

WAIT FOR POWERS

Greeks Evidently Expect Overtures Looking to Intervention.

SULTAN REPORTED WILLING TO LISTEN

Downfall of the Deliyannis Government is Taken for Granted.

RALLI SLATED TO SUCCEED DELIYANIS

Nothing Seems to Be Known of Movements of Greek Fleet.

GREEKS SUFFER A REVERSE IN EPIRUS

Almost Another Repetition of the Disastrous Occurrences at Larissa—Hellespont Soldiers Deported and Discouraged.

LONDON, April 28.—Matters at Athens are likely to remain unchanged until the ministerial crisis is settled, when the sultan from the powers are expected. The sultan from the powers are expected. The sultan from the powers are expected.

Nothing seems to be known of the movements of the Greek fleet. The only news of actual fighting in progress this evening comes from Velestina, which commands the road to Volo. Probably this indicates an intention of the Turks to march southward. It is said that Edhem Pasha has sent a white flag to Volo, with assurance that the Turkish troops will inflict no damage on the Greek citizens. There seems little doubt, therefore, that he intends to occupy Volo.

The Greek forces now extend in a fourteen mile line from Pharsalos to Velestina. Pharsalos commands the Turkish pass and the road leading to Athens by way of Larissa.

Mail from Constantinople says there is no official confirmation of the reports that the Turkish cavalry has occupied Volo and Trikalan, but the main body of the Greek army has fallen behind the old line of the Othly mountains and the Greek squadron is confined in the gulf of Arta by the Turkish forts.

ATHENS, April 28.—The legislative assembly met again this evening. Ninety-five deputies were present. As a senate quorum is not another adjournment was necessary. The adjournment was followed by considerable excitement and cries of disapproval from the galleries.

SALONICA, April 28.—Turkish troops are being daily dispatched to Cape Kara. Another battery of artillery started today.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—The sultan has decorated Edhem Pasha and other generals of the Turkish army operating on Grecian territory with high Ottoman orders. Sixteen battalions of the Second army corps, which have been armed with Mausers and transferred to Salonica, to which point 375,000 Mausers and 8,000 cases of Mauser ammunition have been forwarded.

GREEKS DEFEATED IN EPIRUS

Hellespont Fleet in Disorganized Mobs Before the Turks.

LONDON, April 28.—(New York World Cablegram)—Special Telegram.—The Greeks have suffered their first serious reverse since the outbreak of the war. The special correspondent of the London Daily Mail at Arta, cable today by way of Corfu. He says: The situation has changed with startling suddenness. When last I telegraphed the Turks were in a strong position and the Greeks were advancing amid universal joy.

There are two roads from Philippada, a summit of some ten miles to the west from the frontier on the way to Pentepolia. This latter place lies half way between Arta and Janina. It is a strong position and commands the road. When the Turks fell back a Greek force advanced along one of these roads toward Pentepolia. For some unaccountable reason only 1,000 men were detached to seize Pentepolia. This was an absurdly inadequate force.

Our troops at Pentepolia, before they saw several hundred men dressed in kilts—exactly the costume of Greek peasants. The men further resembled the irregulars of the Hellespont. The fact that they were our men, who were quite unprepared for an attack and fell into complete confusion.

At this point 3,000 Turkish infantry came up from Janina and instantly attacked. A desperate struggle ensued. The fighting was hand-to-hand and very bloody while it lasted. The Turks uttered demoralizing cries and fled in great confusion. The Greeks had been marching all day and night, they had had nothing to eat and they were terribly outnumbered. In a word, they were beaten at the utmost disadvantage.

An hour after the fighting had begun, while the forces were desperately engaged, two companies of the Second army corps, the Greek Bank and opened a deadly fire on the Greeks. The Greeks broke in the wildest confusion and fled in hideous panic. With great difficulty their officers rallied them and again led them to the front. They renewed the battle against overpowering odds. Major Commandant commanded them. All day he fought in the thickest of the fighting, but he was twice wounded, but he bore a charmed life.

A Greek lieutenant and Italian volunteer and five privates under a rush on the Turks. Five of the seven dropped dead before they were near the enemy, and a sixth was wounded. When the Greek force was broken, a private remained, and from behind a stone fought the Turks for five hours, till he was killed. At 7 in the evening the Greek ammunition failed, the men were without food. The retreat was sounded and they fell back.

The Greek force of infantry, cavalry and field artillery was advancing by the other road meanwhile, but arrived too late by an hour. It also fell back in great confusion.

LULL IN EPIRUS CAMPAIGN

Greeks Snapped Operations in That Locality for the Time Being.

RALLI NOT SUMMONED TO FORM CABINET

King Announces That He Will Refrain from Interfering with the Direction of Operations in the Field.

