Queen Victoria to Recognize the Contributions of American Millionaires. DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH THE WINNER Consuelo, Born Vanderbilt, is to Receive the Royal Victorian Order. LONDON CITIZENS GONE JUBILEE CRAZY Preparations Making for the Day Indicate the Temper of the Public. LAVISH LOTS OF MONEY ON MUSICIANS Wealthy Entertainers Hire High-Priced Singers and Instrumentalists at Astonishing Rates to Perform for Private Parties.

(Copyright, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.) LONDON, June 12.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—Consuelo, duchess of Marlborough, is among the women of title recommended by the prime minister to Queen Victoria for the decoration of the new Royal Victorian order during the jubilee celebration. The Royal Victorian order was created by Queen Victoria this year to enable her to honor persons whose special claims to recognition would render them ineligible under the strict rules applying to the older orders. The queen's personal decision is absolute in connection with the granting of this decoration, and there is no doubt that the duchess of Marlborough has been recommended to her on the ground that the conspicuous compliment to the American woman whose beauty and dollars have done so much for London society and the British aristocracy. The names of the recipients of jubilee honors will be announced either on Jubilee day or the day before. Festivities on a splendid scale are being arranged at Blenheim palace in commemoration of the jubilee, and the probabilities all point to the recommendation of Lord Salisbury for the decoration of the duchess being accepted by the queen.

NOTHING BUT JUBILEE. London is jubilee mad. The papers are full of it and there is no other subject of conversation. The principal streets are masked under ugly screens of new lumber along the line of march. Already people are taking out plate glass windows and boarding up in anticipation of vast crowds. Everybody is decorating, but although private generosity in this line produces a great impression on the British mind, the plans really are less costly than in New York on occasions. Distinguished guests are beginning to arrive at Hotel Cecil. That tremendous place has been more than half chartered by the government to give accommodation to a dozen visiting dignitaries already there. The court yard is full of carriages bearing the royal arms. Visiting Americans, appearing by the curb and the hotel rates, are going to the continent. Those Americans resident here and prominent in London society are doing their share in the lavish entertaining which marks the jubilee year.

Extravagance in the way of concerts has reached an abnormal pitch. Four seasons ago London was amazed because J. H. Robinson, the great South African millionaire, gave a concert in Brook House, rented from Lord and Lady Tweedmouth, and had among the artists both Melba and Calve. Since then the ideas of entertainments have considerably enlarged and now no one, unless a very great lady indeed, draws anybody to a concert without magic upon the cards. Mrs. Roosevelt, an American, who has taken Warwick House this season, asked Melba to sing at her concert, but she demurred because Calve was on the program. Jean de Reszke has filled the management of the opera twice and pleaded illness, but people have an idea that this is not the truth, but only an excuse. Melba, whose terms were too high for the opera syndicate this season, has sung thirteen times at private houses at a fee of $1,500. Mme. Farnes, who sang a night and Calve got $1,000 a night and still more this season, and Ancona and Plancon are great social favorites at $500 each and Holman and Wolf may be secured at $250 each.

SURPRISED AT PADEREWSKI. There has been great surprise this season at the complaisance of Paderewski, who graciously consented to play four times at private houses. He was engaged first by Mr. Astor, whose programs are the most magnificent of any, and must cost something like $7,500 or $9,000 a night—Paderewski at $5,000, Melba at $1,500, Plancon at $500, Ancona at $500 and others, including Holman and Wolf. Mr. Astor had two evening concerts following each other with seven days interval between, and both were preceded by a big dinner, at which his little daughter, not yet "out," presided. He never allows her to go out, but likes to have her preside at his own parties. No one else is ever allowed to occupy her mother's chair at the head of the table. The second party was tremendously smart. Miss Astor was very pretty in white. Among the guests were the duchess of Roxburgh, the duchess of Abercorn and the duchess of Montrose. All brought their daughters. The statement that fewer Americans are seen at Mr. Astor's house than at any other house in London is prompted by pure ignorance and is untrue. Lady Randolph Churchill looked magnificent in black. Lady Essex also was handsome in black and wore beautiful diamonds.

Another Paderewski party is to be given by Mr. Harmsworth, who owns the spirited Parisian chef, is coming over to succeed the preceding dinner and the supper. Mr. Harmsworth is quite young and has a pretty wife, and a beautiful house on Berkeley Square, next to Lord Rosebery's. Mr. Harmsworth's money and position were made out of journalism. OGDEN GORLETS WIN ALL THE WAY. A great army of Americans are in London, but none have taken such a grand position as the Ogden Gorlets. They have taken the Windsor House, Arlington street, where Lord Salisbury and other great people reside, and address which would give any newcomer a

SNUB FOR GLADSTONE

Grand Old Man Given No Place in the Jubilee Procession. SOLDIERS OF THE KAISER TO THE FORE Representatives of Turkish Barbarism Are Assigned Good Positions. ENGLAND'S GREAT STATESMAN LEFT OUT Daily Chronicle Takes Up Outlets in Behalf of Liberals. DELIVERS ITSELF OF WORDS THAT BURN Presiding Officers of the Two Houses of Parliament Are Not Recognized—Extraordinary Murder Case in Bulgaria.

(Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press.) LONDON, June 12.—The official program of the procession, as published, has given umbrage to the liberals, owing to the utter absence of recognition of the civil and social side of the queen's reign. The Daily Chronicle is very outspoken on the subject, especially at the omitting of Mr. Gladstone, and says: "What kind of a show is it that gives a prominent place to the soldiers of Emperor William and to the representatives of Turkish barbarism, and excludes the greatest living English speaking statesman of the age?" Continuing, the Chronicle remarks: "The Victorian era is conspicuous above all in the progress of labor and the steady growth of self-government, yet the working classes are ignored. A still more striking fact is that the presiding officers of the two Houses of Parliament are not recognized. The speaker's office in England, presides over the most famous representative institution and is the figurehead of democratic government, yet he has no place in the procession. What will the colonialists, who are wedded to pure democracy, think of this?" In conclusion, the Chronicle says: "If the crown has done something for the country, it is also true that the country has done much for the crown, for its own progress and for the general cause of human welfare."

WATCHING FOR AN OUTRAGE

Scotland Yard Apprehensive of a Nationalist Demonstration. (Copyright, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.) LONDON, June 12.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—The political detective force at Scotland Yard is manifesting feverish activity in keeping under constant surveillance the leaders of the Irish extremists, both in Dublin and in London. Judging by the measures taken by the detectives in both capitals there is reason to suspect that they are in possession of specific information of some intended outbreak, either during the jubilee procession or about that time. As Scotland Yard always believes had complete knowledge in advance of the plans of the Irish-American dynamite section, it is quite probable that they are not acting in the present instance without warrant. But they have failed to discover any trace of the perpetrator of the recent explosion on the underground railway in London, which outrage many Irishmen here believe to have been carried out by some such agent of the secret service of the British home office as the spy Jones. The motive attributed to Scotland Yard for raising the present scare is to relieve itself from the discredit and suspicion of manufacturing charges, conspiracy, which the dramatic collapse of the Lyons prosecution has created, together with the spiriting away of Jones after his proved attempts to get up a plot in Dublin while Ivory was in prison awaiting trial.

Not only are all arrivals from the United States, both sailors and steamer passengers, carefully scrutinized in the light of information cabled from the British police agents in New York and Boston, but the dramatic investigation is conducted at all ports of landing on the continent at which Atlantic liners go. The head of the original investigating department here claims to have an exact record of the appearance and movements of every suspected person who has left the United States for Europe in the last six months. There is no use in denying that the apprehension of some outrage is contemplated by the government, and it is certain that if any takes place in connection with the jubilee there will be a crusade against all Irish nationalists living in England. The Dublin Freeman's Journal office on the Strand is about the only building not to be decorated for the jubilee. It will be true to the traditional habit of English royalty and the surrounding glare of bunting and banners on flowers. It is not impossible enthusiastic crowds may resort this and make a demonstration. On one previous occasion the Freeman's Journal office was wrecked by a British mob.

SPAIN ABLE TO DEFEND ITSELF

At Least That is the Opinion of Premier Canovas. MADRID, June 12.—The Spanish premier, Senor Canovas del Castillo, in an interview is reported as saying that the alleged demands of the United States in the case of Dr. Ruiz, the American citizen who died in jail at Guanacaste, apparently from injuries received there, must be exaggerated. The premier added, however, that if the widow of Dr. Ruiz demanded an indemnity and her claim was shown to be justified, Spain would be glad that justice is done. Senor Canovas further remarked: "I do not believe President McKinley has any unfriendly intentions toward the Ottoman empire. Russia, according to a friendly attitude, Spain will be able to defend her rights."

Do Not Like Delyanoffs

ATHENS, June 12.—Hecuba says the rumors of an attempt to assassinate M. Delyanoff arose from the fact of his having saluted some acquaintance in the street who abused him vehemently for plunging Greece into disaster. The paper adds: "Public asperation against M. Delyanoff is so intense that his return to office will surely lead to disturbances."

