JAPAN PRESENTS A FORMAL PROTEST

Objection Based on Apprehension that Special Treaties Existing May Be Affected Injuringly By Complete Annexation.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—In the great diplomatic room of the State department, where four years and four months ago, in the closing hours of the Harrison administration, the first Hawaiian annexation treaty was signed, and then withdrawn from the senate and thrown into a pigeon hole, the representatives of the governments of the United States and Hawaii met today to sign the treaty which will make Hawaii a territory of the United States.

It is a very unusual thing for a treaty of such importance to be signed early in the morning, but in this case it was desired that the convention be held at a more convenient hour, and the treaty was signed at 10 o'clock.

THOSE WHO WERE PRESENT.

Before 9 o'clock the persons who were concerned in the preparation of the treaty were at the State department. Among them were Secretary Sherman, Assistant Secretaries Day, Adee and Criddle, Private Secretary Babcock and Assistant Private Secretary Galtree. They were accompanied by Minister Hatch, Lorrin A. Thurston and W. A. Kinney, all for this particular occasion accredited as special commissioners duly empowered to negotiate a treaty with the Hawaiian Islands.

The treaty provided to be a simple document of six articles based in its essential details upon the treaty negotiated by John King and the Hawaiian government in 1842. The Hawaiian Islands are ceded practically without condition, leaving the United States to pursue its own course with reference to their disposition.

The Hawaiian government cedes to the United States the absolute ownership of all the public lands, public buildings, harbors, fortifications, military and naval equipment and all other government property.

The Hawaiian Islands shall be admitted into the United States as a territory, and the government of Hawaii also cede to the United States all public lands, public buildings and public property of every description.

Before the final signature of the document the treaty was presented a formal protest by the Japanese government.

The treaty provides that the government of the Hawaiian Islands cede to the United States absolutely and forever all rights of sovereignty, jurisdiction, and all other rights and dependencies, and that these islands shall become an integral part of the United States.

The Hawaiian Islands shall be admitted into the United States as a territory, and the government of Hawaii also cede to the United States all public lands, public buildings and public property of every description.

The Hawaiian Islands shall be admitted into the United States as a territory, and the government of Hawaii also cede to the United States all public lands, public buildings and public property of every description.

ROBBED BY AN OLD FRIEND

C. D. Collins of Tennessee Assaulted by Martin Esley.

VICTIM IS BEATEN ALMOST TO DEATH

Both Parties Have Been Pronounced In Southern Hospital and Social Life—Two Men Witness the Crime.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—C. D. Collins, a wealthy Tennessee, was lured to his probable death Tuesday night by a man he had known since boyhood and with whom he has been on terms of intimate friendship for six years.

His assailant was Martin Esley of Memphis. Esley induced his companion to visit Meramec Heights, a summer resort fifteen miles from here.

Strong Effort Will Be Made to Prevent Further Bloodshed.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—The treaty for the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands reached the senate chamber at 5 o'clock today. The senate at once went into executive session, and as soon as the doors were closed the message of President McKinley accompanying the treaty and the treaty itself were read in the senate chamber.

CONFEDERATE IN WAITING.

Enley, after leaving his victim, had run to the fence that skirts the Kirkwood track and there he followed the stream for nearly a mile until he reached a shanty occupied by a boatman. He pounced vigorously upon the boatman and when the old man opened his eyes he found himself in the hands of a robber.

Enley protested his innocence, but was taken into the night by the boatman.

ALFRED AUSTIN DOES IT AGAIN.

Post Laureate of England Extols Virtues of Victoria.

NEW YORK, June 16.—The forthcoming issue of the Independent, under the headline, "Victoria the Great," will publish the following poem, written for that paper by Alfred Austin, poet laureate of England:

The dew was on the lawn,
The roses bloomed,
When forth there came

They girt a crown
And laid a sword
And laid a sword
And laid a sword.

And wash the crown
And wash the crown
And wash the crown
And wash the crown.

And wash the crown
And wash the crown
And wash the crown

Although the Bartley trial is proceeding very slowly, every inch of ground is being hotly contested by both sides.

The most convincing evidence against the defendant has been developed during the trial.

It is true that they are the same witnesses who were called by the state.

One theory of the defense has been that the defense simply serves to open the way for the introduction of evidence by the state.

Each point in the defense is developed the state promptly knocks it out and almost every theory indicated by the line of defense has been completely refuted as soon as made.
