During the pourparlers a general agree-ment was suggested in that the powers should advance a certain sum for the pay of the gen d' armerie and for the expense organizing the autonomous government Crete. This was immediately objected to by Germany on the ground that it was not willing to spend a pfennig for this purpose. France, this afternoon, proposed to the British foreign office that the powers proceed immediately to organize the gen d' armerie, naming a governor of Crete from Holland, Belgium or perhaps from Switzerland. Several names were suggested and considered. Great Britain points out, the semiofficial announcement concludes, that the members of the previous Cretan gen members of the previous Cretan ken ar armeric ran away and mutinied and that the Greek troops are the best available for this purpose. Consequently this proposal will probably be a modus vivendi by which the situation may be solved. The Greeks will accept it.

KING GEORGE MAY ABDICATE.

Possible Solution of the Vexatious

Problem in Crete. (Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press.) ATHENS, March 12 .- The Cretan question is passing through a period of quiescence, a lull having followed the reply of Greece to the powers, and everybody is wondering where and when the storm will break out afresh. In spite of the repeated assertions made in different capitals of Europe that ize an autonomous government, made in different capitals of binope that the powers are acting in concert toward Greece, it is remarked here that if this was the case the threatened coercion of Greece would have been an accomplished fact long bafore this. There seem to be but three ways out of the present difficulty, and the most commonly accepted is that the powers must accept the offers of Greece to withdraw its fleet from Cretan waters and allow its army of occupation to remain nominally under the or occupation to remain induction the control of a foreign officer outraniking Colonel Vassos, to be used for the pacification of the island, and when that is accomplished a plebisatic shall decide whether the Cretans prefer annexation to auronomy.

The second suggested solution is the isolation, opposed to a new grouping of Rus-noercion, real or seeming, of Greece by the lockade of the Greek coasts, as well as the stand of Creis. This would be seeming Rifes and Construction sland of Crete. This would be a dangerous and difficult task. In the first place, it would require an immense fleet of vessels, owing to almost innumerable islands composing Grecian archipelago, to make such a blockade effective.

MIGHT LIGHT THE TORCH. Besides, Greece's reply to this would probably be the lighting of the fires of war in Macedonia, the beginning of a conflagration which might spread all over Europe. The most dangerous most on the map of Europe at present is the frontier of Thessaly. If Greece is coerced or if it does not obtain the substance of its de-mands it is liable to force the hands of the mands it is liable to force the hands of the powers and this might be done in more ways than one, as by crossing the border, trying to raise the Balkans and possibly bringing about the long contemplated dismemberment of the Turkich complete of the Turkish empire.

of the Turkish empire. The third solution of this dangerous and difficult problem is contained in the renewed rumors that King George of Greece may abdicate in favor of his eldest son, Crown Prince Constantine, duke of Sparta, whose wife is the princess Sophia of Prussia, sister of Emperor William of Germany. There are many people who believe that the king's abdication would be the best means of clear-ing up the situation. White the stand taken by King George in the present crisis has un-doubtedly improved his position among the Greeks, his abdication would be a popular step, as the populace has never quite for-given the king for being a foreigner, while his sons, who were born in Greece, are tegarded as being one with themselves.

The crown princess is known to be a triffe jealous of Prince George, the sai or prince, the second son of the king, whom Prince Constantine always allows to be bracketed as equal with himself. The princess. should be added, is said to be furious at Emperor William for having sided with the Turks against her adopted people. Her hus-band is much admired and respected, but he is a man of silent, retiring disposition, and ta disposed to ignore the shouts of the popu-lace. Prince George, who is of a different temperament, is the popular idel, and many

For the month of January last the decrease as compared with January, 1896, was 3,325, making the total decrease for the seven months 45,525. This decrease is said to be largely due to the difficulties and uncertainties attending a landing in this coun-try. The many deportations and the strict examinations enforced is stated to have caused a large increase of immigration from Europe to Brazil, Argentine Republic and other South American countries, where in-ducements are offered. An important factor in the large decrease of arrivals in this coun-try is believed to be the proclamation of the Italian minister of the interior warning undesirable classes from embarking for this country and refusing them passports.

DENVER, Colo., March 12 .- A special to the News from the City of Mexico says: full confession to the deacons, admitting all the statements made by Millington to be The Republic of Mexico appears to be having an epidemic of epidemics. Three have already been reported, which are carrying off hundreds of people in various parts of the country, and now come reports of two which are spreading alarm more.

At Jalapa, in the state of Vera Cruz, an epidemic of scarlet fever is raging to such an extent that the people are flecing for safety, while in the same vicinity an opidemiq of typhoid fever, which has much re-semblance to yellow fever, has broken out in most virulent form. Reports from sev eral gulf cities say that a similar disease prevails and the physiciane predict an epidemic of yellow fever, as they say this is always a forerunner of that disease. The other epidemics are progressing with un-abated force and these cities that are unaffected are bending their energies to preserve sanitary conditions.

The special order of the day was then taken up and the senate went into co tee of the whole on senate file No. 352, the bill providing for the construction of a burglar-proof vault in the state house, in which shall be kept all state funds. Before discussion was commenced Mr. Ransom made an effort to have the bill set over until next Monday afternoon, in order to make way for the Transmississippi Exposition which came next on the general file bundas of Nemaha, author of the vault bill, expressed his willingness to have the con-sideration postponed, provided that the bill should not lose its place at the head of the general file. Mr. Mutz of Keya Paha objected, practically saying if the bill was not considered today it would be killed by the sifting committee, of which he was a member. In order to settle the matter Mr. Howell moved that the bill be set over until Monday. Mr. Dundas moved as an amend-ment that the bill be ordered engrossed for third reading. These two motions opened the gate for a full discussion of the bill on its merits.

Mr. Gondring of Platte led off in opposition to the bill. He asserted that the measure contained many imperfections, but even with these imperfections corrected the bill way a bad one. ### EXPOSITION BILL TAKEN UP.

After recess the senate immediately went to committee of the whole to take up the Transmississippi Exposition bill. Mr. McGann of Boone was called to the chair. The bill was taken up section by section The first one was read and agreed to without objection. When the second section was read, providing for the appointment by the governor of six commissioners to manage the Nebraska exhibit, Mr. Caldwell of Nuckolla offered an amendment doing away with the state commission and providing that the ap-propriation contemplated by the bill should be expended under the direction of the State Board of Agriculture. rejected without debate. To the same section Mr. Ransom moved to strike out the proviso aimed to prevent the governor from appointing as members of the state commission any member of the present legislature. The committee declined to adopt the amendment.

The next amendment was offered by Mr. Caldwell to section 3. In the bill this section provides that the members of the state commission appointed by the governor shall draw compensation at the rate of $50 per month for a period of not longer than fifteen months. Mr. Caldwell wanted the limit cut down to eight months, but his amendment was re-jected with little discussion.

Two amendments to section 4 opened up the main discussion on the bill. Mr. Murphy offered one fixing the amount appropriated by the bill at $150,000 instead of $100,000, and provided by the house. Mr. Canaday of