Russia Declines

PARIS, June 12.—A dispatch to the Soleil from St. Petersburg says that Germany is trying to secure the retention of the Turkish garrisons in Crete, the retrocession of Thessaly to Turkey, and the abolition of the special privileges accorded to Greek subjects in the Ottoman empire. Russia, according to the correspondent of the Soleil, refuses to concede these points.

BRACE UP THE NAVY

Emperor William Has His Heart Set on More War Ships. TEN IRONCLADS AND SIXTEEN CRUISERS Orders Built the Very Vessels Which the Reichstag Rejects. SUMMONS CHIEF OF NAVY DEPARTMENT Directs Him to Prepare a New Bill for Increase of Fleet. KAISER TO REFORM THE SECRET POLICE Will Endeavor to Place Muzzle on Public Press—Von Tausch Inclined to Rank in His Royal Mind.

(Copyright, 1897, by the Associated Press.) BERLIN, June 12.—Since the arrival here of Admiral Tirpitz, chief of the Navy department, Emperor William's plans to increase the strength of the German navy have been taking up interest. Admiral Tirpitz is recognized to be the oldest and most energetic man in the navy. He is popularly known as the naval Molke, and his ideas and aims regarding the further development and re-organization of the navy are in thorough accord with those of Emperor William, who hopes Admiral Tirpitz will succeed where Admiral von Holmann failed, in inducing the Reichstag to adopt big naval credits. The emperor intends to have ten big ironclads and sixteen cruisers built by 1900. Considerable comment has been aroused by the fact that the emperor has ordered the German shipbuilding yard to build the very cruisers which have been rejected by the Reichstag. Admiral Tirpitz is now making a tour of inspection of the naval yards of Kiel, Wilhelmshaven, Sattin, Emden and Danzig. On his return he will frame a new naval bill, in which the necessity of putting the German navy on an equal footing with the navies of France and Russia will be forcibly stated.

CAZAR'S NEW GIRL

The czar's baby is to receive a singular name, Tatiana. There is serious alarm in all circles of the French capital at the avowed intention of the parliamentary committee which is now dealing with the Bereznev bill to restrict not only the sale but the possession of certain classes of literature and works of art. Acknowledged works, such as are exhibited in the Louvre, and some classified literature will be placed on the black list. This will bring the directors of the museums and national library within the statute. Literateurs and collectors are in consternation as the early adoption of the law appears to be certain.

DID NOT MAKE THE DIAMOND

Prof. Crookes' Interesting Experiment (Copyright, 1897, by Press Publishing Company.) LONDON, June 12.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—A large, fashionable company assembled last night at the Royal Institute to witness the manufacture of diamonds by Prof. Crookes of Crookes tube fame. The experiment did not succeed, but the failure of the dynamo, claimed to be the most powerful ever put in operation, to heat the electric furnace. This experiment was first accomplished by Prof. Moissan of Paris, to whom Prof. Crookes acknowledged his indebtedness. The first necessity for the experiment is a piece of pure iron, which is packed in a carbon crucible with pure charcoal made from sugar. Half a pound of this iron is put in the crucible, and the body of the electric furnace, where an extremely powerful arc of electric light absorbing about 100-horse power, forms close about it between the carbon poles. The iron rapidly melts and saturates itself with carbon. It is kept for about seven minutes at a heat of about 4,000 degrees centigrade, and is then taken from the furnace and plunged into cold water, such as below red heat. The diamond is formed by the carbon first being subjected to this almost unprecedented artificial heat, then being subjected to the enormous pressure caused by its sudden contraction in cold water. The extraction of the diamond from the metallic ingot is a slow process and the stones formed hitherto have been only microscopic.

FRANK LENZ'S MURDERERS ESCAPE

Turkish Government Urged to Recapture and Try Them. CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12.—Two of the Kurds who are supposed to have been connected with the murder of Frank G. Lenz at Pithsburg, Pa., have been shot and killed on the road between Kourth and Zabar, about two years ago, while on a tour around the world. He died in prison at Erzerum and the other Kurds suspected of complicity in the murder have escaped from prison. United States Minister Terrell has appealed to the supreme court here to order the recapture and trial of the fugitives. In all eleven men were arrested on the charge of being concerned in the murder of Mr. Lenz.

Drifting Toward Strained Relations

LONDON, June 12.—The Madrid correspondent of the Standard says: The Madrid papers re-echo the popular anxiety and curiosity concerning the attitude which the United States will adopt in the face of recent events. The sensation caused by the reports of a change of attitude increased when it was announced that American tribunals had acquitted filibusters who had been stopped by an American man-of-war. Much suppressed indignation can be discerned between the lines of press articles of every shade of opinion, bitterly resenting the idea of American interference in Cuba. Everything shows that Spain is drifting again into strained relations with the United States.

