Wheat Peverish and Unsettled, Fluctuating Over a One- ent Range.

THERE WAS SOME GOOD BUYING EARLY

Corn Was Quiet and Inclined to Wenkness, Cables Being Easier and Trade Very Dull Provisions Quite Slow All Day.

CHICAGO, Dec. 17 .- Wheat noted feverish and unsettled, fluctuating over a 1% range. but finally closing firm at be advance. Large lines of long wheat were dumped on the market, but reports of heavy scaboard clearances sustained the market and were the main feature of the advance. Corn and oats were rather heavy, closing unchanged and be higher, respectively. Provisions declined slightly. In wheat there was some good buying the trade looked upon yesterday's weak-ness as without warrant from anything which could be discovered in the legitlmate situation. It was further helped by the report that over 200,000 bu, cash wheat had been taken yesterday, part of it to go east by rail and 75 cars were said to be now loading at one of Armour's elevators for Boston, by rail freight. The opening de-cline in the Liverpool cable was only $4d, equal to less than $\frac{1}{2}c$ and was not regarded as serious in view of the overweakness yes-terday, and New York wired liberal acceptances last night. Northwestern and Chicago receipts, as usual, were a factor in the early tone. Those points reported 4.5 cars, as compared with 486 cars last week ind 982 last year. Opening prices for May were practically the same as yesterday's closing figures, initial trading being at from 79% to 80c, yesterday's closing being at 79%. A moment after, 80% was quoted. But then began heavy selling, participated in by many of the heaviest operators on in by many of the heaviest operators on the board, which slowly but surely pressed prices downward. One operator was credited with disposing of over 1,000,000 and the depression naturally following the unloading of such large quantilies of wheat on a rather unwilling market was increased by rumors that it was for Armour. Cudahy was also credited with it, but this was emphatically denied by that gentleman. The result was that May by 1230 had decilined to 79½c. That, however, was the lowest point of the day. It soon became evident that the clearances would be heavy, and as confirmatory dispatches as to crop damage came in, the selling furore was checked and prices soon advanced to 50c. A reaction to 79½c then occurred, but it was temporary, and during the list hour the market gained strength, to the Newport News advices that 140,000 barrels of flour had been exported from there. While it was afterwards corrected to read pounds instead of barrels, it nevertheless had its effect. The market closed firm at 89%c for May.

Corn was quiet and inclined to weakness. The cubbes were easier, trade very dull and the processed markets. Americans, atthough good daring the day, closed under the best. Consols and other gilt-edged stocks were flux to the best. Consols and other gilt-edged stocks the best. Consols and other gilt-edged stocks emphasized that though good daring the day, closed under the best. Consols and other gilt-edged stocks emphasized that the bast of germany's rate. The best of the stand when we was the end of germany's rate. The bast of germany's rate. The best of the spile of it dear money at level, the spile of the spile of

May.

Corn was quiet and inclined to weakness.
The cables were easter, trade very dull and when wheat made its sharp break, corn also sold off some. The prospect of cold weather has made larger receipts probable and was partly responsible for the singgishness the market displayed. The closing strength of wheat had sufficient influence on corn to rally prices to the opining figures where the market closed. May opened at yesterday's closing price, 25½c. It sold at 155%c, declined to 25½c and closed steady at 25½c.

The market for oats was a stubborn one. There was some attempt at raiding during the early hours of the session, but prices held well in spite of the liberal offerings and finally advanced slightly. Business was fairly heavy though mainly of a scalping order. May opened about 3c higher at 20%, sold between 19% and from 20% to 20%. Closed steady at 20%. Provisions were slow all day. The opening was firm, although at practically unchanged fi was, in sympathy with a steady hog mark, and a slight advance followed. Under liberal offerings by packers an easier feeling was created and the advance was lost. May pork closed about 2% lower at from $7.90 to $7.22%; May lard, 2% lower at from $7.90 to $7.22%; May lard, 2% lower at $4.02%. May ribs, 2% lower The leading futures ranged as follows:

The foot up 12,200 as against 11.849 for the cor-responding days of last week, so that in spite of today's light run the present week so far has more than held its own. The offerings of cattle of all kinds were very meager today, after deducting the 600 head or more that were consigned direct to packers. The market, as a whole, was in a most satisfactory condition, everythin being sold early and at good prices.

five to eight leads of cornfed cattle, which vere snapped up quickly at strong prices The best cattle sold a little higher than yesterday and the demand is far larger than the supply. A comparison between the prices paid here and at other markets will bring out the fact that cattle are selling here well up to Chicago prices. There was one bunch of choice little cattle in the yards which sold at $4.75, but the most of the cattle were only good enough to bring $3.7594.25,

Everything in the line of butchers' stock was in demand and sold freely at firm prices, to say the least, while desirable fat cows and helfers sold even stronger than yesterday.

The market on stockers and feeders was also strong, with the demand active and more than equal to the offerings. Buyers were not long in effecting a clearance of everything on sale. Representative sales:
