SOUND PRAISES TO HIS MEMORY. Funeral of Rev. M. F. Tweedy Far from home.

The funeral of Rev. M. F. Tweedy was held from the Fifth Avenue Methodist church, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The body was taken to Brooklyn, Ia., for burial. The party left on the 5:10 train, over the Rock Island road. Mr. T. P. Nugent accompanied Mrs. Tweedy on the journey.

The funeral services were a departure from the regular order of such occasions. Rev. D. C. Franklin, presiding-elder of the district, said that, to his mind, the highest tribute of love and honor that could be paid to an individual was the testimony of his friends, as to his goodness, and the place he occupied in their hearts. He then asked each of the seven ministers present to give five-minute testimonial addresses. The services were very uplifting for such an occasion. Mrs. Tweedy's death was a great loss to the church in the chorus of "Sweet Bye and Bye."

The church was filled to overflowing, many friends from the surrounding country. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and the church was appropriately decorated.

Those present from other churches were: Rev. C. B. Fawcett of Little Sioux; Rev. James Sims of Silver City; Rev. G. L. Goodell of Dow City, Ia.; and Rev. A. F. Conroy of Manly, Ia., who was formerly pastor of the Fifth Avenue church. These ministers, with the Methodist ministers of this city, acted as pall bearers. Interment will take place today at Brooklyn.

A Library in One Book. It is related that the Emperor Nero, who was almost tigerish in his thirst for blood, that he once expressed the wish "that all Rome had but one neck so that he might sever it at a single blow!" Many a poor and ambitious student in his ardent thirst for learning and scantiness of resources, has in like manner felt the desire that all knowledge were in one book, and that he might by persistent reading. Never in the history of literature was the student's wish more nearly realized than it is in the magnificent reference work, the New York and Encyclopedic Dictionary, of which a limited number of copies are now being distributed here by the Midland Monthly. The advertisement elsewhere gives notice of this distribution and its easy terms, but any intellectual or reading man would be delighted to glance through the hearts and soul of the work, and see the wonderful scope of the matter they contain. Here there is a perfect dictionary and encyclopedia combined in one. For example, the definition of "appendicitis" covers a full half column, noting the causes, symptoms and treatment of the malady in detail, while such very recent discoveries as the Roentgen or "X" rays and the latest inventions as Mr. Edison's "Vitascopes," are given with a completeness that places the reader absolutely abreast of the times. It is the same with every definition in the work, science, engineering, art, architecture and the various sciences, so that it really carries out the idea of being a library in one book, and for all practical purposes is a presentation of all human knowledge.

The Midland Monthly has a great educational adjunct which is being given free at the present time in connection with the Encyclopedic Dictionary, and which will be fully explained to those who will fill up and mail the coupon in the large advertisement.

Another Batch of Indictments. The grand jury in the district court made its final report last night and was discharged. Indictments were returned against William Brown and Jake Kessell for robbing Christ Hildebrand, the Idaho miner, and against Brown and his wife, Rosa Brown, for conducting a house of ill-repute, where Hildebrand was robbed. Indictments were also found against Harry West for lewdness and J. J. Crowe for statutory assault. Crowe is a saloon keeper, well known in the city, conducting a place on Levee Broadway. He is charged with having taken a 15-year-old girl named Anderson into a vacant house on Broadway for temporary shelter during a severe rainstorm. Investigation led to the discovery that he had taken advantage of the child. He was placed under arrest last night. The girl is a stepdaughter of William Anderson, who lives near Twenty-third street and Third avenue.

INTEND TO BE NOT TO SEE

High Object of the Class that Has Just Been Graduated.

NOVLTLY IN COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Students Listen While a Scholar Addresses Them on the Aims and Needs of the Nation's Life.

"Esse, non videri" is the motto of the class of sixty-two girls and boys who finished last night in the opera house their education in the Council Bluffs High school. The young men and women who had selected it wrought it in green foliage across the stage.

The class is the largest ever graduated by the Council Bluffs high school. As at all similar events, there was a great anxiety on the part of friends and relatives of the class to gain admission to the opera house to witness the exercises. For the first time the plan of doing away with the usual essays and orations of the graduates was adopted and having only one address. The program for the evening was:

Overture—"Alpha"..... Simpson Invocation..... Rev. W. S. Barnes Piano Solo—"Fantasy on Scotch Airs"..... Miss Anna E. Lathrop..... W. Hochstro M. G. McCadden.

Address—"The Place of the School in a Nation's Life"..... President George A. Gates Piano Duet—"Overture"..... Mrs. Miss Margaret E. Lathrop..... Miss M. G. McCadden.

Cornet Solo..... Master Arthur Gott Presentation..... Dipmas..... Mr. Dell G. Morgan, president of Board of Music—"El Capitán"..... Sousa Apollo Club.

PRESIDENT GATES' ADDRESS. President Gates' address was quite lengthy. The speaker made a very favorable impression on the minds of those present, and upon the youthful minds were equally fitted to the older heads in the audience. He made an especially strong effort to impress upon the pupils that education is not an end in itself, but a means to an end, and that the end is the betterment of the human race. He said that the education of the present generation is a great responsibility, and that it is the duty of every citizen to see that it is properly discharged.

Christianity has as yet made only a slight dent in the original condition of man. A right conception of the direction and extent of progress will be best arrived at by considering it in its relation to the world. There is no one word that defines Christianity, and with the mingled leaves, there was feeling of joy that relieved the oppressive sadness that usually prevails on such occasions. Mrs. Tweedy's death was a great loss to the church in the chorus of "Sweet Bye and Bye."

The church was filled to overflowing, many friends from the surrounding country. The floral offerings were many and beautiful, and the church was appropriately decorated.

JIM SNOODERLY'S FAMILY WOES.

His Wife Objects to His Conduct and Sees Little Satisfaction.

James Snoderly attempted yesterday to choke his wife to death or into a proper state of respect for his authority, and she fled from her little home on Verbis street at 3 o'clock to escape her husband's vengeance. She hid in the woods of a neighbor's house just as an officer called there to make some inquiries. The neighbor woman accented the officer with the unhappy condition of the Snoderly family, and that the general verdict of the neighbors was that Snoderly was insane. The officer was contented by Mrs. Snoderly and she consented to file an information for her husband's arrest upon that charge. He was brought before the board of commissioners for the insane and the inquiry conducted until 6:30 last evening. The commissioners found the man to be suffering from serious mental derangement, and ordered his domestic affairs. A number of witnesses, including Mrs. Snoderly, were examined without establishing the fact of his insanity. Mrs. Snoderly testified that he had never been right mentally since he was dragged and robbed in Omaha last fall, and that he had made no recovery since then. She showed the commissioners a deep blue and blue ring around her throat, which was from a chokehold where Snoderly had applied his fingers yesterday afternoon.

It was so plainly a bad case of domestic infelicity that the commissioners decided to send the man to the hospital for observation and medical treatment, although they were told by Mrs. Snoderly that she would no longer have anything to do with him. She was weary of supporting her husband and her husband's father by working at the wash tub and doing the housework and cruel treatment to recompense her for keeping two men in idleness. The husband and wife were finally brought into the presence of the commissioners, and the latter some good advice and sent home. The woman, however, emphatically declared that she would not go home, but in the future would take care of herself and let her husband do as he pleased.

