

CONGRESSIONAL FORECASTS

Nicaragua Bill Likely to Be Taken Up This Week in the Senate.

SENATOR MORGAN HAS IT IN CHARGE

Chandler to Introduce the Census Committee's Bill for an International Monetary Conference—House Has Little to Do.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The friends of the Nicaragua canal bill expect it to be taken up early in the week, and that it will retain its place at the head of the calendar until disposed of. The bill will lead on a considerable debate before voted on, but its advocates are very hopeful of its passage.

Senator Perkins will make an effort to get up the bill for a nonpartisan labor commission, and in this he likely will be antagonized by Senator Frye with the Hawaiian cable bill.

Senator Chandler will introduce the census committee bill for an international monetary conference on Monday, and will ask to have it voted upon on Tuesday without going through a committee. So far Senator Chandler is the only member of the majority who has announced an intention to oppose the bill, though it is expected that others, while giving it no effective opposition, will in the position of a stalling tactic be completed by international action.

Mr. Pettigrew will make a speech against the bill. The legislative executive, judicial and military academy appropriation bill, as reported from the committee on appropriations on Monday, and an early consideration will be asked for. An effort may be made to amend the bill, but this will be resisted by the committee on foreign relations.

HOUSE FORECAST.

The coming week in the house is likely to be uneventful. There are no bills of national interest on the house calendar which are to be debated unless the supporters of the Nicaragua canal project succeed in inducing the committee on rules to assign them one or more days for discussion of that measure. Monday will be devoted to the consideration of the bill reported by the committee on Massachusetts which will bring up the vote-tucker election contest from the Tenth district of Virginia.

On Tuesday Mr. McCall of Massachusetts will bring up the Tucker election contest from the Tenth district of Virginia. The committee on rules will report on the Tucker, the sitting member, who is a democrat, and his side of the contest will be managed by Chairman McCall, a Republican. Mr. Walter of Virginia, the sitting member from Virginia, will handle Weyler's case. One day of the week will be given to the pension committee for the passage of bills introduced in the house from the Friday night sessions.

There are two appropriation bills ready to be acted upon, the agricultural and Indian, both of which will be introduced into the spare hours. They contain no item probable to give rise to much conflict. The rest of the week, according to present plans, will be occupied in passing small bills which may be called up by unanimous consent, and in the call of roll for committee reports upon them.

TALMAGE FAIRBAIN ARBITRATION.

Compliments Authorities for Originating the Recent Treaty.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Rev. T. DeWitt Talmage, in his sermon Sunday morning, referred to the arbitration treaty in the following language:

"The official, grandest movement for driving brutal war out of the earth dates from January 11, 1897. The men who on either side of the sea did most to effect that plan of arbitration have made themselves immortal. The mortal, the president, the administration of the United States government has been honored with the gladdest event of eighteen centuries. All civilized nations will copy the example of our country. The illustrious senate of the United States to allow nothing to interfere with a vote of ratification, that the bells of all Christian nations ring, that the organs of men will to men. Senators, many of you will personal friends, let me say that this is the opportunity of your lives. If you are consistent, you will be the savior of the world. Let the age, ay, of our American nation be marked by the name of the man who saved the world. Let the age be known as the age of the man who saved the world."

FOR MCKINLEY'S INAUGURATION.

Arrangements Being Made for Accommodating the "Public."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Washingtonians who are making efforts to so arrange the inaugural ceremonies of Mr. McKinley that none can complain are disturbed by statements in certain quarters of the country, that extortionate rates are to be exacted of those who come here to witness the inaugural ceremonies. Speaking to an Associated press representative today, a member of the committee on arrangements, is making their own arrangements, the inaugural committee cannot be held responsible, but I can assure any one who will address Colonel L. P. Wainwright, chairman of the committee on public comfort, that he will secure for them the best accommodations at reasonable rates. He has listed already accommodations in the hotels, in the homes, mostly in private houses, which are well located, and which are supplied with all modern conveniences, and the rates are increasing. The rates will average about as follows: For lodging only, $1 per day for beds and 75 cents for cot; $1.25 to $1.50 for lodging and meals. Good horses for the parade may be hired for from $5 to $10. If persons have equipments it would be well to bring them, although such as may not possess them will be supplied by the committee at moderate cost."

