CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Time Given Up to Communications on Various Subjects.

LIGHTS GO OUT AND FORCE ADJOURNMENT

Solon L. Wiley Comes to the Fore with a Proposition from a Company to Furnish Electric Light for the City.

The city council enjoyed a strictly busness session last night. The continuous reading of communications, resolutions and ommittee reports was unbroken by scarcely an oratorical interpretation, and nearly 209 documents were disposed of during the evening. The water works controversy was postponed until an adjourned meeting, which will be held Saturday afternoon, and he bulk of the business considered was of a purely routine nature.

An exception was a communication in which S. L. Wiley bebbed up on the municipal horizon as a competitor of the present electric light company. Mr. Wiley addressed the council in the capacity of president of the Omaha City Electric Light works, for which he claimed a franchise under the Hascall omnibus ordinance, which be remembered that Mr. Tanner was aswas passed in June, 1894. This ordinance the Court House at Lincoln March 23, 1897, at 11 granted a franchise for electric light and granted a tranchise for electric light and power to any corporation under certain conditions. Mr. Wiley's communication was accompanied by a bond in the sum of $20,000, for the performance of these condicompany and S. L. Wiley. He proposed to furnish light for commercial purposes at is concerned. the following minimum prices: For incan-descent lamps, 15 cents per 1,000 watt hours; for arc lamps, all night service, $16 per month; midnight service, $12 per month; 10 o'clock service, $10 per month. The communication and bond were referred to committee on gas and electric lights and the city attorney.

The report of Comptroller Westberg for 1896 was transmitted by Mayor Broatch and placed on file. A batch of appointments of appraisers on various small improvements were laid over in the absence of the necessary bond.

SOME SIDEWALK VETOES. A number of wooden sidewalk resolutions were vetoed by the mayor on the ground that the walks were not needed. The vetoes were sustained.

A communication from General Solicitor Manderson of the Burlington railroad, proposing a settlement of several matters in controversy between the road and the city was referred to the committee on claims and the city attorney. The road claims $372 for cash deposited in 1887 on account of certain vacation proceedings in block 220. Also $2,272.99 on account of special taxes paid by the company for the construction of the Tenth street viaduct. These taxes were afterward declared illegal, and were reafterward declared illegal, and were re-funded to all property owners except the railroad company. To offset these claims the city has a bill for electric lights at railway crossings which aggregates $1,366.53.

The bond of Hugh Murphy for the South Sixteenth street repaying was approved. The bond is for $70,000, with George E. Barker and W. S. Rector as sureties.

The Commercial club resolution protesting against any extension of the water works contract was referred. The request for a franchise from the Mis-

The clerk was directed to transmit the explana-tion that the council was without authority to make an appropriation for that purpose The documents in the case were ordered sent to Governor Holcomb, as the legislature was the only body that could appropriate funds for that purpose. MARKET PLACE UNCHANGED.

On recommendation of the committee on police the ordinance changing the location of the market place from Howard street to Capitol avenue was placed on file. The committee reported that there was no sufficient reason for the change proposed. The city treasurer was directed to send the renewal bonds recently sold to the fiscal agency of the city in New York. The check deposited by Hayes & Co., one of the bidders, will be retained by the city on account of the failure of the firm to meet a previous obligation to the city. Upward of fifty documents remained on the clerk's desk when the lights went out and the council adjourned.

Cararana arangement South Omaha News.

Some days ago a call was issued for a mass meeting of citizens to be held at Pivonka's hall, Twenty-fourth and L streets. last night for the purpose of selecting some business man of the city to be recommended to the governor for appointment on the board of directors of the Transmississippi Exposition. Those present when George Raworth called the meeting to order were: John Carroll, R. B. Montgomery, N. B. Mead, Ed Johnston, Samuel P. Brigham, Peter Lenagh, V. Pivonka, A. L. Bergquist, Thomas Hoctor, C. M. Hunt, Robert Parks, Andy Gallagher, N. D. Mann, Charles Singer and ten others. A. M. Gallagher was chosen chairman and Robert Parks secretary. Ed Johnston made a motion to the effect that the name of Thomas Hoctor be recommended to the governor. This motion was seconded by Charles Hrdlicka. City Attorney Montgomery placed the name of Mayor Thomas H. Ensor in nomination and was seconded by Milk Inspector John Carroll. in seconding Montgomery's motion Carroll took occasion to tell how much good Ensor could do the exposition from his exalted position of mayor of South Omaha. A. L. Bergquist arose to say that he did not consider the meeting a representative one, and suggested a postponement when a larger number of representative citizens might be induced to attend. All attempts to postpone the meeting were, however, futile, and a vote was taken on the nomina-tion of Hoctor. The count showed seven in favor of the resolution. Then followed a vote on Mayor Ensor's name and nine men arose.

A motion to adjourn was put, but not carried until a collection was taken to raise $2 for rent of the hall. Colonel Hunt suggested that the fellows who voted for Tom Ensor pay for the hall but they did not take the hint.

While the Ensor men were urging ad-journment Ed Johnston arose and called at-tention to the fact that a number in the hall had not voted, and suggested that the the last month was a light one for the in-surance companies. The total fire loss in surance companies. The total fire loss in the city during the month was $2,725, of which $620 was not covered by insurance policies. This loss was sustained in twenty-two different fires, which placed in jeopardy property of the aggregate value of $237,845. The total of insurance upon this property special contents of the governor, and it was carried unanimously, Milk inspector Carroll not voting. License Will Not Be Raised.

