SUNRISE PARTIES ARE QUITE THE THING

Those Who Enjoy Rising with the Lark Resort to Fairmount Park and Take a Rustle Breakfast_Seciety's Doings.

A start has been made to popularize early morning picnics in Fairmount park, which were delightfully frequent last summer. The first of the season was given by Miss Mabel Thompson on Monday morning. Her party consisted of a jully crowd of young people. They reached the park before 9 o'clock in the morning and ate breakfast and luncheon there. Her guests were the Misses Georgie, Josie and Heiene Bixby Evelyn Thomas, Ada Sargent and Hazel Hannau; Masters Herbert Hicks, Kenneth Barnes, Ned Wirt, Harry Joslin, Halet Bixby and Charlie Haupau. Two sunrise parties are projected for this week. Special arrangements will be made with the motor company to run an early car into the park for the accommodation of the plenickers.

On Monday evening the Woman's Musical club gave the final concert of the season. Many excellent numbers were given and the club closed its meeting for the summer with the satisfaction of realizing that it has made an enviable reputation and an impression on the musical element of the city. The club will hold no more meetings until next Sep-

VETERAN FIREMEN WILL MEET.

Tournament of the Boys to Be Held at Onawa June 9. The second annual tournament of the ization of veteran firemen, and the attendance will be largely composed of veteran firemen from other localities. The Rescue Volunteer Hose company of this city has decided to attend in a body. The Rescue is one of the oldest companies in the western part of the state. It was organized and doing effective work writer to the days ern part of the state. It was organized and doing effective work prior to the days of water works and steam fire engines. When the first engine was brought here it was given the name of the company. After years of faithful and effective service that old engine was sold to the town of Onawa. Its name plate is still bright, and its record untarnished, and it will be dressed in gala attire to greet its old friends and Exhaustive Word Treatment. "Diamond State matches, sir; a dozen boxes for a quarter!" was the cry of a little street peddler. "What kind of matches are those, my lad?" "Parlor matches, sir." "But why do you call them Diamond State matches? What have matches to with Alamande or What have matches to do with diamonds, or what have diamonds to do with states?" what have diamonds to do with damonds of burno." It was the boy's business, of course, to sell his matches and not to respond to puzzling questions, but the dou't suggests itself that many older and better educated people might not be able to tell that among the nicknames of states of the union this is the term applied to Delaware. Not even in an ordinary dictionary could such popular terms and allusions be found, but a whole department is given up to them in the New Revised Encyclopaedic Dictionary that is now on sale by the Midland Monthly, and it makes very interesting reading indeed. As to the regular words of the language, it is copious beyond description. As flee, Dr. Lorimer of Boston writes of the Encyclopaedic: "The reader can learn from it everything about a word; where it comes from, what it means how it came to come t everything about a word; where it comes rom, what it means, how it came to mean t, how it is pronounced and in what manner t has been used in literature." The crown-ing advantage of the work is that it is fully as complete in relation to things as to words, being a clear, concise and sufficient guide into all the useful facts of all the arts and sciences. At the special sciences. At the special price it is sold, for it is truly and really "a library at the cost of a book." But the beauty of it all is, as will be seen by the Midland's ad in another column, that lovers of a good reference work can now have a set of this for a mere trifle and on

EXERCISES OF DECORATION DAY. All In Rendiness to Strew Soldiers' Graves with Flowers.

The flower committees realized yesterday Kansas City, where she will spend the sum-, they had anticipated. The donations greatly exceeded anticipations and when the last offerings were received the receiving com-mittee at the Eiseman building had about as much decorative material as they could make use of. The floral offerings were not so gergeous or varied as on previous years, Maple Valley Firemen's association will be but they were fully as generous. The women held at Onawa on June 9. This is an organization of veteran firemen, and the attendary of veteran owers into wreaths and designs, and when the work was finished it was discovered that there would be no occasion to slight any of the graves.

All of the exercises today will be under the direction of the members of the Abe Lincoln post, Grand Army, and Union Veteran Le-gion. There will be no parade. The veterans will easemble at their hall at 1:30. All co: federate soldlers and other soldlers out side of the veteran organizations are invited to take part in all of the ceremonies. The veterans will leave the hall at 2 o'clock and the column will form on Pearl street with Another Forged Check. Another check forged by Fred H. Harrison turned up in the Citizens bank yesterday afternoon. The check was deposited in the bank by John Linder and had come into his possession in the course of business during the day. The check had the name of P Gunnoude signed to sit and it had been passed in a South Main street saloon. On Saturday evening Harrison entered Gun-noude's store on Lower Main street and asked for a blank check. He had been spending some money at a saloon near by and had visited the store a number of times during the early part of the evening. He was given a numbered check tora from the back of the large book used by the groceryman. When the check was presented at the bank yester-day there was a gap of several hundred in the number it bore and the number of th last check drawn by Gunnoude and a still greater difference in the manner of writing the signature. Harrison is still confined in the county jail. The officers have not yet determined whether or not the young man's insanity is of a character that can best be reated in the penitentiary or an insanc pospital. He takës his imprisonment very coolly and does not appear to be concerned about the future.

Horses Run Away.

Fred Bebbense, a Hardin township farmer, came to town yesterday and hitched his team of young horses on East Pierce and Nicholas streets. An electric motor frightened them and the hitching post was not sufficient to hold them. It was jerked out of the ground. and swinging at the end of a long halter strap it assisted the horses in clearing the street. The horses ran down Nicholas street and across Broadway and blindly plunged into Indian creek. The banks of the creek were high and steep with about four feet of water at the bottom. The horses were not hurt, but the wagon was completely demolished.
