

COUNCIL BLUFFS.

MINOR MENTION.

Bellmen have just received a full line of Mayon's, ready-to-eat, fresh and new.

What has the "Eagle" done? We have made an art of the laundry business. We give the public the best work that pure water, soap and skill can produce. 724 Broadway.

Wanted.—A man with general acquaintance in Council Bluffs, to canvass for a well known Omaha establishment. State experience and references. Address F 54, Omaha Bee, Omaha.

The patrol wagon was called to the North-West railway yards last evening and returned with a number of arrests. Eight or nine of them will have an opportunity to meet Judge McGee this morning.

William Maloney has sold his bar business in the Grand hotel to F. S. G. Crabill, a well known caterer at Hot Springs, S. D. Mr. Maloney has not yet announced his future plans but it is expected that he will go to southern California.

Charlie Loeffel, son of Philip Loeffel, who was formerly a well known cigar maker of this city and is now an inmate of the Soldiers' Home in Marshalltown, was locked up last evening on a charge of vagrancy. The boy had not been sent from the Juvenile Court to the home because he was supporting himself by working for a living and has been subsisting for some time at the free lunch counters in saloons. He had been warned to leave town and refused to heed the warning.

Rev. W. Williams, who has been returned to the pastorate of the Latter Day Saints' church in this city at the urgent request of the congregation, has learned that the conference had previously appointed him to take charge of the church at Los Angeles, Cal. and had not sent for him the demand from the Council Bluffs church he would have been installed as pastor of a wealthy congregation in the California town. He will go there at the close of his work here a year.

Burton & Sanger's players opened last night to a large and appreciative audience and gave good satisfaction. They carry a good band and orchestra. The orchestra is worthy of special mention and rendered a number of pleasing numbers especially the "Hunting Song." Harry Burton's introduction was a genuine down-east Yankee. Miss Cleo Benon was a favorite from the start. The contralto was good. Master Clifton Stutsmith, the silly kid, was out of sight. The company remains the balance of the week. On tomorrow night it will present the comedy drama "Cyclone."

BABY HAS A WONDERFUL ESCAPE.

Four-Year-Old Falls Fifty Feet and is Unhurt.

A 4-year-old son of Sam Friedman, the pawnbroker, fell from the third story of the Odd Fellows' temple yesterday afternoon and struck the floor at the foot of the elevator shaft. The youngster was able to be on the streets again and playing within an hour.

The child was playing around the building and had climbed the stairway to the third floor. The stairway winds around the elevator shaft, and when the elevator is put in it will be inclosed. At the present time only an ordinary stairway railing prevents people falling over. No one was sent to the hospital, and the child, who had fallen from the top of the stairs, had been recently played out and the heavy rain a few nights ago washed away the soil and exposed the stone relic.

Those who have examined the mound intelligently are confident that it is an extraordinarily well preserved Indian mound whose interior contains many of the secrets of the red race that lived here many years ago.

BURNS & WATERHOUSE'S STRING.

Colts from the Coast Stop for a Few Days of Rest.

Antelope County Farmers Report that their Alfalfa Fields Came through the Winter All Right.

A carload of running horses belonging to Burns & Waterhouse of San Francisco arrived here yesterday and were unloaded at the driving park for the purpose of permitting the animals to have a little rest after their long trip across the continent. They were in the cars eighty-four hours and were very weary when they reached this city. The car contains eleven thoroughbreds. The yearlings were all taken from the stable to the racing track, where they have been given to the men in the cigar store in the basement heard something strike the floor above their heads that resounded like the dropping of a cannon ball. A moment later the child was discovered lying in the center of the stable, with his head broken against the wall. He was picked up and carried to the store of Sam Snyder. In the same block, and a couple of physicians called. When the physicians arrived the little fellow had recovered consciousness. An examination was made, largely owing to the fact of the boy's head, and no other indication of bruise or injury. He was taken back to the hall and asked to point out the place on the stairway he fell from. The location was on the third floor.

Dancing Party Last Week.

The dancing party given in Hand's academy on Wednesday evening by Mrs. D. N. Graves, Mrs. W. P. Williams and Miss Helen Shepard, was a very pleasant social event. The fine hall was especially decorated for the occasion, flowers and ribbons, colors being harmonious combinations of pinks. Punch was served during the evening from a magnificently punch bowl. Among those present were Messrs. and Misses W. N. Grimes, H. R. Robinson, H. M. Donald, E. H. Lougee, L. T. Shugard, Wood Allen, Dillon Ross, A. W. Casady, E. W. Keys, F. W. Houghton, W. E. Pleasant Return Party.

The party given at Chambers' hall on Wednesday evening by a number of young men in return for the many pleasant social events on a smaller scale by a number of young women who had formed a social club for the entertainment of the young men, was a pleasant affair. During the winter a club of young women gave several informal and pleasant parties, and the young men who had been the recipients of the many favors placed on the social calendar, even those signed to make a fitting return for the courtesies they had received, the promoters of the return party were: Messrs. Barnesworth, Hoagland, Knott, Crookwell, Butler, Hart, Johnson, Clark, and Mrs. F. C. Clark; Misses Keller, Smith, Groneweg, Jeffers, Nellie Baker, Moore, Lutz, Bennett, Baldwin, Dyer, Farnsworth, Thomas, Byrd, Dr. and Mrs. Fredericks, Wallace, Williams; Omaha, Dr. and Mrs. Taylor, Empie, Baldwin, Griffith, Gleason, Mrs. Bessie Beno, Jr., Murphy, Jamison, Tinley, Holliday; Omaha, Sayles, Lyons, Pinney.

The chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Wright and Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hess. The hours were from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m.

MOUND ATTRACTS ATTENTION

Strange Old Structure That Was Evidently Built by Hands.

LONG KNOWN BUT LITTLE EXPLORED

Indian Relics Discovered on Its Surface Lead to the Belief That It Conceals Much for the Archaeologist.

A great deal of interest has been awakened recently in a large mound that lies east of Harrison street just inside of the city limits. It has always been more or less an object of interest and the cause of considerable speculation as to its origin, but it is quite recently that people who are able to look deeper than the surface have had their attention called to it. Recent investigations make it certain that the mound is the work of human hands. It lies at the point where two small ravines join the larger valley, through which the Union Pacific and Burlington are nearly at a standstill yesterday as a result of the Nebrask and Blue river floods. Large sections of the Union Pacific track have been washed out below Cortland, and again at Beatrice. The Burlington has suffered severely from the washing out of culverts and small bridges where the road skirts the Big Blue river. During the cloudiest Friday night the small streams emptying into the Blue became rushing torrents and the approaches to the culverts and bridges were weakened and in many cases washed entirely out, leaving the rails suspended in the air.

A large force of men was sent out by the Burlington Saturday night and work was done to all night and all day yesterday. General Manager Holdrege stated late evening that the line was in repair sufficiently to allow trains to be run slowly over the soft spots. The waters in both the Blue and Nebrask are reported as much lower and pending the arrival of the high water, the Burlington's troubles are over.

The damage with the Union Pacific, however, is said to be more serious, although the exact extent of it is not known by Superintendent Sutherland, at the Republican company. The damage is from the head of the company at Lincoln. From the few dispatches received it would appear that a section of the road about half a mile in extent has been washed out south of Cortland station. Much damage has also been done in the yards of the company at Beatrice, and the number of culverts are reported washed out.

At the horse sale Saturday "Black Dick," a gray gelding with a record of 212%, was sold for $45.

A civil service examination for micro-scouts in the Department of Animal Industry will be held in Omaha today and tomorrow.

Rev. Dr. Bush Will Remain.

FREMONT, Neb., April 25.—(Special)—Rev. W. H. Bush, pastor of the Congregational church, announced from his pulpit this morning that after considering the action of his congregation he has decided to remain in his charge. The announcement was received with much satisfaction by all connected with the church. At a recent meeting of the trustees of the church it was voted to increase his salary the amount he formerly received. Last year Mr. Bush donated to the church $300 of his salary.

V. P. S. C. E. Convention.

HEBRON, Neb., April 25.—(Special)—The district convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor for the district comprising the counties of Adams, Webster, Clay, Nemaha, Fillmore and Thurston was held in the First church Friday night and continued over today.

The top of the mound has been plowed a few nights ago washed away the soil and exposed the stone relic.

That the mound is not a natural formation is evident from the fact that the soil of which it is constructed is soil with little clay in it, and this little lying in bunches and streaks. In the center still stands the stump of an immense walnut tree, hewed down more than a quarter of a century ago, and which is of great size is thought to have been at least a century or two of age.

Those who have examined the mound intelligently are confident that it is an extraordinarily well preserved Indian mound, whose interior contains many of the secrets of the red race that lived here many years ago.