It has been decided that the Board of Education will not make any effort to have the iliquor license raised from $500 to $1,000 this year. Six of the members of the board are in favor of high license, but upon the advice of the board's attorney no action will be taken. If the board wished to push the matter it would first have to establish the fact that South Omaha had a population of over 10,000, with George E. Barker and A. T. Rector as surelies. The mayor has had several conferences with City Attorney Connell in regard to the matter. The city attorney's opinion is that the bond is perfectly good. the liquor license raised from $500 to $1,000 ranged to combine a number of the saloons in order to reduce expenses, instead of there being three saloons in one block, all selling different kinds of beer, as there is now, there would be but one saloon, selling three kinds of beer.

A. W. Babcock of the Board of Education is opposed to the increase in saloon cense and urges that it would drive peop cense and urges that it would drive people away from the city and leave a number of buildings vacant, which are, under existing arrangements, occupied. Mr. Babcock figures that the fifty-five saloon keepers and the fifty-five bartenders spend on an average $2,750 a week in this city, which in the course of a year amounts to $142,000. This sum, Mr. Babesck says, is worth looking after. With high license there would be only half the number of saloons and only half the amount mentioned spent in the city.

COMMERCIAL CLUB'S MONTHLY BANQUET

Great Good Comes to the Club from These Meetings in Increased Interest and Many New Members.

The second of the regular monthly meetings of the Commercial club was hold at the club rooms last night. These social gatherings are proving a great success, and are well serving the purpose for which they were inaugurated, viz.: the rousing of interest on the part of the club members. At each of these meetings members have attended whose faces are rarely seen about the rooms and the popular nature of the subjects assigned to prominent speakers for discussion has served to awaken a lively interest in the gatherings. These meetings have also been the means of infusing new blood into the membership, as many of the members have invited their friends outside the club to attorney for J. M. Tanner, dismissed the case | tend, and the result has been that applica-

the monthly meetings.
One of the features which has been made prominent at these meetings is a supper of Nebraska products. In addition to satisfy-ing the manifold wants of the inner man these "spreads" have been the means of impressing upon the participants the great diversity of food products manufactured in Nebraska.

The guests last night numbered about sixty and they were seated in the commodious room at the south end of the club's quarters. The long tables formed three sides of ters. The long tables formed three sides of a hollow square, and the fourth eide was occupied by a table on which was placed a large music box, furnished by A. Hospe, jr., which furnished a delightful program of high-class music, while the aforesaid Nebraska products were being discussed.

RECENT WORK OF THE CLUB. After the cigars (manufactured in Omaha) had been passed, President Dumont rapped the assembly to order, and called upon Chairman J. E. Baum of the executive committee to talk upon the topic "The Commercial Club." Mr. Baum spoke entertainingly for a few moments upon the work of the club and the great good accomplished by it in advancing the interests of Omaha. He called attention to the many business enterprises which had been secured for Omaha through Spiscopal mission this evening.

that congress had nullified the recent for-estry proclamation issued by the president. Dan Farrell, jr., was called upon to discuss "The Manufacturing Industries of America." This was a pretty broad subject, but the irrepressible Mr. Farrell rose to the occasion and astounded his hearers by the glib manner in which he quoted statistics on the manufacturing industries, as compared with the agricultural industries of the country. Summing up he proved that the best intereste of the country would be subserved by pro-moting the manufacturing interests as well

M. J. Byrne, Shoshone, Idaho, brought a consignment of cattle to this market yesas the farming interests. "Postal Savings Banks" was the subject assigned to John L. Kennedy, and he treated in a brief form the many arguments in favor of such a system, especially in a country where the people have little or no confidence in the savings banks, and but little in the state banking institutions. He referred to the system, as it has been operated in the old world countries, and quoted a few stapal church met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. tistics as proof of the popularity of the sys-tem where it has been tried. > about "Twentieth Century Medicine." He plunged at once into his subject, and referred briefly to the many discoveries in medicine during the closing years of the present century, including the discovery of many new theories of disease, and predicted that the next century would be marked by the discovery of means of preventing these diseases. He then discussed the germ theory of contagion and the uprising which has taken place in various quarters very re-cently in the attempt to stop practices claimed to aid in the transmission of such diseases. The speaker predicted that in the next century doctors will be employed by every municipality to prevent diseases and "at the lawyers would no longer have a monopoly of "soft enaps." The doctor then diverged from his topic and discussed what he regarded as necessary less design for present needs, and wound up by g. his hearers a "joit" that rather surprise-the majority of them, by expressing the hope that the present movement in favor of vivisection might result in advancing the cause of medical science to such an extent that it would result in criminals con-victed of capital crime being turned over to the vivisectionists for "investigation," instead of being suddenly sent into the next world without contributing to the cause

Dr. J. P. Lord was called upon to talk

L. C. Pierce, president of the Western the topic "Omaha Compared with Denver as a Manufacturing Point." Mr. Pierce com-pared the business conditions in the two cities and the territory tribulary to them, showing how the Omaha district is superior in every way, from a business man's stand-point, to Denver and he enumerated a number of the points of which there was a radical difference in favor of Omaha. Among other things he said the population tributary to Denver is only about 1,000,000, while the present and occupied the place of honor at the head of the table. The winning team was composed of N. H. Nelson, C. H. Gratton, W. W. Umstead, M. N. Anderson and Charles A. Hunter. They turned in forty-five new names.
