born in Fayette county, Ohio, where he grew to manhood and habits of industry. Until 1856 he was engaged in farming, and in shipping live stock to the Cincinnati and New York markets. In the spring of 1856 he, with his family, came from Ohio and located at Harris Grove in Harrison county, this state, purchasing a farm of 640 acres from Hon. S. E. Dow. He brought with him from Ohio blooded cattle, the first of the kind introduced into western Iowa. In addition to his farming enterprise he erected and operated a steam sawmill. Soon after coming to Iowa he erected at his own expense a school house upon a portion of his own farm, which still bears the name of "Baughn school house."

Mr. Baughn was twice married, the maiden name of his first wife being Penelope Blue, who bore him twelve children, nine of whom are living. His second wife was Mrs. Baughn, ex-mayor and one of Shelby county's most prominent citizens, and Mrs. Ardenella Gibbs of Harlan, Ia.; Mrs. Ella Ardenella of San Francisco, Cal.; Mrs. Emma Warren of Missouri Valley; Mrs. Elvira Vore of Logan, Ia.; Alfred Bruce Baughn of Council Bluffs and Sanford Baughn of Los Angeles, Cal. The maiden name of his second wife was Anna C. Bundy of the state of New York, who still survives him, and bore him one child, Mrs. Hattie May Holgate of Kansas City, Kan.

D. W. Archer filed a petition to his petition against Paul Schneider, stating that another $100 was due him for rent from November 8 to December 8. In the same case the defendant filed a motion for a cost bond from the plaintiff.

In the case of J. R. Curry against A. B. Perkins a motion to dismiss the appeal to the district court was submitted and sustained.

The case of Henry Miller against Sheriff Morgan and his deputy, Frank Compton, was before Judge Green yesterday on a motion for a new trial by the defendants. Miller sues for damages for his imprisonment. He was arrested for his supposed connection with J. D. Alexander, who was caught stealing from a freight car. One of the peculiarities of the suit is that Bob Scott appears as one of the defendants along with the sheriff. Scott was used by the officers in making the arrest.

The executors of the Dohany estate filed a motion yesterday to set aside the household furniture of the estate to the benefit of Clara Dohany. An amended inventory was also filed by the executors. The plaintiff in the case of the Anheuser Busch Brewing company against J. J. Groves filed a demurrer to the defendant's answer.

Judgment on a note was given to the plaintiff in the case of S. M. Craig against C. M. Wherry and J. C. Smith. The case was argued by Messrs. W. H. Heath and Mary Butler against the Chicago & Milwaukee Railroad company, a motion to dismiss the appeals was filed. The proposition of Mr. Ryan was submitted to every stockholder fairly, says the statement, "and the pool did not influence or control their vote."

Mr. Ryan repeated the Southern Railway company in the proposed purchase is a matter with which the company had no concern, and they are not interested in what seems to be the opinion that the real object of the purchase was to remove competition and thereby imperil the vast business interests of the south.

AFTER THE GAMBLERS OF THE CITY

Grand Jury Finds Much Evidence on that Subject.

The grand jury returned a final report yesterday and brought in a number of indictments, only a few of which were made public, bench warrants being issued on the others. A report was also filed on the condition of the two jails, which were found to be in good condition.

J. F. Wright was indicted on two charges, one of maintaining a gambling house, the other of maintaining a gambling house. The indictment is considered of much significance, as for some time the general impression has existed that the city authorities there was no gambling going on. It seems, however, from the evidence brought before the grand jury that there is at least one gambling house in the city at 535 Broadway, which is the report that Wright is charged with having maintained. Several police officers testified before the grand jury that they had seen gambling going on. Jim Snodderly testified that he had lost about $500 in the place shortly before election trying to kick the high card at the far bank. This statement was supplemented by one by R. N. Whitley, who said he had been authorized by Snodderly to recover $500 that had been lost at Wright's place. Whitley testified he had succeeded in getting back $25 in cash and a note for $25. Carpenter Rose testified that he had made a crap table for Wright and had taken it to 535 Broadway. Wright gave bonds at once for his appearance.

An indictment was returned against Robert Halliday, charging him with burning and maliciously destroying fruit trees and bushes, October 4 Halliday, with the assistance of one boy named B. Crandall's orchard and set fire to some brush that destroyed several trees. The boys claimed it was done by accident and that the case in the justice court Halliday was acquitted. This did not end the matter, however, as Crandall, who prosecuted, had the Mayor appointed to be a member of the present grand jury. He appeared before himself and testified that he had seen the boys commit the crime. He also testified that he had seen Halliday set fire to the timber brush that destroyed his wife's apple trees. Halliday gave bail.

QUEER METHODS IN MANAGEMENT. Baltimore & Ohio Borrowed Money with Which to Pay Dividends.

BALTIMORE, Nov. 21.—President and Receiver J. K. Cowan of the Baltimore & Ohio railway said today that the report of Expert Examiner Little is now in the hands of the printer and that copies of it will be distributed among the stockholders with a week. It is learned from other sources that the report was read at the recent meeting of the stockholders.

A gentleman who was present at that meeting has said there is nothing of a sensational character in the report and that no charge was possibly that of mismanagement is made against the Mayor.

The method of keeping the books, however, is criticized, and the report is said to show that for more than five years past the Baltimore & Ohio has been kept with money borrowed for the purpose and upon collateral belonging to the company; that the books have been kept in such manner as to indicate most favorable conditions that actually existed and that other irregularities of a minor nature were discovered.

The most important feature of the report, however, is said to be that it reveals the fact that even under the conditions that actually existed the system was fully able to pay the dividends. The proposition of Mr. Ryan was submitted to every stockholder fairly, says the statement, "and the pool did not influence or control their vote."

Mr. Ryan repeated the Southern Railway company in the proposed purchase is a matter with which the company had no concern, and they are not interested in what seems to be the opinion that the real object of the purchase was to remove competition and thereby imperil the vast business interests of the south.
