TALK OF A PEACEFUL BLOCKADE.

Bringing Greece to Time. LONDON, March 9 .- It is stated that Admiral Canevaro of the Italian fleet, in command of the combined equatrons, proposed as a first step, in the event of a negative reply from Greece, that all the powers should recall their ministers from Athens. Probably it will be decided to enforce a peaceful blockade, applying only to vessels under the Greek flag. These would not be confiscated, but detained only until the blockade was raised. Much is hoped, in the way of a colution of the difficulty, from Lord Salis-bury's visit to the queen and the influence of the royal family upon King George.

The Times in an editorial this morning upon the reply of Greece to the powers, considers that convincing argument is advanced why they should not execute their threats of

The Daily News thinks the reply furnishes a reasonable basis for further negotiations.
Parliamentary papers have been issued con taining the full text of the notes of the powers to Turkey and Greece. The first note to Turkey made no mention of withdrawal of Turkish troops from Crete, but the second explained that the scheme of autonomy im ied a progressive reduction of the Ottoman forces in the island and that therefore, after the Hellenic evacuation, the Turkish troops must be withdrawn from the occupied town.

LONDON, March 9 .- A dispatch to the Times from Canea says that each side accuses the other of beginning the combaat Akrotiri, but the truth seems to be that as soon as the insurgents began to advance, the Turks began to fire. BAD NEWS FOR PLACE HUNTERS Few Changes to Be Made in Govern-

This is not very cheerful news to office seekers, and has been communicated directly to many of the aspirants who have been unable to repress their ambitions, and, to add to their liscomfort, it is intimated in some quarters that there are to be very few changes in office, save where the incumbent insists upon immediate retirement, for some time to ome. This may be an over-estimate of the conservatism displayed by the administra ion, but it is recalled that Mr. McKinley ofore his inauguration, held to the view that the changes in office, with all their ac-companying confusion and derangement of business, should not be undertaken until the tariff bill is enacted. This view is brought reshly to mind by the statement made today hat a prominent assistant secretary in on of the executive departments has been asked

WASHINGTON, March 9.-Chairman Dingley of the ways and means committee said today that he expected the new tariff bill would be ready to introduce in the house very soon after congress assembled. Duties, he said, must be assensed according to the law on the statute books at the time goods were imported. nto effect.
The committee today had under consideration the sugar schedule; but reached no definite conclusion regarding it. The free list schedule was completed. Nearly all the remaining articles which had not been disposed of and which were dutiable under the McKinley law had been restored to the dutiable list at rates somewhat less than the McKinley rates. These additions to the dutiable list include some chemicals used in the manufacture of soaps, and it may be necessary to increase the duty which has been placed on soaps in the first draft of the bill to make up for this change as to raw materials. The pottery schedule has not yet been completed and there is considerable question whether the ad valorem rates of the McKinley law shall be restored or specific duties imposed.

LINCOLN, March 9 .- (Special.)-The senate this afternoon passed the stockyards bill and appointed a sifting committee. The forenoon was consumed with the work necessary to do these two things, but the majority felt that they were well repaid for the session.

As soon as the preliminary work had been cleared away Mr. Grothan of Howard moved that a sifting committee of seven members be appointed by the lieutenant governor. Little or no opposition was manifested from any part of the senate chamber, as it was well understood that the matter had been thoroughly canvassed and that a majority had been secured in advance. The lieutenant governor ruled that a two-thirds majority would be required to authorize the appointment of a sifting committee as well as to overrule a report of that committee after it was appointed, the motion was put to the senate without discussion and was apparently adopted unanimously, no voice being heard this afternoon in a five-story apartment build- in the negative. was passed by a vote of 25 to 7, the vote in detail being as follows: Ayes: Grahan Nays:

A number of senators who voted against the bill sent to the secretary's desk and had WHY THEY VOTED NO.

Mr. Caldwell of Nuckolls had quite a little that some of the working laws will be commenced and his name was second on the list. He arose and addressed the chair, saying that he wished to enter a protest against the passage of the bill at this time, for the reason that the amendments had not yet been printed according to the constitutional requirements. He asked that his protest read as a part of the proceedings of the senate. The liquienant governor declared that the amendments had been printed and informed the senator from Nuckolls that he was out of order at that time. Some little confusion resulted, whereupon the lieutenant governor pounded vigorously upon his desk and announced: "The chair thinks he knows his business." "The chair knows what he is about," exclaimed the lieutenant governor. Mr. Howell and others at once directed the lieutenant governor's attention to the fact that the roll call had commenced and that the name of the senator from Nuckolis had been called and, therefore, his explanation was perfectly in order. The lieutenant gov-ernor then permitted the explanation to be read. It was as follows:

"I desire to protest against the effort to pass senate file No. 33 at this time, because the amendments have not all been printed as provided by the constitution."

Mr. Feliz of Keith voted no on the bill, with the verbal explanation that there was no demand for its passage by the people of his district and because it was a radical and extreme measure.

Mr. Fritz of Thurston voted no, because, he said, the bill would cripple the stock yards industry and as a result would injure his own business, which was that of a stock

Mr. Johnson of Clay offered the following explanation of his vote against the bill: "First, no evidence based upon facts has been presented to the committee that has had this bill under consideration or to the senate to justify the passage of so radical a measure; second, I do not believe the propoints were brought out today in the bebeas corpus proceedings brought by But-le, the alleged Australian murderer. His attorney dmitted that the evidence taken was sufficient to show probable cause that the prizoner had murdered Freston and Water, but he contended that as the latter had been arrested on a British ship it was on British territory. Butler testified that he had come to San Francisco en route to London, but Captain Fraser of the Swanhilda testified that Butler had asked for his discharge.

a measure; second, I do not believe the products of the profits thus taken from the stockyards company, but that the packers and the beef trust will get it all; third, I believe the only solution of this and all other questions relating to the distribution of the products of labor is in government ownership of the railroads and that all legislation of this nature only tends to divert the public mind away from the real and only solution of all such questions and thoreby prolonging indefinitely the day of final and just settlement of all such questions. For these reasons I vote no."

Mr. Spencer of Lancaster sent to the secretary's desk the following explanation of his vote in the negative: "I do not think any Nebraska enterprise can successfully withstand so great a reduction as this bill pro-poses. I understand this bill reduces the in-come to an extent of a trifle over $100,000 yearly. It is an evident fact that this com-pany must take steps to meet this reduction and presumably it means a reduction of this amount paid yearly to their employes and tends to tear Nebraska down instead of building her up."

Mr. Ransom of Douglas said he concurred in the protest of the senator from Nuckolis. He considered the bill radical and of no benefit to the farmers.

RECEIVES SOME PETITIONS. The senate was overwhelmed for a few moments by a diluge of petitions from veteran soldiers in all parts of the state, protesting against the proposal to abolish the soldiers' home at Milford. They were all referred to the committee on soldiers' homes. Mr. Mr. Seal also presented a petition, asking for the laws of the law abolishing de-

Mr. Ransom offered the following, which was unanimously adopted:
