

Test of Power and Proficiency Than a Two-Hundred Translation."

W. E. Waters, president of Wells college, Aurora, N. Y., discoursed on "Is It Time for Great Compostion to Be Discontinued in Preparatory Schools?" He believed not. History was discussed by Prof. James W. French of Michigan, and Prof. H. W. Caldwell of Nebraska. E. B. Hodson of Muskegon, Mich., spoke on "An Ideal Course in History for Secondary Schools." Miss Margaret Keeler, of Cleve., led meadowlarks, and Emily and I were followed by George B. Atton of Minnesota. Many papers were read in connection with the Round Table topic of "The High School as a Social Factor." Child study attracted much attention. W. C. Scott of New Haven, Dr. John Scott, Dr. Reuben P. Hebeck and Dr. Colin A. Scott of Chicago, read papers on appropriate topics.

The department of art education held its first meeting yesterday afternoon. Miss Anna Gossen, Indianapolis, and Miss Little M. Gothic of Chicago gave talks illustrated with drawings on a blackboard.

At the kindergarten department meeting, Mrs. Gilbert of Newark, N. J., was the first speaker. Mrs. Catherine McCullough of Evanston, Ill., spoke of "Kindergarten Work and Principles in the School." Miss Mary McCullough of St. Louis concluded the session.

The session of the elementary department was generally devoted to discussion of arithmetic, participated in by Miss Sarah C. Brooks of St. Paul, William M. Griffith of Chicago and others.

In the library department, R. W. Bullock of Columbia, read a paper on "Observations on Children's Reading."

At the meeting of the department of manual and industrial education Edward W. Sisson of Peoria, Ill., read an able paper entitled "Some Results of Tool Work." On the Club of Florida and W. D. Parker of Wisconsin also read papers.

A new department was added to the National Educational association, entitled the department of school administration. The first meeting was held yesterday afternoon. Charles Quarles of Milwaukee made the address of welcome, and there were several out-of-town speakers. At the meeting of this body, questions of school administration are considered from the side of the school system.

Tonight's general session of the National Educational association was a short one, on account of a reception given by the citizens of Milwaukee. Rev. Lyman Abbott of Brooklyn, N. Y., was the only speaker in the evening. His theme was "The Democracy of Learning." The reception was at the Deutscher club and was a grand affair.

WANT THE MINING LAWS REVISED.

Resolutions Presented to the Gold Mining Convention.

DENVER, July 8.—The work of the committee having in charge the arrangement of papers to be read today and tomorrow delayed the assembling of the second day's session of the international gold mining convention. Several delegates from California and Arizona arrived this morning, and Prof. R. A. Praytor of Arizona was added to the committee on resolutions.

Resolutions were introduced by E. A. Reynolds of New Mexico asking congress to revise the mining laws, so that the present complications in acquiring titles to mining claims may be abolished; by R. S. Pratt of Colorado, extending thanks to Mexico, Italy, Venezuela and Belgium, for having manifested interest in the development of gold mining in this country, by sending representatives to this convention. One by B. F. Gillette of California was as follows:

"Whereas, The development of mines in California, Arizona, New Mexico and Colorado is greatly hindered by reason of the nature of the mineral rights existing in all mineral land within the boundaries of such grants, therefore,

Resolved, That we, the miners, be informed through the secretary of this convention of the great difficulties under which the people of the states and territories are laboring, and that every possible effort be made to assist them toward attaining a just and equal treatment in this regard."

These resolutions were referred to the committee on resolutions without debate.

The following papers were read: Prof. E. B. Kirby of Colorado, "The Treatment of Low Grade Ores by Concentration"; John Krum, Utah, "Utah's Great Mining Camp"; Prof. George Knapp of Illinois presented the convention a gaudy name of historic materials. The handle was taken from a piece of wood once a part of the cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born. The head is made of five pieces of wood from a rail split by Mr. Lincoln, one from a Charter oak, another from the old elm tree of Boston, a piece of walnut from one of the mausoleums in Mt. Vernon and a piece of Colorado wood. The handles of the picks were made of the same materials grown in this country. L. Bradford Prince, president of the convention, acknowledged the gifts in a brief speech.

E. Blount of Nebraska read a paper on "Ore Deposits of the Rockies, Dry and Rainy," Arthur Lake of Colorado on "The Geological Formation of Colorado." Prof. Lake's paper was a most interesting history of Colorado's mining districts from the first discovery of gold in 1858 down to the present.

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

Michigan's delegation, led by Prof. E. B. Kirby of Colorado, "The Treatment of Low Grade Ores by Concentration"; John Krum, Utah, "Utah's Great Mining Camp"; Prof. George Knapp of Illinois presented the convention a gaudy name of historic materials.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

Michigan's delegation, led by Prof. E. B. Kirby of Colorado, "The Treatment of Low Grade Ores by Concentration"; John Krum, Utah, "Utah's Great Mining Camp"; Prof. George Knapp of Illinois presented the convention a gaudy name of historic materials.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram:

FIGHT FOR THE CONVENTION.

The leaders of the meetings, all of which were largely attended, most of the churches being crowded to the utmost capacity, Dr. G. W. West, president of the Associated Miners of Montana, said: "I am glad to see that our friends have held their meeting in this city, and I hope they will have success."

The selection of a place for holding the convention in 1888 being in order the adjournment of the meeting in the auditorium of the Trans-Mississippi and International Exposition next year was set forth in the following telegram: