ON HAND FOR M'KINLEY'S INAUGURATION

Nebraska Republicans Tendered Reception by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster ... Four Prominent Diplomatie Positions Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON March 2 -- (Special Telegram.)-Nebraskans are numerous in Washington. This was particularly evidenced at a reception given by Mrs. J. Ellen Foster at Stratemore Arms this afternoon from 3 until 6 o'clock. The reception was tendered to republicans visiting the city on account of McKinley's inauguration. Nebraska was made an elaborate defense of Justice Shiras contracts of Mr. Dalzell, republican of Pennsylvania, made an elaborate defense of Justice Shiras represented by Miss Lynn Curtis of Omaha, Miss Margaret C. Dolliver, daughter of Congresaman Dolliver, representing lows. Mrs. Foster stated to The Bee that she had met many Nebraskans prominent in political life and that the affair reminded her very much of her campaign experiences through the northwest. Almost every botel shows two or three Nebraskan names, and there are many who have taken rooms at private homes for the inauguration festivities. Arrivals today were: W. I. Kierstead of Omaha, at the National: P. J. Kelly of Omaha, at the Regent; ex-Lieutenant Governor R. E. Moore of Lincoln, at the Ebbitt; L. L. Lindsay of Lincoln, John A. Hill and A. C. four of the most prominent diplomatic po-sitions have been agreed upon, namely: Colonel John Hay, formerly private sec-retary to President Lincoln, and who will be accredited to Ohio, will go as ambassa-dor to the court of St. James; General Horace Porter of New York and grand mar-shal of the inaugural parade, is thought to be fixed for the French mission; Congressman W. F. Draper of Massachusetts is slated for Italy, while Powell Clayton of Arkansas will in all probability get the Mexican mission, relieving ex-Senator Ransom. A distinct disagreement was had by the house conferees on the sugar bounty clause, and so reported to their body tonight. It is understood that a vote will be taken on this feature of the measure, and if the house agrees, the confer-ecs will abate their opposition to the Item in the budget, which has received the sanction of the comptroller of the treasury, and is understood to be en-dorsed by the president. WASHINGTON, March 2.-The detail of Lieutenant Warren, Second cavalry, to be agent at the Fort Hall agency in Idaho is the result of an investigation which has caused several changes in management. It was the outcome of a recent visit here of the Bannock and Shoshone Indians who occupy the reservation. They made com-plaint against Agent T. B. Indian Inspector Wright soon afterwards was diected to investigate the charges and he has just returned from there and reported to the secretary of the interior. Its general scheme is to prohibit from admission to our country all immigrants, "physically capable and over 16 years, who cannot read and write the English language or some other language." And it is provided that this test will be applied by requiring immigrants seeking admission to read and afterward to write not less than twenty or more than twenty-five words of the constitution of the United States in some language, and that any immigrant failing in this shall not be admitted, but shall be returned to the country from which he came at the expense of the steamship or railroad company which brought him.

FAVORS ANARCHISTS.

The best reason that could be given for this radical restriction of immigration is this radical restriction of immigration is against degeneration and saving our national peace and quet from imported trubulence and disorder. I cannot believe we would be protected against those evils by limiting immigration to those who can read and write in any language twenty five words of the constitution. In my opin thindred thousand immigrants, who, though unable to read and write, seek among us only a home and an opportunity to work than to admit one of those unruly agitators and enemies of government control, who cannot only read and write, but delights in arousing by inhammatory speech the filiterate and peacefully inclined to order do not originate with liliterate individual to order to not originate with liliterate individual to order to not originate with liliterate individual to order to not originate with liliterate individual to the deducated agitators. If any particular element of our illiterate immigration is to be feared for other causes than illiteracy, these causes should be dealt with directly, instead of making illiterate immigration is to be feared for other causes than illiteracy, these causes should be dealt with directly, instead of making illiterate immigration is one of the proposed legislation already referred to from obvious hardfulp appear to me to be indefinite and inade FAVORS ANARCHISTS.

