MONEY TO COMPLETE THE BUILDING

Appropriation for the New Postoffice

Becomes Available.

The president has signed the sundry civil appropriation bill which carries an appropriation of $125,000 for the new postoffice in Omaha. Of this amount $100,000 is to make up for the deficiency created by the substitution of granite for sandstone in the superstructure and the $25,000 completes the original amount set aside for the building.

Superintendent Latenser says the $100,000 will be used to complete the upper three stories of the building and carve the rough granite in the superstructure. The $25,000 will go for furniture. This furniture is for that portion of the building aside of the postoffice. The Postoffice department pro-

PROMOTERS OF THE SHOW IN GOOD SPIRITS

Government Appropriation Insures the Construction of a Fine Building_Location of the Illinois Structure is Discussed.

The enactment of the sundry civil bill, carrying with it the actual appropriation of $200,000 for a government building and exhibit, and the appropriation by the legislature of Illinois of $45,000 for an Illinois exhibit and building, put the exposition authorities In high feather this morning.

While the passing of the bill making the appropriation for a government exhibit has never been in doubt, yet the fact that the appropriation was not available has added an and submit a report at the next meeting. element of uncertainty to arrangements regarding the government building. Now that this uncertainty has been removed, active work may be commenced by the government architects toward getting ready with their

In reply to a question as to whether the delay on the part of the federal authorities would be likely to interfere with having the government building ready on time. Mr. Kimball, one of the architects-in-chief, said this would not make any material difference "The government building at Nashville," said Mr. Kimball, "was finished in six weeks from the time the foundation was laid. People have no idea of the rapidity with which these staff covered buildings can be erected. The Nashville building did not cost ms much money as our government building will cost and is not so elaborate as the building we hope to have on our grounds, but there will be little difference in the amount of constructive work on the two buildings, and the work may be hurried al-most without limit."

We will put the Illinois state building on the bluff tract," said Architect Kimball this morning while speaking of the appropriation made by the Illinois authorities for representation at the Teamurity for representation at the Transmississippi Exposition. The "bluff tract" is that portion of the exposition grounds lying east of Sherman avenue and is about sixty acres in Sherman avenue and is about sixty acres in extent. From every portion of this tract a view may be had of the Missouri valley for miles up and down the river, while the tract itself is almost as level as a floor.

"I believe this tract is the most sightly location that could be selected for state buildings," continued Mr. Kimball. "A part of this ground is to be beautifully parked and I believe the surroundings of the state and I believe the surroundings of the state buildings will be such that this section of the grounds will be one of the most popular places of the entire exposition. This cract will also be a fine location for the buildings which are to be erected by the various secret societies".

TROOPERS TO SELECT UNIFORMS. Election of Officers at the Meeting This Evening.

The Transmississippi Troopers their regular weekly meeting at the Commercial club rooms this evening. This meet ing will be a most important one and a full attendance of the members and all others interested in the organization is anticipated. Uniforms for the organization are to be selected at this meeting. Several eastern firms will have samples at the meeting and will submit price. These uniforms will be made up after the design reported three weeks ago by the special committee, but will differ sufficiently from each other to afford a spirited competition. Several local firms are also prepared to submit sample uniforms designed after the same pattern. The local houses promise to crowd the eastern manufacturers in the matter of prices. Competitive bids on saddles and bridles will also be submitted at this meeting. A local manufacturer in this line seems in a fair way to capture the contract for these articles of equipment. ms will have samples at the meeting and bership have been received during the past week by the recruiting committee and these will be submitted to the meeting. With these names added, the total enrollment of the Troopers will reach nearly 200 men. Three troops will be formed this evening and the commissioned officers of each troop will be elected by the members of that troop The meeting will commence promptly at

The executive committee of the Women's Board of Managers will meet this morning to consider a number of matters. Promiment among these will be a scheme for the erection of a children's building on the exposition grounds. The committee has virtually determined that a children's building be one of the attractions of the exposition, and a scheme is under considera tion whereby the children are to be interested in the plan, and the building is to be crected by them. The committee is not ready to divulge the details of this plan uncil it has been fully determined upon. The list of premiums which are to be of-fered to those children entering the special competition to be held under the direction of the women's board before the exposition opens is another matter which will the attention of the executive committee tomorrow. In this connection, a number of good suggestions regarding the premiums to be offered have been received by the com-mittee from some of the most prominent educators in the country. State and county officers in all sections of the transmississippi region have already signified to the amittee their readiness to co-operate in the matter of circulating the circulars premium list announcing the special prize mpetition, and members of the com believe that the plan will be a complete

MYERS IS PLACED ON TRIAL to a Sensational Episode of

The trial of David R. Myers for the at empted murder of his wife, Nora Myers, was commenced in the criminal court before Judge Baker yesterday. On March 16 of this year Myers shot his wife in the head, inflicting what proved to be only a scaln wound and then shot himself in the Neither shots proved fatal. The affair occurred in front of the house where were rooming, at Seventeenth and California streets, about 8 o'clock in Myers and his wife had had considerable trouble before the shooting occurred. According to the stories told by both at time, they were married in Memphis and lived together about six weeks, when the woman left home and came to Omaha, where she was employed in a dressmaking establish-ment in the Karbach block. Myers followed his wife to Omaha and made frequent visits to where she was working. She finally yielded to his importunities and resumed her former relations with him. According to the story told by Myers, he discovered that his wife was not true to him. He said he tried to draw her away from her associations, but was unsuccessful. He was especially revengeful toward one certain man, who had induced his wife to leave him at Memphie and had followed her about in this city.

