Let's paint the town! We calculate In '98 To celebrate To celebrate and decorate. Now, don't you see For little fee The want ad's plea. In Dally Bee, Will bring some man Who'll help you plan And make your lot A beauty short. A beauty spot?
There's paint to mix,
And fence to fix;
Perhaps you need
Some lawn grass seed.
Plant trees? Oh, yes, rather guess. on't get the dumps; mooth down the hump Let's advertise And realize
The town's alive
And bound to thrive.
To buy or sell,
And do it well.
An ad, you'll find,
Will cuse your mind. Let's paint the town (H. B. Wallace.)

But despite this lack of a coherence which is not expected, and an equally noticeable lack of novelty in jokes and specialties, "A Baggage Check" generally enjoyed by those who enjoy that and of thing, and the engagement is likely to prove a successful one from the standpoint of farce comedy.

This pretty and tuneful opera is too well and favorably known by reputation to our theater-goers to need extended notice, as it enjoyed a brilliantly successful engagement of five months at the Broadway theater, New York City, last season. Many of the old fa-vorites of the organization, as well as several new ones, are in the cast, which will be surrounded by a grand chorus of fifty voices. The renditions of the opera will be as perfect as surrounding conditions will allow, for that liberality of purpose and strict attention to detail, richness of scenic ef fect and brilliant costuming, which have made the name of DeWolf Hopper famous in this epoch of elaborate stage production, will receive the same careful attention during the forthcoming engagement in this city as when the opera was presented in the me

The Georgia University Graduates opened at Boyd's yesterday. The demonstrations of the two audiences left no doubt as to their being pleased. As a minstrel performance it annot be said to equal some that have been seen here, but when the reduced price of admission is taken into consideration, in all fairness to the organization, it can be said to give a pretty good entertainment. Gillam and Watts received approval for their work on the ends, and some of the music was pleas-ing. The balancing and juggling of John Pamplin and the exhibition of slack wire walking by Ollie Brown were loudly ap-plauded. The engagement is for three more nights and a Wednesday matinee. The band will give an operatic solo concert in front of the theater, commencing at 7:15, this even

PROTECTIVE DUTY ON BALED HAY.

Feature of the Tariff That is of Interest to Nebraska Farmers. About two weeks ago The Bee's Washington dispatches told of the introduction in the senate by Senator Thurston of a letter from M. C. Harrington of North Platte on the subject of a tariff impost on hay. Mr. Harrington writes to The Bee on the topic as follows:

I observe that nothing is ever said in the great daily or weekly papers in this state regarding the importance or value of the immense bay crop that grows every year in Nebraska. Many appear to lose sight of the fact that this in one of the greatest hay producing states in the union and that thousands of square miles of hay meadows are uncut every year, remaining a prey to the terrible prairie fires. If the people of this state only knew it they could make the hay crop to Nebraska what the cotton crop is to Louisiana.

During the year 1855 we shipped from Lincoln county to Chicago, Detroit and even as far as Buffalo and Pittsburg, 1.200 cars of our prairie hay. We got into those markets on account of the drouth in the central states and Canada, which reduced the quantity raised there, also the amount imported from Canada. The railroads have made reasonably low rates on hear from western Nebraska to Chicago and as follows:

reduced the quantity raised there, also the amount imported from Canada. The railroads have made reasonably low rates on hay from western Nebraska to Chicago, and last year we demonstrated that our upland prairie hay was better than that raised in Iowa, Kansas, Minnesona or Illinois. We were right in competition with hay from all those states in the Chicago markets last year and all the commission merchants quoted our hay at 50 cents to $1 a ten higher than and prairie hay on the market. It was a great pleasure to the writer in December, 1895, to see samples of Nebraska upland prairie hay on the tables of the commission men in the Board of Trade quoted and gelling at a higher price than the product of the states before mentioned. What we want is a high tariff that will effectually shut out all Canadian hay from the great cities of the east and let the farmers and land owners, laboring men and merchants, all equally interested, share in the profit from the Nebraska product. If we have a sure market every year thousands of acres of hay land now neglected will be developed and the hay will bring in an immense revenue.

MORROW TO BE CHIEF CLERK

He Will Be Appointed by County Judge Baxter. Within a few days County Judge Baxter will appoint H. M. Morrow as his chief clerk under the provisions of the new law, which gives to all county judges a clerk authorized to do all official acts except the actual exerrise of a judicial function.

This new law will very materially assist the county judges in the larger counties in the performance of their many duties. Heretofore the county judge has been unable to leave his office for any great length of time for the reason that the law requires him to sign every paper, process, certificate or license in person. The only way the judge could secure a vacation, even for a shor time, was to sign blanks in advance. This was a clumsy device and often led to complications of a more or less serious character.

At a meeting of the county judges of the state held at Lincoln some time before the legislature convened, it was decided to ask for an amendment of the law. The matter rested, however, until after the legislature convened. Then, at the request of a number of judges from different parts of the state, Judge Baxter drew up the bill which passed both branches of the legislature and became a law by the signature of the governor. The bill as originally drawn limited the operation of the law to counties having a population of 25,000 or more, but at the last moment it was amended so as to make t apply to all counties in the state in which the Board of Commissioners have designated a clerk for the county judge. Mr. Morrow has been chief clerk in Judge Baxter's office for the prst two years or more. No formal reappointment will be necessary. Judge Baxter will simply hand to the Board of County Commissioners a certificate stating that Mr. Morrow has been designated as the clerk to meet the require-ments of the new law. Hereafter Mr. Mor-row will be able to sign all papers and pro-cesses issued from the office, and one of the most pleasant of his duties will be to issue marriage licenses to blushing brides when-ever occasion demands.

DEATH OF CAROLINE A. CLOWRY. Wife of Colonel Clowry of the Western Union Expires at Lincoln. Mrs. Caroline A. Clowry, wife of Colonel Robert C. Clowry, vice president and general superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph company, Chicago, died at Lincoln, Neb., on Easter Sunday, of apoplectic paralysis. The funeral will take place from the residence of her mother, in Omaha, and the interment will be made in Prospect Hill emetery, this city.

Mrs. Clowry was the only daughter of the late Hon. Experience Estabrook, who was attorney general of Wisconsin in an early day and took a conspicuous part in the first constitutional convention of that state. In 1854 he was appointed first attorney general of Nebraska, to which territory he at once removed his family.

Mrs. Clowry was born at Geneva Lake, Wis., October 23, 1845, and was married at Omaha thirty-two years ago. She was a woman or rare culture and accomplishments. A prominent member of the Woman's club of Chicago and at one time chairman of the philanthropy committee of that organization. Her musical compositions were numerous and one of her earliest efforts reached the extraordinary sale of over 1,000,000 copies. Mrs. Clowry and her mother were visiting in Lincoln at the time of the fatal attack. They had but recently returned from a six months' sojourn in Europe, which, it was thought, had greatly benefited Mrs. Clowry's health, which for some years had not been robust. Her death-bed was at-tended by her husband, her mother, her brother, Henry D. Estabrook of Chicago, and the wife and daughter of the latter, and her devoted friend, Mrs. J. J. Dickey of Omaha. The funeral will be held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from Mrs. Estabrook's