What formality is necessary to constitute this prerequisite, and how are the facts of relationship and that the relative is sent for to be established? Are the liliterate relatives of immigrants who have come here under prior laws entitled to the advantage of these exceptions? A husband who can read and write and who determines to abandon his liliterate wife abroad will find here under this law an absolutely safe retreat. The liliterate relatives mentioned here must not only be sent for, but such immigrant must be capable of supporting them when they arrive. This requirement proceeds upon the assumption that the foreign relatives coming here are in every case, by reason of poverty, liable

IDLE AND VICIOUS.

It is said that too many immigrants settle in our clities, thus dangerously increasing their idle and vicious population. This is certainly a disadvantage. It cannot be shown, however, that it affects all our clities, nor that it is permanent; nor does it appear that this condition, where it exists, demands as its remedy the reversal of our present immigration policy.

The claim is also made that the influx of foreign laborers deprives of the opportunity to those who are better fitted than they the privilege of earning their livelihood by daily toil. An unfortunate condition is certainly presented when any who are willing to labor are unemployed. But so far as this condition now exists among our people, it must be conceded to

CORBETT'S WIFE VISITS HIM

Arrives at Carson City and Embraces Her Pugilist in Public.

SHE RETURNS TO SAN FRANCISCO TODAY

Disappearance of the Snow Makes Fitzsimmons Happy_Bob Strikes a Nickel-in-the-Slot Device and Hurts His Wrist.

CARSON, Nev., March 2 .- Both of the big fighters were happy today. Jim's pleasant frame of mind was brought about largely by the appearance of his wife upon the scene. The big fighter greeted Mrs. Corbett most affectionately and she embraced him in the presence of a great crowd, made up of natives, many of them of the gentler sex. Mrs. Corbett was accompanied by Jim's sister, Helen. The champion escorted them to his carriage, and they were immediately driven to his training quarters. In honor of his wife's visit, Corbett concluded to take a holiday, and his trainers were thankful for the rest. They spent the forenoon in roaming about the foothills of the range of mountains surrounding Carson valley, hunting jack rabbits.

Mrs. Corbett said she was very much pleased with her husband's training establishment. She had been led to believe from newspaper reports that Jim was getting a good bit of experience at roughing it. She has every confidence in her husband's ability to defeat Fitzsimmons; indeed, she is now making plans for the future and has practically decided just how she will spend her share of the purse. Jim has promised to give his wife half of the purse and he expects to deposit this amount to her credi in a San Francisco bank after March 17. Mrs. Corbett will return to San Francisco tomorrow evening.

Fitzsimmons' good humor was due to the disappearance of the snow and the balmy atmosphere. He took advantage of the im-proved condition of the roads by running four miles behind a buggy in which Trainer Roeber was seated. Arriving in town, Bob visited Dan Stuart's headquarters. He was much interested in a nickel-in-the-slot machine, which registers the force of a blow. After much persuasion Bob agreed to try his striking powers, and a good crowd watched his performance. This contrivance is so arranged that after 500 pounds are registered a bell rings and a picture of John L. Sullivan appears against the background of an American flag at the top of the ma-chine. Few men in Carson have been able to roll up 500 pounds, but Fitzsimmons had no difficulty in sending the indicator around to 800 pounds at the first trial. He did not repeat the experiment, because he complained of a kink in his wrist. Dan Stuart's clerks had tried to get Corbett to try the machine, but he declined very gracefully, saying that if his hands were to be broken he would break them on the jaw of belt' and would always go with the heavy-weight championship. I am going to do all can to push it through." The measure is at present being drafted by Hon. Thomas Tennant of Carson, one of the brightest lawyers here and a man who has served six terms in the Nevada legislature. The title of the bill is: "An act recognizing the science of physical culture ethics, and appropriating $3,000 for Nevada's emblematical testimonial to the winner of the world's heavyweight becausely to having championship. world's heavyweight boxing championship. at Carson City, March 17, 1897.

