WATCHES HIS PRISONER ESCAPE.

Sherliff Lays Careful Plans for a Capture, but Lacks Nerve Himself. CALLAWAY, Neb., My 19 .- (Special)-Charlie Carter, the young man who escaped from a deputy sheriff's posse at this place a few weeks ago, is again in the vicinity and is making no end of trouble for the officors of the law, none of whom appears to be able to catch him. Since his return young Carter has been conducting himself in an unruly manner, and a peace warrant was sworn out against him two weeks ago. Sher. iff Leisure made several attempts to arrest Carter, but so far has failed. One night last week the young man went to a dance at Oconto, and the sheriff and a deputy lay by the roadside until morning to catch him on his return. But Carter returned by another road. The sheriff subsequently got an interview with Carter, and the latter agreed to surrender and give a bond to keep the peace, on a certain date. Yesterday being the day, and Carter failing to meet his appointment, the sheriff came over from Broken Bow last evening to arrest the boy. During the night about fifteen citizens were sworn in as deputies and men were stationed at every avenue of escape around the house of young Carter's father, which is located a nile east of town, with orders to shoot the fugitive should he attempt to pass. It was planned that at daylight the sheriff was to drive in a buggy to the Carter house and de-mand the surrender of the young man. If he declined, the sheriff was to drive sway toward town, when, it was thought, Carter would make off, and be cribbed by some of the ambushed pickets. The plan was carried out. Carter refused to give himself up and defied the sheriff and his man to take him. Instead of driving away as had been planned, the sheriff parleyed with Carter for a full hour, and some of the picket becoming ired and thinking the show was over, left their posts to find out what was the matter. Finally Carter's father led a saddled hor to the door, and the young man, with his tifle, directed toward the sheriff, rode away The Loup river bridge, the most likely poin of escape, was the one chosen by hie fugi-tive for his retreat. This is one of the posts that had been deserted, and he got into the hills unmolested. There is considerable indignation here over the incapacity or lack of nerve of the sheriff, and it is suggested that he ought to resign.

GRETNA, Neb., May 19.-(Special.)-Mon day morning a fellow giving his name as Richard Grace commenced work on the B. & M. extra gang here, but soon quit, saying he was sick. He lay about the boarding car all day acting strangely, and toward evening started afoot toward Lincoln. Early Tuesday morning reports came from farmers on the bottoms about six miles from here that crazy man was at large there. City Mar shal Wagner started after him and located him about a mile from town at the hom of Frank Ryeberg, where he had the womer scared nearly to death. He was taken to Papillion last night, where the Board o

Efforts Toward Designating One Ignored in South Dakota.

PIERRE, S. D., May 19 .- (Special.)-The question as to what is the state flower was raised in this city today, and in reply to the question the general expression was that the golden rod had been selected. An investigation brings out the fact that while efforts have been made for several years to secure an expression of the people of the state on this question of the people of the state on this question through the schools, no progress has been made. Mrs. E. P. Farr of this cliv, who is the state secretary of the National Floral Emblem Society of America and Floral Emblem Society of America, says she has been trying for the past two years to secure concerted action of the county superintendents of the state to have the matter presented to the people through the teachers and their pupils, but she has so far failed to secure action by enough of them to give the mat-ter any standing. While her efforts have not as yet been very en-couraging, she is continuing her efforts to secure an expression, and would be pleased to have the teachers of the state take action and notify her as to what they have done. As soon as an expression can be secured the matter will be presented to the legislature for action. ACCIDENTS PLENTY FOR ONE DAY,

PIERRE, S. Another, in which Mrs. S. G. West who has had charge of Bolln's dofense since he was first arrested, said that they now proposed to make an effort to get case before the United States supreme court on the ground that the law of Nebraska did not sufficiently authorize a prosecution of a grave felony by information. This point has been insisted on by Bolln's attorneys all through the case.

Mr. West says that he will apply to the United States supreme court for a writ of error at once and if this is secured he will then ask for the release of Bolln on a super deas bond. His position is that the constitution of Nebraska, like the federal constitution and those of most of the other states, provides that a man cannot be compelled to answer for a felony unless he is indicted by Nebraska does not make any such provision successful, the neighbors were notified

QUESTION OF OWNERSHIP OF ELK.

Wandered from Park in Search of Food Into J. A. Adams' Corral.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., May 19 .- (Special.)-An opinion has been rendered by the attorney general of Wyoming in a novel case which probably could not arise in any state of the union except Wyoming. During the past winter an immense number of elk, estimated to be over 25,000, came from the forests and mountains in and around the cape from harm is almost miraculous. Yellowstone National park into the Jackson's Hele region south of the park to winter. Food was scarce and the snows deep and thousands of these animals perished. Mr. Adams retused to do this and appealed to the governor for permission to retain his prisoners. In his let-ter of appeal Mr. Adams states that "these alk were simply corraled by me without any effort at pursuit, on my own premises, while they were in the act of depredating upon my pastures and hay ricks inside my en-closure." He suggests that but for the fact of his taking them into his possession they would probably have perished from starva-tion and insists that as he does not intend shipping the elk from the state, but simply wishes to hold them for the purpose of do mestication, he is not violating any law. The attorney general in his opinion the question holds that Mr. Adams is violat-ing the state law which forbids taking deer, ik or mountain sheep by any pitfall or trap.

Temperance People Make a Fight. OSCEOLA, Neb., May 19.-(Special.)

Osceola's town trustees have two petition before them for licenses to sell liquor in the village. The temperance people are making it as hard to them to grant the license as they can. There were on the petitions five women signers, and it was said that four of them took sacrament in the churches and their pastors waited on them and advised that it was hardly correct to have their names on the church record and the petitions for saloon licenses at one and the same time. As a result three of the women have taken their names off of the saloon petition.

Building a Private Telephone Line TEKAMAH, Neb., May 19 .- (Special.)-J P. Latta, president of the First National bank of Tekamah, owns a large ranch nine miles north of here upon which he makes his summer residence. As a business convenienc he is crecting a private telephone line be tween the ranch and his bank.
