HOWARD MANN A MUD LARK

Wins the Great Brooklyn Handicap Four Lengths to the Good.

HEAVY GOING WITH MUD ANKLE DEEP

Immense Crowd Surges About the Gravesend Truck to Witness the Great Event_Time of the Race, 2:09 3-4.

NEW YORK, May 31.-It was a lightweight this t'me in the mud, and how the crowd cheered when Howard Mann galloped home, almost alone in the Brooklyn handleap at Gravesend this afternoon.

The crowd was like that of the day the long shot Diable walked off with the stake, for there was scarcely an inch of space in the grandstand or on the lawn that was not occupied when the race was being run, and hundreds of people had swarmed across the track, ankle deep in mud, to get a good

There was little hope of a large assemblage in the early morning hours, for a heavy fog hung over the land and drizzling rain was failing at intervals. It was the usual luck of the Brooklyn Jockey club, as it has rarely had a reality good day and track for its big race. Toward noon, however the rain ceased, the sun began to dissipate the tog and by the time people were beginning to think of starting for the race track it was a beautistarting for the race track it was a beautiful spring day. Then the trains began to arrive at the track and by 2 o'clock there was pretty fair evidence of a large crowd. All brough the first and second races the people swarmed into the grounds and by the time the bugle sounded for the horses to go to the post there were fully 15,000 persons pres-

HANDSPRING A FAVORITE. All the entries looked absolutely fit to run for their lives, and Handspring seemed the king of the track as he pranced about. He was undoubtedly the favorite. There was some surprise at the appearance of Howard Mann, but he had been sent instead of The Winner, as he was a good mud horse. They were at the post but a few minutes and made but one false break.

At 4:30 the starter caught them in line, the barrier was raised, the red flag swished through the air and the eleven thoroughbreds were off on their journey, at the end of which $10,000 was hung up for the leaders. 'Skeet" Martin, always quick, was first away and an instant later Howard Mann showed in front. The Swain, however, soon took the lead away from him and half a length in front set a pace down the stretch for the first time. In the first few jumps Simms brought Handspring up into third place and held him there a length behind Swain, and with a head only separating him from Belmar, Loki and Sir Walter. As the runners came to the judges' stand for the first time they seemed to gather speed with each jump and the first quarter was completed in twentyfive seconds, with The Swain still in front by a half length, Howard Mann in second place by a length, Handspring third, Belmar fourth, Loki fifth and the others close up. CHANGE AT THE TURN.

Then came a change as they turned, and be boys steaded their mounts for the effort to hold their places in spite of the crowding The turn was navigated in safety without any material change in the order, with the exception of Volley, who did not seem able to untrack himself and was floundering in the deep mud. The furlong round the two turns was run in 1214 seconds good time for the going. As they straight ened out for the long run up the back stretch Simms concluded that it was time to get a little nearer to the flying leaders and began to urge Handspring a bit. The net result was to bring him up within a short head of Howard Mann, but still The Swain was in the lead with no sign of distress.

The half mile pole was passed in that order in 50% seconds, excellent time considering the mud, and with the exception of Volley still floundering in the rear the general apsarance of things was unchanged. It took thirteen seconds to go the next furlong and in that short space of time there were many changes. Volley woke up considerably and left Ben Eder and Jefferson to look after the rear ranks, while Lake Shore and King Arthur began to move up as well, the leaders still running as they had almost since they started. As they neared the quarter post it could be seen that Simms was doing a good deal of urging on Handspring, under the influence of which the big son of Hanover was pulling down the gap which separated him from the leaders, and it looked as if he might make them all run. They passed the three-quarter mark in 1:151/2, having put a rapid furlong behind them, and with little change position, although the distances were a little different.

CAUSES A SURPRISE.

Then came a crack in the atmosphere and before The Swain or Handspring knew what had happened Howard Mann was a length in front of the field. Loki, too, had come up with a rush into the second place, a head in front of Handspring, with Belmar next, already beginning to feel his weight and the rapid pace of the leaders. Sir Walter was in ifth place and the others trailing. Then came the run around the upper turn, in which Volley are up space in an astonish-ing manner. With every jump The Swata was losing ground. The time for the seven and Mann even then looked unbeatable. Loki was a couple of lengths behind, while Handspring seemed to have a lot of rein to spare for the final dash through the stretch. Vol-ley was coming fast on the outside and curbe was getting near to the goal, and at the last furlong pole he began driving a little, although he was two lengths to the good. But he could hear shouts of "Lake Shore" and "Volley" from the crowd and he did not care to take any chances, and did not dare to look back, so he kept his mount in motion, dotermined not to lose when he had but a short distant to go. It was but a few seconds more, however, and as the timers' watches stopped at 2:09%, he sent Howard one mile, novice: J. W. Bischoff, Cedar Mann past the post four lengths in front of Lake Shore, who was three lengths in front of Volley, who had run about a sixteenth of a mile further than any other herse in the race. Loki had dropped back to fourth place and Jefferson and The Swain competed for last place.

remarkabe thing was Taral's absence from the race, as it is many years since he has been without a mount in the big handi-
