Mesors, George F. Munro, J. H. Winspear and Frank J. Kaspar, ex-Members of the Board of Public Works of the City of Omaha: Under the provisions of section 10% of the new charter, it was the duty of the previously existing Board of Public Works to prepare written detailed abstracts in duplicate of all tools, implements and materials of every kind belonging to the city in its trust and care; also all work or storeshouses owned or leased by the city for storege or other purposes, the correctness of which abstracts are expressly required to be certified to by the members of said board.

I am in receipt of a communication of date of May 19, purporting to be signed by the Board of Public Works by G. F. Munro, chairman, enclosing duplicate abstracts of stools and material on hand claimed to be located at Sixteenth and Mason streets, and on Harney street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets; also duplicate abstracts of material and tools in connection with flush tanks of sewer department, the latter being in pencil, signed by George Reid, foreman. The correctness of none of these abstracts is certified to, as required by law, by the members of the Board of Public Works, and no statement or showing is made that the abstracts submitted cover and include all the implements, tools and material, storehouses, etc., belonging to the city which have heretofore been in the care of the old Board of Public Works and which ought to be accounted for and turned over to the new board.

I respectfully request that you and each over to the new board.

Otis Skinner, who comes to the Creighton for a limited engagement of four perform ances opening Friday evening next, was the first American actor to receive an honorary degree from an American institution of learn-ing. There are but two actors in the entire country who have been so honored, the other being Joseph Jefferson, and Mr. Skinner's degree antedates that of Mr. Jefferson some time, it having been bestowed on him by Tufft's college nearly three years ago. At the opening performance Mr. Skinner will present a romantic comedy from the pen of Clyde Fitch called "His Grace de which tells a most interesting afternoon and reawarded the contract for the story of the manners, morals and customs of the court of Charles II of England. At the matinee on Saturday, which will be a "bar-gain" affair, the play will be "The Lady of Lyons. At the evening performance of Saturday Mr. Skinner will present his suc-cessful revival of "Romeo and Julist," he playing Romeo to the Juliet of the talented actress, Mand Durbin. On Sunday evening Mr. Skinner will present his own romantic play, "A Soldier of Fortune." This engage-ment of Otis Skinner will bring to a close the season of the Creighton. The company which will be seen in the support of Mr. Skinner is one of the largest and strongest organizations now before the public.

After the performance at the Boyd's Friday night an amateur contest for a prize of $10 will take place, for which May North and Harrison Ellicit, jr., have already entered. TENTH ANNIVERSARY OF A CHURCH. Central United Presbyterians Hold

Jollistentien Meeting. The members of the Central United Presbyterian church celebrated the tenth anniversary of the establishment of the church in Omaha last evening. The Sunday school room of the edifice at Twenty-fourth and Dodge streets was handsomely decorated in honor of the event and tables were arranged for the accommodation of about 200 members and friends. G. F. Gilmore acted as toastmaster. The banquet and a speech by Mr. Gilmore were first in order. The toastmaster described the growth of the church from its infancy, when the congregation only numbered thirty-six members, to the peace and sentenced to eight days in the only numbered thirty-six members, to the county jail. It was alleged that Dolezal was present time, with a membership of nearly 200. He congratulated Pastor Gilchrist upon his work in bringing together such a representative congregation, and also spoke of the handaome edifice in which they are

> He was followed by Judge J H. McCulloch, who responded to the toast, "Our Church-What it Has Been;" R. B. Wal-lace spoke upon "Our Church-What it is Today;" and Rev. Dr. Alexander Gilchrist responded to the congratulations of his parishtoners and outlined the future growth of the church in the foast, "The Church-What We Expect to Make It." ATTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTTT South Omaha News. THE REPORT OF THE PROPERTY OF Yesterday was a banner day at the stock ards, the teccipts being larger than for any day since July, 1894, when cattle were Cattle, 5,000 head; hogs, 15,000 head; sheep 3,000; cars, 401. It was the second best day in the history of the stock yards, not count ing the unusual receipts in July during the drouth. The best day for natural receipts was in May, 1892, when 420 cars of live stock were received.

