Details of the Program for the Ceremontes that Mark the Return of the Republican Party to Power.

WASHINGTON, March 3.—The official ceremonies tomorrow will begin with the departure of President Cleveland and President-elect McKinley, and Vice President-elect Hobart, and the senate committee of arrangements and their escort of 5,000 troops from the white house for the capitol, where the oath of office will be administered to the oath of office will be administered to the new chief executive.

Major McKinley will drive over from the Ebbitt house to the executive mansion at 10:30, and will meet the president in his private office. The presidential party, with the escort of United States troops, Troop A. of Cleveland and the District National Guard, will leave the white house at 11 o'clock and reach the capitol shortly before soon. Vice-President Stevenson will not accompany his successor, the vice president-elect, as Mr. Stevenson will be engaged in presiding over the session of the senate. Mr. Hobart, insicad will be accompanied by the senate committee of arrangements, consisting of Messrs. Sherman, Elkins and Mitchell,

At the capitol the president and other officials, the president and vice president-elect, will assemble in the senate chamber, the members of the supreme court and the memmembers of the supreme court and the mem-bers of the senate and house being present. Vice President Staven-son will administer the oath of office to Mr. Hobart and wil, at the stroke of 12, declare the senate of the Fifty-fourth congress adjourned without day. The new vice president, an extra session of the senate having been called, will then administer the oath to the newly elected senators. OATH OF OFFICE.

The senate will then take a recess and the procession will move to the stand at the cast portico in front of the rotunda, President Cleveland, and President-sleet McKinley leading. On this stand the oath of office will be administered to President McKinley. administered to President McKinley by Chief Justice Fuller. President McKinley will then make his inaugural address. On concluding he will return to the president's room in the senate wing of the capitol, and from there he will be escorted to the white house by the inaugural parade, which will move from the capitol, it pected, at 2 o'clock.

The parade will move from the capitol The parade will move from the capitol by way of Pennsylvania avenue west to Washington Circle, thence east through K street, to Vermont avenue, where the organizations will be reviewed by Grand Marshal Porter and dismissed. GOOD WEATHER PREDICTED. The official forecast of the weather bureau is that the weather on inauguration day will be pleasant, with a moderate temperature, leaving nothing to be desired in that all-important matter. It rained here this forenoon, but cleared beautifully during the afternoon, so that the public generally is impressed with the accuracy of the official

There are only about eight detailed organizations of any sort of recuperation, and when he are considered to the constraint of the country when he are constant and the Ebblit house, where the president-elect is staying, there was a perfect jam. The president-elect retired at a late hour last night and rose at an early hour. The chief event of the day was the definite completion of the cabinet which probably will be sent in to the senate on Friday for confirmation by that body, as required by the constitution. The last name added to the list was that of C. N. Illiss of New York, who will become secretary of the in-terior. He declined a cabinet proffer some days ago, but yielded today to the pressure of his friends. It was reported that Mr. Bliss had consented to serve for six months only, but it can be stated on authority that the appointment was accepted without any conditions. The new cabinet therefore will be made up as follows:

During the day Mr. McKinley and Presi-dent Cleveland extended calls of courtesy. the former paying his respects to the out-going executive at the white house and the latter returning it within an hour by call-ing on his successor at the Ebbitt house. There was, of course, a large number of callers at the Ebbitt house, but compara-tively few of them saw the president-elect, who saved himself as far as possible for the task before him tomorrow. On the streets there were the usual crowdand decorations and scenes incident to the mmediate approach of a great gala event. The number of people arriving, however was smaller than first estimates of the railroads. One very noticeable feature of the incoming of the organizations was the small amount of parade and music with which they signalized their entry into town. There was a very general remark on the fact that few of them paraded up the avenue with bands playing. A noticeable exception was a fine appearance in neat brown uniforms and high white hats as they marched in good style up the broad avenue about 400 atrong, preceded by a vigorous band.

The streets and pavements are entirely free and dry from the effects of the early morn-ing rain and the temperature is at a very comfortable degree, though growing colder.

After the break-fast Mr. and Mrs. McKinley saw two of three friends who had intended to come or with the presidential party, but were de-layed in their arrival. Mrs. McKinley was much refreshed by her night's rest. By 9 o'clock the lobby of the Ebbitt was provided by persons anxious to meet the president-elect, either on personal business or from curiosity. ANIMATED SCENE.

