Baum and Farrell Allege Collusion in the Matter of Allowing the Claims Alleged to Be Due from the City.

Another complication developed in the urer from paying them if they are prewater works case yesterday when J. E. sented. water works case yesterday when J. E. The ordinance which contains the appro-Baum and Dan Farrell, jr., filed a petition priation for hydrant rental for 1896 was in the district court, asking that the officials signed by Acting Mayor Bingham Wednesday of the city be enjoined from paying the 1896 bills of the Omaha Water company, amounting to $43,373.60, which were allowed by the city council at the meeting last Tuesday take up the warrants, with several thou-night. Judge Keysor granted a restraining sand dollars to spare, and the Omaha Water order as asked, which will be in force until May 17, when the case is set for hearing.

The petition of the plaintiffs is an exhaustive document, which recites at length the history of the Omaha plant up to this time. No new points are brought out, but the prayer for an injunction is based on the same objections to the payment of the bills as have been urged all through the extended

The ordinance by which the criginal contract was granted is reproduced, as well as the subsequent assignment to the American Water Works company. It is alleged that the whole tenor of the ordinance and contract indicates that it was not contemplated that the plant should pass into other hands, except with the consent of the city. The foreclosure proceedings by which he plant came into the possession of the present company are related, and it is charged that the Farmers' Loan and Trust company, disregarding the rights of the stockholders, began acting in collusion with certain persons, who pretended to act as bondholders, to create a new corporation under the laws of the state of Maine, to whom the property should be conveyed. It is further alleged that it was and is yet the purpose of this new corporation to encumber the franchise by new issues of stock bonds amounting to $11,750,000.

The petitioners assert that the judicial sale of the property under forclosure proceedings the bills were not a legal claim against the terminated all the rights of the franchise on account of the failure of the American Water tion was whether the water company would Works company to continue to operate the accept the payment with a written stipula-plant, that the ownership of the property tion like the one now on file. In his veto plant, that the ownership of the property was thereby vested in the city and that the was thereby vested in the city and that the provision in the contract relating to the compensation therefor was a condition subsequent and not precedent. On the strength of these representations the petitioners contend that action it had also ratified the pretended asand not precedent. On the strength of these representations the petitioners contend that to grant any privilege or recognition to the Omaha Water company would grant a new franchise as effectively as though no franchise had heretefore been in existence. They allege that the Omaha Water company has no right to operate the plant and that all its the same. I am advised that this might be right to operate the plant and that all its proceedings in that direction are in violation of law and against public policy, that the case of the city of Omaha against the Farmers' Loan and Trust company to compel the forfelture of the franchise of the American recognition of its claim that it is possessed

Wonderful Imagination of a Man Whose

W. A. Laufman, a traveling man of the northwest and at present a resident of Minneapolis, has created a sensation in that town by giving it out cold that he is one risen from the dead. In the tale that he recites to the reporter of a Minneapolis paper of his experience in this line he fails to tell of his experience in this city, where he was known as W. C. Bowman. When his two experiences are considered in the fullness of their beauty, Laufman-Bowman will be recorded on the pages of history as a close second to Ananias and seven hours and fifty-eight minutes by the ANOTHER STORY OF DEATH These are the details of Mr. Laufman's In one particular he is correct. He was in Omaha at the time, but then his name was W. C. Bowman. At that time he also gave it out that he was dead, but the cir-gave it out that he was dead, but the circumstances of the demise were slightly different. In fact, he has improved the story all around.

The news of Mr. Bowman's death was brought to this city by his wife. She showed a letter from one of her husband's friends, in which it was set out that Bowman had been horribly murdered, and that his body was still at large somewhere. The police were called in, and a search was made for the murdered man. In a couple of days the body was located in a flat on St, Mary's avenuener Eighteenth street. There Mr. Bowman was living with a woman, and was going by the plain name of Smith. He was found to be very much alive.

As soon as the news of the wife's presence in addition she received the abuse of the en-tire family. At length being unable to stand the unnatural treatment, the aged woman

The information that it had been discovered that an error had been made in the enrollment of section 110 of the new charter, which relates to paving, was heard with some misgivings by citizens who realize that a cousiderable amount of paving must be done this year if the streets of the city are to present a favorable appearance during the exposition. It develops, however, that the sentence that was omitted by the enrolling clerk does not affect the validity of the section. It is merely explanatory, and, if necessary, can be supplied by ordinance.

The section provides that the material for paying shall be designated in the petition in paying shall be designated in the petition in such general terms as shall admit of the widest latitude in competition. "The desig-nation shall not specify, if the material be asphalt, stone or brick, as asphalt, stone or brick"—and then the committee clause sup-plies the explanation—"from any specific to-cality quarry or kills, but simply shall be cality, quarry or kiln, but simply sheet or block asphalt, sandstone, granite or brick. The specifications for dimensions, qualities, manner of laying and dimensions, and the proportions of materials shall be left to the ity engineer, subject to approval, as elsewhere provided in this act." City Attorney Connell says that the omisconveyed in the first sentence, which was properly enrolled. If it is desired to further qualify the general provision that the designation shall admit of the greatest latitude in competition it can properly by ordinar ce.

With regard to the proceedings in que warranto to test the validity of the new charter and the right of Mayor-elect Moores stomach, so he relates to the Minneapolis reporter. He thought this was due to the fact that he allowed too long a time to elapse between meals, but the same condition continued even after he had started to pay more attention to his feed.

However, Mr. Laufman partially recovered and he and his wife removed to Council Bluffs. There the goneness again made itself manifest. The mystery of the whole thing was solved one night, when Mr. Laufman accidentally picked up a paper in his wife's bed chamber. "It was a prescription given

If the controversy over the charter should not be immediately settled, the city would be absolutely unable to meet its obligations on account of the fact that the issue of