A year ago when the city water works project was first introduced, the water company engaged Snoderly to hold one of the short nozzles that were used by the company. The nozzle got away from him and in the struggle to regain it he struck the arm broken. Shortly afterwards he began suit against the company for heavy damage. Before the suit came to trial Manager Hart made Snoderly an offer of $100,000 to settle his claim for damage. The offer was accepted and the cash was paid to Snoderly on Saturday afternoon. Snoderly did not come home to supper that night, and that night he lost every dollar of the money in a crap game. A short time after he secured $50 by the sale of a watch, and a attorney who he had engaged to prosecute a new suit against the water company, and which he assigned to his wife. Snoderly visited Omaha last week, and was in possession of the money and for several days was reported to be missing. He finally found himself near the river north of the smelting works, with his money and a watch, and a feeling in his head. The police discovered that the man had been drugged and robbed.

INFORMATION ABOUT SUGAR BEETS. Secretary Judson Has Plenty of It for the Local Public.

Several weeks ago when several promoters of a beet sugar factory in this vicinity came over from Omaha and held a meeting in the council chamber of the city, at which were present a number of the business men and members of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association, a committee was appointed to look after the Council Bluffs end of the enterprise. It has since that time been possible upon the subject of beet sugar making and sugar beet culture. The proposition of the Omaha people is to establish a factory near the western end of the East Omaha bridge that would have a capacity of 350 tons of beets per day. This committee has been at work, and Secretary Judson has collected a mass of information upon the subject. He has prepared an itemized statement of the expense and returns, with the names of the various parties who last season cultivated forty-one and one-half acres of sugar beets on their lands adjoining the city and the city and the factory at Norfolk, Neb. The test made by Graves was a scientific and careful one, and the results can be taken as a safe measure for the future. Secretary Judson has taken the statement of the results and incorporated it in a circular which is being distributed by the Merchants and Manufacturers' association. It shows the actual cost and returns from the cultivation of the first crop of sugar beets ever raised in this vicinity as follows:

COST. Aggregate. Per acre. Preparing 4 1/2 acres..... $ 1.00 $ 1.55

Planting and thinning plants 153 19 3.29

Replanting by hand..... 22 40

Hoing four times..... 102 70 2.50

Cultivating weekly..... 127 85 3.20

Cost of digging..... 28 75 .83

Pulling and topping by hand..... 283 75 8.23

Hauling to cars..... 28 75 .83

Cost of seed..... 100 20 2.81

Cost of machinery..... 38 75 1.13

Total cost..... $1,200.00 $31.33

Total for Norfolk, Neb., on 41 1/2 tons at $2.00..... 830 71

Total cost of crop laid down in Norfolk..... $2,106 71

RETURNS. 504 1/2 tons at $5 per ton..... $2,520 50

Allowance received..... 25 60

Cattle feed..... 25 60

Rebate on shrinkage in shipment..... 24 00

Total receipts..... $2,520 50

Cost..... 2,106 71

Net profit for use of land..... $413 79

This gives $11.98 per acre for use of ground.

If the crops had been marketed in Council Bluffs or Omaha the item of shrinkage and freight would have been added, and the profit which would have increased his profit to $68.83, making a total of forty-one and one-half acres of $2,958.59.

A sugar manufactory at Council Bluffs, having a capacity of 300 tons of beets per day, will produce almost 6,000,000 pounds of sugar in a season. It will pay to the farmer for beets, at $4 per ton, and will also give employment to 150 men in the factory, in addition to 500 or 600 men, women and children in the beet fields.

Beets grow here as well as in other parts of the state, and are raised as high as 17 1/2 per cent, and averaged almost 15 per cent, which is fully 5 per cent above requirements. There are many thousands of acres of land adjacent to Council Bluffs fully as well adapted to sugar beet raising as that in use this season.

His Fingers in a "Cutter Grass." The 3-year-old son of J. N. Gresham, 310 North Sixth street, met with an accident last evening, by which he lost two of his fingers. The boy was playing with the little son of Chief Templeton. A law mower, belonging to Templeton, was being used for a plaything, without the knowledge of the chief's son, who is also a 3-year-old youngster, was pushing the mower, while the other child was trying to get on it in a playful manner. The little fellow got his fingers in the machine. The second and third fingers on the left hand were cut off at the second joint.
