The consumption of cont glone for the works is 300 tons per day. and the yield from copper ore is enormous. Within a distance of twenty-seven miles is Butte City, the largest mining camp in the world. Standing next to the Lake Superior. regions in the production of copper, and first of all in silver output, attention has attention here. Only by well-directed effort world. It is the greatest silver producer, not alone of Montana, but of the Rocky mountain mineral belt. There are twelve mills and smelters in operation, and 6,000 tons of ore are reduced daily. Seven thousand men are employed in mines and works There are 150 mines in active operation, and ore enough in sight to work the present force day and night for 100 years. To Marmarvelous development in this connection Mr. Daiy was the first to grasp the magni-tude of the camp of Butte and prepared to avail himself of his knowledge. His subse-quent career has not only been chiefly in-strumental in bringing the camp to its present splendid state of development, with its attendant benefits to every man and every enterprise within its limits, but it has made him rich and henored and a power for good in the community. More than 30,000 people Butte, Anaconda, in Miscoula county, and on the railroads are either directly or in-directly supported by the Anaconda smelting works and connections, the result of the magnificent succers which one man has achieved in the management of the imnchieved in the management of the mense affairs entrusted to his care. It is this liberal and unselfah interest in the welfare, and the tact and ability with which he exemplifies it, that have made Marcus Daly so conspicuously identified with the growth and history for the past decade or more of Western Montana.

BIG ADVANCE IN WOOL.

Weol has made a big advance in price of late, and Montana growers are feeling pretty oud. The wool clips for the present season romises to exceed in quantity and quality promises to exceed in quantity and quantity that of previous seasons, and selling prices are far in advance of those of last year. A clip of 40,000 pounds sold a few days ago at 14% cents a pound, the top price so far, the price having advanced from 10 cents, at which the market started this season. Reports of the terrible drouth in Australia, from the effects of which the sheep are dying by thousands, lead the sheep growers in this state and in other parts of the northwest to anticipate still better prices for 1898 President Tom Powers of the State Wool Growers' association, predicts the price to gooms high as 18 and 20 cents by the 1st of March next. The total wool crop for the it is estimated will reach 22,000,00 Several million pounds have already been sold at prices ranging from 11% to 14 The lowest point of all which wool touched was in 1896, when it sold at 6 an Wool once sold as high es 40 cent a pound, and two years afterwards dropps to 30 cents. For several years it was somewhere in the 30's, then it dropped to 25 and 26, where it stood, finally to 20, and then to 14 and 15, until it touched the bottom in 1896. There are now over 5,000,000 sheep in the state. The sheep industry is a big one; and the owners of flocks are rejoicing at the prospect of wealth which this year's product promises. Buyers though openly scouting the idea of any combination being formed among themselves, refuse to reveal the digures paid for clips, hoping to keep the growers in ignorance as to the market prices, but the wool men realize that the to hold it. Montana wool is regarded as the the state the experiment of shearing shee by machinery is bring tried. Sheep me-claim that the machine takes off more woo than is taken off by hand; that the fleece longer and more evenly cut, and the animal left in much better condition than by the old-fashioned way. DAVIS WILL CASE years ago the Davis as reputed to be w). Today conservative opi places the amount at $4,000,000. This is said to be due to several causes, mainly lawyers' fees, and the shrinkage in values which has so seriously affected the entire country during the past four years. Nearly all the heirs are old men and women now ing for the great pile of wealth to be legally distributed, the litigation scenns in a fai way to seen come to an end, according to good authority, to the effect that a con promise has been reached by the parties the litigation themselves. The heir to the estate is Mrs. E. A. Davis of Chicago; additional heirs, Mrs. John A. Dayls, widow of John A. Davis, Kewaune Wis,; Edward A. and Charles G. Davis Chicago; George N., John E., and Andrew J. Davis of Butte, Mont. A writ of review in the matter of the petition of Elizabeth A Davis to revoke the will has been issued by Chief Justice Pemberton of the supreme court of this state, and the lower court commanded to send up a certificate of its proceedings and a transcript of the record-in the case by September 25. The decedent, Andrew J. Davis, was born in Hampden. Mass., April 25, 1819. He began life as messenger in a retail store. While youn moved to Iowa, settling near Keokuk, where he laid the foundation for a fortune, leaving lows in 1853, and finally settling at At his death he owned nearly the vhole of that city. Immediately after death a score of women appeared, claiming to the widows of the millionaire. Amon, the number was Mrs. J. A. Davie of Ke waunee, Wis., who claimed that she was the mony having been performed in 1850, but that he deserted her in two weeks after.
A long and bitter fight was precipitated shortly by the various claimants, they claim Robert G. Ingersoll, ex-Surrogate Daniel G. Rollins, ex-Governor Robinson and Judge Wells, all prominently known in New York legal circles, were brought into the case, and also Charles W. Dayton, formerly post-master of New York City. A proposition was made to have ex-President Cleveland named as a commissioner. Experts in handwriting declared the will a forgery, while other ex-INTEREST IN THE EXPOSITION.

