

ITS MARVELOUS POWER. Paine's Celery Compound Better Than Years of Doctoring.

There was never a remedy so eminently successful, so far above and beyond all competition, as Paine's celery compound... 'How well you look!' 'Yes,' he said, 'I never felt so well in my life. She is a woman of 45. And now, she said, I want you to give me a little advice. I have been almost at death's door with liver trouble. After the doctor had done all that he could for me, I had to give up. I had a bottle of Paine's celery compound and told him I was going to give that a fair trial. As a result I am strong and well. I'm right over to the drug store and got a bottle of Paine's celery compound, and when I had taken two bottles the soreness had left my stomach and my side felt much better. After I had taken four bottles my side was much stronger, and I was in better spirits and felt, as though I might live and not be in such misery. Working people nowadays work the vitality all out every week, and all I ask is to be able to earn my money I have to work every week. 'Paine's celery compound has enabled me to do this, and has done me more good than all the doctors put together. 'How my nervous system is so entirely strengthened that I feel like a new being, and what is more, I look the good the medicine has done, right in my eyes. Just tell all your friends for me that I have recommended it to several and it has helped in every case. I have a great deal to write you, but I must close for this time. If any one wishes to write me, they can do so. Why should a sick person do anything else but try a bottle of Paine's celery compound?'

successfully any of the bigger European battleships. The navy department has been informed by cables of the critical illness at his post in Cairo, Egypt, of Judge Walker Fearn, the American representative on the court of first instance of the international tribunal of Egypt.

Building Up a New Navy. Chinese Government at Work on the Matter of National Defense. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—An outline of the plans of the Chinese government in the direction of reconstruction and replacement of the navy destroyed and captured by the Japanese during the late war has reached the Navy department through a report from Commander F. M. Barber, retired, who was invited to address the Chinese Tientsin or Imperial council last fall upon the feasibility of securing ships in the United States. He was informed that China proposes to purchase a great number of ships, some a first-class naval power in ten years. The bay of Shan Tung, on the south side of Shan Tung promontory, is to be thoroughly dredged and fortified for a great naval harbor, and the arsenal at Poo Chow is to be enlarged and improved under French engineers so as to be capable of constructing modern vessels of war of all types. There is a new arsenal in progress of construction on the Shan Tung promontory. Six vessels have already been ordered from Europe. Two of these are unarmored cruisers of 4,500 tons and twenty-four launch speeders from Armstrong in England. The time of construction is eighteen months. Three armored cruisers of 3,500 tons and twenty-two launch speeders from the Vulcan works in Germany, time of construction eighteen months; and four torpedo destroyers of 200 tons and thirty-two launch speeders from the Vulcan works at Elbing, Germany, time of construction thirteen months.

Recommend Building for Stretcher. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The house committee on public buildings today voted to report a bill for a government building at Stretcher, Ill., to cost $100,000.

Daily Treasury Statement. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Today's statement of the treasury's condition shows: Available cash balance, $259,959,632; gold reserve, $145,022,322.

My dad ain't no fish—he's onto his job he is—de smoke house is full of buyers at dese prices—Bofroh, 4 oz., $1.00—Banquet Mixture, 4 oz., 40c—Imperial Mixture, 4 oz., 40c—Yale Mixture, 4 oz., 40c—Cornell Mixture, 4 oz., 20c—Cannet, 4 oz., 20c—English Bird's-Eye, 4 oz., 20c—Engle Cavendish, 4 oz., 25c—Eagle Perique Mixture, 4 oz., 25c—some older time I'll tell you some more 'bout dese smoke house of hissen.

W. F. Stoeker, CIGARS AND 1404 Smoking Goods, Douglas St.

SUITS MEN OF ALL PARTIES

Collection of Lyman J. Gage for the Treasury is Welcome. EVIDENCE OF A BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION. Choice of a Trained Financier to Handle the Nation's Money Questions an Excellent Omen.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(Special Telegram.)—The selection of Lyman J. Gage for the treasury position has been received with the warmest expressions of approval in public life in Washington, and the congratulations continued to republicans, but democrats and even populists unite in commending the sterling good sense of the president-elect to choose a man for this most responsible position who would not have to "learn his trade" when he assumed the responsibilities. It is interesting in this connection to state that Mr. Roosevelt brought the first authentic news to Washington that a western man would be chosen for the treasury, and that in his opinion Mr. Gage was the man who had the greatest training for the position. Mr. Gage, it is stated, has made a name for himself in the great business world and has special fitness for the place to which he has been chosen by Major McKinley. The defeat of Fred Dubois was received with every manifestation of delight by republicans in excess, even some of the gold democrats uniting in congratulation upon his humiliation. Politicians know that Mr. Gage is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a man who will be a credit to the treasury. Mr. Gage is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Representative Gamble of South Dakota has been assured by Speaker Reed that he will be relieved of the duties of the office of the treasury. Under the terms of the law, the office of the treasury is to be filled by a man who has been chosen by the president-elect. Mr. Gage is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Gage is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

PERSONALITIES IN THE HOUSE. Powers of Vermont and Barrett of Massachusetts Attack Each Other. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—The house today witnessed a most exciting and sensational episode. At the end of an acrimonious debate on the conference report on the bill to confer the rights and franchises of the Atlantic and Pacific railroad on the purchasers under the mortgage foreclosure law, Mr. Powers of Vermont and Mr. Barrett of Massachusetts exchanged broadsides. Mr. Powers defended the conference report and attacked the bill, while Mr. Barrett, particularly severe in his criticisms, charged that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company.

