After these bids had been acted on a con tract was presented by Manager Kirkendall of the Department of Buildings and Grounds This contract covered the construction of the Mines building and Mr. Kirkendall stated that it had been drawn by Mr. Geraldine of his department. Upon looking it over the committee discovered that the phrase "General Superintendent Dion Geraldine" oc-cured with great frequency. Some of the members of the committee objected to this designation for the reason that Mr. Geral-dine was employed simply as a superintend-ent of construction and directions were given to have the contract changed to comport with the facts. It was also discovered by the ommittee that the contract was so loosely irown as to give the widest latitude to the number of changes were directed to be made to remove this objectionable feature and make the coontract more explicit.

MANY APPLICATIONS FOR SPACE. Manufactures Building Will Be Taxed to Its Limit. Although it will be more than nine months before the gates of the Transmississippi Exposition will be thrown open to the public, the capacity of some of the buildings promises to be taxed to the utmost to give space for the applicants who have already asked for space. This is especially true of the Manufacturers building. Applications for space aggregating more than the total floor space of this building have already been filed with the Department of Exhibits and Superintende Hardt announced yesterday that fully one-third of the applications would have to be thrown out. He said the greatest care would be exercised in selecting the exhibits which will be given space, in order that the Manufacturers building may present only such exhibits as are strictly first class in every respect. The great influx of applications for space in the Manufacturers building is not confine alone to domestic manufacturers, but the foreign firms are coming in at a rapid rate with applications for large sections of space. Superintendent Hardt has recommended to the executive committee that a separate building be erected for these foreign exhibits, but no action has yet been taken on his suggestion.

IN THE LEATHER SECTION. Commissioner T. P. Cartwright of the shoe and leather section of the manufactures exhibit returned Friday from an extended trip through the east, where he visited the principal centers for leather goods. Mr. Cartwright secured forty-two applications for space from the leather firms in the coun the largest stove repair house in the world, where over a million and a quarter pounds of stove repairs are kept, which includes repairs for over 150,000 different kinds of stoves and ranges. Exposition Pamphlets Burned. The Department of Publicity and Promotion was seriously inconvenienced by the fire at the plant of the Rees Printing company. The printing of 15,000 illustrated pamphlets had just been completed and were to have been delivered to the department yesterday. These were all destroyed by the flames and water and none of them can be used. The type forms, however, were uninjured, with the exception that the cuts of the buildings were badly warped. New cuts were put in were badly warped. New cuts were put in the forms and they were taken to a neighbor-ing establishment and the work of printing the pamphiets was resumed. The loss will make it impossible for the Department of Publicity and Promotion to supply the de-mand for these pamphlets for a few days.

BOY INJURED BY A STRAY BULLET. Result of Promiscuous Shooting by Two Detectives. Either Detective Dempsey or Detective Dunn yesterday afternoon accidentally shot George Wagenseller, an 11-year-old boy who lives at 1503 Binney street. The accident occurred in the neighborhood of 11 o'clock on the bottoms to the north of the Winspear triangle. Immediately after the accident the boy was removed to his home and a physician was called. It was found that the bullet had entered his back near the apex of the right lung. It could not be found, but it is not believed that it entered the lung, as there was no internal bleeding. The boy is rest ing easily. At the present time it is expected that he will soon recover.

The two detectives were driving north on Eleventh street from Nicholas street to investigate a robbery reported from East Omaha. When they reached a point at which the paved road leads eastward into East Omaha, they came upon three men, who were preparing to undress and bathe in a pond of water that lies west of Eleventh street. The detectives ordered them to dress and waited for them to comply with the

While halted here Detective Dunn drew out his revolver, with the remark that he intended to shoot it off and thus clean it out. He shot five times at some ducks that were swimming in the pond. Detective Dempsey followed his example. By this time the men who had been interrupted in their swimming dressed and the detectives drove

They had gone but a short distance when they were overtaken by a man who told them that they had shot a boy on the other side of the pond on Locust street. When the detectives reached the place they found that the boy had been taken home and they felowed him there. It seems that the lad was sitting on the orth side of Locust street, fishing in a pond that lies to the north. He was arising to pull out a fish when something struck him in the back. He thought some one had poked him in the ribs, but the blow wer struck by one of the bullets from the detectives' revolvers. The accident was a pe-culiar one, as the boy was several blocks rom where the detectives were, and ap pears to have been beneath the Locust street

The two detectives are considerably agi tated over the accident, although they were clieved to learn that it is not likely to result fatally.

FINANCES OF THE UNION PACIFIC. Money in Sight as Shown by Receivers' Estimate.

The receivers of the Union Pacific railroad by E. Ellery Anderson and Oliver W. Mink have filed in the United States court, pursuant to a provision of the decree of foreclosure recently issued, an approximate estimate of the finances of the roads, as they will appear October 1, next. The estimate shows the amount of money on hand to be $1,662,198.56; owing to the receivers, $826, 121.68; amount of contingent Habilities, $602, 639.12; and amount of fixed liabilities, $679.

The receivere say that in making the statement they have resorted to the accounts as prepared to May 31, 1897, the latest date to which the accounts have been extended and have estimated the receipts of the road for June. July, August and September at a sum equal to the sum realized during th

Whether the conventions ever got together, or how Gidding was reminated. I do not know. All I recollect now is that word was brought to Omaha that Gidding had been nominated and it struck the people here as being very funny. He was one of these quiet, shrewd ports to General Manager Holdrege Indicate that the entire town of Hot Springs is under water, and that considerable damage has all the more surprising.
"Well, he was elected. (The record shows that he received 377 votes against 266 for his leading opponent.) He went to Wash-ington and never returned to the state. He did nothing of any importance, and lit-tle was heard of him afterward. That is creek, which runs through the town, be- all I know about him. He was not really ween ten and twelve feet. Damage Not So Great as Has Been Reported.

Assistant General Freight Agent Wood of the Union Pacific returned yesterday from Kansas City, where he had been in conference with the freight officials of other transmissouri lines for several days past.

As stated in The Bee Friday the Nebraska railroaders succeeded in winning over the representatives of three prominent southwestern lines, and in perfecting an agreement for shipment of live stock on rates per 100 pounds.

Mr. Wood states that Kansas City and the state of Kansas have been favored with considerable rain during the past few days. He says that the only portion of Kansas in which the corn was at all damaged by Pyramid Pile Cure

MALOY THROWN INTO JAIL AGAIN.

Objects to Being Arrested and Resists the Officers. Harry Maloy, the "Cheyenne Kid," dieobeyed the orders the police gave him Friday to get out of the city and he was therefore arrested again yesterday on the fore arrested again yesterday on the charge of being a vagrant and a suspicious character. With him were arrested Pat Bailey and J. P. Brown, who were charged with the same offense.

The party was met on South Sixteenth street by a policeman, who apparently did not care to tackle them alone. He sent to the police station for assistance, and three policemen descended on the trio. Maloy attempted to escape by jumping on a car, but was captured. The other two readily surrendered. The one who gave the name of Brown bears the right name of Brennan and resides with very respectable parents in the southern part of the city. He has never been arrested before.

When Maloy was searched at the police station he had in his possession $7, a $5 bill and two $1 bills. The police at once jumped to the conclusion that the money was the same $5 and the same $1 bills that were stolen from the room of a guest at the Karbach hotel Friday night. The guest was summoned to the police station to ide the money, but he was unable to do so.