Montana, always enterprising and interesting in everything it undertakes, is manifesting a strong and healthy concern in the promotion and success of the Transmississippl and international Exposition, to be held in Omaha in 1898. In my travels through the state I find the people in general imbued with a keen interest in the matter. The with a keen interest in the matter. The Montana legislature last winter made an driven to the commission of the crime by with a keen interest in the matter. Daly, the great mine owner at Angeonda, In the mining field Mr. Daly has done more for Montana than any other man has been able to accomplish. Montana is wonderfully rich in mineral resources, fruits, grains, live stock forestry and other products which cannot fail to attract wide attention and commend it to the millions of visitors at the Transmississippi Exposition. At the World's air the Montana exhibit secured marked a tention, the massive silver statue of Ada Rehan in the Mining building forming its central figure and eliciting general admiration from all who saw it. The exhibit planned for the exposition in 1888 is now engaging special attention in many parts of the state and judging by the interest displayed among representative citizens promises to be on a broad scale and in every respect up to the standard of Montana's indomitable energy and splendid enterprise.

Montana is surely a wonderful state; rich in resources of all kinds, but especially so in clinerals. Outside of Anaconda and La eighbor, Bucte, both of which cities are now enjoying a large degree of prosperity. M mana offers still greater opportunities because of its vast and varied natural resource Homescokers' convention, which meets is moras of finding homes in the great west r thousands of able and willing workers the eastern part of the country, is a matter of much concern to the business men in this state and has already enlisted carnest have its reward. The business men of Anaconda are fairly imbued with this idea and they propose to do their part in bringing not the name of this flourishing young city nto public prominence, but the name of Montana as well

According to the report of the state boiler inspector there are more engines at work in Montana this year than last. There are more censed engineers in the state now than ever before. This fact is very encouraging, for when bollers and engines are at work it is certain that industrial conditions are improving. MONTANA GEVEER BASINS

Montana in extent is 559 miles from east to west, and nearly 390 from north to south, containing an area of 159,000 square miles. There are 16,000,000 acres devoted to farming, 38,000,000 acres of grazing lands and 14,000,000 acres of forest. One-fifth, or about 20,000,000 acres, is mountainous. The Yel-lowstone geysers are familiar to many of The Hec's readers. The Yellowstone Park it-self is a reservation of about 3,500 square miles, the central portion being an elevated volcanic plateau, accentuated by deep and narrow canyons and broad and gentle eminences, surrounded by high and rugged mountain ranges. The geyser basins, as the localities are termed, conform in their reations to the surrounding high ground and their coincidence with lines of drainage and the loci of springs, to the laws governing the distribution of the same phenomena in other parts of the world. While the oleanic activity that resulted in the formavolcanic activity that resulted in the forma-tion of the park plateau may be considered as extinct, and no evidences of fresh lava overflow, yet the hot springs, so widely distributed over the plateau are convincing signs of the presence of underground heat. The desire of tourists to "soap a geyser" during their trip through the park became so frequent as to cause the beautiful blue springs and basins of the geysers to be "in he suds" constantly throughout the sensor Throwing anything into the hot springs is now prohibited by the government. When cold the waters are paistable, for the most part slightly alkaline to the taste, and probattly alkaline to the taste, and probattly alkaline to the laste, and probattly alkaline to the laste. ably wholesome enough, unless taken daily

RAILROADS IN THE STATE. It is a fact not appreciated by many per sons even in Montana that the state thirty-one railroads within its boundaries, including main lines and branches. Without including a new road just finished—the Montana raliway, fifty-six miles long, extending from Castle Junction, on the main line of the Northern Pacific railway to Leadboro, near Castle—there are 2,816 miles of road operated within Montana according to last year's assessment. In 1896 the assessed valnation of all railroads within the state was $10,438,231.08. William J. Bryan, silver apostle, has been invited to visit the state next month. The citizens of Butte are pluming themselves on giving him a big ovation. For one thing it is proposed to decorate every house in Butte where lives a silver man. It is also suggested that with the immense amount of free of the great advocate of the white metal be modeled after the Ada Reban type exher testify to Buite's loyalty in the coming Montana pays 60 per cent of the aggregate internal revenue collected from the three states included in the district, viz.: Monana, Idaho and Utah. Charles M. Webster the newly appointed collector of internal revenue for this district, was one of the early settlers of Great Falls. Those in posi-tion to know something of republican politic in Montana, see in the selection of Mr. Web sier strong evidence of an agreement be ween Senator Carter and Senator Mantle and Representative Hartman to divide the federal patronage of the state. Mr. Mantle and Mr. Hartman have both stated at different times that this open antagonism to the financial views of the republican party would pre-clude them from asking anything at the hands of the national administration.

