The wearers were the advance guard of the 1,000 and more delegates and visitors who will be in attendance at the seventh biennial session of the state grand session this morning at 10 o'clock at the noon it was estimated that fully one-half of the 600 delegates who will have seats in the convention had arrived. The remainder were expected on the afternoon and evening trains. It is anticipated that the total number of visitors to the city will be in the neighborhood of 1,000, as many of the delegates are accompanied by their families and a considerable number of members of the considerable number of visitors to the city will be in the neighborhood of 1,000, as many of the delegates are accompanied by their families and a considerable number of members of and a considerable number of members of the order, not representatives, are arriving. The visitors are being met at the depots by committees of local workmen. Every train is awaited and the incomers are at once taken in escort by the committees and brought to the hotels. A half dozen of the hostelries of the city are taking in the guests, no one of the hote's having been named as watch? This political work is being done in preparation for the election of officers, which will be one of the interesting features of the convention. There are hosts for the principal offices and the majority of these are putting the finishing touches on a campaign that has lasted in some cases for months. The convention will be called to order promptly at 10 o'clock this morning in the Creighton theater. On the following days the grand lodge will meet at 9 o'clock. The sessions will probably last until night-II. It is thought that an adjournment will taken Friday, but the session may last longer unless night meetings are held.

This evening the visitors will be guests at a grand concert to be given at the Creigh ton theater. The local members have been working upon this for months and have suc ceeded in getting up one of the musical events of the season. Among the afternoon's arrivale was a big delegation from Grand Island, the members wearing light blue badges. They came full of fight, as the contest between their city and Lincoln for the state hendquarters is to be repeated again at the present session. The offices are now located at Grand Island, that point baving been chosen at the last session, but the Lincoln crowd is after them. The headquarters have seesawed between the two cities ever since the institution of the grand lodge. Grand Island has had so far the best of the argument.

There is a considerable number of women mpanying the delegates and visitors. The local lodges of the Degree of Honor are pre-paring to look after them during their stay In their honor a reception is to be held in Myrtle hall on Wednesday afternoon. Last night the Past Master's association of

Douglas county held its regular meeting in Labor Temple hall, and the session was at-tended by some of the delegates. Others were in attendance at a meeting of lodge No. 159 in the Odd Fellows' building. The element which is prosecuting the case against Grand Master Workman Tate also held a meeting in the Creighten theater.

One day Mr. Thomas Wheate, of 26 Ormiston Road, Westcombe Park, London, S. E., noticed that the time-ball which falls accurately at 1 o'clock p. m. each day, was, according to his Waltham watch, a few sec-onds fast. He had such confidence in his watch that he did not believe it was at fault, and felt sure that some mistake had been made at the observatory. On telling some of his friends of this conviction, he was laughed at for his impudence in daring to pit his Waltham watch against the accuracy of the Royal Observatory. However, to set the matter at rest, he wrote to the Astron-omer Royal, telling him of his conviction, and asking him if he would let him know whether he was right or wrong. In return he re-ceived the following reply:

Royal Observatory, Greenwich, London, S. E., 1894, March 10.—Dear Sir: In answer to your letter of yesterday the Astronomer Royal requests me to inform you that on Thursday last the timeball was, through an eldent, dropped about eighteen seconds be-day at the closing sale of the Laird & Young Women's Christian Association Discusses Certain Changes.

CONSIDERS A PROPOSED AMENDMENT

Decides in Payor of Incorporating the Word "Evangelical" in the By-Laws_Action to Be Further Considered.

The first session of the annual meeting of the Young Women's Christian association for the purpose of revising the constitution and for the election of officers took place at the First Presbyterian church last evening. I proved a most important meeting in view of the fact that a much discussed topic, that of the requirements for active membership was to be settled. For several months past yesterday was taken up with discussing the subject of the revision of the constituthe merits of Chief of Detectives Cox as tion pertaining to the requirements of an lodge of Nebraska, which convenes in regular an officer. A resolution was introduced citing active member has been a mooted point. The membership of the association has been about equally divided upon this point, many holding out for the maintenance of the old constitution, while others would have the requirements more strictly defined, At the meeting last night Mrs. Tilden. the chair, with Miss Littlefield as temporary secretary. Upon the completion of the roll call it was found that a sufficient majority necessary to incorporate any amendments which might be devised to the constitution was lacking, as there were only 119 present, while a majority consists of 143. The revision of the by-laws, however, was pro-ceeded with, the results of the session to be handed over to the next meeting, when it is hoped a majority will be present.

The section of the constitution pertaining to the membership which has caused the disagreement in the association, and which is at present in force, reads as follows: women over 15 years of age, of good moral character, may become active or associate members by the payment of an annual fee of $1; active members only having the right to vote and hold office."

The proposed substitution, as recommended by Mary D. Ballantyne, member of the constitution committee, reads as follows: "The active members of this association shall consist of women over 15 years of age who are members in good standing in evangelical churches and have been accepted by a ma-jority vote of the membership committee, or by the board, active members only having the right to vote and hold office. Any woman ter, may be elected an associate member by a majority vote of the membership commit tee or board. Associate members shall be entitled to all privileges of active members except to vote and hold office."

The proposed amendment is further quali fled by the provision that all those at present enjoying active membership, although not members of evangelical churches, shall not be thrown out.

The proposed section produced a long discussion. Mrs. F. F. Ford discussed it from an impartial standpoint and contended that the dissimilarity of views in the various churches were many. It was not a question of whether every member believed certain creeds, but whether they believed and followed a life based upon that of Christ, Miss Thomas threw a bomb into the meet ing by stating that a certain active member was a professed atheist. She thought that all such should be debarred,

Miss Mulhall stated that the incorporation of the word "evangelical" meant the practical debarring from active membership o Catholics, Unitarians, members of the Salva tion army and of numerous other sects, who ought, under a fair administration of the laws, be admitted to the right of holding and 42 against. The question of incorporating the new section into the constitution will come up at the next meeting, which will be held Monday night. The election of officers will also take place at that meet-to these questions depends whether you buy your underwear right or whether you buy it wrong. Today in our corner window we show examples of the biggest underwear values ever offered by any store. The prices are 25c, 35c, 45c a garment and while the prices are very ordinary, the garments are the most extraordinary ever shown for the price. In this store it makes no difference whether you know good value or whether you don't. You get it just the same.