(Copyright, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.)

LONDON, April 28.—(New York World Cablegram)—Special Telegram.—The correspondent of the Standard at Athens sends the following: "I understand that the Greek campaign in Epirus has been suspended for the time being. The king has induced the minister of marine to retain his office for the present."

"The rumor that M. Ralli had been summoned to form a cabinet was untrue. According to an official note, the king yesterday told M. Deliyannis that he would, for the future, refrain from interfering in any way with the direction of the campaign in company with the men of the Sixth regiment."

"Considerable excitement was caused in the city today by the presence in the streets of a large number of reservists whom the authorities had neglected to arm. They were highly incensed at this being kept idle while the Greek commander another gang engaged a strong band of them pilaged a gunsmith's shop. There were no police in sight, and the reservists completely wrecked the shop. The commander of the army at Ligaria would have been in precipitate retreat across the Meloussa to save Elissona."

"MIGHT HAVE HAD MATI." "Vigilant commander of the second blip upon the Greek headquarters' strategy. The third blip was at Mati. If the possession of Lospaki and Deleria were so important for the Greek army, why did they not send a detachment to occupy the latter place? It should have been maintained and the latter should have been stormed, cost what it might. Any one familiar with the military system of political meddling in Greece knows how the army could have fallen back slowly upon Larissa, thus giving time for the inhabitants of Tyrinnos and Larissa and the surrounding villages to evacuate their property. Instead of that these poor villagers and townspeople fled from their homes, abandoning a large amount of their property. There can be no shadow of a doubt upon the gallantry and fighting of the Greek officers and men in this painful retreat. The discipline and endurance, his abominations in discipline and drill are day after day. He captured everything in Greece, the army not excepted."

"The cause of present disaster must be laid entirely at the door of the general staff, unless it be part of a larger political combination of which we are as yet ignorant. It is a matter of course that the general staff is by far the weakest point in the Greek army, for no Greek commander has ever shown any special aptitude for the duties of a general staff officer. Until such measures be taken Greece can never attain success as a nation. It is further urged against him that he has not been able to prevent the retreat of the army. He has not been able to prevent the retreat of the army. He has not been able to prevent the retreat of the army."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

DEBOE IS CHOSEN SENATOR

Wins in the Contest Where Hunter Made a Complete Failure.

END OF A LONG STRUGGLE IN KENTUCKY

Republicans and Gold Democrats Hold a Jubilee When the Result is Announced—Blackburn Much Disappointed.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 28.—Governor Bradley has written out the certificate of election for Hon. W. J. Deboe of Crittenden county as the junior senator from Kentucky to succeed Hon. J. C. Blackburn, whose term expired March 4. Senator Deboe will be in his seat in the senate Monday next.

The fate of the famous struggle which extended over two legislative sessions will go down in history as the most memorable Kentucky has ever known. Dr. Hunter came here six weeks ago with a republican majority in the legislature, with a clean majority of those republicans staunchly for him and the additional backing of the national and state party organizations, but circumstances were against him and the lightning today struck Deboe on the 12th ballot.

When the legislature convened all the republicans in the senate except Deboe answered "present." So did all the gold democrats except Park Smith. The gold democrats were present, but with one exception. There were no missing republicans in the house.

"No wonder that the Greek army and the Greek navy were so completely routed and consternation at this awful blundering. For, even if we admit the necessity of a retreat, it could have been executed in a more orderly manner. The Greek army and the Greek navy were so completely routed and consternation at this awful blundering. For, even if we admit the necessity of a retreat, it could have been executed in a more orderly manner. The Greek army and the Greek navy were so completely routed and consternation at this awful blundering. For, even if we admit the necessity of a retreat, it could have been executed in a more orderly manner."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

"The correspondent further says: I spent some time today among the students of a school for children of middle class families in the city of Athens. The students of the school were never so radically and frankly anti-dynastic as the Athenians are today. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed. They were all unanimous in their opinion that the king should be deposed and a republic proclaimed."

WINDUP OF GRANT CELEBRATION

Reception Given at the Waldorf to the Naval Officers.

NEW YORK, April 28.—The closing exercises of the Grant monument ceremonies took place tonight in the form of a reception at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

At 8 o'clock the reception was opened by the guests at the Waldorf hotel to the naval officers of the foreign war vessels and those of the United States. Nearly 1,500 invitations had been issued and the spacious chambers, salons and corridors of the hotel were thronged with men and women in handsome toilets.

ILLINOIS IS RIGHT IN LINE

Senate Votes $50,000 for Disability at Transmississippi Exposition.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28.—The bill appropriating $50,000 for the participation of Illinois in the Transmississippi and International Exposition, to be held at Omaha in 1898, was passed by the senate today.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., April 28