WATER BILL CAUSES DELAY.

There were two reports from the finance There were two reports from the hnance committee on the regular appropriation or-dinance. The split was on the 1896 bills of the Omaba Water company, which amounted to $43,373.69. The majority of the committee approved the bill, but Chairman Benawa urged that the bill should not be paid until the controversy between the city and the water company had been settled. He also recommended that the council take He also recommended that the council take up the matter in the near future and effect a satisfactory adjustment. City Attorney a satisfactory adjustment. City Attorney Connell advised that the difficulties existing between the water company and the city should be adjusted before any bills were allowed. To pay the bills was to fritter away all the rights the city possessed and away all the rights the city possessed and obtain no concessions whatever in return. Bechel moved the adoption of the majority report and Burkley that of the minority. Christle moved as a substitute that the mat-ter lay over in order that an effort might be made to effect a compromise with the water company. The substitute prevailed. people at wages ranging from $7 to $30 a week. Commissioner Utt has received a letter from W. N. Hailmann, superintendent of Indian schools in the Department of the Interior, who states that he has secured au-thority to hold one of the summer institutes for 1897 in Omaha. This brings a large attendance from the various industrial schools maintained by the government, and remains for a considerable time during the summer months. All that the department requires is that favorable railroad rates shall be se-cured, also reasonable hotel accommodations and a hall at a nominal expense. These can be satisfactorily arranged. When he arrived at the University of Wittenberg this seat of learning had just sprung into prominence some five years be-fore. Foundsd in the year 1502 by the Elec-tor of Saxony it probably has no equal in arrive the morning, when the conventions began to Delegates to the two conventions began to arrive Monday night, but the contingent was small. Some more came in yesterday, but the number that had arrived at noon was still not very large. The bulk of the dele-gates, however, came on the afternoon trains and the rear guard is expected to arrive this morning, when the conventions arrive this morning, when the convention will be under way.

The local lodges of the two orders have made ample preparations to properly look after the well being of the representatives. Committees have been appointed to meet them at the depots and to escort them to the Dellone hotel, which has been selected as the headquarters. Mrs. L. Haley, Miss Dollie Askwith and Miss May Vanderford comprise the Daughters of Veterans reception com mittee at the union depot and Mrs. Phoeb attainments were simply amazing. As many as 2,000 attended his locturez. Students flocked to that insignificant town on the Elbe from England, France, Italy, Greece and other countries of Europe. In order to give those not conversant with the German language an opportunity on Sundays of hear-ing the gospel expounded, Melanchthon gave chapel of the university. Melanchthon was not versed in the German chapel of the university.

As to the part he played in the great drama of the reformation, it was a highly important one; inferior ,o that only of the illustrious reformer himself. There is no today and one Thursday afternoon, will be held in the same hall. The Daughters of Veterans will hold their neetings in the hall of George Crook post, Sons of Veterans, in the Postal Telegraph building on Faranam street. The division council will meet this morning at 10 o'clock, and the convention proper will open at 2 lenying the fact that his was not an heroid faith, like that of Luther, who boldly, in the name of the Lord Sabaoth, defied all the powers terrestrial and infernal. He was able to muster sufficient courage in fighting o'clock this afternoon. Two sessions will be held Thursday, Today the "sons" will be allowed to select their own means of enter tainment, but the "daughters" of this city will be the chaperons at a theater party at the Creighton theater, the guests being the visiting "daughters." On Thursday the local "sons" will give a banquet at the Dellone hotel to their representatives. To-day the Woman's Relief corps No. 82 will serve a luncheon in the Grand Army of the Republic hall, and on Thursday George Crook post No. 88 will serve a similar function at the same place. The business that is to come up befor the bodies is said not to be of great impor-tance. The principal matter that the local Sons of Veterans are interested in is the selection of a prominent delegate to the national encampment, as it is proposed to bring the national body to this city in 1898. Senator John M. Thurston is mentioned prominently as the representative that will be chosed.

A reception to the visiting delegates was given at the Commercial club rooms by the members of the local divisions of the two what small, owing to the fact that the large majority of the delegates are not expected until today, but the entertainment of those who were present was none the less hearty. The visitors were welcomed to the city by Mayor Brortch in a short speech in which he assured them of the pleasure it afforded him to give them an official welcome to the city. The mayor then ventured to remind his hearers of the important part their ancestors had played in the late unpleasantnes and recalled several of the stirring event of those troublesome times. He also relate his own experience in the war as illustrative of the experience of the youths of those days The next speaker was Judge C. R. Scott, who said he could not claim the honor of being a veterrn, not having been in the war. He said this fact placed him at a disadvantage on such an occasion and he pro ceeded to speak on the duty of the descend ants of veterens to so conduct themselves a o reflect honor upon their ancestors. For Those Who Talk to the Public.

The following comments on advertise-ing made by the advertisement writer for the Postum Cereal Co., Lim. of Battle Creek, Mich., may interest some who have been attracted by the rather unique article rom his pen:

'Make up the stories? Why-yes, to be sure they are dressed and trimmed some, but they are all founded upon fact.

"That is, for instance, a mail carrier, clerk, lawyer, or what not with whom I may be talking, tells me his experience with

His story, possibly, is long enough for two dumps of solid matter if reported ver atim.

I take the main facts and boil down the criminal section of the district court yes. I talk until we can afford to run it as a pleas ant bit of shop talk with our friends and customers (the public) and not bankrupt us. always stick to the facts, as I conside hat when a man advertises he simply talk o customers, and if he lies in his advertise nents he will lie in the face to face chats. Tell the truth; it is more fascinating that If the romances one can spin up

When you write an advertisement, try an look upon yourself as conversing with, or explaining to some one who wants to know about the article you have to sell. They are interested, and they want to know how near our goods will fit their needs.

Tell them as plainly as possible without exaggeration or subterfuge just what you have, and leave them to judge whether they want it or not. Don't tell them to "biy his" or "eat that." The public knows about what they want to do, and the duty of the "ad" writers is to explain facts in an easily understood
