NEWSPAPERS ADOPT PESSIMISTIC TONE

Emperor Nicholas of Austria Says Nothing Now Remnins but for Greece and Turkey to Fight it Out.

LONDON, April 15 .- The Athens correspondent of the Times will say tomorrow: The failure of the first raid has deepened the general exasperation and led to much angry recriminations. The Ethnike Hetairia view from the Greek lines. The irregulars, blames the Brotherhood. It is quite evident however, have made a decided change in that the Headria expected to be supported by the regular troops on the outbreak of a war thus precipitated.

similar bitter recrimination and all authorities declare that there is a want of confidence between the court and the government. The Greek nation knows what it the gulf of Salonica and in the vicinity of wants, but its rulers are wavering and un- Arta. decided. The nation is asking how it was possible that the Greeks were surrounded and compelled to retreat without being assisted by the Greek army.

A pessimistic tone is becoming more and more noticeable, but the clamor for war does not diminish. As yet there are no reliable statements made as to the exact less of the invaders, but I learn on excellent authority that it exceeded 200. One newspaper says that only half of the main body returned, the remainder being either killed or scattered through the mountains.

VIENNA, April 15 .- It is said here tonight on reliable authority that the Emperor Nicholas has declared that nothing now remains but to abandon Turkey and Greece to their fate and leave them to measure strength. His majesty is reported to have added emphatically that if Turkey now declared war it would be exclusively due to the provocation offered by Greece. Greece would be regarded in Austrian official circles as the actual assailant. CONSTANTINOPLE, April 15 .- For three days past the ministerial council has been in session at the yildiz klosk. According to one report the ministers have failed to arrive at any decision, but another account says the council has agreed upon a plan of campy am in the event of an outbreak of that the ministers also decided that if a fresh frontier incident occurs, Edhem Pasha, the Turaush commander-in-chief, is to assume the offensive.

GREEKS CONTINUE TO ADVANCE.

as They Go Forward. LARISSA, April 15 .- There is no truth in the Turkish reports that the Greek irregulars have been driven out of Macedonia. It is true that a few of the irregulars who formed part of the expeditionary force have returned into Greek territory, but these are men who for some reason have been unable to keep up with the main body of the Greeks 8,000 moduted men on the frontier, and consequently they have retreated across are, however, very strong in artillery a the frontier. The main budy of the irregulars is continuing its successful operations against the Turks, with the view of cutting the Turkish lines of communication, gettting in the rear of the Turks and raising the Macedonians against the rule of the sultan.

The report of the capture of Klpur, north of Baltine, by the Greeks, is confirmed, and in addition the main forces of the irregulars of the expeditionary force have advanced as far as Pigavitza, where there is an important bridge across a mountain torrent. From that point Chief Daveliz, who is directing the operations, has sent a detach-ment, consisting of the Italians under Colonel Cipriani, the well known socialist leader, to the left of Pigavitza with intions to attack and capture Zlovof, a small town occupying an important strategic position. The Italians accomplished their task in due time, with considerable skill. They are now holding Zlovof and placposition to withstand an attack from the Turks.

Simultaneously with ordering the move-ment against Zlovof, Chief Daveliz sent another column of irregulars to the right, from Pigavitzs, under orders to invest and capture Silon, another town, occupying a strategic position of importance. This movement was also successfully carried out, the five Turkish prisoners during the assault, which was brilliantly conducted and brought to an end by the blowing up of the Turkish blockhouse with dynamite.

After the capture of Zlovof, the Greek irregular force operating in that direction continued its advance as far as Kritudes. Plieta and Kourduzi. The Greeks have seen instructed to hold the latter place at all costs, as it commands the right approach to Grevena, which is held by a strong Turkish force, infantry, cavalry and and which is the objective point of the Greek expedition At Kritudes, Plisia and Kourduzi heavy fighting occurred between the Greeks and Turks before the places mentioned were captured, but the invading irregulars of Greek proved themselves more than a match for the trained Turkish troops and drove the latter before them from place to place.