PRETTY WARM IN KANSAS CITY. Mercury Climbs Up Near to the Top of the Tube.

KANSAS CITY, July 30 .- All heat records for the summer of 1897 were broken here to day, when the government weather bureau reported 92 degrees at noon, 97 at 1 p. m. 99 at 2 p. m., 100 at 3 p. m., 101 at 4 p. m and 100 at 5 p. m., and tonight the town is still sweltering, street thermometers generally remaining above 90 at 8 o'clock. Today's heat is the culmination of a week of very hot weather. There have been very few prostrations, however, and but one fa-tality. Bert Barker, a teamster, died yes-terday from sunstroke.

Business Troubles of a Day. BUFFALO, N. Y., July 30.—The Buffalo Refining company, of which C. B. Matthewa is the president, has made a general a sign ment for the benefit of its creditors. While the company is a comparatively small cor-poration, being capitalized at only $15,000, still it has been famous out of proportion to ts business magnitude, because it has been no of the few independent refiners of the country, and under various sames, for more Score; than twenty years, has maintained an exstence in active antagonism to the Standard

At the same time tomorrow G. L. Wrenn and Whitman will meet Mahony and Nesbit for the eastern championship in doubles. After today's game it seems reasonable to say that the tennis championship of this country will stay on this side of the water. In the game today between Larned and Nesbit, Nesbit managed to keep Larned at work until the last, making the third set a vantage one. Nesbit seemed unable to reach that brilliancy of play which was the feature of his match with Eaves on Tuesday. The net play of both men was about on a par. Larned played we'l within himself throughout, showing little of his customary nervousness.

Investigating Postoffice Needs. Inspector Swift of the Postal department arrived from St. Louis yesterday, having been sent by the department to investigate the necessity for more letter carriers. Mr. Swift went over one of the carrier's routes during the forencon and was surprised to find that the territory of this one carrier comprised 700 houses. In the afternoon Inspector Swift looked over the business district and made inquiries among merchants here concerning the service. Mr. Swift said that the number of carriers was all out of proportion to the territory to be covered, and when informed that the population of South Omaha was over 14,000 according to the recent census he was more surprised than ever. The inspector did not report he would make on the request of Postmaster McMillan, but it is judged that it will be favorable from the remark that he was surprised at the amount of mail handled

Men and women tremble at the mere thought of the thief and assassin who steals in at midnight to rob and slay. Without a qualm these same people face the deadly advances of a foe infinitely more dangerous. All the robbers and assassins in the history of crime did not slay as many human beings, as consumption kills in a single year. One-sixth of the population of the world dies of this deadly pestilence. It lurks in every home and in every public place, waiting for its victims. There is but one protection against it. The microbes of consumption may be safely defied by those who keep their blood rich in tissue building elements and free from impurities. The lungs, if supplied with pure blood, furnish no feet hold for the germs of consumption.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the greatest of all known blood-purifiers. It is the best tonic and invigorator. As a flesh-builder it has no equal. It has cured thou-sands of consumptives who have been pro-nounced incurable by physicians. It fills the arteries with rich, red, tissue-building blood, and drives from the system all discase germs. Thousands have testified to its merits.

Mrs. Ursula Dunham, of Sistersville, Tyler Co., W. Va., writes: "I should have been dead had it not been for your medicine. I was nearly dead when I began taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I had a pain in my side all the time, had but fittle appetite, and grew very thin. This was before I was married—five years ago. My baby is now nearly a year old. She was born last March. After she was born I had local weakness. I could not stand up long enough to wash the dishes. In September I began taking Dr. Pierce's Pavorite Prescription. I took three bottles and it cured me. I can now do all my work. When my baby was two months old she took a bad cold and had phthisic. She wheezed all the time till I gave her about a third of a bottle of 'Golden Medical Discovery.' She does not wheeze any more except when she has a bad cold."
