

CONDITION OF OMAHA'S TRADE

Improvement Noted in Some Special Lines of Jobbing Business.

COLLECTIONS CONTINUE RATHER SLOW

Retail Business Shows Few Changes of Importance—New Styles in Shoes Coming Into General Favor—Storage Season Ends.

Low prices and light marketings of leading firm products, with a consequent scarcity of money, is, in brief, the situation in the country and in local business operations.

In a jobbing way goods are moving as freely as could be expected under the conditions noted, but the change from one week to the next is so small as to hardly merit special mention.

Business men appear to feel that the staple products of the west have touched bottom and that such changes as occur in the matter of values in the future must be reached in a more encouraging manner.

They are encouraged by the small number of failures that have been reported in the country during the past few months, as indicating that the situation has been reached and that the worst is over with.

They are pointing to the fact that the excess of imports from the west for the last year 1926 over imports received $25,250,000, an amount that was never reached in the history of the country.

The local market in the city has nothing to be proud of as a whole, though some houses report having had a fair trade in the past few days.

It is the season of the year when the most of the retailing business is done, and annual clearing sales and they have been able to report a very satisfactory business.

One thing that is noticeable in connection with the shoe business is that through this section the men's "razor" is in the market.

It is the season of the year when the most of the retailing business is done, and annual clearing sales and they have been able to report a very satisfactory business.

TO PROTECT THEIR RIGHTS

German-American Citizens Will Organize to Bring Proper Recognition.

WILL INSIST ON MORE POLITICAL PLUMS

Claiming to Have Seventy Thousand Votes in the State They They Have Not Their Share of Honors.

The German-American citizens of this state are to be banded in an organization for mutual interest and benefit, particularly in a political way, although the body itself is to be purely non-partisan.

Some time ago, shortly after the new state officers had been inducted into office, the German-American Free Silver club came to the conclusion that German-Americans were not being given any of the political pie, and in consequence sent a committee to Lincoln.

This committee consisted of Prof. Heise, a prominent worker for the silver cause during the campaign; F. W. Koetter, an active politician; and the Rev. Dr. H. E. Elsasner.

When the party arrived at Lincoln it found that everything had been doled out except a few clerical jobs. The committee made a report on the results of the trip to a meeting of the club, held last Saturday night at Miller's hall.

The following committee was appointed to draft a constitution and by-laws, which are to be presented to the meeting for adoption: Helge, Hermann, Harvey, and Peter.

It is said that there are fully 70,000 German-American voters in the state, and that this basis is figured that the German-Americans ought to have four or five members in proportion.

The new order is also to have a secondary duty to perform. This is to see that only the best men are put into office, and that they are allowed to get into office.

Notice is hereby given that I, the undersigned, have been appointed receiver of the assets of the American Loan and Trust Company, pursuant to the order of the court.
