Julius Deetken has returned from the State | Coadjutor for Bishop Perry is to Be Appointed Soon.

EPISCOPAL RESIDENCE MAY COME HERE

Conneil Bluffs Men Work to Secure the Hendquarters of What Will He a New Diocese Eventually.

There is an excellent chance of securing for Council Bluffs a resident Episcopal bishop. The plan that was advocated at the convention in Davenport a few days ago of appointing a coadjutor bishop to assist Bishop Perry has met the hearty approval of the churches all over the Iowa diocese. This not only due to the fact that a majority of the towns in the central and western part of the state perceive a chance of securing the residence of the assistant bishop, in case he is appointed, but from the realization of the fact that Bishop Perry has entirely too much work on his hands to properly look after the great interests of the church in the state. The liberal proposition made by Bishop Perry to donate annually $1,000 of his salary to the assistant bishop provided an additional permanent endowment could be secured that would insure the payment of salary has not only been favorably commented upon but has spurred the Episcopalians all over the state into activity and has made if certain that the amount will be raised. Bishop Perry's proposition is that an endowment amounting to at least $20,000 must be secured from which the other $2,000 of the assistant b'shop's salary must be realized by permanent investment. It is estimated that the endowment cannot be invested safely to issure more than 5 per cent interest. In addition the bishop will require the an nual payment of $300 for the traveling exnual payment of $300 for the traveling ex-penses of his coadjutor. At the Davenport meeting a committee of fourteen was ap-pointed to consider the matter. President Shafer of Iowa City is chairman of the committee and Postmaster Bowman of this city is one of the foremost members. The proposition has now reached a stage where the realization of the scheme can be considered as assured, and the contest for the location of the episcopal residence has begun. The fact that Bishop Perry's residence is in the extreme eastern portion of the state makes it necessary to locate the residence of his condjutor in the western portion. At the present time only three cities are being considered, Council Bluffs, Sloux City and Des Council Bluffs has several vantages over either of its competito's that will be urged with vigor upon the committee A special meeting of the executive committee the Merchants' and Manufacturers' association was called yesterday for the purpose of taking initiatory steps in the work of building up a popular sentiment in church circles that will favor the location of the episcopal residence here. The advantages of having it here were pointed out to the members of the committee who were not well versed in Episcopal church government. One of the immediate advantages would be to strengthen the church here and make St. Paul's church a cathedral. The church build ng is the finest in the western part of the state, and consequently will be the finest in the new diocese. A church seminary similar to the one at Davenport is among the early possibilities. Various plans were discussed, but none of them were sufficiently matured

Mayor Carson Sends a Lengthy Mes sage to the Council. "Our experience with block paving has been sufficient to condemn it as impracticable and short lived, and its twin brother plank walks, has given us a like experience. Your committee upon streets and alleys has had an experience this spring that will justify your determination to abandon this short-lived method of improvements, and I carnestly recommend that all walks in the future be made of brick," was the way Mayor Carson introduced a lengthy type-written communication to the city council at the regular meeting last night, containing a number of important recommendations Among other things the mayor recommended that the people who petition for walks to be laid on streets where the grade is not up to requirements be required to provide a surface above the general level. The mayor called attention to the fact that there was only a difference of 6 cents per lineal foot in favor of plank walks and that brick was the cheapest in the end. The mayor also called attention to the many complaints of the use of barbed wire for fencing in the city, and advised the council to exercise its power under the statutes of the state to enact an ordinance preventing the use of such fencing. Another important recommendation was that asking that some specific action be taken to make trouble for the people who persist in throwing glass in the streets and alleys. He called attention to the many omplaints coming from bicycle riders of damage to tires resulting from this practice Among other recommendations was the place ing of a policeman in East Omaha and an arrangement with the county to recover cost of keeping state prisoners in the city jail pending preliminary hearing. All of the recommendations were received and placed

William Pratt notified the council that had worked out the poll tax for Al Travis and William Burrill and had been unable to collect from them. The council decided it to be a case of misplaced confidence and advised

A petiticn was presented asking the city to condemn the old Western house, a dilapl-dated structure on Upper Broadway, as being unsightly, a menuce to adjoining property, dangerous to public health and a rendezvous for tramps. The property is owned by the Portsmouth N. H., Savings bank, and the council decided to confer with J. W. Lytle of Omaha, agent for the bank, and investigate as a committee of the whole.

The Pioneer Implement company and the McCormick Harvester company asked for the right of way for Union Pacific Railway com-pany to lay a track from its Tenth avenue line to the rear of the implement houses. It was referred to the committee on streets and alleys to report at the next meeting, with the understanding that an ordinance be drawn in the meantime. The laying of the track will require the removing of the sidewalk and the condemnation of some vacant lots. George V. H. Brill was appointed special policeman without pay.