CONFERENCE REPORT CALLED UP. The conference report referred to was called up immediately after the reading of the journal. One of the provisions of the bill was that the government should acquire the right to the land under the mortgage foreclosure law. Mr. Powers defended the conference report and attacked the bill, while Mr. Barrett, particularly severe in his criticisms, charged that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company.

Survey for Deep Waterways. WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Senator Davis gave notice today of an amendment to the survey and examination of deep waterways between the great lakes and the Atlantic, in accordance with the plan indicated by the Deep Waterways commission recently transmitted to congress.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Senate Declares Decisively in Favor of the Proposition. BILL PASSES BY A LARGE MAJORITY. Only Four Senators Vote Against the Measure.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—By the decisive vote of 46 to 14 the senate today passed the bill for the appointment of commissioners to an international monetary conference. The closing of the debate brought out several notable speeches, including those of Mr. Hoar of Massachusetts, Mr. Vilas of New York, Mr. Sherman of New York, Mr. Aldrich of New York, Mr. Curtis of Missouri, and Mr. Brewster of New York. Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

Mr. Hoar's speech was particularly notable, as he declared that the bill was a "job" for the benefit of the railroad company. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury. He is a man who will be a credit to the treasury, and that he will be a credit to the treasury.

matter of fact, he has had little opportunity at Copenhagen of taking a very active part in diplomatic affairs. His task has been in a great measure confined to acting as intermediary in family affairs between two closely related courts, some of his critics affirm that he lacks the calm and self-possession necessary to a foreign minister of a great power, but admit that he will not have unlimited control of Russia's foreign policy, and that the emperor is not likely to approve of adventurous courses without due reflection. As to the opinions which he has expressed heretofore, it is remembered that the responsibility of office are not to be taken by any diplomat's ideas. Personally, he is described as an accomplished and stable gentleman, who would not willingly be the cause of personal offense to any one.

The British government has an appalling task before it in India. It seems as if the army forces of nature are guiding themselves for a deadly assault with the boasted resources of civilization, to remind it that among its glories omnipotence must not be claimed. Statistics cannot convey an adequate notion of things as they are in India, whose aggregate population there is no reliable census. Its natives are to be reckoned as we reckon the uncountable flocks of nomads in the highlands of the present. The province is much the same size as Prussia, with a population of 19,000,000. Seventy per cent of the people are Hindoo, and it is Mohammedans. Bombay city had 861,300 inhabitants, largely employed in the textile mills, which some think resembles the black death that ravaged Europe in the fourteenth century, has been carrying off an average of 170 a day for a month or more. Last week the ratio per 1,000 was 4.02.

The new constitution for the republic of Ecuador is far superior to the one that fell under the revolution of last year. It provides for administrative economy, for the extension of popular education, for the enlargement of the liberty of the press, for the better regulation of suffrage and elections, and for the better regulation of the government of Ecuador is perhaps more aggressive and conservative than any other in South America; but, in case the president shall act in conformity with the new constitution, the revolution will have an excellent government. During the year, in which General Elviro served as the revolutionary executive, he made it manifest that he is possessed of a sound judgment, and furnished reason for believing that he will administer the duties of the office of constitutional president for the better welfare of the republic. There are some vigorous Spanish-American people in volcanic Ecuador.

JINGLING RHYMES. Detroit Free Press. The maid with golden hair, Can't catch a man they say, She often hits his faults, and he like things out of her way.

Washington Star. "Remember this," the warden cried: "Your plea shall be in vain; I'll never let you come inside if you break out."

Excelsior. Next day some skilled mechanics came; They worked day and night, and after hours hucks are made with corners square; And scheming hands deposit there.

Excelsior. In you'll, as well as trade, Reformers are often likewise made; Not of the high and wide they land, But of that cheap and shoddy fraud, Excelsior.

Excelsior. And Destiny will sometimes puff A prophet with such fulsome stuff; Not of the high and wide they land, But of that cheap and shoddy fraud, Excelsior.

Excelsior. We stood on the steps in the moonlight, My dear little girl and I, The evening breeze gently laden, The breeze floats gently by; The foolish things that we uttered, I can never be true to you; And she laughingly searched my pockets— I thought 'twas so cunning now.

Excelsior. We're married now, and the moonlight And I am drowsily dreaming Of days that can come no more; For she waits for me in slumber, Descends on my weary brow, And then she searches my pockets— But I can't so cunning now.

Excelsior.

Jean De Reszke, The World's Great Tenor. Says: "We are so pleased with the Kimball Piano that we have concluded to purchase one for our personal use."

A. Hospe, Jr., 1513 DOUGLAS ST.

Drexel Shoe Co., 1919 FARNAM STREET