Another column of Greek tregulars started for Muccionia from Zarkos, half way Shortly confronted by a strong force of Turkish regular troops, stationed in well defended positions in the villages of Anakoutra and between Larissa and Trikhalia. Shortly after crossing the frontier the Greeks were Kanskoutra. Sharp fighting followed at both places, but in spite of the stubborn defense of the Turks, the Greeks carried both villages by assault, the Turks retiring to Cleutherokari. This route into Greek territory is being placed in a state of defense, and is now regarded as being safe, the nature of the country making it almost im-possible for a Turkish force to advance in the face of the opposition of the irregulars and cut the line of communication between and cut the line of communication between the Greek forces at Lasissa and Trikhalia, which is believed to have been the plan of the Turkish commanders. The Macedoniz frontier, opposite Zarkos, extends U shape into Greek territory having the Greek positions of Trnavo and Larissa on its left and Kalabaka and Trikhalia on its right. This formed a sort of entering wedge through the middle of the Greek forces, by way of the Macedon villages, just captured by the Greek irregulars, and Zarkos, is Thessaly, from which point the expedition started into Macedonia. It will therefore be seen that the Greeks have achieved another success in the Greeks have achieved another success in at Memphis today.

occupying strategic positions before war has formally been declared.

The Greek irregulars now hold all of the four roads leading from the Thessalian frontier in the direction of Grevena, which may be looked upon as the Turkish center. Another feature of the operations which looks favorable to the Greeks is in the fact that, according to reports received here from the leaders of the irregular forces, at least 1,000 mour telneers of the country traversed by the Greeks have joined the irregular forces, and it is further stated the Albanians are deserting from the Turkish forces near Mount Olyn.pus, escaping into Thessaly and Joining the Greek forces. Mrs. Ormiston Chant, the English social reformer, and the six trained field nurnes who are said to be on their way to Crete, have arrived at Athens and it is stated will reach this town in company with the princesnes of the royal family of Greece tomorrow. On arriving here Mrs. Chant, the English nurses (who came under the aurpices of the Red Cross society) and the princesses will be attached to the hospital

The roads in Thessaly are in excellent of war material and in the mounting of lows; guns in commanding positions.

The whole frontier presents a warlike ap-pearance. Zarkos is held by a strong force of Greek regulars, infantry, cavalry and artillery, and forms the center of a first line of defense, which includes all the villages in that vicinity. Until recently the Turks had the best positions on the frontier, their well-built, strongly defended and admirably placed blockhouses being in plain the situation. In the rear of the Turkish first line of defense, it should be remempered, is rough, mountainous country, difficult to traverse, even in time of peace, Several of the newspapers indulge in a while in the rear of the Greek first line of defense are rich plains which afford no shelter for troops resisting the advance of a powerful invading force. Cavalry patrols cover all the frontier. but the Greeks and the Christian peasants on the other side of the frontier have an intelligence department which no money or skill could organize, and the Greek commanders are kept well informed of all that is going on across the frontier.

Kalambika, on the Greek left, not far from the Albanian frontier, is another important position of the Greeks. A military road from Kalambika to Velemetza, on the frontier, has just been completed. At Velemetza are the only passes from Haliamon valley the Greeks have 6,000 men in that vicinity ready to meet a Turkish advance.

On the Turkish side there is no road beyond

At Monastir flying columns have been formed to watch the Servian frontier, and all the supplies possible are being pushed forward to the three Turkish divisions at Binssonia, Grevenia and Janina. The Turks are weak in cavalry, having only about are, however, very strong in artillery and in fantry. The transport corps is well organ ized, field telegraphs have been laid between all important points, artesian wells have een bored at Elassonia and the broken bridges in Macedonia have been repaired as

The Turkish forces at Scionica have con structed a line of redoubts around the gulf and down the Aegean coast to Katerina. Krupp and Armstrong guns have been mounted behind these defenses and a line of thirty torpedoes has been laid across the tay from Pekar.

The discipline of the Turkieli troops is beyond praise. The Greeks, however, are of the Turks, although they at present seem to be animated by more warlike enthusiasm.

WATER IN THE RIVER CONTINUES TO RISE

Increasing Floods Still Threaten the Safety of Omaha Property.

TORRENT TEARS ITS OWN WAY ALONG

Deep Channels Are Being Cut Across the Submerged Pottoms.

MISSOURI POURING INTO FLORENCE LAKE

Heavy Wind from the North Drives the Waves Inland, Inundating the Lowlands of East Omaha Precinct.