A number of bills that had not been authorized by the chairmen of the various committees were presented and paid, after a lengthy debate on the subject of irrespon-sible and unauthorized purchase of supplies, and led to the passage of a resolution that

The defective bridge in East Omaha, constructed by the Courtland Beach association was a subject for discussion again last nigh A delegation of citizens from the islan-was present to urge the council to have the bridge repaired. Alderman Shubert declared that the bridge was dangerous, and a number of teams had recently broken through it The Beach association had positively decline to make the necessary repairs, and he favored closing the bridge at once. The matter was referred to the city attorney and city marshal, with instructions to notify the Courtland people to repair it or it would be closed to traffic at once. The East Omaha men who were present also urged upon the council the necessity for appointing a police officer to prevent hunters shooting the zens in their dooryards. On motion of Alderman Casper the special health officer was dispensed with and the mayor authorized to appoint a man in East Omaha who will draw the pay that has been given the health in-

Collector Blood and City Clerk Philips spent an hour yesterday in running over the notices that had been disregarded and picked out the most flagrant cases, in which suits will be brought to compel payment. The poll tax collector is not acting solely upon his own motion in bringing suits to enforce collection, but is under the orders of the city council and city attorney. At the pres-ent time the amount collected is more than double that on this date a year ago. There are still a large number of delinquents, and a large number of suits will be brought within the payt fam days. within the next few days. In running over the old tax notices in the office of the city clerk yesterday a number of delinquents were discovered who had suc-ceeded in evading payment of the tax for many years. One case was found of a well known business man where the notices to come to the city building with a shovel and work two days on the streets or pay $2 in cash had been disregarded since 1889. Col-lector Blood is determined that there shall be no repetitions of this character this year.

Arrested for Wife Benting. Charles Clermont was arrested yesterday upon an information filed with the city clerk by his wife charging him with assault and battery. Clermont and his wife keep a small restaurant on Middle Broadway. For some time past Mrs. Clermont says the bulk of the work of managing and providing for the business has fallen upon her, and her hus-band has used a large portion of the proeeds in an effort to satisfy a craving desire for intoxicating liquors. A few nights ago fore midnight, looking for him and giving the proprietors official notice not to sell him anything. She says he became intoxicated yesterday in spite of her precautions and resented her interference with his habits by the use of his fists. The woman was not injured but she concluded to take active measures to bring her husband to a full realization of his duties.

Clermont made considerable trouble at the station after his arrest. He refused to sub-mit to the ordeal of being searched before being thrown into the bole. Deputy Marto give to the public. > LIZZIE LEAVES HER SISTERS. Cherry Troupe Falls to Picees in Des Moines.

DES MOINES, June 7 .- (Special Telegram.) -The Cherry sisters quartet went to pieces today, after a fracas that has been in progrers for several weeks. It began in New York. Lizzie, the oldest of the sisters, has refused to bear her part of the expenses. She has regularly put her share of the receipts in the bank, and compelled the other three to pay her expenses. She claims that she originated the idea that has panned out so well, and is entitled to better pay than the rest. The other sisters could not see it, and trouble began. It opened up in New York and after being patched up several times came to a crisis today. Lizzle would not pay her share of the expenses of the Des Moines engagement and the others went away with-out her, refusing to pay her bill. They sent home to the farm, near Cedar Rapids, for the fifth sister, who is the poetess of the aggregation, and said to be sufficiently atrocious or the stage to make her a good member of the troupe. OXONIANS BAT OUT A FINE LEAD. Philadelphia Trundling Quite to Notion of the 'Varsity Eleven. right, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.) OXFORD, England, June 7 .- (New York World Cablegram-Special Telegram.)-The opening game of the American cricket team was commenced here today on the ground of Christ Church college. The threatening weather kept the attendance down, but al though the day was cloudy and the light none too good, the wicker was in splendid condition for scoring and some good batting was looked for.

The Oxonians won the toes, which gave them choice of innings. They, of course, decided to bat and the Americans prepared for a long siege of leather hunting. The varsity men, however, treated the bowling with the greatest respect, and the runs came very slowly. D. R. Ransom, who started the batting with F. H. R. Champain, was the first to yield to the bowling of King, and one wicket, was down for thirteen runs. C. Bromley-Martin was not to be disposed of so cheaply, however, and he kept Champain company until within two runs of the century, when he was bowled by Cregar. The Oxonians then gave an exhibition of good, steady, even batting, and, as it will be seen from the score, no less than nine of the eleven got into double figures and five of them exceeded a quarter of a century. When E. C. Wright and J. C. Hartley were together some hard hitting was seen and the former, before he was at length disposed of by G. 8. Patterson, was credited with a line linning of eighty-three. Champain's inning of sixty-three was 2. splendid effort and may be considered the best of the day.

Although the bowling analysis does not indicate particularly good work, the slow scoring should show the respect with which the bowling was treated. King repeatedly beat the batsmen, but he appeared to have the worst kind of 'uck. Raiston did splendid work behind the wickets and was commended by his opponents after the same. As the light was very bad when it came time for the Philadelphians' inning. Captain Patterson decided to hold his best men until tomorrow. He sent in H. P. Balley and F. W. Raiston and they successfully resisted the attack until call of time. The Philadelphians have now a big lead to overcome. They are not at all disheartened, however, and if the wicket plays as well tomorrow as it did today they fully expect to get within halling distance of 363. The following is the score: core:
