Objections to Captain Merry. WASHINGTON, July 29 .- The State department officials are very reticent regarding the objection lodged against the reception of Captain W. L. Merry of San Fran-cisco as United States minister to Nicara-gua. Costa Rica and Salvador, to succeed Lewis Baker. The matter is now engaging the attention of the officials, and it is ex-pected that within a few days such representations will be made on our part to the countries concerned as may induce them to abandon their objections as not well founded. It is possible that the objection to the seection of Captain Merry is not so much on account of the manner in which he has been accredited to the three countries, instead of the Greater Republic of Central America, as because of his pronounced views on the Nicaraguan canal.

Checkmate for Armor Companies. WASHINGTON, July 29.—Secretary Long has rejected the offer of the armor com panies to supply the diagonal armor for the three battleships Alabama, Wisconsin and Illinois, now building, at a price to be fixed hereafter by the Navy department itself. The companies made this offer under the impression that as the armor of this kind is entirely within the hull and superstructure of the ships, the failure of the government to procure it would stop the work of the shipbuilders entirely. Therefore, while they refused to furnish all of the armor needed at the price fixed by congress, they undertook to supply the disgonal armor, leaving the price aftewards to be adjusted. Secretary Long, however, has found that it will be possible to go on with the work of building the ships and allow the armor to be placed later on. The construction bureau has professed its ability to do this with as little disturbance of the ships' structure as would result from placing a boiler in the order that he may sail at an early date for his post. He leaves Washington tomorrow for Omaha, thoroughly well satisfied with his appointment. There will be much devolving upon Jenkins when he reaches his assignment, as the late consul committed suicide last week, leaving matters in a much tangled shape. A number of matters have been wholly ignored, and those will necessitate system of adjusting this large class of cases.

Heen Made.

WASHINGTON, July 29—A thorough retained the adjudication of the rules governing the adjudication of the act of June 27, 1890, has been made by Second Assistant Secretary of the finite for Webster Davis and sweeping modifications will be made in the present practices as the result. The new code, it is said will furnish a safe, speedy and uniform wholly ignored, and those will necessitate Been Made. system of adjusting this large class of cases.

Assistant Secretary Davis holds that the very nature of pension cases forbids the application of the strictness and technicality of court proceedings and that it was not congress' intention to helps the administra. of court proceedings and that it was not congress' intention to hedge the administration of these laws with the difficulties and pitfalls of any system of special pleading whose technicalities and refinements may tend to a practical defeat of the government's benevolent purposes. The modifications are made in six rules and former rules and decisions in conflict with them are set aside. The most important change is made in the following rule:

vania, at Hamburg, Germany; Ira B. Meyers, Indiana, at St. Johns, N. B.; Benjamin Nusbaum, Pernsylvania, at Munich, Bavaria; John N. McCunn, Wisconsin, at Dunfermiine, Scotland; Michael J. REPUBLIC OF CENTRAL AMERICA. Union of Five Countries is Now as Established Fact.

WASHINGTON, July 29 .- A report has been received from William Meyers Little consul at Tegucigalpa, Honduras, enctosing a copy of the treaty that has been signed by the representatives of the five Central American states, or republics, of Guatemala, Costa Rica, Nicaragua, Honduras and Salvador. It goes into effect September 15. The union is named the Republic of Central America and the countries forming it will now take the names of states. Last year. when the republics of Honduras, Nicaragua and Salvador formed themselves into the "Greater Republic" of Central America, provision was made for the admission of Guatemala and Costa Rica, which has now been accomplished. The treaty is similar to that made last year, except that its prorisions are extended and considerable legislation is enacted in it for the government of the new republic. The republic has the power to nominate diplomatic and consular officers, and to receive foreign envoys and give exequaturs to foreign consuls, to issue assports to ministers and envoys of foreign nations and to withdraw exequature of consuls.

The government of the new republic vested in a chief of states, who is elected from each state in their alpabetical order and shall hold office for one year. A council aposed of two representatives from state, with the representatives of states, shall continue the government. Alliances of de-fense and preservation for all the states are provided and the expense of government and of war are to be assessed by the council.

FEARS OF A RAID FROM PIRATES.

DETAILS OF TRIAL OF BUTLER. Noted Murderer Makes Sensational

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The Alameda, which arrived today, brings Sydney papers describing the trial and conviction of Butler, the murderer who was captured in San Francisco and returned to Australia and who has since been hanged. The trial lasted four days and in some respects was sensational. On the last day of the irial Butler attempted to cut his throat with the metal tag taken from a plug of tobacco. The attempt was discovered however before his ad done any serious damage. On the same day, while being led into court, Butler be came uncontrollable and had a flerce struggle with his guards. He was finally dragged into he court room and handcuffed and forced to

When the prosecution finished its case Butier was asked if he had anything to say The murderer was in a state of collapse apparently, and the court adjourned until he afternoon to give him time to recover He then, in a low tone, made a rambling statement that he started for the mines with Weller at Weller's solicitation. On the way Weller acted queerly and when he displayed a pistol Butler thought Weller was going Instead, however, placed the pistol to his own head, and when Butler grabbed it in an endeavor to take away the weapon was discharged and Weller was shot through the head. Butler said he had used Weller's papers to enable him to ship as a sailor, as he had no paper The case was then given to the jury, which utes, before bringing in a verdict of guilty The judge then pronounced sentence when he concluded with the words, may God have mercy on your soul," Butler quickly retorted: "And may He have mercy on yours, boo."

Nebraska's Metropolia Knocks Down the Persimmons Without Any Trouble - Proceedings of Last Day's Session.

DETROIT, July 29 .- (Special Telegram.)-The Nebraska delegation to the United States League of Building and Loan Associations achieved a notable victory this morning over Cincinnati and Ningara Falls in the contest for the 1898 convention. Seven different invitations from Omaha organizations were read, the last one being the command of Samson, K. A., which, with flattering references to Omaha by delegates from the east. swept away opposition and Omaha was chosen enthusiastically and unanimously. Business was resumed promptly at 16 o'clock this morning by the United States Leegue of Building and Loan Associations, with the intention of making the day's session continuous. The object that hour for the St. Clair flats, where a fish supper was to be served. There was a full attendance at the session and the reading of addresses proceeded rapidly and with ing of addresses proceeded rapidly and with very little discussion.

D. Eldridge of Boston gave a "Few Notes on the Management of a Co-operative Bank."

The authority to make loans on the part of the secretary of a co-operative should be exercised with extraordinary care and great wisdom. Affairs in this line ought to be conducted so that if a question of a proposed loan reach the directors, that would be presumptive evidence that it has passed the ordeal of the secretary's scruting and the committee's examination. A secretary, if he is a good manager, will only bring before the directors for their action matters of superior importance, settling all others himself, but he should in no case go beyond the limits permitted by his directors.

"The Rights and Duties of Building and

The Rights and Duties of Building and Joan Associations to Stockholders and Their Relation to Creditors' was discussed in a paper by A. J. Duncan of Columbus, deputy inspector of Ohio building associations and a brother-in-law of President McKinley. He said the purpose of his address was to stimulate among those interested in the maintenance of the original principles upon which building and ioan associations are based inquiries as to present rights and duties of members and their relation to creditors. Such increased interest, he asserted, with its accompanying broader understanding of rights privileges and define standing of rights privileges and duties, would be the inspiration of more favorable legislation and the best legislation and the best defense against inimical laws. "At no time," said the speaker, "has the public demanded more stringent legislation and protection against visionary and dishonest schemes under the guise of building and oan associations than at present."

Mr. Duncan commended the simple con-tract provisions of the original Greenwich Building and Loan society, organized in 1809, as a true test and reasonable guide for building associations, and one the best courts of England and America are disposed to recognize in interpreting subsequent legis-lation and decisions on those subjects. The right of a member to borrow upon his stock or receive an advanced loan upon his shares might be called the cornerstone of the system, and any departure from this funda-mental principles. mental principle was destructive of the whole CHANGE IN ONE METHOD.

The general rule of allowing directors to determine the amount to be paid to a withdrawing member has been a stumbling block to the associations. The Ohlo law, said the speaker, makes an annual distribution, to be placed to the credit of members' accounts, thus placing the associations than the many basis in this respect as upon the same basis in this respect as other financial institutions. Owing to the peculiar nature of the statutes of the various states. In conclusion Mr. Duncan urged stricter compliance with the foundation principles of building associations and closer observance of state "The Service and Influence of Our State legislation affecting building associations and gave it as his opinion that every state should have a specific building and loan law and all societies be incorporated under it. "Our aim in Philadelphia," he said, 'has been to keep the associations purely and severely local that we might build up a system in which the local committee ould become interested and thereby lessen he possibility of failure, either thro falcations or unwise investments." ocated the election of at least one first-lass building and loan man to every seaion of the different legislatures. Organization by building associations for legislative purposes was also suggested. Albert Burnes of Decatur, Ill., treasurer of the Illinois league, read a paper on "Ap-portionment of Profits." He condemned the practice of apportioning at any time more than had been actually earned, and howed that unless an association had an ample reserve fund the shares in force when a loss is met must inevitably bear the burden, not only of their own proportion of the loss, but also the additional burden of that part of the loss which should be charged to maturing shares. Mr. Barnes cautioned the secretaries not to hasten the time for maturing of a series on account of importunities of members, or for any reason, no matter what the temptation to be able to announce quick maturity of chares." DECIDE TO COME TO OMAHA.

Another steam shovel arrived yesterday engaged on the grading of the Armour site and Superintendent Simpson would like to have another machine if it is possible to get one. The work was delayed somewhat yesterday by the breaking of one of the shovels, but the repairs were hastened as much as possible. Wells have been drilled all over the site in order to ascertain the kind of soil below the levels established and it has been found that piling will have to be used in a number of places. An order for 1,200 piles has been placed and this material is now on the way. Captain de Morainville, one of the Armour engineers, has been experimenting with blasting powder in the grading. Holes are drilled in the earth ahead of the steam shovels and a charge inserted. When exploded this loosens the dirt, making it much easier for the grading machines and expediting the work considerably. With the placing of another steam shovel in service there will be more work for laborers. The engineer and crew of the shovels come from Milwaukee, but all of the shove is come from Milwaukee, but all of the labor in connection with the work of removing the dirt is performed by South Omaha men. Thirty-five men are employed out at the dump where the cars loaded with dirt are taken. This is a point a couple of miles out on the B. & M. line. The loses directly of the county of the coun ing off the load.

The plans for the buildings are still incomplete and it is not expected that they will be finished for at least two weeks. Stringing Telephone Cables. Vance Lane, manager of the Nebraska Telephone company, was in the city yester day looking over the company's property here. Mr. Lane said that when the 200-wire cable, which is now being run from the Exchange in Omaha to this city, is completed, another cable, to be used exclusively by South Omaha subscribers of the telephone will be put in. By running the wires in cables the lines are less apt to get out of order, and the service is much better Little if any noise is picked up by wires in cables which is one reason why cables are used. The company contemplates a number of improvements this summer, but arrangements are as yet incomplete. Want to Wear Stars.

Mayor Ensor is being overrun with applications for positions on the police force The announcement made the other day that two additional policemen would be added to the force August 1 caused all of the trouble. Dave Brown, who served on the force for a short time and made such a record for himself, has applied for reinstatement. A number of others who at one time or another have been connected with the department, are anxious to don a blue out adorned with brass buttons. The mayor has made up his mind who he will appoint, but will not make the names public until the next meeting of the council.