Tonight Pennsylvania avenue, Seventh street and the other main thoroughfares of the city presented an animated scene. The amusement places and cafes are doing a rushing business, hordes of street fakirs are shouting aloud their souvenirs of the inauguration and a holiday spirit pervades the capital. LONDON, March 3.—The Athens correspondent of the Daily Mail states that in consequence of the refusal of M. Delyannis, the Greek premier, to send further reinforcements to Crete, the minister of war, M. W. Smolentz, has resigned. M. Metaxes has been appointed to succeed him. Metaxes is not a member of the Boule (legislative chamber), where the appointment is unpopular, but he is said to be the nominee of King George. While the latest news from Athens indicates grave fears that Greece will refuse to comply with the demands of the powers to withdraw her troops and fleet from the island of Crete within six days, dating from noon yesterday, it is generally recognized that the measures proposed by the powers, including the granting of autonomy to Crete under the suzersinty of the sultan. are the bes; that Europe could have adopted, in view of the present complicated circumstances, when the whole Balkan peninsula is ready to ask a quid pro quo for anything btained by Greece.

There is some comment in diplomatic cir-cles over the fact that the powers decided to present identical notes to Greece, instead of a collective note, the latter being of much stronger character, the change leading to the impression that the unanimity of the powers is not so conclusive as the minispowers is not so conclusive as the minister acquainted with the senators.

I have as yet given no thought to the selection of assistant secretaries for the department."

no thought to the selection of assistant secretaries for the department."

Cornellus N. Bliss was born in Fall River, Mass., about sixty years are, At the age of twenty he entered his father's commission house in New Orleans, and in 1858 went into business in Boston. As a partner of John and Eben Wright & Co., he opened a branch store in New York, which was placed under his management and soon became the big end of the business. Today it is Bliss, Fabyan & Co., and is recognized as one of the leading dry goods firms. Mr. Bliss was one of the founders of the New York Chamber of Commerce. He interested himself in banking, and is at present in the directories of many financial institutions. In 1853 he married Miss Plummer.

Mr. Bl'ss has always been interested in politics, but never held any political office except the honorary one of a member of the Pan-American conference. He was president of the Tariff league for a long time, and was chairman of the republican conventions in 185 and 1888, and was treasurer of the national committee for some time. He declined the nomination for governor in 1885, when Ira Davenport was nominated, and when his fr ends were urging his nomination in 1891 he went to Europe. urging his nomination in 1891, he went to Europe. He was chairman of the Business Men's committee which fried to nominate Arthur in 1834, and was chairman of the famous committee of this city in 1893. Although not in complete harmony with the state republican organization, Mr. Bliss has financiered the republican national committee in the last two presidential campaigns. His acceptance of the position of treasurer of the committee last year was at the express and urgent solicitation of Major McKinley and Mf. Hanna. When he undertook the work he entered upon it in a most thorough manger. One of his rules was that no obligation should be incurred unless the money was in hand to meet it when due. This was rigidly adhered to throughout the campaign, and at the close of each night checks were mailed for every bill presented and audited. The result of this was that when election night came around and many republicans expected that they would be asked to contribute toward making up the deficiency, they were amazed to be told that the republican campaign had been closed with a surplus in the treasury.

STORY OF A BOY'S INGRATITUDE.

Fails to Provide for Aged Parents Who Had Deeded Him Their Land. VERMILLION, S. About nine years ago Peter Jorgensen and wife gave their land to their son, Andrew, with the understanl-ing that he would provide for them in their old age. The son gave a contract to that effect, which stipulated that he was to fur-nish all the necessities of life, including flour, probably tomorrow. The appointment was decided upon after the governor had offered the honor to St. John Boyle of this city, who refused it. Boyle was the republican caucus nominee at the last session of the legislature and his action indicates that he hopes to be elected to serve the full term by the special session of the legislature, which Governor Bradley will call within a few days. Their friends advised them to enter suit for wages for the nine years' work and offered to help pay the expense. An appeal will probably be made this week to the county commissioners.

The senate committee on foreign relations could learn a great deal from usual stolid composure, devoting his time to study and religious reading.

When Durrant was informed by the head jailer of the supreme court's decision, ha burst into tears and said this was a very cruel world. He said that some day the truth would prevail and he would be vindicated. He seemed to take some comfort from the report that Chief Justice Beattie would in a few days file a dissenting opinion. Durrant has ever since his arrest manifested the most supreme confidence in his ultimate acquittal and when he was convicted in the superior court declared that the supreme court would grant him a new trial.

TWO MEN LOSE THEIR LIVES.

Fatalities Attendant Upon a De-structive Fire in Philadelpha. PHILADELPHIA, March 3.—The big power house of the Union Traction company, at the junction of Thirteenth and Mount Vernon streets and Ridge avenue, was destroyed by fire tonight. Two men lost their lives and several others were slightly injured. The dead; A. A. BINDER, aged about 35, knocked down and run over by a fire engine.

UNKNOWN MAN, killed by a falling The damage from the fire will amount to about $250,000, fully covered by insurance. Nearly all the principal street car lines in the city are tied up. The fire was the direct result of the blowing out of the eight dynamos in the power house. Sparks flew in every direction, and in an instant the place was in flames. The house is a three and one-half story brick structure.

The building was valued at about $100,000 and the electrical machinery consisted min-cipally of four big dynamos, valued at about $20,000 each; four smaller ones, $15,000 each, switchboard, $75,000; testing machines, $10,000; thirty-ton and fifteen-ton electric traveling crane, $12,000 and $8,000.

WHEELING, March 3.—Early this morning inmates of Mrs. Mary Ferrel's boarding house on the south side were aroused by screams from a room occupied by John Henderson, 45 years old, a potter, and his 13-year-old son, Percy, and James Brady, an-other potter. The house was filled with smoke and Brady burst through a door and dragged Henderson and the boy out. Hen-derson and the boy were both terribly burned and both died before 9 o'clock. Brady was severely scorched and it is feared he will die also. An examination showed that the fire was the work of an incendiary.

TWO ENGINEERS SAW THE CRIME Damaging Testimony Against Trem-

mel on Trial for Murder. CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 3 .- (Special.)-Few criminal cases have attracted more atention in this county than that of the Tremmel murder trial now before the district court. Very damaging testimony was given against the defendant. One witness, Engineer J. V. Ellis, saw the shooting from his engine. He sam Tremmel and Stabler standing together between the tracks ahead of him. Stabler had nothing in his hands and was making no demonstrations or and was making no threats against Tremmel. He was stooping forward a little and seemed to be talking earnestly. Suddenly Tremmel whipped a gun out of his hip pocket and fired twice at Stabler in quick succession. At the sec-ond shot Stabler fell to the ground between the tracks and Tremmel ran away. Ernest Heenan, another engineer, saw the shooting. His story was almost identical with that of Ellis, with the difference only that he saw he affair from another point of the Cheyenne yards. The first shot fired by Tremmel seemed to be in the direction of the witness and he tried to dodge behind his engine to keep out of the way of stray bullets. He saw the second shot fired and saw Stabler fall. He was certain that Stab-

James Coffee's Slayer is Captured. BUFFALO, Wyo., March 3 .- (Special.)-William Miller, who shot and killed James Coffee at the Sonne ranch on Crazy Woman Coffee at the Sonne ranch on Crazy Woman creek on Monday last, has been captured by Sheriff Sproal and his posse. After the ahooting Miller started for Montana. A snow came up and obliterated his trail, so that it was difficult for the sheriff and his men to follow. At Suggs word was received that Miller was on Powder river, and on Friday Sheriff Sproal and his men reached Preston's sheep ranch at the mouth of the LX creek on Powder river. Before going to the ranch house they visited the stables and found Miller's horse. They waited until the ranch house they valied the sand found Miller's horse. They waited until Miller came out to saddle up and arrested him. He made no resistance, having left his gun in the house. Miller was greatly surprised at his arrest, thinking that the storm had made it impensible to follow him and that he was safe. Miller is now in jail.

Governor Sparing with the Veto CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 3 .- (Spe Governor Richards has signed the following was in a talkative mood. Being questioned concerning the charge against him of having add himself to the republicans, his only answer was: "The only money that I know of spent is $3.25, which was paid for hack hire and drayage expenses."

Embezzier Arrested.

CHICAGO, March 2.—John Corwine, the United States navy paymaster, who a few days ago suddenly left Newport, R. I., secured of being an embezzier of government funds was arrested in this city this evening. When arrested he confessed to the police of aaving robbed the government of $18,000 during the two years that he held the position of paymaster. He could offer no excuse for his peculations.

Laws passed upon the last day of the legis. Senator Peitz of Keith county moved to make the 2-cent fare bill a special order for March 6. While the attempt failed, the roll call showed a strong sentiment in favor of taxes received from live stock brought into the state or moved from one county to another; an act providing for the agree of being an embezzier of government of sheep inspectors; a join reactive for any railroad corporation operating or which shall hereafter population of any passenger over 10 years of $18,000 during the two years that he held the position of paymaster. LINCOLN, March 3 .- (Special.) - Today was Omaha charter day for the state senate and the entire time from morning until evena diamond fing which had belonged to Blanche Lamont. It was proved at the trial that Durrant accompanied Miss Lamont to and from school on the day she disappeared and that he met Minnie Williams at the ferry on the evening she was murdered.