At the trial yesterday the first witness was Mrs. Nora Myers, the wife of the defendant. She related the story of the shooting, her memory failing her completely when asked regarding her own doings, eithe pefore or after. According to her story, she left Myers because of his cruelty and the crouble culminated when he objected to her isiting some of her female friends.

Mrs. Clara White testified that she was passing the house where the shooting oc-curred and when she heard the first shot at the woman a second time. She then started to run and heard two more shots Witness Shackleford testified that Myers and his wife passed through a room where the witness was sitting just before the shooting occurred and Myers remarked to "I saw her with Riley again tonight." Shackleford said he heard the shots soon after the couple had gone out of the front door. Witness saw Myers running back into the house. He caught him and took the revolver with which the shootng had been done away from him Witness Karbach testified that he met Myers the day he made trouble in the rooms where Mrs. Myers was employed, in the Karbach block, and had a long talk with Myers threatened his wife and said o Karbach that she should never come into hat building again if he had to swing for Karbach said he thereupon complained against Myers in the police court and had him arrested and bound over to keep the Myers did not testify regarding the actual occurrences immediately surrounding the shooting, replying to all questions on that point by saying that he could not remember just what happened. He gave his wife a very pad name but when crossexamined could no state any facts in this connection which had come under his own observation. All he could say on this point was that he had formed his opinion on circumstantial evi dence. His recollection seemed perfectly clear upon everything extept the actual circumstances of the shooting, but upon this point he would go no further than to say that when he stepped out of the door after wife "there was a flash" and that was all he could say.

Other witnesses were called and questioned n a way calculated to bring out statements affecting the character of Mrs. Myers since the shooting, but these were ruled out by the court. It was also attempted to show that Myers was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting. Several witnesses were examined with a view of bringing out thi

CHANGE PAVING SPECIFICATIONS Board of Public Works Transacts

Some Business.
The Board of Public Works spent an hour yesterday afternoon in examining the new paving specifications which were submitted by City Engineer Rosewater. The specifications will not be ready in a completed form until Monday, but the general matter to be included was outlined and discussed. There are no radical changes from the old specifis somewhat broader in order to meet the different conditions on the various streets. The bidders on paving contracts are required to supply more complete information rela-tive to the material they propose to use than has previously been required. The contract of J. O. Corby for the Capi-tol avenue sewer was approved. There was an informal discussion of the complaint of the wheelmen on account of the numerous holes in the asphalt streets, and as soon as the matter can be reached the contractors will be required to make the necessary repairs. Comptroller Westberg also suggested the necessity of grading ap-proaches to some of the crosswalks in the north part of the city which had been left from six inches to a foot above the grade of the street. In many cases they were se high as to make the street almost impassable for vehicles. This matter will also be taken up by the board and the superintendent of the street department will be directed to haul enough dirt to make approaches on each side of the most elevated crosswalks.

It is now expected that the South Sixteenth street repaying will be begun early next week. The Omaha Street Railway com-pany has already purchased its material and will be ready to go ahead as soon as the con-tractor. The new tracks on that street will be much heavier and more solid than any now laid in the city. The present tracks were originally designed for lighter trains than are now used. Sixty-foot rails will also be used, instead of the thirty-foot rails now on the street, and the bearings will be doubled. The result will be a track that will bear the heaviest traffic without any noticeable folting and will fully meet the requirements of the municipal authorities.

One Hundred Thousand Professional Beggars in New York City.

According to the New York Press there are 100,000 professional mendicants plying their trade in that city. At the head of this army of paupers there are about 200 adepts in the calling who have followed it with varying success for a dozen or more years. Now and then some mendicant, possessed with shrewder tact, or of a more cunning ingenuity than the rank and file, rises from out the unknown mass and is enrolled by out the unknown mass and is enrolled by the Charity Organization society in its list of 200 capta as of mendicancy. Some of the pleas of these 200 or more skilled beggars that have been gathered by the society are devised with great ingenuity and must have resped golden harvests when first tried. One of them, it is recorded, writes piteous letters, in which he tells, with a frankness worthy of a better cause, all of his troubles. Saturday we will endeavor to make a clean sweep of certain small lots of Men's Suits, which we will not duplicate again this season. The values will be immense. The prices will be $4.50, $5.00 and $5.75 and we guarantee that the suits will be as good or better than some men of your acquaintance will pay double for the same day. Sizes broken that's all. On Saturday also we will open up twenty fresh cases of those superior steam rolled straw hats which caused such a rush a few weeks ago that we were all out of them in a few days. The price will be the same as before-25 cents. You will remember that these hats look as well, are shaped as well, are made as well and will wear as well as the hats sold all over town at 50 cents and as this will be the last shipment this season you had better take advantage of the foct. Straw hat weather is as sure to come as rent day—and that's pretty

The primacy of the craft in New York is now held by a woman who is variously known as Anna Mayers, Annie Meyers, Mary Roman, Mary Ida Smith and Ann Williams. She is fond of simple aliases and direct methods. She has considered in New York and in ods. She has operated in New York and in the neighboring cities for years. When the Charity Organization society was established some thirteer years ago, "Ann" or "Mary' was handed over to it as a sort of legacy She has occupied a conspicuous place on the roll ever since. The letters of inquiry as to her real condition and needs that have been received by the society from those among whom she has operated would fill a barrel. The activity of these correspondents shows a still greater activity on the part of "Anna Myers." She is skilled in letter writing, wielding the pen of a ready writer.
