Christmas Number The Omaha Sunday Bee December 20.

Christmas Stories -

Besides the continuation of Robert Barr's in-"tensely interesting serial, "The Mutable Many," readers will be presented with a whole batch of Christmas tales specially written for this issue of The Bee. Some of them will have local co oring and all will be timely, wholesome and entertaining.

Christmas Poems-

A seasonable Christmas lyric, by Gerald Brenan, handsomely illustrated by G. A. Ship'ey, entitled "The Children's Coming Home," and instinct with the simple joys and family feeling inseparable from Christmas. Also a variegated menu of appropriate poetical productions from the pens of writers who have made names in the literary field.

Christmas Pictures-

Specially designed Christmas headings for a number of The Bee's regular Sunday departments, made by the best artists who are doing newspaper work. Attractive illustrations accompany many of the special articles.

Christmas History-

Story of the Christmas day retold in simple language. A Christmastide review of the recent researches and identifications in the Holy Land, by F. J. Bliss, an officer of the Palestine Exploration Fund, telling what is known for certain and what is not certainly known about the places and localities recorded in the Bible. This article is illustrated with views of the historic places and monuments around Jerusalem and Bethlehem, drawn from photographs.

Christmas Presents-

Timely and pertinent suggestions and hints for the purchase of the year's Christmas presents. What to buy when in a state of perplexing doubt. Appropriate gifts for young and old, man, woman and child The Bee's advertising columns will also tell what all the leading merchants of Omaha have to offer Christmas patrons.

CAREER OF ANTONIO MACEO

Brilliant Military Record of the Dead Cuban General.

SPRANG FROM A FAMILY OF AVENGERS Dashing and Daring Operations Dur-

in the Ten Years' War and in the Present One_A Wonderful March.

For the seventh time, and the last, unarmy in Coba. The announcement was hailed with demonstrations of joy in Spain as well as in Havana and was received with exstances of his death, pointing as they do to arsassination while under the protection of a flag of truce, intensifies public sentiment in this country and places his name high on the rall of found, tructure with the sentiment in the sentimer tructure is the sentimere tructure is the sentime this country and places his name high on the roll of freedom's marryrs. Well, indeed, may the Spaniards rejuice over his death. What unmerciful drubbings he has given them: What victories he has snatched from the proudest commanders of the decayed mon-archy! What sleepless warfare has he non-waged at their very strongholds! At no time within the past two years has there time within the past two years has there been a moment when Spain would not have paid for his life many times the $50,000 aid to have been the price of Zertucha's treachery. When the news of the present uprising in When the news of the present uprising in Cuba reached Antonio Maceo, in banishment in Costa Rica, he quickly gathered about him aeveral veterans of the Ten Years War, among whom was his brother, Jose, and hurried to the relief of his native island. from which he had reluctantly taken leave seventeen years before. That was in March 1895. In less than two years he has traverset the island from one end to the other, break ing down military trochas and defying the spaniards in their very strongholds. These wenty months have shown him to be more twenty months have shown him to be more than a guerrilla chieftain, a great general-one of the greatest of modern times. The account given here of his wonderful carect is based upon information from one who served with Mrceo in the Ten Years' War and who has been closely acquainted with his movements during the present struggle. A FAMILY OF PATRIOTS.

Antonio Marco was a mulatto. He war born at Santiago de Cuba, July 14, 1848 His father was Marcus Maceo and his mother's maiden name was Mariana Grajales The didar Marco was Mariana Grajales The elder Macco owned a plantation a Barajagua and k pt pack mules for hire From this circumstance the statement has been made that Antonio Macco was a driver of mules before the war. At the beginnin of the Ten Years' War in 1868 the male por tion of the Maceo family consisted of elever sons, the youngest being Jose, 14 years o age. The revolution had been in progress he extreme west, he had accomplished a march of 800 miles, a military frat that must forever place him among the most diaseveral mouths and the Maceo family ha-kept aloof from taking part in the uprising One day there appeared a band of Spanish guerrillas, led by Captain Campillo. This band baj nothing to do but commit depredations and the Macco plantation was soon in ruins. The buildings were burned, the mule stolen and the female members of the family reated in an outrageous manner. The ather called his eleven sons around him treated All were now grown except Jose. Marcur Macso exacted from each a promise that they would not lay down their arms until Cuba was free. The blood of the Macc-family now stains the island from one end family now stains the island from one en-to the other. The father fell at the battle of St. Augustin. Manuel, Fermin and Justice were killed in the east. Raphail, covered with wounds, left the island to die as at exile. Miguel was killed by a bayonet thrust at the capture of Unevitas. Julio was sho dead in the engagement at Nee vo Mundos. Felipe and Thomas are helpless cripples from their wounds, while Antonio and Jose are dead and Marcus is still fighting. HIS EARLY MILITARY CAREER

