MONEY GIVEN FRIENDS ON LITTLE SECURITY

Report of the Receiver Shows an Ascounding State of Affairs in Connection with the Defunct Institution.

LINCOLN, July 7 .- (Spatial Telegram.)-The receiver of the defunct Merchants' bank after a six-lays examination of the affairs of the institution, filed his first report with District Judge Holmes today. It does not show a very promising state of affairs, At the time the bank closed its doors, on May 51, the deposits were $17,258,43, cash on hand, $298,30. The books also showed that there were notes and bills receivable amounting to $35,506. The receiver found that of the latter item $56,501.10 was in the hands of third parties to secure deposits and borlatter item 356.901.10 was in the hands of third parties to score deposits and bor-rowed noney. The list of notes found in the bank, amounting to $51.858.93, is a very poor lot, only a small per cent of it being col-lectble. If the showing is correct, the bank made a practice of loaning considerable amounts of money to frieads on the filmsiest kind of security. The tectiver's statement shows Becurity. The receiver's statement shows the amount of each on hand in the bank each day during May, and sometimes it was as low as field. The real estate owned by the bank is estimated at $7.500, and the turni-ture and fixtures were carried on the body. bank is estimated at $7.560, and the furni-ture and fixtures were carried on the books. Kimball, secretary of the name office of the Chautanoual Literary and Sciencific, order ture and fixtures were carried on the books at $2,500. One remarkable thing in the re-port is the showing of the part taken by Bank Examiner F. A. Reynolds, who, under the orders of the State Banking board, had charge of the bank during the month of June. Of the $595.10 on hand, the examiner kept $505 for his services and turned $241.35 over to the reserver, leaving a shortage unaccounted for of $31.72. The examiner made no report during June or at any time made no report during June or at any time, dld not seep the doors open and there is did not keep the doors open and there is nothing to show that he did any work whatever.
