SAVINGS M'CAGUE

Receiver Curtis Makes a Report on the Condition of Assets.

> 21112 OUTLOOK IS NOT WERY ENCOURAGING

Bank Paid Out Nearly a Half Million Dollars to Depositors in Three Years, Thereby Draining Its Resources.

S. S. Curtis, receiver of the McCague Savings bank, has filed a report of the condition of the assets in that institution as called for by an order of the court, male January 8.

The nominal and real value of the acress are set out in .bis table:

and the second	Nominal Value.	Value.
Mortgage and collateral loans	$87,764.50	814,357
Tax certificates	954.87	10 500
Real estate	9,952.49	1,297
Overdrafts	114.74	3134

Totals $135,959 17 $30,813 The liabilities of the bank, so far as known to the receiver, are:
Receiver's certificates issued.....$ 95.921.3
Accounts, no certificates issued.....$ 259.5

In explaining the basis of the valuation made, the receiver says:

"In putting the value on the stocks and bonds, I put $25,000 of bonds of the Mc-Cague Investment company at $10,000, but the outcome of these bonds is very doubtful. In the summer of 1895, the McCague Savings bank in order to raise money induced the officers of the McCague Investment company to issue $50,000 of bonds due one-half in two years and one-half in three years. These bonds are secured by mortgages and stock owned by the savings bank to the amount of $62,000, which have been put into the hands of a trustee as collateral and the bonds were thereupon delivered to the savings bank. Out of the proceeds of this collateral the trustee is to pay first, the $39,500 due in two years and second, the $39,000 due in three years. If the first installment of bonds is not paid at maturity, then the trustee may dispose of the collateral to pay them, so that the first series of bonds is secured by all the collateral. The savings bank sold the first series of $39,000 at 90 cents on the dollar and subsequently sold $5,000 of the second series at 50 cents on the dollar. As the first series falls due this year and there is only $6,000 in the hands of the trustee (col lected on the collaterals), it is very evident that the trustee can sell the balance of the unpaid collaterals of mortgages and stocks which if done in the present condition of the market in western securities, will no bring enough to pay the first series of $20, 900, In which event the $25,000 of bonds belonging to the savings bank would b

OUTLOOK IS NOT GOOD. The receiver says that while this looks like very poor showing, the fact is that in the spring of 1893 the liabilities of the bank were over $500,000, but of this amount about $400, 000 have been withdrawn by depositors, so that about 80 per cent, of the Habilities had been paid before the bank went into the receiver's hands.

The receiver gives it as his opinion that the assets of the bank are not sufficient to pay the liabilities within a reasonable time. The following is given as the list of stock subscriptions existing at the present time: J. H. McCulloch, 10; McCague Investment company, 100; M. C., Acheson, 215; W. L. McCague, 65; John L. McCague, 60; Thomas H. McCague, 10; McCague Bros., 290.
The receiver adds that James H. McCulloch is financially responsible and willing to pay the liability on his stock.

Christian in the court of the contract of the In connection with the discussion of school finances, C. L. Talbot, of the finance and claims committee of the Board of Educa tion, has prepared an exhaustive statement showing receipts and expenditures and esti nates for the next school year. According to this report the total assets available for warrants, July 1, 1897, will be $19,689,33. It it thus shown that the board of 1895-97 will $1,000 of the amount the board of 1895-96 exhausted early in December, 1897. The board cannot draw warrants on propective income, from liquor licenses, etc. for 1898, until May 1 of that year, and no then, should there be a contest in the grant ing of the Heenses. This will necessitate a levy to carry on the schools from some time in December until the end of the term in 1898, which is estimated at $26,310.67, therefore, the total amount necessary to raise by levy will be something like $21,691.10, or about the same as last year.

This does not provide for any additional buildings. As more room must be provided the board must either build or rent. Even with a levy of 20 mills, which is the limit erect buildings. There seems to be a doubt in the minds of some of the members of the board about the bonds carrying, if voted for at the coming election. It was almost a certainty that with a small levy a bond proposition would carry, but with a levy of not less than 15 mills, and possibly 20 mills, which may be necessary, there is a question about the support the onds will receive.

Members of the board and others interested assert that if the facts in the case are prop-erly brought to the notice of the voters, the bonds would be voted. An effort will be made to enlighten the voters in this matter between now and election. It is not thought that the proposition will encounter any seri-investigated matters, are of the opinion that more room is needed, and only two ways are open, either build or rent. In the long run t will be cheaper to build. Expenses for the present school year are as follows: Super-Intendent, principals, leachers, $21,500; jani-tors, $4,130; taxes paid, $3,400; improvements, etc., $3,600; coal, books, insurance, repairs, etc., $9.680; total, $52.310.47. the matter before the secretary.

Samuel Gosney brought up a proposition providing for life insurance with every membership. The plan is to create a fund sufficiently large to pay the relatives of a deceased member the sum of $1,000. While the exchange did not adopt Mr. Gosnry's plan, voting it down, it is understood that it will be brought up at a future meeting for further discussion. Some of the members of the exchange seem to think it would the standpoint of a buyer. Further, it would tend to produce cattle and hogs better fitted for the market, and the gain would be mutual. President Murphy will appoint a stockman, as suggested, to attend the meetings of the institute. New Hospital Officers. The South Omaha Hospital association held its annual election of officers yesterday afternoon. Directors were chosen as follows for the one year term: Mesdames Schindel Ensor, Tanner, Ames and Pollard; two year term, Mesdames Cressy, Talbot, Berry, Carroll, Carley; three year term, Mesdames Holmes, Hall, Hathaway, Rock and Mr. E. O. Mayfield. The officers are: Mrs. J. C. Carley, president; Mrs. D. L. Holmes, first vice president; Mrs. T. H. Ensor, second vice president; Mrs. Josephine Carroll, re-cording secretary; Mrs. C. L. Talbot, financial secretary: Mrs. C. M. Schindel, treasurer.

As has been mentioned before the hospital needs money in order to pay the running expenses of the institution. A movement was on foot a short time ago to turn over to the hospital the balance in the Fourth of July fund. This plan, however, was objected to by two of the trustees of the fund, and it appears impossible to overcome this objection with argument. The newly elected officers will very likely make an effort along new lines to secure donations of money and necessaries.

First Monthly Banquet Given by the Commercial Club.

PLAN MAKES A SUCCESSFUL BEGINNING

One Hundred Guests Partake of Home Grown or Home-Made Provender and Talk of the State and of the City.

The first of a series of monthly meet ings of the Commercial club, decided upon at the annual meeting of the board of directors, was held in the club rooms last night. About 100 persons were present, among them being a number of members of the club who rarely attend the meetings. The invitations gave notice that a supper of Nebraska products would form a feature of the proceedings, to be followed by a discussion of the live issues of the day by well known speakers.

The tables were arranged in the form of a hollow square in the large dining room

Among the guests assembled around the tables were the following: Moritz Meyer, Samuel Ress, T. O. Putnam, H. H. Allen, G. A. Dowd, G. H. Palmer, T. T. Kerl, John Steel, E. P. Berryman, H. J. and humor by his felicitous introduction of ONE NEBRASKA PRODUCT. The first subject on the program for dis-ussion was "The Average Man," and the president introduced Clement Chase, a "Ne-braska product," to respond to the topic. Mr. Chase commented in a happy vein c the subject assigned to him and concluded with a slight divergence in which he sug-gested the idea of bringing the business interests of the city in closer touch with the municipal government by adopting the plan which has been in operation in Boston for some time, by organizing a committee com-posed of members of the several business organizations who get as a sort of advisory council in conferring with the mayor regarding matters of government. Mr. Chase said he had discussed this matter with the pres-ent executive of the city and it had met with favor and he advised the establishment o such a custom. The next subject was "Nebraska Chicory," response being made by C. B. Oldfield, the bresident of the American Calcory company. which has recently removed he factory to Omaha from Fremont. Mr. Oldfield spoke at which has attended the establishment of the new venture. He described the method of manufacturing chicory and the manner in chich it is placed before the public, and spoke encouragingly of the prospect of an increase in the business of the company as

AN INTERNATIONAL PROBLEM. Judge Keysor was on the bill to respond to the topic, "The treaty of arbitration between the United States and Great Britain; should it be ratified by the United States senate: The speaker analyzed the treaty from a legal standpoint, reviewing its provisions clearly and in detail, and disse ting the objections which have been urged against it in the set ate. In summing up, the judge said he did not think the objections were of sufficient weight to warrant the rejection of the docu-ment. He said this country had taken the the district court in bonds of $500 each on a | initiative in the matter of arbitration and owed it to the world to ratify this treaty even though its provisions were not exactly as may be wished. It would be better, he said, to have disputes settled in a quiet way, even if mistakes are sometimes made, than o go to war at the expense of many lives and the waste of many times the amount of nancy involved. At the conclusion of Judge Keysor's remarks, J. D. Baum offered a resolution stat ing that it was the sense of the club that the treaty should be ratified and authorizing the appointment of a committee of three t prepare a resolution to be forwarded to the members of congress in this and adjoining states, asking them to vote for its ratification This was unanimously adopted.

WOULD MEAN MUCH FOR OMAHA. W. S. Poppleton was then introduced to discuss the topic, "The Reorganization of the Union Pacific Railway." He reviewed the history of the Union Pacific road and its close relations with the progress of Omaha, and asserted that the reorganization meant much for the future advancement of the city. He said the road would undoubtedly be purchased by the Vanderbilts, and pre-There will be a meeting of the stamp collectors of Omaha in room 312 New York Life fit from the revival of the road under their building on Thursday evening, February 4. road would be in better condition within a said there was work for the Commercial club in seeing that the interests of Omala are fully protected in the many changes that must occur in the reorganization of the business of the great system.

The engagement of Thomas W. Keene opened at Boyd's Theater last night with the performance of "Richard III." Mr. Keene's characterization of King Richard was of the usual high artistic standard to which he adheres, and he was ably supported by Charles B. Hanford in the role of Henry, Earl of Richmond. The company is well chosen. The engagement will be brought to a close today. "Othello" will be rendered this afternoon with Mr. Keene in the title role and Mr. Hanford as lago, and 'Julius Caesar" is the bill for the evening, Mr. Kerne playing Cassius and Mr. Hanford Mare

"Paul Davant" was the bill at the Creighton last night and if hearty applause may be accepted as a criterion it succeeded in a hollow square in the large dining room and these were tastily arranged with a great variety of edibles, all of which were the products of Nebraska soil and factories.

"Evangeline" is Mr. Rice's most im-portant attraction and when it was revised for Manhattan Beach last summer it was mounted with all the gorgeousness appro-priate to this famous resort. The cast that will be seen here is the same that interpreted the burlesque during last summer and includes old favorites and a chorus of pretty girls.

The merits of the Sousa band are too well known to need comment, for its fasci-nating clean-cut and spirited playing arouses enthusiasm in even the dullest mind. With the finest of brass and the sweetest of clarionets, the hand appears to remarkable advantage in all that it does. Mr. Sousa After the serious part of the program had been disposed of the assembly was called to utmost, but gives only the most satisfactory order by President Dumont, who extended results. He has reached the acme of concert band music in America, and com-petent critics say without reservation that the present Sousa band is undentably the peer of any of the foreign organizations. Sousa claims much for his soloists, Elizabeth Northrope, soprano prima donna; Mar-tina Johnston, vocalist; Arthur Pryor, trombone, and Franz Hell, fluegelhorn. Two oncerts will be given at Boyd's on next anday by this celebrated musical organiza-

To Get Out of the Way When trouble is coming, is obviously the part of common sense. An obstruction of the bowels is a serious obstacle to health. To get this out of the way is an easy matter with the thorough laxative, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which, although it affords relief, never gripes and convulses like a drastic purgative. Dyspepsia, malarial, kidney and rheumatic ailments and nervousness yield to this genial family medicine.
