sounded. Our form of government cannot continue unless there are two great parties divided upon questions on which men of sound judgment and honest principles can fairly differ. I believe party lines will be reformed, based on the same general lines of division that have heretofore separated two great parties, and I believe thus and thus only can our institutions be preserved.

RRYAN IS BANQUETED IN DENVER. Says the Business Men Should Be Converted to Free Silver. DENVER, Nov. 25 .- A complimentary Plates were laid for 300. Rev. Myron Reed was the toastmaster of the evening. Adams, governor-elect; Senator Henry M. Teller, Hon. Thomas M. Patterson, edi-tor of the Rocky Mountain News, and Con-gressman Charles E. Towne of Minnesota. Mr. Bryan's address was the last number on the program. He was received with great cheering. Among other things he

The past few months seem to me more fite a dream than a reality, and when I hear the words of eulogy which have been Iffice a dream than a reality, and when I hear the words of eulogy which have been so often spoken they do not impress me as words spoken of me. The fear that always comes over me when I hear these words spoken, with so many manifestations of affection, is whether I can maintain the feeling so kindly expressed, or whether by some misstep I may do as so many have done before me, fall and lose that love which now is the thing which I prize most in life. It frightens me when I find how many people there are in this country who, believing as I believe, have put their faith in me and the work I have tried to do. The only assurance I have that I may be able to continue to retain your good will is the belief that my purpose is the same as your purpose and that we, continuing in this purpose, will travel together. I believe that during this campaign in every foreign nation the oppressed were raising a silent prayer for our success, and that in every foreign nation the aristocracy was praying for the success of our opponents, because the ambassador of the United States to Great Britain declared immediately after the election that he, together with all London, was rejoicing, and when praying for the success of our opponents, because the ambiassador of the United States to Great Britain declared immediately after the election that he, together with all London, was rejoicing, and when he said he and all London, he meant that part of London with which he had become necualitied, and not the tolling part of London or England. You read what is said by the financiers and by the aristocrats of the old world and you will find that they recognize what many of our own people do not recognize—that this question which was before the American people reached down deeper and towered up higher than any question which has confronted us in time of peace in the history of this country. We cannot give up this fight if we desire. We have got to go on. I think we have been successful in bringing our cause before the American people. I think we will be more successful still in the next four years. We have been successful still in the next four years, we have been successful though the business men of this country, and I believe that for the next four years we ought to give special attention to the bringing of our arguments before the business men of this country. How long will it be before our well-to-do classes shall understand that they cannot raise themselves far above the masses of the people? How long before they realize that their only safety lies in raising the masses with them? (Cheers and loud applause.)

It was 2:20 this morning when Mr. Bryan loud applause.)

It was 2:20 this morning when Mr. Bryan finished his speech at the banquet of the Chamber of Commerce. At 3 o'clock, after having shaken hands with the banqueters. Mr. Bryan was driven to the depot, when he boarded a special train which left the city for Pueblo at 6:39. A committee of thirty leading citizens of Pueblo acted as escort for Mr. Bryan in this journey. The scene in the banquet hall at the end of a forceful speech by Congressman Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, on "The Issue of 1909," started a great demonstration. Men jumped or chairs and tables, shouted themselves hearse waved handkerchiefs and acted generally as only wildly enthusiastic men stirred to frenzy by burning eloquence can act.

In the afternoon Mr. Bryan spoke first to an open air gathering at the Centennial high school building. He was next presented to an audience of 3,000 people in the Mineral palace. After this address he spoke to an overflow meeting outside the building. Then he was driven to the Grand opera house. When this address was ended Mr. Bryan was taken to dinner at the Union Depot and at 7 o'clock took the Rock Island train

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 25. William Jennings Bryan delivered an ad-dress tonight before 5,000 people that met him at the depot while he was passing through the city on his return from Pueblo. Mr. Bryan spoke from the balcony of the hotel adjoining the depot for nearly half an hour. Mr. Bryan was introduced by Mayo Plumb and after the cheering had subside said in part: "I did not suppose I could find so many people gathered in the United States who had not learned that the election was over. You act as though you were it the midst of a campaign, or were celebrat ing a victory just won. You are right. We are in the midst of a campaign. We are ng to accomplish in 1900 what we failed to accomplish in 1896."