The diamond fing which had belonged to and the entire time from morning until evening adjournment was given up to the consideration of the bill which, if it passes the house, will be the fundamental law for the metropolis of the state for two years to But few of the senators paid attention to the reading of the lengthy document, and the session was practically made up of Senator Graham of Frontier, who occupied the chair, explained several sections to one or two senators who asked questions on minor points. The only thing approaching a protest was one raised by Mr. Gondring, who objected to the proposition to reduce the salary of the city treasurer below $5,000. Many of the sections to which the committee on municipal affairs had offered no amendment were agreed to by common consent without reading and in his way a great deal of time was saved. The charter, as it was finally agreed to this aftercharter, as it was many agreed to this after-noon, differs very materially from the origi-nal charter introduced early in the assession by Senator Howell. The original document comprised seventy-five large printed pages and the amendments reported by the committee on municipal affairs include twentyone additional pages of printed matter.

As amended the charter bill provides for a spring election day on the first Tuesday in March. But as it will be impossible to hold an election this year upon that date the charter will be supported by the charter of the standard provider the charter of the standard provider the charter of the standard provider of the charter of t the charter, as it now stands, provides that a municipal election shall be held on the sixth Tuesday after the charter goes into effect. The bill carries an emergency clause and if it receives twenty-two senate and sixty-seven in the house, may go into effect at any time within the next thirty days, providing its progress is not unduly delayed in the homse. The first election would then occur early in May. If the bill does not pass with the emergency clause he first election cannot take place until some year under this charter will hold their offices, until the third Monday in March, 1900, and after this year the municipal election will occur every three years. SALARIES OF CITY OFFICIALS. The city officials will receive annual salaries as follows: Mayor, $2.500; treasurer, $4.000; comptroller, $1.800; police judge, $1,200; clerk, $1,800; chief of police, $2.000; attorney, $2,500; assistant attorney, $1,800; prosecutor, $300; engineer, $2,500; assistant attorney, $1,500; building inspector, $1,500; engineer, $1,800; building inspector, $1,500; health commissioner, $2,000; tax commissioner, $2,500; fire and police commissioners, each, $400; each councilman, $900; electrician, $1,800; plumbing inspector, $1,200; boiler inspector, $1,200; policemen and firemen, $75. per month. Of the officers enumerated mayor, treasurer, comptroller, police judge, clerk, and tax commissioner are elected and the others appointed. In the original charter-bill the tax commissioner was to have been appointed by the mayor; but Mr. Howell yielded to the wishes of many property owners and agreed to an amendment making the office elective.

The senate made a still further cut in the salaries of the treasurer, police judge, attorney and engineer. Originally the bill paid the treasurer $5,000. This salary was on motion of Mr. Watson cut to $4,000. The salary of the police judge was cut from $1,500 to $1,200; the attorney from $3,000 to office elective. $2,500; and the engineer from $3,000 to

The senate made material alterations in The senate made material alterations in the original provisions relating to the advisory board. Originally the charter provided for an advisory board to consist of the city engineer, comptroller, building inspector, chiefs of the police and fire departments and health commissioner, all of which officers except the comptroller were to be accepted by the mayer, who was himself officers except the comptroller were to be appointed by the mayor, who was himself to be ex-officio chairman of the board. This board was to perform all the duties now assigned to the Board of Public Works, Board of Health, and the Board of Park Commissioners. As amended the charter provides for three distinct bodies, an advisory board. Board of Public Works and Board of Park Commissioners. The advisory board consists of the officers enumerated and is given control of the public visory board consists of the officers enumer-ated and is given control of the public health, of the disposition of garbage, of plumbing inspection, and shall also receive bids and let contracts for all material and supplies required by the city. The Board of Public Works, as provided for by amend-ments adouted today is to consist of the meets adopted today, is to consist of the city engineer, the comotroller and building inspector. The Board of Park Commisler had nothing in his hands and that he made no hostile demonstrations toward sioners remains as it is constituted at pres-ent, except that the members are to receive

FIRE AND POLICE COMMISSION. The new charter provides for a Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, to con-sist of the mayor, who shall be ex-officion the chairman, and four members to be ap-pointed by the governor, not more than two of them to belong to the same political party or hold the same political below. of them to belong political belief. The original hold the same political belief. The original that the inal charter contained a provision that the chiefs of the police and fire departments should be electors of the city when apshould be electors of the city when ap-pointed. The committee on municipal affairs substituted the word "residents" for "elec-tors," but Mr. Ransom registered a pro-test and the amendment was rejected. When the bill had been completed the committee voted to recommend it for pass-age as amended. The committee then rose and the senate adjourned.
