The Lone Woman Traveler. A recent issue of "Fashions," an illus-trated monthly journal for women, has an interesting article on women traveling alone. In which, after referring to the block signal system, and other safety devices for which the New York Central is celebrated, this statement is made:

"If the lone woman happens to be going to New York City, she need have no dread to New York City, she need have no dread of landing along in the confusion of a big strange place, if she travels by the New York Central. All she has to do is to speak to one of the red-capped attendants—free serv-ice—who will carry her bag, answer her questions and show her to cab, car, or elevated train.

Another thing, she lands right in the heart of the city, within a step of a dozen or more of the leading hotels—and she should bear in mind that this is the only railroad depot in all New York City.

The New York Central might aptly be called 'the lone woman's route.'"

AN ENTERPRISING FIRM.

Micoll the Tailor Shows Confidence in Omaha by an Extensive Change. Omaha is coming to the front! Hardly supremacy. Old-fashloned fronts and stores are being remodeled and modern "up-to-date" fronts put in place.

Quite a few radical changes have been made recently and the very latest is the extensive change decided upon by Nicoll, The Tailor, who will occupy the room formerly used by the German Savings bank in the Karbach block. The very heavy and expensive masonty of the bank is to be entirely removed and replaced by a handsome plate glass front, extending from the cor-nice to within a few inches of the pavement and continuing around to the alley

In a conversation with Mr. Paffenrath the manager, the following information was

"Yes," said Mr. Paffenrath, "we propose to have the handsomest tailoring establishment, not only in Omaha but in the country. I have recently returned from a visit to New York, Chicago, St. Louis and Kansas City, where we have handsome stores, but it is my intention to give Omaha something better than any of these."
"You seem to have considerable confidence. Will this not be an expensive change for you?"

"Yes, rather expensive; but I firmly be lieve that Omaha is right now at the turning point for brighter times, and, as you see, I am backing up my confidence by this expensive change. Our fixtures and furniture will be of solid mahogany, heavy plate mirrors throughout the store, hand-some chandeliers, tiled floors; in fact, our store will be one of 'Omaha's attractions. "When do you expect to occupy your new quarters?" "About June 15, and, by the way, we will have a 'grand opening' that will throw in the shade anything ever before attempted.

It will be a 'banquet'-'the real thing'-to which we shall invite not only the men but their wives as well, if you please." "Your stock will, of course, be increased?" "Certainly! Our stock, which at present is the largest in the city, will be more "With your increased business will you need an additional workshop?"

"Yes; every garment will be made Omaha—by Omaha tailors. It is our inten-tion to open a large workshop in the heart of the city. We shall employ from twenty skilled tailors at once and this

Officials Next Tuesday Night. At the meething of the city council next Tuesday night Mayor Moores will designate the various appointive officials contemplated by the city charter. The offices that have been or may be created by ordinance will not be filled until two weeks later, but as the charter offices include city atorney, assistant city attorney, city prosecutor, city engineer, assistant city engineer, building inspector, commissioner of health, city electrician, plumbing inspector and boiler inspector, the appointments will be sufficient to make the occasion interesting.

In the meantime the mayor's office is con-tinually besieged by ardent supporters who want to be remem mayor's time is occupied in listening to men who call to ask favors, either for them-selves or their friends. All are heard with equal courtesy, but, except in a few cases, the mayor has not announced his selections. While some of the prospective appointments are pretty generally known, it is not likely that the slate will be completed until soon before it goes to the council. But the situation has narrowed down to a point where the wise observers think they can closely forecast the result. The belief has gained ground that City Attorney Connell will be reappointed, with Edgar H. Scott as his assistant, as previously announced. The posi-tion of city prosecutor is said to remain in doubt, with Hugh A. Meyers and Charles Tuttle as leading probabilities. It is understood that Andrew Rosewater will be city engineer. The position of assistant city engineer will probably go to E. Stenger, who formerly held the position under Mr. Rose-active candidate.

The office of building inspector is said to lie between John Butler, George A. Bassett and Andrew Kiewit. Dr. S. K. Spalding is said to be ahead for commissioner of health, with Dr. J. T. Kinsler and Dr. Ralph also candidates. The impression prevails that Electrician Schurig and Boiler Inspector Unitt will be reappointed and that ex-Coun-cilman Duncan will get back his old job as freight train. He said: "The accident was really worse than reported, and it's a wonder some one was not killed. The two trains had a meeting order, as I understand it, at that point, but the westbound train thought it had time to run up the main track and back down to the switch. The eastbound train, an extra stock train, made the mistake of coming in toward the station at full speed. There wa an awful crash as the two trains came to gether at full speed. The depot was nearly carried away by the overturned trains.

"The most remarkable thing about the wreek was that five little girls, who wer standing at the depot watching the trains were not killed or even injured. I don' know how he ever did it, but just before the trains crashed together, Conductor Palmer swung himself down from the train and brushed the little girls aside, just far enough to put them out of danger's way. He saw th peril they were in, and acted promptly, was one of the best acts I ever saw done alo a railroad."

He alleges that he is a farmer and ranchman from the western part of the state and that he came to this city with a train of stock. One of the robberies which are charged up against Harrison occurred a couple of nights ago in a disorderly house. Harrison was in company with one of the inmates and sent her out for a bottle of wine. When she returned she discovered that the man was gone and with him was missing a pocketbook containing $60.

While in jail yesterday Harrison was identified by Mrs. Swartzel, 512 South Sixteenth street, as the man who is supposed to have stolen a pocketbook containing $28. He visited her place a few days ago and rented a room. He gave then the name of Harry H. Montague. Friday he left and then the pocketbook was missed. MAKES SETTLEMENT. Education for tuition for non-resident pupils COUNTY

Many of the Poor Form Claimants Have Their Ginlms Allowed. At the regular meeting, neld yesterday, the county commissioners took actionon a large number of the Douglas addition claims and allowed such of those as were not in dispute. The basis of settlement was the refunding to the purchasers of the amount paid on the purchase price in the old poor farm addition, without allowing any interest on the amounts paid to the county and without refunding any of the taxes paid by the purchaser, the parties to pay their proportion of the fees of the special attorney employed by the county. In most of these cases the interest saved by the terms of this settlement covered a period of nearly nine years, The members of the board stated after the meeting that the settlement was a most favorable one for the county.

> When this matter of settlement was under consideration Commissioner Klerstead asked leave to make a personal explanation. He stated that he felt some delicacy in acting upon a claim in which he had a personal interest and said he had not signed the committee report relating to this particular claim. He desired to be excused from voting. Mr. Kierstead further stated that he regarded the settlement as a most favorable one for the county. He said the result of the suits brought in the courts on claims of the same nature as those under consideration had been to fasten judgments on the these amoun's. The settlement proposed, he said, relieved the county of the payment of interest for a long period of years. When the vote was taken Mr. Kierstead was excused from voting. come up in irregular lengths. You need a Lawn Mower to keep the grass of uniform length. No reason why every one should not own his own Mower—it's much more economical—as the 15c or 25c you pay each time the grass is trimmed counts up at the end of the season. While buying a Lawn Mower get a good one. You'll find the kind we sell not only to be durable and cheap, but also to be easily propelled. It's the