Calling a council of war at Baragua, he issued the famous document known as the "Protesta de Baragua." He proposed to keep on fighting and repudiate the action of the congress, Unwilling to surrender, Maceo still made war on the Spanish for several months. Reduced to absolute want the great spirit of the soldier capitulated in a baughty le-ter to Martinez Campos, in which be agreed to lay down his arms on condition that a Spanish man-of-war be placed at his dis-posal to convey him and his officers from the island. Campos accepted the proposal and Maceo disbanded his soldiers under a big tree in the eastern part of Cuba. Macco went to Jamaica and afterward to New York. Some planters in Costa Rica offered him a tract of land on which to colonize his brave followers in the war, He accepted and fived in peace. In 1889 For the seventh time, and the last, un-fortunately, the Spaniards proclaim the death of Antonio Maceo, the famous rebel leader. second in command of the revolutionary of his banishment he studied continually, and became a good scholar.

IN CUBA ONCE MORE.

as in Havana and was received with ex-pressions of profound sorrow by all lovers of liberty the world over. The circum-stances of his death, pointing as they do to teen years before. All his old-time vigor and returned to him. The years of exile had only served to make him more cautious and calculating. He felt that he was a better soldier than when he had accepted banish-ment. Starting out with a force of $,000 men be swept everything before him. At Yateras, Filipinas, Jarahueca and Cristo the Spanish were put to rout. Fate had in store a grim surprise for General Macco. His soouts informed him that Martinez Campas was approaching from the south. The Cuban badde wall for the battle soldier than when he had accepted banish was approaching from the south. The Cuban leader could scarcely wait for the battle. But years had taught him caution, and he drew up his small army in line of battle. Campos came on and the battle began. Such a slaughter had never been seen on Cuban soil. Mad with a desire for revenge the veterans of the Ten Years' war rushed upon the soldiers before them. More than 1,000 Spaniards were slain, among them being General Santocildes. Campos was forced to leave the battlefield in a ham-mock, surrounded by wounded soldiers, and made his way to Bayamo on foot. Macco then crossed the Canto river and routed General Suarez Valdes at Chiparra. General Suarez Valdes at Chaparra, Moscones and Holguin. Turning to the west he defeated General Echague at Puerio Padra and forced his way through the mili-tary trocha into Puerto Principe. He warched across Camaguez, broke the trocha of Jucaro and entered Villas province. Afor defeating the Spaniards at Maltiempo, Coliseo, Paso Real and Calimete he overrau he Villas and Matanzas provinces, breaking anew the Spanlard military lines and in-rading Havana. Reaching Pinar del Rio, in ufinitesimal in Quantity, but Virulent if Concentrated.

One of the curious and little-known facts rought to light by recent investigations s that in almost every kind of food some mall amount of poison is to be found. Often the quantity is so small that chemical nalysis does not reveal it, and it is only liscovered by certain effects upon the huian system under certain conditions. Small and observe under certain conditions. Small as these quantities of poison are, however, in comparison with the other constituents of any one food, they do exist, and aro poisons of a deadly sort. Concentrated the unount of poison that is taken into the system during an average lifetime would be unfident to thut as be sufficient to kill an array instantly. Yet the extremely minute fragments absorbed during each meal not only do no harm, but seem almost health-giving. At least, it is certain that many of the most descent The military career of Antonio Macco was gularly brilliant. He was about 21 years it is certain that many of the most danger-
