A Once Famous Abolitionist Relates a Thrilling Experience. Sherman M. Booth, a Chicago newspaper man and once famous abolitionist, once had Modern Woodmen Remove One Condition a thrilling escape from an lowa mob. Making my exit by the door and gaining the sidewalk, with a handspring I jumped over the railing and landed fifteen feet below at the bottom of a gully in a foot of water. "I started through the brushy under-growth, away from the main street, for the top of the steep bluff against which Mc-Gregor lay. And as I heard the angry olces of my pursuers and saw the gleaming of their lanterns through the woods, I stood ot on the order of my going till I reached a sheltering thicket, where I thought I could safely rest. For half an hour I sat meditat-ing on what would the people of the north think if they could fully take in the scene. A free citizen, whose only offense was that he asked loyal men to unite in defense of their country against traitors, pursued as if he were a wild beast by infuriated men eager to take his life. It was the only time I ever felt like despairing of my country It was not the thought of personal danger but that an American should be hunted down as if he were a murderer. After walting half an hour I heard a subdued voice calling my name. He informed me that the mob had dissolved and escorted me to my hotel. Going to my room the back way, where the ground was level with the second story, I dried and cleaned my clothes, paid my bill and left town." VIGOROUS DENIAL BY ALTGELD.

Ex-Governor Gives the Lie to Charges

Made Against Him. CHICAGO, June 4 .- Ex-Governor Altgeld has denied the charge brought against him in the report of the special committee of the state senate, of which Senator Berry is chairman. Berry charged that Governor Altgeld knew four years ago that the Globe Savings bank was unsound and that he was responsible for the appointment of President Spalding, now under indictment for embezzlement as treasurer of the board of trustees of the University of Illinois. The former governor enters into a detailed de-nial of the charges and says: "So far as his report is concerned, it is not simply unfair, but is absolutely untruthful. ful. The testimony on which the report is based was shown to be untruthful. It is in-tended simply for political effect."

Sidewalks Must Be Repaired.

A recent inspection of the wooden side walks by Street Commissioner Ross shows that in many places the stringers have rotted away while the top boards are practically in good condition. This will necessitate the lay-ing of new walks and will add an additional expense to the taxpayers. Some of the walks have been down for five or six years and while the planks have been replaced from time to time, no attention has been paid to the stringers, which are now too rotten hold naile Quite a number of property own ers are inclined to object to laying new walks at the present time, but unless the work is done the city will do it and charge the cost

The sanitary inspector was engaged yester day in accumulating evidence against the firm which is selling ice which fell below the standard. This company, says the inspector sells ice for general purposes and does not confine itself to disposing of its product for cooling purposes only. It is the intention the inspector to cause the arrest today of th members of the firm, and in this way the ordinance will be tested. According to the ordinance the dealers were to pay for the chemist's tests, but so far this has not been done and no more tests will be ordered until arrangements have been made about paying for the work.

Will Employ a Secretary.

The board of directors of the South Omaha Young Men's Christian association has extended an invitation to General Secretary Overton of the Young Men's Christian asco-ciation at Raleigh, N. C., to come to this city and assume charge of the association as general secretary. When the association was organized fourteen months ago it was an delpated that the work could be carried on by committees and expense avoided, but an increase to a membership of over 300 makes it imperative to have a salaried man in charge.

WAITE WILL BE TRIED NEXT WEEK Pension Examiner Secures a Writ of Habeas Corpus. DUBUQUE, Ia., June 4 .- Judge Shiras of the United States district court, sitting here today, granted a writ of habeas corpus it the case of Special Pension Examiner Waite of Minneapolis. The case will now be heard by Judge Shiras at the term of the United States court which opens at Fort Dodge June 8. The application of Examiner Waite for writ of habeas corpus recites that the ap-plicant was convicted in Howard county in the district court of intimidating a witnes in the Andrus pension case, and was fined $250. The decision was upheld by the lown supreme court. Examiner Walte, in order to bring habeas corpus proceedings, surrendered to the sheriff of Howard county. The application alleges that the Iowa courts acted without jurisdiction, because the offense alleged is covered by federal statutes and was committed, if at all, while Waite was acting in the capacity of a federal officer, for which reason jurisdiction lies exclusively with the United States district court for the northern

One Jug and Three Jags

Three Winnebago Indians were found by the police in the vicinity of the Northwestern city depot last night tenderly carcssing a gallon jug filled with whisky. The jug had been passed from one to another in dignified ace for sometime, and after one of them had held it to his lips for a long time an the others had listened to the musical gurgle feelings overcame them and they emitted in concert a series of warwhoops that startled the freight cars and attracted the attention of several police officers patrolling adjoining streets. The officers visited the locality and found the conditions to be altogether too favorable for trouble to be left unsitered and they took possession of the jug and led the redakins to the police station. None of the officers felt inclined to place a charge against the Indians and Captain Maltby decided to lock up the jug and let the owners seek accommodations at some of the hotels. They left the station, but returned within half an hour with the information that they could not find a hotel keeper willing to accommodate them, and at their request they were locked up as lodgers. One of them only could or would talk English, and he said they had been giving testimony in a whisky case in the federal court at Omaha. No amount of persuasive questioning could induce ther to tell where they bought the jug of whisky. They would only vouchsafe the information that they got it in a wholesale house in Omaha and that "somebody" bought it for them. They gave the names of Green Daniel Blackhawk and George Bear. Mayor Carson happened to be at the statio when they were brought in and he issued an order that the jug of whisky should be con fiscated.

The saloot keeper asserted that he had a receipt from Shea, showing he had settled with the at torney early in March, and the appearance docket in the clerk's office shows that Shoa noted the dismissal of the case on March 5.
