Little Effort to Make a Holiday at the Capital City.

LINCOLN, Jan. 1 .- (Special.) - New Year's day was not so generally observed in Lincoln as was the holiday of Christmas. Many of the stores and husiness houses remained open all day, and most of the departments at the state capitol were running on full time, edness, from whatever source, so that the preparing for the closing up and handing over of official business to the new adminis-tration. High mass was celebrated at $20 a. m., at St. Theresa's pro-cathedral. The day also witnessed the departure of nearly all the school teachers who, practically, captured the city early in the week.

Bert Manchester, a telegraph operator in the stock exchange of Bigger & Lyon, this parsonage are free and the congregation re-city, dropped dead at his home, 429 South joiced together in celebration of the happy Eleventh street, at 12:30 this morning. He is said to have been a victim of heart disease, having suffered from that complaint for some time. Deceased was 30 years of age.

Chief Clerk Mary of the governor's ofthief entered the rooms and stole $20 worth of postage stamps from his desk.

A requisition was honored today by Gov-ernor Holcomb from Governor Stone of Misfor George Finley. The latter has just finished serving a sentence in the Nebraska penitentiary for burglary, and is wanted in Missouri for a similar offense.

Should the where they went to hold a conference with get together and make an appointment there is no certainty that Vandervoord the officials of the Omaha-Chicago railways with a view of securing substantial support from those roads in the way of subscriptions to stock of the exposition. Those in the party were Chairman Z. T. Lindsoy of the executive committee, manager of the department of ways and means; Edward Rozewater, manager of the department of publicity; Directors A. T. Rector, Lucius Wells of Council Bluffs and George F. Bidwell, general manager of the Fremont, Elk horn & Missouri Valley railway.

The delegation met the railway officials in the Auditorium annex and felt entirely satisfied with the result of their interview, which lasted several hours. The Chicago officials present were: President Marvin Hughitt and Third Vice Provident H. G. Burt of the Northwestern; President R. R Cable of the Rock Island, and General Manager A. J. Earling of the Milwaukee road President Miller of the latter road being confined to his room by serious illness.

Edward Rosewater stated, after his reurn home, that the interview with the railway officials had been most amicable and that the committee felt the roads would give the exposition substantial support Mr. Rosewater said that President Hughit had given it as his opinion that the extition was the most extensive and effect ve advertising scheme for the transmi

President Gable promised the support o the Rock Island to the exposition, said his road would subscribe liberally. an He stated that the directors would probably meet in March next, and promised to lay the matter before them with his endorse ment.

General Manager Earling of the Mil waukee, speaking for President Miller, said the matter would be taken up by the Milwaukee at the carliest practicable momen and would undoubtedly be given most favorable consideration.

MANIFEST MUCH INTEREST.

All of the Chicago officials manifested great interest in all of the details of the exposition so far as it has progressed, and asked innumerable questions which were satisfactorily answered by the committee The officials were disposed to be noncommittal on the point whether the railroads would subscribe to the stock or make donations in aid of the exposition. They stated, however, that they had subscribed to slock in the World's fair and had received 42 per seent of their money in turn when the affairs of the great exsition were settled. NEBRASKA" CITY, Jan. 1 .- (Special.)-The social traditions of New Year's day were observed here by the usual quota of calls. Miss Coretta Sadler, Mesdames W. L. Wilson, N. A. Duff, M. E. At 12 o'clock last night all the steam whistles at the various manufacturing plants, lecomotives, etc., were sounded and kept up for an hour at intermittent inter-Added to this was the sound of the fire bell, church bells, gongs, etc. The day was observed very quietly, nearly all business being suspended. Rain fell steadily yesterday and last night, but the skies were clear and bright today.

Rouds in Bad Condition.

NORTH LOUP, Neb., Jan. 1 .- (Special.)-After a night of south wind, dense fog and almost Egyptian darkness, a heavy shower of rain fell this morning. The wind has turned to the north, and is threatening to grow colder. Circumstances are apparently combining to increase and continue the prevalence of the already unprecedented mud of the winter, which has been a veritable "reign of terror" to those who have resided here sufficiently long to have become accustomed to the hard, dry winter roads, as they are usually found, and to forget the boggy winter trails that pass for roads in many castern states from which they come.

The police have various theories, however, one of which, they say, points to a deep plot. There were indications that Charles Broadway Rouss, has become known as Mr. Rouss' man. Martin first presented himself to Mr. Rouss eight months here today for a criminal assault upon Miss Katle Camp. Cunningham confessed his guilt in a gailows speech. The hanging was witnessed by an enormous crowd. He was formerly a druggist, but in the crime was committed for purposes of robbery, but many things lead the pollee to think there was no theft, and that the signs of the robbery were made after the crime was committed. 1887 was stricken with atrophy of the optinerves and became totally blind.
