By that time the Oakes had drifted out of sight and Captain Muir, despairing of being able to tow her with his disibled screw, determined at least to find her and supply her with provisions. All night he searched the horizon for trace of her, and at 6 a. m. Tuesday she was again sighted. The sea was rough at the time, but Chief Officer Helzhem again volunteered to board her, and as the enginears reported the propellor to be working well, it was decided to send a hawser aboard. Accordingly, a line was dragged by the boat and after much hard work two hawsers were made fast. Mr. Helzhem and his boat's crew of three did most of the work on the ship. They found only the second and third mates able to help them. The provisions they brought were a godsend to the scurvy stricken survivors of the ship's crew and they began to gather hope that they might live to see land

Prices Higher Than for a Long Time and Cattle Are Scarce. CHEYENNE, Wyo., March 21.-(Special. -Frank Benton, one of the leading cattlemen of Wyoming, says this year promises to be the best for stockmen that has been experienced for at least eight years. On an average the price of cattle is $5 a head higher than it has been for many years. The rise in prices is easily accounted for. There are at the present time several mil-lions fewer cattle in the United States than there were five or six years ago. The number of cattle which will be ranged in Wyoming For eight hours the engineer's staff labored to clear the propellors, and finally discon-vear and the prices may on this account continue to increase. The stockmen who de sire to purchase southern stock for range purposes consider that the prices asked by the southern owners are too high and are not contracting for southern cattle in the quantities of previous years. The ranges of Wyoming and Montana will be better this year than last. There have been very heavy snows and water will be plentiful, and as the range is not overcrowded the pasturage will be excellent. Stockmen are very much in favor of the United States ceding the gov-ernment land in Wyoming and other cattle and sheep grazing states to the states, so that it may be leased to stockmen at reasonable rates, thereby making it possible fo every owner of sheep, cattle or horses to control his own pasture by leasing it and constructing a fence. The losses in the open range system of stock growing make the system too expensive.

In a condition favorable to the realization of any ambitions seriously involving the relations between the European powers. All are more concerned with interests in Asla and Africa than with any redistribution of the map of southeastern Europe. It is to the interest of all parties that the Turkish, of the map of southeastern Europe. It is to the interest of all parties that the Turkish, Balkan and Grecian questions should, for the present, at least, be patched up and left over for more radical treatment at some more convenient scason. This is the great saving factor in the situation, and it strongly suggests a probability that the position of Crete and prevent Greece from precipitating war with Turkey and the Balkan states from joining in the melee. This seems about the view entertained by intelligent observers in Wall street; and London and Paris appear to regard this as the direction in which the probabilities (argely preponderate. Upon this basis, cperators here show a disposition to fol-low the strong drift of the market toward higher prices. Since Wednesday, a much more buoyant feeling has been developed. There is a system in operations which seems to suggest a co-operative effort to give the market a general lift throughout the list. One stock after nnother is taken up in an apparently preconcerted order. erve the market a general int inroughout the list. One stock after norther is taken up in an apparently preconcerted order, Large purchases by the Vanderbill follow-ing appear to have given the cue to the market; and the readiness with which that tead is followed by others indicates that the rising tendency which set in during the latter half of the week is something more than a momentary spurt. It receives more support than appears on the surface from the opening of congress. The special session conveys the feeling that the new administration has taken hold of practical legislation with a will and is in earnest to remedy the evil conditions from which the country has been so long suffering. There is something inspiring in the assurances thus conveyed that there will be a speedy end to deficiencies of revenue and to the embarrassments of the treasury. The new tariff legislation, though elleting sharp dif-ferences of opinion at the outset, inspires tariff legislation, though eliciting sharp dif-ferences of opinion at the outset, inspires confidence in mercantile circles by the promise that the outcome will be a revival of our industries under the policy that, up to Is93, had made the country thriving and prosperous. The result of all this is to dispel the discouraging consciousness of be-ing surrounded by abnormal conditions and dubious policies, and to produce that feel-ing of settledness which encourages the steady pursuit of business. All this is wholesome and conducive to confidence, and the past week has given us a fore-taste of the better times which it all por-tends. Wall street is not likely to fall to respond to these new conditions. UNREASONABLE RISE IN STOCKS Dealers Too Enger for Improvemen

Displayer of the possibility of the second at a loss. LONDON IS SENSITIVE. The only thing connected with the foreign exchanges calculated to suggest any mis-givings is the possibility that the political complications in Europe may cause some of our securities to be sent home. It is true that American stocks and bonds have with-stood the shocks of those complications in London better than other securities dealt in there; but London is at present much more sensitive than New York, and prices yield less readily here than there, so that London stocks amounting to probably fully $2,500,000 during the past week. A few does of that sort, however, is likely to put us more on the alert. Bolong as such a situation as now exists in Europe is impending, it is impossible to suppress questionings at to what would re-unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the unit here in the event of failure of the suppress questionings at to what would re-und this fact tends to moderate speculative operations and to restrain the rising the-respects well prepared. DISCLOSURES ARE SUBSTANTIATED. When some weeks ago disclosures were made in these dispatches of the remarkable financlering which had hitherto been cov-ered up by the mystery poley of the Jer-sey Central railroad there was something of a Wall street outery against my state-ment on the groupd that they were sensa-tional. This notion has since been pretty well eradicated. Yesterday a sudden slump came, the stock having worked down to about 94, fell off a sudden about 3 points. The manipulators seemed to have aban-doned their scheme of supporting orders. Long stock came out. Liquidation was ap-parently open. Today the stock has been one of the most actively traded in, and it closed weak at 30%, having today been down to 90.

closed weak at 99%, having today been down to 90. In this Jersey Central incident are sug-gestions representative of conditions which are too abundant in the financial world. We have too many properties whose con-ditions are mysteries, whose managements for vanity's sake, or worse, refuse to be straightforward in their representations to the public. They hide away what is bad, giving Wall street only what has any sign of encouragement in it. In too many cases this is merely part of efforts to unload se-curities upon the public. A railroad com-pany with a mystery in it, is to be suspected. Never yet have final results in any such properties been other than disany such properties been other than dis-astrous. The old Cordage trust and its history are too much a lasting Wall street pe. Outside of Wall street the general situaion grows more encouraging. In backing ircles, among the wholesale merchants and nanufacturers, from every commercial and industrial quarter, come assurances that better times show signs of being close at hand. Only final congressional action on the tariff is waited for to give the signal for the start. H. ALLAWAY.

Everything that would do for killers sold early. Feeding cattle wore also just about steady. The cattle market of the past week was decidedly in sellers' favor, the movement be-ing active and the tendency of values up-ward. The moderate receipts at all the great markets indicating no large supply of fat cattle in the country, was the chief feature of strength. This, taken in con-nection with the excellent demand, both local and snipping, pushed values on beef steers steadily upward. At the close of the week the market is about zoe higher than it was a week ago. Cows and heifers were in very moderate supply all the week past, and good kinds advanced in about the same degree as beef steers. The market on bulls and stags was also a little higher, and on yeal culves it was strong. Stockers and feeders were free sellers all the week the demand being fully equal to, or even in excees of the supply. The prices paid were strong all the week and desirable reading cattle are now solling at the highest point of the year. The advance on fat cattle has stimulated the demand for feeders, and the country seems more willing than ever to pay the strong prices asked. HOGS-Values were again higher today, yes-teriaj's stride upward being followed by a be advance. The market opened this morning with prices a hicket higher, and stade the hogs sold on that basis, but it closed a little easier. PRESENT FAST FREIGHT SERVICE

Increases from Year to Year, but Expense Decreases.

The eighth annual report on the statistics of railways in the United States for the year ending June 30, 1895, prepared by Henry C. Adams, statistician of the Interstate Commerce commission, has just been issued. It makes a volume of 700 pages, and in addition to being admirably arranged for reference, it has the merit of being well supplied with maps and indexes. There is mass of information upon all subjects ndred to the railroads of the country contained in the volume.

Among the numerous other subjects upon thich information is given is that of the fast freight service of the country, which is increasing from year to year in extent and decreasing in time occupied in handling this class of goods. The receipts from freight are the chief item of revenue of American railroads and amount in an or-dinary year to between 73 and 75 per cent of the gross earnings. The disparity be-tween the passenger and the freight business of American railroads is seen by the fact while the total number of passenger cars in uso is less than 30,000, the number of freight cars in use is 1,250,000. The expenses of the fast freight service are augmented as the rate of speed is in-creased. As there is no augmentation of the rate, but, on the contrary, a reduction in charges, it is plain that the fast freight business is not so profitable as the ordinary freight handled by the railroad companies. On the other hand, the reduction in the time required for freight service between distant and other holders of the consolidated mortgage bonds of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern company. The trust company, as trustee of the property, conveyed to it by the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern company at the time of its consolidation under that name with the Ohlo & Mississippi Railway company, holds certified bonds amounting to $12,000,000, issued to take up the outstand-ing bonds of the Ohio & Mississippi Rallway company, a first lien on the property of that company. The Baltimore & Ohio company guaranteed that these bonds would be taken up by the consolidation, but the Baltimore & Ohio company went into the hands of a receiver in February, 1896, and has been unable to make its guaranty good, so that the bonds of the consolidated company, by that reason, and because of the hard times have largely declined in market value. Th Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern company, the mortgagor, has notified the trust pany that it will not be able to pay the Ohio & Mississippi bonds on maturity, as it con-templated, even by the sale of the consolidated bonds. It proposed an extension of the bonds for fifty years at 4.6 per cent, and the plaintiff asks the advice of the court in the interests of the holders of bonds, payment of which will default unless such extension is secured.

NEW YORK, March 21.-Wall street has had a week of fair to middling activity. Up till Friday it looked as though a bull boom had really come. Of a sudden it petered The advances of the first four days out.

of the week were all lost on Friday, and

out. The advances of the first four days of the week were all lost on Friday, and yesterday such activity as appeared proved not much else than weakness. The Vanderbilt name has been conjured with during the last fortnight much more successfully than any open sesame scheme relied upon by Wall street manipulators in a long time past. When the Lake Shore refunding scheme was announced the con-sequent hurrant over it was simply war-ranted, in so far as Lake Shore itself was concorned—for Lake Shore is by long odds far in advance even of most of the high-class properties whose accurities are dealt in on the New York Stock exchange. It deservedly ranks with the Chicago & Alton, and it is hard elsewhere to find a fully fit peer for the pair. Other magnificent fail-roid properties there are, amply deserving the confidence of the investment world, but in Lake Shore almost every line of su-geriority crystallizes. Wall street, however, bad for so long lacked excuse for enthusiaem on the bull side that with trusting hurrans it rushed in to proclaim that similar advantages were built properties—and in the list of Yander-bilt properties due very remote, in so far as they reflect either direct Vander-bilt properties due very remote, in so far as they reflect either direct Vanderbilt own-erable or direct Vanderbilt management. In the list are companies earning to dividends, eking out fixed charges by much eithor that such companies should be able to duplicate the Lake Shore performance had in it so much of the ridiculous that outside of Wall street speculative circles nobody could patiently discuss the booming program. REASONABLENEES NOT NECESSARY.

as 50 as 50 by 50 by 50 carbon beness or unreasonableness of its reasonableness or unreasonableness of its rew propositions, and by dint of much ma-by 50 mipulation the market values of such stocks by 50 could be but a limited time before the mar-tet was so far overbought that a setbick was unavoidable. Many Wall street traders who have been trading energetically on the bull side have suddenly dipped over to take the bear tack. Some of these have sold out at the top.

eastern Europe and the Transvaal keeps the volume of business on the Stock exchange very small and the markets unusually sensitive. On the whole, however, prices very small and the markets unusladiy sensitive. On the whole, however, prices prevalling during the latter part of the week indicated streater confidence, and there is little doubt that if Greece yields to the powers prompily there will be sharp rises all round. The home rails favorable for in-vestment purposes all show firmer figures, and foreign securities have tmproved under orders to buy from the continent. Greeks are still falling, but Italians, Spanish, Turk ish and South Americans are better. There is but little activity in mining shares and Americans are irregular, following for the most part the lead of Wall street. There has been an increase in Illinois Central of 25, New York Central 14, and the following show declines: Central Pacific, Norfolk & Western, 2: Lake Shore, Northern Facific, Philadelphin & Reading and Wanash, 1. Other Americans show small changes, for the most part downward.

Manchester Textile Trade Review. MANCHESTER, March 21.-There has been no change worth special notice in the local market during the last week. The volume of goods sold has certainly been much lighter, but the engagements already booked are quite sufficient to keep the ma-chinery going for some weeks. Yarns are firm, though no large stocks have been sold. There have been numerous offerings in cloths, but by far the larger share has been considered under the limit of remuner-ative transactions. The volume of business with China is rather less than it was earlier in the season, but the orders placed are sufficient to keep the looms active for a month or more. Indeed, additional looms are starting, though manufacturers are be-moaning the low prices obtained. So far as the continental market is concerned, the position is not changed materially from what it was a week ago. local market during the last week. The shade of further improvement this mornin. shade of further improvement this morning and consols 16 per cent decline. For these reasons wheat held fairly steady at the opening and for an hour thereafter. There was observed, however, during that time the same comparative scarcity of May, compared with July, which was so marked a feature of the previous day's business. The difference between the two widened still farther. At the close on Friday the spread was exactly 2c and after an hour's trading this forenoon it had stretched to 2%. The extra plentifunness of July was by some ascribed to better accounts from the country regarding proving wheat and expectation of further improvement as the result of the copious rahs. May opened a shade lower at from 74%c to 75 touched 14% to 54%c, and very gradually rose to 75%c. But by 11 o'clock the price had de-clined to 54%c. New York wired shortly after the opening that while cablegrams were firm there was very fittle demand for reasin wheat. A prominent firm had a cable-gram from Liverpool reporting heavier offerings from Russia, which was instru-mental in checking the volume of what was at best a limited demand and in en-couraging the growth of the basarles senti-ment, which showed itself in the market after an advance of %c in May had been realized.