READY FOR DEFENSE

State Completes Taking Its Testimony in the Case Against Bartley. WILL OFFER SOME DOCUMENTS MONDAY Records of the Treasurer's Office Are Allowed Entered as Evidence. OBJECTIONS OF DEFENSE ARE OVERRULED Books Show that No Credit Has Been Made to Sinking Fund. DECREASE IN GENERAL FUND IS SHOWN Attorneys for Bartley Seek to Discredit that Officer's Monthly Reports—Defense Will Offer Evidence This Week. The end of the Bartley trial begins to appear. The state will on Monday read to the jury the documentary evidence introduced in the case, including the records of the Omaha National bank, the record of the state treasurer's office at Lincoln and records of the auditor's office, all bearing directly upon the transactions connected with the alleged crime which the defendant stands charged. This will complete the evidence of the state and the defense will at once commence the introduction of testimony. The line of testimony to be offered by the defense and the probable number of witnesses has not been disclosed, so that no estimate can be made of the length of time which will be required to complete all the testimony, but it is the general opinion that several more days will be required for the introduction of evidence. Yesterday morning was consumed in getting in what the defense evidently regarded as evidence of a most vital character and the progress made was painfully slow. The evidence in question consisted of records of the state treasurer's office, showing the ledger accounts of the several state funds during the period the warrant in controversy was outstanding, these records showing that the general fund was reduced in January, 1897, by the amount required to pay the warrant and interest, while the sinking fund account does not show any credit, of the other evidence called for by the face of the warrant. Another called upon the same line, which was hotly opposed by the defense, was a batch of monthly statements made by the state treasurer to the state auditor during the period the warrant was outstanding, showing the same conditions as the ledger accounts. These monthly statements all bore Bartley's signature as state treasurer.

REFORM THE POLICE

It is now said that Emperor William himself desires to reform the secret police and change the system of intercourse between the cabinet ministers and the press. This may be due to the fact that the revelations of the Von Tausch trial are still being busily discussed, and the national liberals have decided to question the government in the Diet on the steps which it is intended to take to improve the police system. It also appears that Von Tausch is not yet out of danger. It is fairly certain that he will be tried for treason, respecting his reported utterances about the emperor's health.

ALARMS THE ITALIAN CARDINALS

Possibility of an American Pope is Felt in Rome. LONDON, June 12.—(New York World Telegram—Special Telegram.)—The number of cardinals in the Sacred College who are not Italian is at this moment greater than the number of Italian cardinals, owing to the death of Cardinal di Rondo. This has not occurred before in several centuries. If an election of a new pope were precipitated now an exhaustive conclave would consist of thirty Italian cardinals and thirty-one who are not Italian, and whose interest, presumably, would be to elect a non-Italian to wear the triple crown. But the Italian cardinals still contrive to maintain the upper hand. Cardinal Moran of Australia and the French cardinal, archbishop of Mauritius, would find it impossible, and the Canadian and American cardinals would find it difficult to reach Rome in time for the conclave, which is summoned at one week's notice. Pope Leo is being strongly urged by the Italian party to put an end of the possibility of the election of Cardinal Gibbons or Cardinal Vaughan by insisting on time in appointing a sufficient number of new cardinals to render an election secure for the next Italian nominee. The possibility of an American pope is new and startling.

Turkey Issues a Circular

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 12.—The Turkish government has issued a circular to the powers, with a view to obtain their support in the peace negotiations, but thus far Russia alone has replied, expressing the opinion that the questions of indemnity and the capitulation appear less difficult to settle than the delimitation of Thessaly. This reply is regarded in Turkish circles as justifying the hope that Russia will support the retrocession of Thessaly, but this opinion is not shared by the commissions of the foreign diplomatic corps in this city.

Sitting of Bering Sea Commission

OTTAWA, Ont., June 12.—There will be a meeting of the Bering sea commission at Montreal June 16, for the purpose of fixing a day and place for the hearing of counsel. Counsel for the United States will apply to the commission at this meeting for a resumption of the inquiry, the implication being founded upon an allegation that one of the claimants is an American citizen and as such is not entitled to claim any damages. The commission will probably not sit longer than one day in Montreal.

LONDON, June 12.—An excursion train while on its way from Barmouth to Oldham was derailed at Wellhampton, near Oswestry, at midnight last night. Nine persons were killed and twenty-five were injured.