A furious, angry, seething sea frothed and dashed over the entire northern part of East Omaha all the day long yesterday, threatening to tear away at any moment the obstructions of dikes and streets that separated it from the southern end of the Island. It was lashed and whipped by a stiff, bitter north wind that tore its surface up into innumerable short, choppy waves of a foot or more in height and dashed them with fury, against all obstructions with something like a breaker-like roar and with a shower of spray. The flood seemed to be wrestling like a maddened spirit against the fetters that human hands had put upon it and which they were strengthening throughout the entire day.

When day dawned upon the Island yesterday morning the torrent had called to its aid an ally. This was a strong, sharp wind that blew almost directly from the north and swept over the surface of the waters. This element added new danger. With the wind in the south on Wednesday night the men who had worked two days on the dikes and dama believed that the water would be held back except in the case of a sudden big rise in the river. The presence of the north wind, however, altered the situation materially. It drove the water with increased force against the obstructions. It threatened to tear them away at any time during the day. The dikes and dams were already as strong as they could be made, but men watched and tinkered at them as long as daylight lasted that no break might occur.

The wind blew strong all the day and the country it covered and it has spread out upon considerable ground that heretofore has been NIGHTFALL WELCOMED.

The falling of the wind last night brought great relief to all the residents upon the island. During the entire day they had been the wind in another direction today it is lieved that the waters can now be held back, unless a big rise in the river should occur. The Missouri is still going up. On Wednes-day night it rose two inches. Yesterday it went up but one inch. It is now at seven-teen feet and nine inches.

But sithough the torrent was kept within bounds, it gained some advantage during the day and the night before. When morning dawned it had poured two feet more of water into Cut Off lake. By last night it had added another foot. Thus up to the last night the lake was about seven feet higher than it was before, as a result of the flood. More than that, it has overflowed its shores dryer places. The flow of water from the north yester-day morning was enormous. The stream, running parallel with Sherman avenue, was considerably deeper, and the current was swifter. It did not gain during the day, but it did not diminish in the slightest degree. Thus all the day the take was ris-ing steadily, and as it overflowed its banks it crept into the adjoining fields.

Last night the rise continued, and at late hour serious reports were received of the effect it was having. It was stated that the water had reached to the Courtland beach bridge, and was sweeping over it in spots. It was also stated that a portion of a railroad dike in the lower part of the lake had been torn away, and the water was flowing into a lower basin

WHERE THE DANGER LIES. Cut Off lake is the danger point. The overflow to the east over the fields is a portion of the danger, too. It is feared that the lake may become loaded with such a body of water that with the assistance of a current it may tear away the dikes to the south and pick out a course into the river somewhere near Nicholas street. Last night's report of the breaking of a part of one of the railroad dikes seems to indicate that this fear is well grounded. increased.

restrained in that body would descend upor the southern part of the Island. If this had the southern part of the Island. happened, an Immense amount of water would will still menace with increased force. It is greatly feared that this increase of the vol-ume of water from Florence lake, added to the mass already rushing into Cut off, would combine to sweep away the dikea and dams that now furnish a restraint to the south.

As stated above, the dam at Florence lake withheld the strain that was put upon it yesterday, and the flood was therefore compelled to seek its outlet through the stream that has been running parallel with stream that has been running parallel with Sherman avenue. The water that flowed along this channel had so deepened that the passage was considered decidedly unsafe. Heretofore the stream could be forded near the end of the Courtland beach bridge, but the water was too deep to allow this yes-terday. Practically all access to the island formed between Florence lake and Cut Of lake, upon which is cituated Hill's road house and the ice houses of Swift and other companies, has been cut off by vehicle although some heavy wagons waded through n North Omaha, more than half a mile above.

The water is pouring into Cut Off lake at the west end of the Courtland beach bridge in greater volume and with greater force. Up to Wednesday afternoon it was satisfied with a deep channel and waterfall about thirty feet in width. The mass of incoming water has so increased and the lake has so risen, however, that this channel has been swept from view. The water is now pourin into the lake from the flood that is running parallel with Sherman avenue, and in a stream fully 200 feet wide.

All along this stream the water is rushing in a heavy current. Many of the houses, from which the occupants were driven a couple of days ago, are standing in the cen-ter of this stream, and it is feared that if