details necessary for the transportation of visitors to and from Reno over the Virginia City & Truckee road. He believes the road will be well able to handle the crowd both ways and that there will be no difficulty or delay in getting out of Carson. SILER ON THE SICK LIST. Referee Siler has fallen a victim to the reacherous Nevada winter climate. He is not seriously ill, however, and expects to be around again in a day or two. As yet Dan Stuart has not left his room. He sat up for two hours yesterday, but is as yet weak, and has received no visitors other than his busi-ness representatives. Things are going quite othly, however, as if Stuart were at Billy Delaney says that Jeffries has been offered a $1,760 purse to fight Stelzner in San Francisco, and that Jeffries wired back his acceptance. However, Stelzner said that the club putting up the purse wanted the fight for April 1, and he says he can't be there in condition at that time, as it will be im possible to get ready so soon after the fight between Fitzsimmons and Corbett. About the middle of April, he says, he will fight Jeffries for money or marbles.

Speaking of Fitzsimmons' work last night Martin Julian said: "Bag punching is the kind of exercise Bob wants. Boxing does no do him any good, as he is not a boxer. He fights very differently from the accepted style when he goes into a ring, and consequently we got him to depend more on footwork and punching the bag to put him in perfect condition."

As to his ability to stand punishment, Julian said: "Peter Maher is the bardest hitter in the business outside of Bob and he hit Bob a couple of times at Langley blows that seemed to be hard enough to bring any one down. But Bob stood them both, and they were foul smashes at that. With dozens of instances of this kind to guide my opinion. I don't think that Corbett will hurt Bob very much before he gets a crack himself that will bring him down to our man's weight."

Night's Run. The score in the blcycle race at the end of the run last night was: Holton, 71 miles; Proulx, 66.3 miles; Heinzman, 64.2 miles; Hall, 42 miles. Hall is the man who was barred out Monday night, but he appeared last night with a new wheel. The other riders would not start, however, unless he began at nothing, and he did so. He then went in and won the special prize for the greatest run of the evening, making one mile more than the next best man.

The Christy Saddle. At the show one is easily convinced that there has been a decided improvement in the saddle question. All kinds of saddles are chown, and there seems to be a tendency to get away from the old style leather sad-dles. The Christy Anatomical Saddle is quite in evidence, and can be seen attached to many of the bicycles exhibited at the different booths, as this year many of the highgrade makers are offering it as a regular equipment without extra charge. The Christy was the first anatomical saddle on the marand is looked upon as the pioneer the anatomical construction line. The nine models show a decided improvement over the anatomical saddles that caused such favorable comment at the cycle show last year. The Christy Anatomical saddle has received the endorsement of the most prominent riders and physicians. It is so constructed that no injury to the rider from the saddle is possible. It is made of metal, having cushions to receive the pelvis bones and sustain the weight of the body, and also protect the sensitive parts from pressure and injury. The outline of the frame has been materially changed this year. For men the seat is broad at the back, with the sides tapering to the horn of the saddle, and cut out more, thus doing away with all possi-bility of chafing, especially to stout riders. In the ladies' saddle the horns or projecions are entirely dispensed with. The cushions are wider, seats well padded, and the entire saddle built on true anatomical principles. A. G. Spalding & Brbs. are show-ing the Christy Saddle at their booths and nount it to their different wheels.

The saddles are made in several models: Mon's, with spiral and flat springs, ladies' special saddles, also with spiral and flat springs, and a special saddle for girls and Friends of the order were also present by special invitation, and partook refreshments in the intervals of the jollification. Ed Mullen performed the duties of chairman, and at times toastmaster, in a manner which would lead the uninitiated to believe that he had fallen into his own inheritance Thomas J. Kelly gave the introductory address, speaking upon the topic of "Frater-nity Ties," and he was followed in rapid succession by others upon the extensive program. During the earlier portion of the evening perhaps one of the most thoroughly enjoyed entertainers was Charles Ott in his recitations from the works of James Whitcomb Riley. W. F. Gurley responded to eral of those good stories for which he is justly noted. Among other actors who contributed to the general good fellowship were Mr. West, who responded with his tropical song on "Beer," Jack Bunny of the Reed company, who told a number of amusing anecdotes, Harry E. Smith of the Dazzle company and a recitation by James W Cooper of the Reed company. Of the local talent there were in evidence Messrs. Joseph Barton, W. S. McCune, A. J. Van Kuren, E. M.
