

RETIRING STATE WARRANTS

Floating Indebtedness is Being Gradually Wiped Out.

TREASURER RESERVE'S FIXED POLICY

Will Apply the Cash to the Retirement of Warrants as Fast as It Can be Secured in His Office.

LINCOLN, Feb. 28.—(Special)—State Treasurer Meerve will special call in outstanding university fund warrants to the amount of $20,000. On March 5 he will make another call for $50,000. He proposes to pursue the policy of calling in outstanding warrants as rapidly as the cash can be collected from depository banks which voluntarily surrender their deposits without waiting for the decision of the supreme court. In addition to these funds, money is coming in in small amounts from county treasurers. Treasurer Meerve had adopted a policy in marked contrast to that pursued by his predecessor. He will permit no further accumulations of general fund money. If the supreme court decides that they must accept the depository accounts as they stand, the state treasurer will commence at once to gradually draw in the money held by the depository banks; but he announces officially that he will take no steps that will endanger the commutation of the state. In ordinary business times, when money was plenty and banks in well fortified conditions, he would draw out the money and bring it into the depository banks and apply the whole amount to the extinguishment of the warrant indebtedness. As it is, he will gradually draw in the money from the banks to draw in the graduated installments. He hopes to make a call for one hundred thousand dollars each month, and to have the amount of the call for ten days. On March 10 he will have held his office two months and by that time will have made four calls for the amount of $300,000. LEGISLATIVE WORK DELAYED.

Two-thirds of the biennial legislative session has elapsed and the work is far in arrears. In the forty days which have been spent in legislative work since the session convened but three bills have found their way to the governor's desk. Two of these bills provided for the pay of the members, employes and expenses of the legislature itself and the other provided for the amendment of the constitution. The bill for the amendment of the constitution has passed numerous measures, but the bills passed by the senate are reposing peacefully on the general file of the house and are not being reported by the appropriate bills. The general appropriation bills were reported only yesterday.

The committee on claims reported a partially completed bill yesterday afternoon, but its work is far from finished, and many claims must yet be reported and added to the bill in the shape of amendments. The salary bill and the general appropriation bill will be reported tomorrow. They must lie on the secretary's desk until Tuesday, when they will be read a second time and the bill will be sent to the printer. They will hardly return from the printer before the close of the week. The bill for the amendment of the constitution of the whole, and under the constitution line will be the subject of debate. There is unquestionably a strong and general desire to cut appropriations and to reduce the amount of the state debt. It is noticeable that a large number of the statements in the lower house prefer to have an economy committee at the next session. With them economy, unlike what it is more beautiful to contemplate when it is not coming at home.

The senate will at once begin in considering the two bills when they reach the upper body. Men who have been here many sessions are feeling that the legislative session will be in session when the calendar points to April 15.

It is expected that the recount of the ballots on the constitutional amendments will be commenced at the office of the secretary of state tomorrow. The commissioners appointed by Governor Lincoln have all accepted. A pile of ballots as large as a furniture van occupies one side of the committee room of the secretary's office, but few counties have responded to the call for the records. The court will proceed under the law already passed by the legislature, but it is not yet determined whether a law yet to be passed.

The procedure of the court is yet to be settled. It is generally hoped that the court will be made in a public manner, or at least in a manner which will permit representative men from all parties to gain access to the committee room. There are many details to be arranged and the commission is fully organized. The six commissioners may employ no assistance, and they must do the clerical work as well as the actual work of counting. It is not expected that the court will proceed rapidly, for it is the general sentiment that the recount must be completed in the recent of 1887 must not be predicted to. However, the men who have been behind the scenes are predicting that the work will be completed and the result determined before the legislature adjourns.

Bills have been introduced in both house and senate to circumvent the efforts of certain men to prevent the recount by suspending the clerks of Lancaster and Douglas counties from forwarding the ballots. These bills empower the speaker of the house to send the sergeant at arms to the counties that may not be promptly forthcoming. A bill has also been introduced that is designed to prevent the parties who are ready commenced the actions in Douglas and Lancaster counties take their cases to the supreme court.

DISCUSS MICHAEL ANGIOLO

PLATTSBURGH, N. Y., Feb. 28.—(Special)—The art department of the Woman's club met last evening at the pleasant home of Mrs. Perry Walker. An interesting program was enjoyed by all attending. Mrs. O. H. Hays, the president, presided, and made a few pertinent remarks about the work of Michael Angelo. Mrs. C. M. C. Cutler followed with an excellent paper upon his boy-

HOW SHOULD I DO IT?

Easy to say, but how shall I do it? In the only common sense way—keep your head cool, your feet warm and your blood rich and pure by taking Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Then all your nerves, muscles, tissues and organs will be properly nourished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla builds up the system, creates an appetite, tones the stomach and gives energy. It is the people's Spring Medicine, has a larger and more effective more cures than all others.

FEDERAL OF LATE CHARLES OTIS.

Old-Time Lawyer, Editor and Soldier. He Died at Home in Lincoln.

TEICUMSEH, Feb. 28.—(Special)—(Telegram)—At the Methodist church at 2 o'clock this afternoon and conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. R. Woodcock, occurred the funeral of Charles Otis, who died at the home of his brother, Leroy Otis, in Teicumsch, last Wednesday noon, of heart failure, aged 72 years, 11 months. The home of the deceased was in Geary City, Kan. He came to Teicumsch in 1853, and was employed by the firm which was taken sick very soon after his arrival. The deceased was a very intelligent man and an exemplary citizen. He was a graduate of Oberlin college and in his early days practiced law and also followed the newspaper business. He served his country during the late war, and was a member of the grand army post at Teicumsch. He was a devoted father and a loving husband. He was born in Washington, D. C. This son arrived here in 1853. His only child is left to mourn the death of this parent, a son whose residence is in Washington, D. C. This son was a member of the grand army post at Teicumsch. The funeral was held in Teicumsch cemetery.

DODGE COUNTY'S NEXT FAIR.

FREMONT, Feb. 28.—(Special)—The Dodge County Agricultural society held its annual meeting yesterday afternoon at the office of W. H. Haven. The attendance was rather light. The following officers were elected: President, W. S. Ward; vice president, Bill Hager; secretary, W. H. Haven; treasurer, J. H. Hyatt; general manager, George Marston; and William Hough. The fair will be held at Teicumsch on the 29th and 30th of September. As the city did not buy a part of the Chautauqua grounds, the fair will be held on the old grounds west of the city.

HISTORY OF THE DIFFERENT INAUGURATIONS THAT HAVE TAKEN PLACE.

CEREMONY IS DISTINCTLY AMERICAN. Lavish Floral Decorations Marked Washington's Induction Into Office.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—(Special)—The inauguration of a president is a ceremony absolutely distinct and unique in our history. It is no desecrating of the force of arms of the governing power, no coronation with tinsel accompaniments of emperor and king forced upon an unwilling people by the iron law of succession or monarchical expediency, but in contrast the sublime spectacle of a man, one of the people yesterday, today before his peers taking a solemn oath to carry out their mandates as expressed in their constitution and through their representatives, to govern their country and his for a short term of years, and then to relinquish his great charge at their bidding.