The cattle pens were well filled, but the large supply in no way taxed the capacity of the yards. In hogs, the supply was away above expectations, train after train rolled n and unloaded hogs until 15,000 head had been given shelter under the sheds. Part of the liberal supply of sheep was confined to killers direct. The packers want mutton grades at steady prices and the market was ery good, with about everything disposed of Besides the stock that arrived via railroade eighty wagons containing hogs drove into the yards from the country and discharged their loads. The large number of feeders in with their own stock is a pretty sure sign that the rush of farm work is temporarily

The cattle which were on the market came rom Nebraska, Iowa, Idaho, Wyoming, South Dakota, Colorado and Kansas. Hogs were received from Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and dissouri; while the sheep were shipped from Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Colorado and Vyoming.

For some time past the business at the tock yards has been improving. Last week the average receipts were 222 cars daily, but this week promises to eclipse the best week in the history of the yards.

In this connection might be mentioned the fact that another cattle loan company is about to be organized here. It is under-stood that the officers and directors of the South Omaha National bank are behind the Last year a cattle loan company was formed with eastern capital, with head quarters at the Union Stock Yards National bank. Ever since its books were opened company has done a rushing busi-To the mind of the moneyed man this there is no better security than cattle The loans are generally for short time, thirty sixty and ninety days, and at any time withi period the holder of the paper can market the stock and come out even. Bankers here report that eastern capitalists are anxious to make loans on cattle paper, that fact being the reason for the organization of another losn company at this point.

With money pienty at this market the live stock business is sure to forge rapidly ahead. The great drawback the Nebraska stockman has had to contend with since the drouth, has been the difficulty in obtaining money with which to buy feeders. With another loan company in the field there will naturally be some competition for the business and very responsible farmer desiring to purchasibunch of feeders can be accommodated a South Omaha

Officials of the stock yards company pre-dict that this will be the most prosperous year in the history of the yards. With Ne-braska full of cattle and hogs again there will be no danger of hard times as long as the crops are bounteous.

Suit for Patent Infringement. Mesers, Graves and Adams of Chicago are in the city taking depositions in a patent infringement case. Some time ago W. A. Schrei and Doc Mills, both connected with the Hammond Packing company, perfected and patented a refrigerator box for shipping meats. Nels Morris, the big Chicago packer, heard of the box invented by the South Omaha men and sent a written request for a couple of boxes to be tried. The as-surance was given, so it is understood, that if the boxes proved satisfactory an order for a large number would be given. The boxes were sent, but Schrei and Mills never obtained any benefit, as they did not receive an order for the refrigerators from the big packer. It was found upon investigation that Morris had his carpenters construct large number of the boxes from the models sent for inspection, thus infringing on the patent of the South Omaha men. Suit was brought for a large amount by Mesers. Schrei and Mills, and the case is soon to come up for hearing. Those interested in the outcome assert that there is no doubt but that the inventors can prove that the boxes used by Morris are infringements or the patent of Schrel and Mills.

School Warrants to Be Called. City Treasurer Broadwell announces that the school fund is now in such condition that he is warranted in calling in all outstanding warrants. An official call will be made within a day or two. This will be good news to the employes of the Board of Education, who have on a number of occasions been compelled to discount their warrants when they could all afford to do so. The treasurer figures that warrants to the amount of $15,000 are now outstanding and these will all be taken were

The physicians in this city have become very negligent in the matter of reporting deaths, and the city clerk is considering the advisability of following the law in such cases and calling the attention of the authorities to the violation. In some cases the doctors do not make any pretense of reporting deaths. There is an ordinance govern-ing the reporting of deaths and contagious diseases, which provides for a fine of not more than $100 upon conviction.

A'ways Truthful-Always Satisfactory-Always Safe. Thousands of Suits for Men and Boys at Less Than Makers' Cost. The Linen Crash

Suit that you see in our window marked two dollars is not a boy's suit as the price would lead you to suppose. We have them in all regular sizes for regular built men and according to the way some stores figure they are worth three dollars and a half. They are made from hand wove linen thoroughly bleached and shrunk and the man who made 'em up for The Nebraska doesn't care to make up another lot for the same price. When we come to think of it he can't have made such an enormous profit on the transaction after all. The coat and vest have patch pockets and hand finished button holes and the pants are fitted with regulation belt loops with suspender buttons inside the band. The same suit fitted with pearl buttons on the coat and vest is $2.50 and we take as much pleasure in selling either of these suits at these prices as you will in paying these prices for either of these suits,