TOWN IN A MOB'S HANDS.

Riotous Demonstrations Take Place at Byron, Ga.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 17.—A special to the Commercial-Tribune from Americus, Ga., says:

For over twenty-four hours the village of Byron, in Houston county, has been in a state of riot, in which four men, Messrs. C. C. Richardson, C. B. Bateman, C. L. Bateman and R. L. Baskies were shot and others held in terror. The trouble grew out of an election for municipal office, held two weeks ago, which resulted in a tie, the town dividing into two bitter factions, and charges of fraud being freely interchanged. An election was called for yesterday, to decide the contest in which every voter was brought up to the polls, not a change taking place in the political alignment, thus causing a riot of a most serious nature, which was actually the result of the election of the factions were Charles L. Bateman and C. C. Richardson. Unfortunately they approached the polls at the same moment, the persons who were in took place, in which shotguns were pulled. Their followers made a rush home for arms and in a few moments the village street presented a scene of a most extraordinary character, which was a woman, abandoned her car in terror, and thus for hours the outside world was cut off from communication. The riotous scene continued until 9 p. m., the trouble was renewed, and at the ringing of the bell the population gathered in the street. The sheriff succeeded in establishing his authority, but the feud now started, especially since the election was held again, looked upon as one to result in further bloodshed.

SETS FIRE TO A TENEMENT HOUSE.

Cook Wages Furniture Is Insured—Injures a Hundred Lives.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—A fire of over 100 persons, comprising the twenty families who lived in the five-story tenement, 118 East Thirtieth street, were endangered last night, when a fire was started at the bottom of a shaft soaked in oil. Just after 10 o'clock two tenants went to the cellar to clean their bicycles. As they went down the shaft, the oil, which had been fanned in, came from the direction of the elevator shaft. They then saw there was a fire and Adolph Meyer, who lives on the second floor of the tenement, ran to the fire escape, which he found to be a man who was busily engaged that he did not notice the approach of the two men. Not only was the woodwork burning, but the ceiling was also saturated with oil, which was also burning. Meyer was arrested and the fire extinguished by the fire department. The police showed the woodwork of the shaft had been saturated. Meyer, who is a cook, has his furniture insured for $500.

ARREST OF A TRAIN WRECKER.

Hungarian Tramp Detained by the Sheriff at Eastman, Ga.

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 17.—A special to the Republic from Birmingham, Ala., says:

The statement was given out by the sheriff late tonight that a Hungarian tramp named Sam Palatka had been arrested at Eastman, Ga., on the charge of being one of the men who wrecked a Birmingham mineral train at Catfish river bridge December 27, whereby twenty-six lives were lost. Deputy Sheriff James Bell has gone for the prisoner. The principal evidence against Palatka is that he was seen by two persons at Eastman of the wreck and described it very vividly. This directed suspicion against him by Eastman authorities. Palatka was arrested at Eastman, where he was ordered. It is rumored that a confession has been made, but this lacks confirmation.

DAMAGE DONE BY A HIGH WIND.

Central Indiana Suffers from a Blow Resembling a Hurricane.

CINCINNATI, Jan. 17.—A special to the Commercial Tribune from Anderson, Ind., says:

This afternoon there was a hurricane wind through the central part of Indiana, doing damage at various points. The greatest loss was the destruction of factory No. 4 of the Anderson Window Glass company, the roof of which was carried away and the walls blown in. The wind was so strong that the prompt work of factory men a big fire would have occurred. Fifty skilled men will be out of work for some time. The west wall of the factory, which was a "big block," which burned out, was blown down and the streets leading to it were blocked.
