ELLIOTT'S STREAK OF LUCK

Judge Baker Gave Him to Understand That the Jury Saved His Neck.

Judge Baker of the criminal court distributed New Year's gifts with a lavish hand yesterday morning. He announced that days ago that he would celebrate the incoming of the new year by liberating a number of prisoners from the county jail, and a number of the hangers-on about the court house pre-empted front seats in the court room in order that they might not miss any of the ceremony. Eleven prisoners from the county jail were brought into court and were placed in the jury box. These were called before the judge, one at a time, and were given sentences "to fit the crime" as nearly as the law allows. Eight were ordered released with a suspended sentence.

The most important case disposed of was that of Charles H. Elliott, convicted of murder in the first degree with life imprisonment for the killing of his roommate and friend, Gay Hutsong. Judge Baker told the jury that he was very fortunate for him that the jury had the right to fix the penalty, for had it been otherwise the judge said he would have sentenced the prisoner to death. The court expressed the opinion that the crime of which Elliott had been convicted was the most cold-blooded murder in the criminal calendar, and if the death penalty were ever desired by any man it was by the prisoner at the bar. In accordance with the finding of the jury the convicted man was sentenced to the penitentiary for life, and it was further provided that for each anniversary of the crime, November 17 of each year, he should be placed in solitary confinement with bread and water diet.

Two colored women were sentenced to the penitentiary for larceny from the person. The complaining witness in each was a white man who was robbed while enjoying the company and carriages of the dusky damsels. Hattie Jones and Lillie Williams will receive their mail at the same point for the next two years. William Garlich, convicted of highway robbery, was sentenced for five years. His "pal," James Griffin, who was also convicted of the same charge, was granted a new trial.

Charles Johnson, convicted of burglary, was sentenced to five years. A young man who has been in the custody of the authorities more or less for the past few years for petty offenses, was sentenced to the penitentiary for entering a house in the daytime. Bert Marx, convicted of breaking and entering a dwelling house in the daytime, was sentenced to the penitentiary for one and one-half years.

H. A. Ross, a young man who was convicted of stealing a bicycle, will reside at Leavenworth for the next year and will not require any bicycle. E. D. Glaze, who broke into Dr. H. A. Worley's office and stole a number of articles, among them a bottle of morphine, for which he was convicted of burglary, was sentenced to six months in jail.

Bert Adams, one of the four boys arrested for breaking into Union Pacific freight cars which were standing in the neighborhood of Sixth and Leiz, was sentenced to the county jail for six months. Frank Krejel, another of the same crowd of boys, was released from custody on a suspended sentence to young Tom, who was given a jail sentence and promised to behave if allowed to go.

GETTING FARMERS INTERESTED

Beet Sugar Project Discussed at a Meeting at Commercial Club. A meeting in the interest of the establishment of a beet sugar factory was held at the Commercial club rooms yesterday afternoon. A number of farmers from points in this county as well as from adjoining counties were present, and took an active interest in the proceedings. As a result of the meeting a committee was appointed to call upon the farmers of this and adjacent counties and learn what support would be given the project by the farmers, either by the way of raising beets or in subscriptions to the stock in the factory.

Those present were William Finney, Waterloo; M. A. Lamm, Bellevue; Nels Johnson, R. B. Schneider, J. J. Hawthorne and L. D. Richards, Fremont; T. H. Williams, Lundberg; C. H. Corbett, R. V. Johnson, R. Williams, Benson; W. G. Whitmore, Valley; A. Doll, H. T. Clarke, A. D. Merritt, E. Stoddard, W. N. Nason, County Commissioner; G. R. Williams, A. H. Hensley, H. Hendrix, G. A. Forbes, W. R. Bennett, G. W. Kelley, P. E. Iler, J. Redmon, J. R. Webster, Alvin Stang, Henry Meyer, D. Farrell, Jr., and O. W. Peckard, all of this city. J. H. Dumont was chosen chairman of the meeting.

Prof. Nicholson of the State university, who has made very extensive investigations into the subject of raising sugar beets, was introduced to the meeting, and made a very interesting and instructive address on the proper cultivation of sugar beets, the peculiar adaptability of Nebraska soil, especially the eastern portion of the state, to the raising of beets of high grade and other details in connection with the subject.

After those present had questioned Prof. Nicholson regarding certain details of cultivation, Chairman Dumont called the attention of the meeting to the matter of establishing a factory, asking the farmers of this vicinity to co-operate with the Commercial club in a movement. He stated that the Commercial club had appointed a committee to organize such a project, and he asked the farmers to appoint a committee to act with the committee already appointed.

The matter was discussed from the farm point of view by G. H. Whitmore and G. R. Williams, after which a committee consisting of G. R. Williams, F. Schroeder and Frank Hubbard, was appointed to call upon the farmers of this county and ascertain what they would do in the way of co-operating in the matter, either in supplying the necessary beets to the factory or in taking stock in the enterprise, and to report to the Commercial club committee the result of its investigations.

RESTS WITH MAYOR BROATCH NOW

Fate of the Jail Scheme and the Barber Repair Claim. The live question in city hall circles just now is whether or not Mayor Broatch will veto the city jail contract and the compromise with the Barber Asphalt company. A great deal of pressure is being brought to bear on both sides, but it is intimated by officials who have had an opportunity to approach the mayor that unless the mayor changes his mind both the jail and the asphalt contracts will be returned to the council next Tuesday night with vetoes. In any case the action of councilmen in filing notice that they would move a reconsideration of the vote by which the measures were passed amounts to nothing. Both documents were sent to the mayor by the city clerk, and as his approval or disapproval is the first order of business, the members will have no opportunity to carry their good resolutions into effect. It is suggested by certain individuals that the members were aware of this fact before they gave the notice.

There is a difference of opinion among councilmen as to the duty of the city clerk in such a case as this. Under the rules of the council provide that any member who voted with the majority may have a vote reconsidered at the next regular meeting by giving notice of his intention. Under the procedure of the city clerk this rule is a farce, as, by sending the papers to the mayor, no opportunity for a reconsideration is afforded. Some councilmen side with the city clerk, while others contend that he had no right to dispose of the papers until after the motion to reconsider had been acted on.

Thieves Steal the Sidewalks. The street department is having a good deal of trouble with thieves who steal and carry away the board sidewalks in the residence districts. During the last few nights a vast amount of lumber has been stolen and numerous walks that were in excellent condition will have to be partially replaced. Street Commissioner Kanjar advises property owners who have wooden walks to at once bind each end of the planks with fence wire. This can be done at an expense of 50 cents for a fifty-foot lot and effectually prevents the loss of the boards.
