SPECIAL ASSESSMENT IS NEGLECTED

for the Improvements is Now Past Due and the City Has Been Holding the Sack Long Enough.

City Attorney Hazelton is making preparations to bring suit against the owners of ots on Lower Broadway who have become Sandwich people that he was to have the cedar block paving. About $29,000 mission to saw the wood and sell it, for the cedar block paving. About $20,000 involved, and under the assessment for the improvement the city is responsible for the amount and has recourse in turn against August. Saxton had paid the saw notes as the owners of the property. These lots Beach & Bowers minstrels will be at the bohany theater Monday night. One of theis have been offered at tax sale for the last owed but $7. For the purpose of working him two years and have not been bid in, as a deep injury, and to gratify personal spite, not even the tax title dealers wanted them. Mrs. Carbee. Saxton alleges, went to the The next regular tax sale will commence Monday and as soon as it is over the action by the city will be commenced.

> The assessments for the improvement along the street were made in the fall of 1888, when the first fifth of the cost of the work was due. The lots average about $135 apiece for the entire paving, and on the jots in quiestion only two or three of the fifths have been paid in. The last payment is due this year and they will again be offered at tax sale. The city authorities do not expect any one to bid them in.

Mr. Hazelton said yesterday that the action he intended to bring was one usually resorted to by municipal authorities for protection where special improvement taxes were due and the property could not be disposed of at tax sale. The suit would be an action in equity and amount to about he same as the regular foreclosure of a len. This would permanently establish the laim of the city against the land. When was offered at tax sale the city would he obliged to buy it in to protect itself. City Attorney Hazelton says it is even pos-sible for the city to go further and establish its claim as a personal judgment against the property owners. This, he said, was not contemplated, as it would be straining point to try and go outside of the value f the lot to collect for any special improvement that had been made in front of it. The majority of the lots on which the specials are due are owned by a few parties, the single lot owners having paid up for the most part. The general tax sale this year will be large, the delinquent list being one of the largest ever published. Y. M. C. A. FINANCIAL CONDITION.

Nebraska Farmer Forced Into Court

Over a Trivial Matter. Hon. Spencer Smith, the newly appointed yesterday. It was a criminal action brought in Justice Cook's tribunal, wherein Mr. and Mrz. H. D. Carbee seek to have Wilbur Saxton punished for disposing of mortgaged property. Attorney Smith secured a continnance until today for the purpose of con-culting authorities. The testimony showed that Saxton, who is a Nebrarka farmer, recently removed to this city, purchased a power woodcuw from the Sandwich Manufacturing company for $40. He secured the purchase price by giving a mortgage on the aw, fifty cords of wood, a plow and some other property, or about five times the re-curity that the Sandwich company asked. The purchase was made last spring. Saxton mays he had an understanding with the gether with other wood in the woodyard he has been running in the southern part of the city. The last of the wood was sold last Sandwich company's office and, by representcharing the unpaid notes and secured the ortgage. He then immediately begun an attachment suit, tying up Saxton's property. formation, charging him with having di po e1 of mortgaged property. This offense, it alleged, consisted in the disposition of the wood several months previous. The hearing of the case called up several law points that Justice Cook desired time to investigate. EVANS-DANFORTH JURY STILL OUT. Court's Instructions Settle a Leading Feature of the Case.

The case of F. H. Evans against Josiah Danforth was given to the jury last evening after 5 o'clock and up to a late hour last night no verdict had been returned. An arrangement was entered into between the attorneys for a sealed verdict, which is expected to be in this morning. Judge Green's instructions to the jury were brief and he practically excluded the claim of the plaintiff for damages on the ground that he had been induced to invest in the Fire Escape Manfacturing company by the repre-sentations of the defendant that he owned a controlling interest in the concern. Aside m the regular verdict and the amount of damages to be awarded the plaintiff the jury were requested to answer two special nterrogatories as to the amount they alowed on the claim for wages and amount allowed for the purchase of the

Confident that a Permanent Arbitration Trenty Will Be Arranged. NEW YORK, Dec. 4 .- A copyrighted cablegram to the Evening Post says that Ambassafor Bayard assured the Evening Post correspondent today of the belief that before his departure from England some permanent arrangement of arbitration would be reached SABBATH SCHOOL MOVEMENT

Its Scope, Power and Progress and Evangeliatic Value.

THE OUESTION OF WAYS AND MEANS

Prompt, United and Pesistent Activity Insures a Glorlous Harvest-Extent of the Field Inviting Faithful Workers.

Two limitations must be noted in considering this subject. One is in the words "Sabbath school movement." At first thought this might be understood as meaning the Sabbath school itself in its general work. But such is not the scope of the words as we shall use them. What is meant is that particular form of Sabbath school activity known as Sabbath school missions, represented by the missionary department of our board, and by other similar organizations of God's people. It is the movement of the Sabbath school out among the unevangelized: the movement of the church out into the world's highways and hedge rows; into the neglected districts of the cities and the destitute places of the country, ages of time at command. But here is a for the specific purpose of gathering the unwork that demands immediate action. My taught into the Sabbath school and teachtaught into the Sabbath school and teaching them the good news. We are not talking about the church school, one of the regular departments of every well organized congregation, doing its work in the nurture and instruction of its own young people. But territory of the world, in aggressive work among those who have no church privileges I am glad of the recognition the subject makes of the fact that there is a movement going on here; that the Sabbath school. Some of Carbee's neighbor's have secured the deaso bear with the expression, has "got a on her and in her. It is a sign of life and power and progress. Dead things are still. But, thank God, the Sabbath school s not dead, nor looking in the direction of he cemetery! There is movement here that is gathering momentum and speed every

The second limitation of the subject is in the words "evangelistic value." Here is value of a particular kind. This Sabbath chool movement may have value of other dinds, social, reformatory, commercial, even, But we have nothing to do with these other about the value of this movement as a means of evangelizing our land, and bringing the news of the great salvation to those who need it. What is the value of the Sabbath school as a means of reaching, teaching and saving the neglected and lost? THE QUESTION OF DUTY.

There is no debate here about the question of duty in the matter of evangelization. Duty is clear as the day, positive as the orders of a general. Evangelize! Evangelize! All along the line, all over the world, the nmand runs, laying the burden of holy duty on every Christian. As long as a single child remains in the darkness of sin and in ignorance of Christ the duty remains with us in all its binding force. We don't have to defend the work of taking the gospel to the destitute. If any one wants to dispute that point, he must have it out with the Master who has issued the order, not with us. Ours a question of ways and means. The Sabbath school is offered to us as one of the ways of reaching the lost. It enters the field as a method of evangelization. It is one response to the command of Jesus. movement undertakes to put a Sabbath chool as quickly as possible in every community where there is no regular and mystematic instruction in religious truth. takes the best Christian workers it can find and, without any red tape, without waiting for a church organization or for ecclesiantical investigation and action, it sets them to work teaching what the bible says about the

Now, the question is, how much is this movement worth? Does it pay? If it is out of date, wasteful of men and means, ingrand jury had forgotten to act upon his case.

The partition of the estate of Pleasant Taylor as reported by the special referees use something that will do the work. But seeds of heavenly truth planted where, in if it is well adapted to the end approved multiplied thousands of cases, the fruit shall of conscience and of God, then let us push it, and not play with it.

EXTENT OF THE FIELD. What is the work awaiting us? How great is the extent of the field? How pressing the need? We cannot well understand the value of the Sabbath school as an evangelintic agency, unless we know something of the work proposed. The Sabbath school works mainly among the young. According to the census of 1890 there are, in round numbers, 22,000,000 of children of echool age in the United States, and 7,000,000 under five years of age the central western, mountain and Pacific states there are 8,333,125 young people of Of these 2,483,958 are enrolled in the Sabbath schools, or 29 per cent of the entire number. In the rest of our land the proportion is not much better. There are today not less than 14,000,000 of the youth of this country under the age of 21, and old enough to be taught, who are not enrolled avenue, he was a very sick man. Medical attendance was called, but the efforts of the physicians were unavailing, and Larsen Most of these are receiving no instruction. whatever in religion. It is not rare to find cases like that of a young lady of 18 in one of our western states, who came into one inflicted a fatal injury. Larsen had been an unusually powerful man and had always good health. He leaves a wife and several whispered to her seat mate. "Who was whispered to her seat mate, "Who was Christ, anyway? Do you know? If you do, tell me so I can answer the question." Is our work done when there are grown peoe in our land who do not even know who

Seven millions of rads and young men who never enter any house of prayer. Where are they. Some of them in your town and mine. Some of them in that country school district; some down in the timber along the creek; some yonder in the new settlement, where farmers are starting in sod houses and dugouts. All over the land, the lakes, the rivers, from the St. Johns to the Gila, from Florida Keys to Puget sound, the field is white to the harvest. It is morally certain that if we lon't win these young people to Christ while they are young, only a very small per cent of them ever will come to Him, or know Him

We have bible authority for likening this work to a hervest field calling for reapers and we see that the field is not one of hose little ten-acre lots we used to call fields back among the eastern hills, but rather one of our Daketa fields, twenty-five miles square, glowing and flashing like a sea of gold in its glorious ripeness. We want to save that field. What means shall we employ? MEANS TO THE END. Here comes a man with one of the sickles of long ago, one of the kind that used to put eleven distinct aches to the square the trial. His father and mother are very put eleven distinct aches to the square wealthy citizens of Houston, Tex., and he inch into our backs in boyhood days, and harvest. It cuts grain." Another steps up beside him and offers the cradle, whose broad blade used to ring out such merry music on the air of the July morning, as whetstone played its skillful tattoo. How shall their espective value for the work in hand be measured? You answer, by trial. Put them at work in the field, and test their points by experiment; results will prove their

Now, this is just what we have done with the Sunday school in this missionary movement. About nine years ago our church drove this harvester out into the field and set it to work under the direction of the between England and America. thousands of pupils, and it is just as well suited to the little country district, with its half-dozen families. It brings the Christian worker into direct personal contact with the scholars, and thus utilizes the mighty force of personal influence, personal interest and affection. Its methods attract, awaken and enthuse young and old. Without exaggerait." Its bright muric, variety of exercises, books, pictures, papers, social intercourse, their hearts. It carries all through that personal element which is so important in leading to decision, and which is so often lacking in the formal preaching of the gospel to the masses gathered in the great congre in the way of buildings, appliances, uniform worship. It will work in the great, model building, planned with class-rooms, foun-tains, flowers and all the modern improvements, and it will settle down comfortably under the shelter of a shady tree, or in the corner of a barn or blacksmith's shop. It can use a judge of the supreme court for superintendent, and it is just as glad to employ the fact and love of some godly mother, whose other hours are all busied

ACTION AND ECONOMY II. It has the value of action. It is prompt and loses no time. The great demand of our farmers is for a harvester that will gather the crop quickly, when it is ripe. The old sickle would do if you had a small crop, or of time may be lost in planting a church in a needy tocality, and establishing the formal preaching of the gospel there. A committee or two to visit the field; a re-port to Presbytery; a petition from the peoinstruction of its own young people. But we are talking about the Sabbath school going in advance of the church, out into the have known it to be two years) before the work is really under way. But the Sunday School missionary comes along, sees the need and the opportunity, and he goes to work the same hour. The first Sabbath day there is a meeting, the school is organized, and begins its blersed work at once. Here is an instrument that saves time and best of all, saves the perishing. It has the value of III. It has the value of economy. Our en-

If there is a way to reach more people at the right time with the gos pel and at less expense than by this Sab bath school movement I have failed to find it. Most of the work is freely given-the villing offering of Christian love for souls kinds of value now. Our inquiry is solely the fruit of honest desire to do good. A few dollars cover the necessary outlay for books and place of meeting, and your school thrives and does its work where no other form of Christian activity could be supported. You can take your Sabbath school to a thousand places where it would be impossible to take the regular church organization. Compar the cost of this work of saving a boy by the gospel with the cost of taking care of a lost boy by the courts. A careful inquiry was made by a well known Sabbath school missionary into the expense of the trial and execution of a man after his arrest for the crime for which he was finally hanged. When he had gathered all the items together he found their sum was equal to the cest of organizing forty new Sabbath schools in frontier neighborhoods, or it would have sup ported an average school of 100 scholars for twenty-five years. Friends, if we want t get good value for our money, let us pu into Sabbath school missionary work! IV. This work has the supreme value of the highest efficiency. This harvester saves the grain! This tree bears fruit! The work done by our board during few years is a matter of record, and I need not take up the time repeating the won derful story. But let a feature or two stand out just now to impress the facts. I know one of our missionaries who ha rganized ten new schools in eight months. There have been ninety-four professed con versions in connection with these schools and of these sixty-one have united with the Presbyterian church and twelve with other churches. In the few years our board has been doing this work seven schools, on yet be unto eternal life.

Look at another fact. Since we began this movement eight years ago there have been 1,599 new Presbyterian churches or-ganized, including these reported from for-eign mission fields. Of this total 418, or 26 per cent, have grown out of our Sabbath school mission work. Brethren, this tree is a fruit bearer, it bears precious fruit, much fruit, and herein is God glorified. In this Sabbath school movement, then, there is the value of perfect adaptation to a most important part of the work of evangelization, of untrammeled quickness of ac tion, of unsurpassed economy, and of mar velous fruitfulness. If we have not under stood it before, it is time that we now awake to the fact that in this movement we have one of the most important and valuable of all the agencies of the church the evangelization of our land, one in which talents of every degree may be utilized for God, and where the desire of every true Christian heart for service finds J. QUEER B. & O. BOOKKEEPING Income Largely Swelled and Liabili-tics Understated.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 4.- The report of Stephen Little, the expert accountant to the Baltimore & Ohio reorganization com mittee, is made public today. The account tant finds among other things an over statement of the net income amounting t $2,721,067, from June 30, 1891, to June 30 1895. This amount is divided as follows: For 1892, $955,473; for 1893, $443.301; fo 1894, $701,003; for 1895, $621,230. He all finds that of $6,269,007 paid in dividenduring the period mentioned only $971,446 was earned.

The items withheld from operating e penses and the methods of swelling the items year by year are given in detail. Be writing up the value of stocks owned an other such practices the net income we swelled by amounts that should have gon to profit and loss. Two improvised profi and loss accounts were opened, one desig nated "general adjustment account" and the curities adjustment account. Mr. Little says there is a mischarge worn-out equipment to profit and loss in stead of the income, amounting to $2,843,596 Charges to income of $2,064,741 were im properly capitalized under the title of "co struction, main stem, etc.

Improvements and betterments of leased and dependent roads amounting to $3,575.453 were improperly charged to capital account. The total of these improper entries is $11,204,858 for the seven years and two months ending November 30, 1895.

During the period under scrutiny therewere declared $2,956,920 in stock and $3,312, 686 in cash dividends on the common stock Concurrent with the stock dividends of per cent in November, 1891, was the sale to a syndicate of $5,096,000 additional common stock, and in February, 1892, $2,161,800 more common stock was issued in exchange for 129,190 shares of Pittsburg & Western common stock at $18 a share.

Mr. Little says that the liabilities of the company to November 30, 1895, were understated by $5,481.834 and that the floating debt was $16.212.730. The net increase in liability in the period under review has been $22,180,073.

You think of Scott's Emulsion as only for those who have consumption or who have inherited a tendency to it. Almost its greatest use is for those whose condition is so impaired as not to be able to get the good they should out of their ordinary food. In nearly every case with these, Scott's Emulsion of Codliver Oil brings back appetite, stimulates digestion, restores color and plumpness, and controls the diseases of thinness. Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts -gentle efforts -pleasant efforts → rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condi-tion of the system, which the picasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs. promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it nets. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the Cali-fornia Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists. If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.