BOLT IN A SILVER CONVENTION. Discord Appears in a General Confer

Free Coinnge Lenders. CHICAGO, Nov. 25.-The advertised una nimity of the silver forces did not materialize at the meeting of the leaders in general conference at the Sherman hotel this afternoon. The meeting was called for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee to consider the best means of carrying on the work for free silver throughout the country. The report of the committee was heard and adopted by a majority of the meeting, but not without an indignant pro meeting, but not without an indignant pro-test from a lively minority that gave every promise of making trouble. The meeting was called to order by General C. H. Howard, who explained the difficulty of combining the diverse elements in favor o free silver on political lines without firs organizing a campaign of education. He then called for the report of the committee which was read, to be adopted, section by section, by E. O. Towne, its framer. The first section was adopted and to facilitate matters, E. E. Bishop moved the adoption of the entire report. Then the minority of dissenters showed its hand and a hot fight was on. The report was, however, adopted the minority left the meeting report set forth that no new political party seemed to be called for and professed loyalty William J. The Princeton boys were superior at almost every point and Yale was forced to play its hardest to make the first gains. The Princeton eleven were much heavier than their opponents, and, to their superiority in weight, together with the individual brilliancy of the players, the victory is due. The visitors were better drilled in team play and strategy. Their interference was quick to form and speedy, but too light to be effective against. Princeton's heavy tackles and ends, who frequently broke it up and downed the runners for a loss. Yale tried a double pass, and succeeded in making substantial gains by means of it. Yale's light forwards could not hold the Princeton linemen, and the Princeton backs made long gains through the center. For Yale Durston, Sulphin, Sullivan and Corwin did the best work. Fifth Attempt to Settle the Superiority of These Rivals Leaves the Question Still in Some Doubt.

MASPETH, L. L., Nov. 25 .- For the fifth time Tommy Ryan of Syracuse and "Mysterious" Billy Smith of Beaton met tonight to decide which was the superior in the welterweight class. All previous encounters had been as interesting as they had been exciting and a battle royal was expected. There were probably 2,000 people in the building when the preliminary bout was put on, with the inevitable Charlie Hovey as announcer and Tim Hurst as referce. Jem Mace, the old-time English champion, occupied a seat in one of the ring boxes and was the center of attraction before the sport began.

By way of an appetizer Billy Moore of Syracuse and Frank Patterson of Brooklyn started to box ten round at 122 pounds. Patterson, at the cutset, showed himself to be master of his opponent, but in the second round Moore began to assert himself and some very pretty fighting ensued. Honors were fairly even up to the sixth round, and then the Syracuse pugilist began to take an active interest in the game, herce slugging match marked the close of the last round. If the battle had gone half a minute longer Patterson would have been knocked out. Referee Hurst declared the bout a draw.

The big event of the night was then in rier and the spectators were all on edge. The Syracuse contingent was, if anything, more than confident that Tommy Ryan would prove the victor, but the Boston "mystery has a good following and the "Hubites placed plenty of money on Smith at eve chances. Ryan entered the ring at 10:05 He was accompanied by Handler, Fred Smith, Tom Brady and George English. Smith was escorted by Charley White Tim McGrath, Bill Crowley and Harry B. Black. The men met at weights, but there was very little differ-

The fighting was nearly even up to the eighth round, when Ryan forced it and held Smith to the ropes until the gong released In the ninth Smith sent his right hard on the face, making Ryan's right eye bleed badly. Ryan swung his left on the face and Smith went to the floor. They began slugging right and left on body and face and Ryan seemed to have slightly the better of the argument. The referee that the men would soon reach their limit and stopped the bout after two minutes and forty-four second had been used up in the round. He then declared Ryan the win-ner, and when the announcers gave the decision there were many cries of discontent and hisses, R. J. Murphy of Long Island shouted that he would back Smith against Ryan at any time for any purse at catch weights and that he was willing to put up any sum from $5,000 to $10,000, providing that Tim Hurst abould not referee. The result was unsatisfactory to the majority of the spectators and the partisans of both men are willing to have them meet again in order to deeld which is the better man at catch or stipu lee, the local champion, and J. A. R. Elliott of Kansas City, ex-champion of America, for $190 a side is attracting widespread attention. Frominent sportsmen will be here from all parts of the state, and quite a representation from Iowa and Missouri. Both men have been shooting in spiendid form and both are reported in the very best condition and eager for the fray. It is evident that it will be quite a betting event, and while up to this morning Partmelee money has gone begging, such will not be the cane when the Kansas City contingent gets into circulation.

Parmelee and Elliott have met but once before in an individual match, and that was in 183, when Parmelee skilned his man by the lopsided score of $8 to $1. The local men who are eager to back Parmelee with their coin figure that Elliott is handicathed at least two birds by the fact that the articles require him to use a "pixing zun" and from two to five birds by the fact that he is to shoot on Parmelee's own grounds. It is a well understood thing that the lever of a pump gun cannet be worked with the accuracy and tapidty with which a double-barreled gun can, and hence the utmost confidence in the Omaha man's ability to win. Billy Brewer says there is no man in the country who can outshoot Frank Parmelee at live birds on the Omaha grounds, which has been amply demonstrated by the refusal of such shots as Carver, Fulford and Brewer to shoot him nore. If a man can be found to beat Coloned Parmelee on these grounds he can lug off something like $10,000 of Major Brewer's money.

In addition to the great match shoot, which begins at 11 o'clock this morning sharp, there will be all-day sweepstakes at birds and targets, and a bug pet dinner at 2 o'clock, to which all shooters are cordially livited. The officers for the match shoot will be chosen on the grounds.

Robinson Denies a Rumor. CLEVELAND, Nov. 25.—President Rob-inson of the Cleveland Base Ball club said today there was absolutely no truth in the story from St. Louis to the effect that the Cleveland and St. Leuis clubs were to be pooled next summer, the best players to be sent to the latter city and the poor-est kept here. Mr. Robinson said he had not entered into any negotiations with Von der Ahe, and it was his determination to make the Cleveland club better than ever next senson
