PROTECTION AND SOUND MONEY. Phil E. Winter read the report of the committee on resolutions. It declared the deter mination to keep up the fight for sound money and a protective tariff until Nebraska was brought back into the republican col-umn; culogized the administration of President McKinley; complimented Schator Thurs ten and Congressmen Mercer and Strede; declared for equal punishment of great and small offenders and stringent accountability for every public trust. It denounced the action of the fusion legislature in unscating the members from Douglas county and for endeavoring to seat two judges by fraud. It closed with an instruction binding the lefegates to the national convention to use their best efforts to bring the 1898 convention

The report was unanimously adopted, and the convention proceeded to name six dele-gates at large to the national convention. he First district presented the name of P. Brown of Lincoln and he was elected

M. Gillan presented Charles J. Greene of Omaha as the candidate of the Second district and he also received the honor of an election by acclamation.

The other districts presented their candi-

AT THE M'KEIGHAN MEMORIAL

Congressman Meet.

EULOGIES OF HIS CAREER POURED FORTH

His Party Course Endorsed and His Memory Suggested as the Oceasion for an Enduring Monument at Hastings.

HASTINGS, Neb., June 9 .- (Special Telegram.)-The memorial services for the late William A. McKeighan, who for four years represented the Fifth district in congress, were held at Cole's park this afternoon, and were attended by a couple of thousand people. After prayer by Rev. L. P. Rose of Hastings, the address of welcome was de livered by John C. Stevens. Hon. J. S. Gilitm of Red Cloud responded, and among other things said that the people who knew Mc-Keighan best loved him most. John H. Powers spoke of McKeighan as a soldier who had enlisted when but a boy of 19, leaving home and friends to imperil his life for his country, and said he was a common soldier in war and was for the common people in politics. The First district was represented by G. W. Berge of Lincoln, who compared McKeighan with Washington, Grant, Lincoln and many other great men. Judge Gregory of Omaha spoke of McKelghan from the time when he went to congress up to the time of his death. Senator McGann of Albion said he had not the honor of having a personal acquaintance with McKeighan, but knew his record, and therefore urged the erection of a monument to his honor. W. H. Thompson of Grand Island spoke of the people of the Fifth district, and said that erecting the proposed monument it was not for the pur pose of paying their respects to the dead alone, but so that others living might profit

Governor Holcomb in a very few words paid his tribute to his deceased friend, who he said was a noble statesman and honorable citizen, and one who was always ready to promote the interest of the state or country. The memorial address was then delivered by William Jennings Bryan, who urged the erection of the McKeighan monument because he believed monuments testify to those wh erect them and encourage young men to strive to earn that gratitude. He said that McKeighan had been greatly abused, but he had a broad charity and was indifferent to all that was said. He closed the memorial ad dress by saying that he hoped when the monument was built it would be of such a size as to show how much he had been loved by the people who had honored him. A subscription was then taken up for the McKeighan monument fund.

embers of the school board. FULLERTON, Neb., June 29.—(Special.)-The school election, which took place here last evening, was hotly contested. There has been much dissatisfaction at the management of the schools for the past year and to further incense the patrons the old board three weeks ago hired nearly all the old teachers. The people became enraged over the matter and yeserday evidenced their the matter and yeserday evidenced their anger at the polls. The ticket headed by L. W. Morgan, one of the old board, was snowed under more than two to one. Thomas F. Miller, W. F. Critchfield and Jacob Gleain were elected.

STANTON, Neb., June 29 .- (Special.) Yesterday's school election was the hottest ever held here. There were two members of the board to elect and five candidates to select from. A lively campaign was made by all contesting parties on issues that were purely local to school matters. An unusually heavy vote was polled, about one-third of was cast by women. The results showed W. W. Young and Fred Feyerherm to have been elected by a vote of exactly two to one over their highest competitors, they receiving 188 and 187 votes, respectively. FAIRMONT, Neb., June 29.—(Special.)— There was very little excitement at the school meeting held here last night. After making the annual report of last year a tax levy of 22 mills was made. PIERCE, Neb., June 29.—(Special.)—A chool election was held today. Messrs. H. S. Beck and William B. Chilvers were candi dates for re-election. The opposition did not like the way Mr. Beck voted for principal and teachers at the last teachers election and were assisted by those who wanted to mix church affairs in those of the school. Messra. Reppert and W. W. Quivey were nominated on the opposition ticket. Some of the women who opposed Mr. Beck worked all the forenoon among their friends. The male voters on hearing of this became alarmed and every male voter was called upon and urged to be present. At 2 o'clock the voters gathered at the school house and after the reports of the school treasurer and director had been given the election of two trustees took place. After the votes were counted it was found that the women did not vote to-gether, as about half voted for Beck and Chilvers. The vote stood: Beck, 76: Chilvers, 75; Reppert, 25; Quivey, 21. Commence of the State of the St An Important meeting of the city council will be held this evening and it is expected that a large amount of business will be transacted. First in matter of importance comes the gas ordinance, which passed its second reading at the meeting held June 14 Those interested in the passage of this or dinance and the granting of the twenty-five year franchise have been hustling for the past few days, and it was announced yesterday that only one more vote was needed to carry the deal through. Some of the councilmen are inclined to think that if gas works are to be erected the plant should be located in this city, instead of piping gas from Omaha, as is the intention.

Mayor Ensor will bring up the matter of abating the Mud creek nuisance and will urge that some action be taken to protect the health of residents living in the vicinity of the creek. He will recommend the apthe creek and the sewer emptying into it and will favor recourse to the courts should the corporations be inclined to treat the matter lightly.

A delogation of wheelmen have agreed to attend the session to obtain some changes in the bicycle ordinance which will come up for third reading and final passage. The committee appointed at a recent meeting of the wheelmen has made it a point to have a talk with the members of the council, and it is understood that the maximum rate of speed will be raised to ten miles an hour. As regards that portion of the or-diance requiring every wheelman to ring a bell at crossings, the feeling among the city lawmakers seems to be divided. Some favor bells, while others think that it would be putting riders of bicycles to unnecessary expense and all to no purpose.

Inspector Carroll is Restrained. Judge Keysor yesterday granted a restrain ing order in the case of Crosby & Rich against Sanitary Inspector Carroll which will prevent the inspector from interfering with the business of the firm until the hearing of the application for a perpetual injunction comes up. The judge set the case for hearing July 7, at which time it is expected that both sides will make a showing. City Attorney Montgomery said yesterday after noon that he had advised Inspector Carroll to accept service of the order of the court and that the city would take no action pending the hearing.

This Exposition Concession Awarded to Vassily Ebell. Vassily Andrejevitch Ebell, who has just Exhibits of the Transmississippt Exposition to work up a Russian village as one of the exhibits for the exposition, was born in Vassily Ostrow, May 28, 1859. He is the on of a well-known stock broker of the St. Petersburg exchange, and received his early faining and impressions about a palace in the banks of the Little Neva, where he amiliarized himself with foreign flags and ongues, seeing the many vessels from all arts of the world.

At the age of 13 years he was placed in the St. Petersburg Commercial college from which he graduated in May, 1877. At hi graduation be was awarded a diploma and received the rank of "Honorary Citizen of St. Petersburg," and bachelor of commercial sciences. He acted as interpreter at the World's fair to the principal imperial Russian commissioners and other officials and visitors from the land of the czar. His efforts in making them acquainted with American industrial institutions culminated in many shipments of American machinery to Russia. His services were such as to bring to him credentials of a character to mently fit him for the position for which he has just been chosen in connection with the Transmississippi Exposition, Mr. Ebell has decided to call his exhibit "In Joyful Russia," after the book written by John A. Logan, jr., and in which he will endeavor to depict Russia as it is, to take away the erroneous impressions of that country created by the writings of George Kennan. He will leave Omsha in a short time to begin the work of arousing interest in the exposition among his own country-men and the friendly Slav nations.

MAY VOTE BONDS FOR AN EXHIBIT. New Law Extending the Powers of Counties.

Under the provisions of a special act, passed by the last legislature, counties in Nebraska are authorized to participate in interstate expositions held in the state and to issue bonds for the purpose of defraying the expenses of such exhibits. Bonds may not be issued to exceed $100,000 in any one county, and shall be sold at par and draw not to exceed 5 per cent interest per annum. Whenever 1,000 voters petition the board of county commissioners or the board of supervisors to that end a special election may be called and the question of issuing such bonds submitted to a vote of the peo-ple. If two-thirds of the votes cast on the proposition be in favor of the bonds they shall be issued and sold, otherwise not.

This act was passed especially that counties of the state might vote bonds and make exhibits at the Transmississippl Exposition that will be held in this city next year. Already several of the counties of the state are considering the feasibility of submitting the bond question to the voters. that funds may be secured to pay the expenses, securing and placing on exhibition the products of the soil.

APPROPRIATION SOON AVAILABLE. How Money for Nebraska's Exhibit

Will Be Expended.
The law passed by the last legislature providing for the appropriation of $100,000 to enable the state to participate in the Transmississippl and International Exposition to be held at Omaha in 1898 becomes operative in a few days. The fund is to be disbursed by a board of six commissioners, one from each congressional district, each commissioner to receive for his serfor which each member may draw pay not to exceed fifteen months. No part of the state appropriation is to be available until the stockholders of the exposition shall have paid in at least $200,000. The money appro-priated by the state is to be controlled and managed solely by the commissioners. Within sixty days after the close of the exposition it is made the duty of the com-missioner of public lands and buildings to advertise and sell at public auction all the property acquired by the board of commis-

BISHOP BONACUM'S VERSION

en commissioned by the Department of He Interprets the Decision of Martinelli as Upholding His Course.

POINTS OUT WHEREIN HE IS SUSTAINED

Congratulates Auditor of Delegation and the Procurator of the Diocese and Designates Monasteries for Priestly Penance.

LINCOLN, June 29 .- (Special Telegram.)-Sishop Bonacum today made public the following letter relating to the recent Martinelli decision:

lowing letter relating to the recent Martinelli decision:

LINCGLN, June 28, 1837.—To Rev. E. J. Foeny, Auburn: Reverend and bear Sir—I see from the Associated Press dispatches and from an editorial in the Western Walchman that Baart and Phelan are trying to deceive the public by missiating, minimizing and explaining away the decision recently rendered at Washington in the cases of the discess of Lincoln against the priests Murphy and Fitzgerald. You must pay no attention to what these clergymen say, because they are only trying to conceal their chagrin and because, furthermore, outside the apostolic delegation, no one knew anything about the decisions above referred to except Rev. Messars. Murphy and Fitzgerald and myself. How then could Baart and Phelan talk intelligently on the subject? From this circumstance alone you may form some idea of what manner of men Baart and Phelan are. But in order to dispet all doubts as to the meaning and score of the decisions in question I will here give for your information the findings of the most reverend apostolic delegrate, which are as follows:

First—That Rev. Father Baart must be censured for having used unbecoming language toward the ordinary of the Lincoln discesse in the judgment rendered in the Martinelli accordingly administers to the Michisander a most just and merited rebuke, Second—That the judgment of the metropolitan curia is to be set aside, singly and solely on account of the reasons given in the challenge made by the ordinary of Lincoln against Rev. Baart as judge delegrate, and his excellency decares every part and parcel of the aforesaid judgment null and void.

DIVIDES THE EXPENSICS.

Third—That the decision of the Lincoln curia must stand and his excellency proceeds

DIVIDES THE EXPENSES.

Third—That the decision of the Lincoln curia must stand and his excellency proceeds then to ratify and confirm by his decision every provision of the sentence of the said curia, except the one in reference to the time to be spent by the suspended priests in the monastery, the diocesan curia had fixed, eight weeks, but the apostolic delerate in consideration of the fact that Murphy and Fitzgerald had already been two years under suspension thought proper to reduce the time spension thought project to reduce the time r penance in the monastery to three weeks. As the case had miscarried in the metro-suspension thought project to reduce the time for penance in the monastery to three weeks. As the case had miscarried in the metropolitan curia and as much expense had been incurred it was considered just and proper to apportion the expenses at Dubuque equally among the litigants. This was done.

I need scarcely tell you, reverend and dear sir, that I am more than gratified by the decision. My only regret is that Mgr. Martinelli has seen if to prohibit the publication of the entire case. I have been reading the decisions of the various Roman tribunals for the past twenty years, but never have I come across a more able opinion than the one handed down in the apostolic delegation at Washington the other day. The vast crudition, the nice discernment and the just conception of the law which is everywhere visible in the decision stamps Mgr. Sharretti, the youthful and modest auditor of the apostolic delegation, as one of the ablest canonists of the day, and I predict for him a bright future. In this connection I must say, however, that the splendid results achieved by the diocese of Lincoln are to be ascribed in the first place to our procurator fiscal, Very Rev. Dean Cullen of York, His able argument before the apostolic delegation in support of the motion to set aside the judgment of the metropolitan curia was a masterpiece and invoked the praise of the esceretary of the delegation. Father Cullen showed himself in the whole conduct of the case to be head and shoulders over Baart.

I will say in conclusion that I have named the monasteries at Atchison, Kan, and at Conception, Mo., as the places to which the Priests Murphy and Fitzgerald are to retire, and in which they are to perform the penances imposed by the most reverend apostolic delegate. I am, reverend and dear sir, your devoted servant in the Lord,

THOMAS BONACUM. Bishop of Lincoln.
