vania, and that the Magyars will be loath to grant.

It appears that Murad Bey, the leader of the young Turkish party in Paris, has agreed to a conditional truce with the sultan, and has even expressed his willingness to become a hostage on condition of the fulfillment of certain stipulated reforms. Neither he nor his party, however, has any notion of surrender or of abandoning the objects of their organization. But the young Turks have been gratified by the successes of the Ottoman army in Greece and are willing to give the sultan one more chance of responding to the more urgent demands which they have been making for the last two years. They have no illusions, and their present attitude, as they have declared to Djemaleddin and the sultan, will not prevent them from renewing hostilities whenever the procrastination of the sultan seems to be astounding the form of bad faith. Meanwhile the news agencies announce that the arrest of young Turks is denied at Constantinople. The action brought against the Members has also been postponed at the special request of the Ottoman embassy in Paris. These are signs of concessing on the part of the sultan. There is as yet, however, no general conquest. The exiled Turkish students throughout Europe are still under the ban of the sultan's displeasure. His measure of confiscation of their property and the removal of their names from the roll of citizens of the empire has not been withdrawn or disavowed.

Undoubtedly the czar and the kaiser were both sincere in their publicly uttered wishes for peace at the St. Petersburg banquet. Although these two young men are the titular commanders of the two greatest armies in the world, they have ample reason for wishing for the preservation of peace in Europe. The time has gone by when monarchs could afford to make war to gratify personal ambition or win individual glory. The last emperor who flung down the gage of battle for such a purpose was Louis Napoleon; the world knows the result. Whatever the defects of the Romanoff and Hohenzollern dynasties may be, their heads do assuredly desire to maintain the present peaceful conditions on the continent unimpaired.

A new era has just begun in the history of Siberia. Since the beginning of this month the whole of that vast Asiatic empire of the czar has become endowed with a modern and uniform system of public justice. Law courts have been opened in the various provincial capitals, and the criminal tribunal of appeal of Siberia has been established at Irkutsk. Until now there has been no system of legal procedure whatever in Siberia, the entire country being subject exclusively to the arbitrary administration of autocratic officials. True, there is yet room for improvement, since for the present there is to be no trial by jury, while the justices of the peace are to be appointed by the crown, instead of being elected by the people of the district. At the same time the new system is certain to constitute a salutary check upon the hitherto unbridled tyranny of Russian officialdom in Siberia.

NEW INVENTIONS.

Housekeepers will appreciate a new article designed for their use, which is formed of a tin box with strips of metal at one end to be used as a grater, slicer, etc., the interior of the box being made into mouse trap or fly trap by means of a trap door and sticky paper.

Parcels of any shape can be easily attached to the bicycle by means of a new invention, consisting of a steel plate with perforated edges and a clamp on the back to attach it to the handle bar of the wheel, the eyelets around the edges being used to fasten cord which holds the package in place.

The slack on trolley ropes is kept out of the way by a newly patented device which is formed of a spiral spring with one end attached to the base of the trolley pole and the other holding a pulley, through which the rope runs, the spring stretching as the wire gets higher and requires more rope.

Penny-in-the-slot machines are now being made to inflate bicycle tires, an air tank being filled with flexible rubber tubes to be attached to the valve in the tire, after which the money is placed in the slot and the air flows into the tire, the act of unscrewing the tube from the valve closing the machine again.

A new design in neckties has two portions of the tie of the same length connected near the center by an elastic band, which goes under the front of the collar, the back ends containing a hook and eye to fasten the tie in place, the free ends being formed into a bow or four-in-hand, as desired by the wearer.

A MAIDEN'S PROTEST.

Denver Post.

I'd like to kill the sinner who discovered electricity,
And relegated to the past the kerosenish flame;
Who robbed us of the pleasures, aye, the heavenly felicity,
Which once were golden features of the lovely sparkling game.
I'd like to pull his fiendish ears until he yelled in agony—
And incidentally I'll say the same thing would my beau—
All local lovers are with him in bitterest antagony,
Because his light cannot be turned Away
down
low.

When kerosene was in its prime we'd sit with due propriety
Until the other folks had climbed the stairway for the night,
Then lovingly each would enjoy the other's sweet society
Beneath the old lamp's half-suppressed and dim religious light.
But now that incandescent thing in fiendish triumph stares at us
From early in the night until it's time for him to go,
Just winks its bright electric eye maliciously and glares at us,
Because it knows it can't be turned Away
down
low.

Were I queen of America I'd make of it a felony
To burn an incandescent light—myself would frame the law—
And if the people kicked I'd tell them all to go to Helena,
Which is located, I believe, 'way down in Arkansaw.
I'd re-establish kerosene in every community,
And all the boys and all girls would bless my name, I know,
For giving them the coveted and longed-for opportunity
To do their sparking with the light
Away
down
low.

President Gilmore and Secretary Henderson were instructed to draft a set of resolutions thanking the citizens and local committees for their hospitality.

As a slight token of esteem and mark of appreciation of services rendered, Captain J. R. Gilmore, the retiring president of the association, was presented with a gold-headed cane.

A movement is on foot to add Sarpy county to the association, and in future hold joint encampments.

CLOSING DAY AT CAMP STEWART.

Veterans of the Loup Valley Association Break Camp.

CAMP STEWART, NORTH LOUP, Neb., Aug. 13.—(Special.)—Today was the last day of the Loup Valley Veterans' association reunion and the inhabitants of the camp arose early after an enjoyable night of sleep and rest in camp. The camp has been remarkable for its quietness. No games of chance or dancing have been allowed on the grounds.

The exercises of the morning were begun by music by the Scotia Cornet band and drill by the Lombard cadets, a company of girls who have been drilled by Dr. F. O. Burdick of North Loup, and who execute a fancy drill. They drill each day and attract much favorable comment.

The morning session was mainly devoted to business. It was unanimously decided to hold another reunion next year. The time and place of holding was left to the executive committee of the association. Greeley and St. Paul are each contesting for the next reunion, Greeley offering to bear all expenses.

The afternoon session was taken up by singing of patriotic and national songs, recitations and addresses. One pleasing feature was a short talk by John Bridewell of Scotia, a former slave and a veteran of the war. Rev. J. M. Snyder of Verdurette gave the principal address, followed by Rev. O. D. Crawford of Silver Creek.

The evening session was in the nature of a campfire. General J. C. Culver of Milford, past department commander of the Grand Army of the Republic had telegraphed that he would be present and was given the evening. His talk was full of reminiscences and was greatly enjoyed by his hearers.

This address closed the three days' reunion so far as the regular program was concerned, but many of the veterans will not break camp until tomorrow morning.

LOCAL DEMOCRATS ADRIFT

Grooming Judge Duffie to Head Fusion State Ticket Next Fall.

NOT WILLING TO ACCEPT JUDGE SCOTT

Realize that Douglas County Will Be the Battleground and Feel the Need of a Local Candidate.

The democratic county committee has been called to meet this afternoon, and its action is expected to give a stimulus to local democratic politics. Up to within the past few days the call has been current that the committee would follow its example of last year and itself appoint the delegates to represent Douglas county in the democratic state convention. The sentiment against such a pretending scheme to be crystalizing. There is now a strong demand for primaries to elect the delegates, and it is not improbable that the committee will recognize this demand.

The selection of delegates to the state convention only indirectly concerns the democratic candidates for local offices, and there is no outlook for any big fight to control the delegation. The chief issue in the democratic field seems to be one the question of fusion, but whether Douglas county should be enrolled in the support of Judge Scott, who is the open and avowed candidate of the free silver republicans for the fusion nomination for supreme judge.

Through the World-Herald, which poses as the democratic organ, and by certain self-constituted Democratic leaders, Judge Scott has been led to believe that he could count on unconditional democratic encouragement. The democratic opposition to Scott was supposed to be favorable to W. H. Thompson of Grand Island, who has made several visits to Omaha to interview and patch up his fences. Yesterday appeared the most influential local democratic protest to have come to the consideration that Thompson is not the most available candidate and that in that event it would be better for them to take up a Douglas county man.

DUFFIE A LOGICAL CANDIDATE.

The man upon whom they are centered now is Judge E. E. Duffie, who served with Scott on the district bench and who was the fusion candidate for congress last fall. Speaking of this new turn of affairs, a well known democrat said yesterday:

"Duffie is our logical candidate for supreme judge. It is conceded that the first place on the fusion ticket this year should be given to a democrat, and it is also conceded that Douglas county will be the battleground of the campaign. A candidate who is known in Douglas county will add great strength to the ticket while a candidate who is unknown here will be like a stone weighting it down. Judge Scott is out of the question as a democratic candidate and it is idle to talk about him pulling the democratic vote. Judge Duffie, on the other hand, stands well here and throughout the state. He made the run for supreme last fall at a great sacrifice and without any expectation of winning out, when he would have preferred and thought he should have had the nomination for attorney general, which proved to be worth having. If Douglas county goes down to Lincoln with a solid delegation for Judge Duffie there is no reason why it should not secure his nomination. As I said before, Judge Duffie is the logical democratic candidate for supreme judge this fall."

The silver republicans have called their primaries and convention. The predominant sentiment among them is in favor of Judge Scott, and he will doubtless have the solid delegation from this county.

The populists are far from being agreed upon any single line of action. There are several elements in the party, each with a solution of the complication, and the members of each will go into the convention prepared to fight for their plan. George A. Magney, one of the judges of the municipal court, is quoted as upsetting of the populist situation yesterday, as he said:

POPULISTS BADLY DIVIDED.

"There is a great deal of difference among the local populists as to what will be the best course to pursue in the coming campaign, and it is difficult now to predict what will be done at the county convention. A large element of the party, which is looking to the future, is in favor of allowing the democrats to name the candidate, that the populists may be in a position to demand the governor next year. Another element is opposed to having a democrat head the ticket, but would not object very much to a silver republican, and these will probably throw their support to Judge Scott. The third element, which is by no means a small one, insists on having a straight populist ticket. It looks to me that each of the three fusion state conventions would have a candidate, and the contest will be in see which shall withdraw. The only name heard mentioned among the populists for the nomination is that of Judge William Neville of North Platte. A large majority of the party feel that he was elected last fall but was unable to take his seat owing to the defeat of the amendment, and they are now in favor of electing him again when the election is not dependent upon the success of a side issue. The silver republicans will undoubtedly nominate Scott, while the democrats have Thompson and Duffie. Personally, if a democrat is to be selected to head the fusion ticket, I should prefer Duffie, for I believe he has greater judicial ability than Thompson."

Eighth Ward Republicans.

The Eighth Ward Business Men's Republican club held a meeting at Wolfe's hall, Twenty-second and Cuming streets, last night. J. T. Dailey presided, with C. J. Westerfield as secretary. Speeches were made by Phil Winters and Judge L. D. Holmes. Charles Turner and J. D. Pope announced their candidacy for the offices of county commissioners from the Fourth and Seventh wards. Speeches were also made by H. K. Burket, who announced that he would be in the race this fall for the office of coroner; R. Ehey, candidate for county superintendent of schools, and P. V. E. Gamble and J. T. H. Ward for the positions of collectors.

KLONDIKE FEVER IS ABATING.

Mad Rush to See New Gold Fields Over for the Season.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—During the past week the Klondike fever has abated somewhat in this city, owing probably to the discouraging reports received from Dyea. There are plenty of people who announce their intention of trying the Chilkat route in the spring, and of those who are anxious to get at once a large proportion seem disposed to travel via St. Michael and up the Yukon. Promoters of expeditions by this route are ready with gruesome assurances that the trip can be made before the closing of navigation, but in all cases they are careful not to bind themselves in any way to take passengers through this fall. At the offices of the steamship companies it is reported that the inquiry for tickets is diminishing.

ASTORIA, Ore., Aug. 13.—The Oregon Railway and Navigation company's steamer George W. Elder has arrived here from Dyea. The Elder left Dyea August 9. It confirms previous reports that both the White and Chilkat passes are blockaded. The route from Skaguay via White pass is more level and easier traveled, though twenty-five miles farther, but the prospector is landed on Lake Bennett, the summit lake above Lindeman, where travelers to the Chilkat pass are landed. Besides there is plenty of timber on Bennett lake to build boats, while there is none on Lindeman.

Nearly all of the Elder's passengers were landed at Dyea, the vessel lying a mile and a half out in the bay. Passengers and goods were lightered ashore at a cost of $10 per ton for freight. Officers of the Elder say that not one-half the people will get over the mountains this winter. Many are selling out their outfits and returning. Letters from parties who went up on the Elder advise their friends not to go this fall as they cannot get through.

ASTORIA, Aug. 13.—The steamer Mayflower, towing a large barge loaded with supplies, has left for Dyea. It will take the inner passage and the captain anticipates no trouble in reaching his destination.

MAIL FACILITIES TO KLONDIKE.

Proposed Co-Operation with Canadian Authorities.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The Postoffice department has written the postal authorities of Canada concerning co-operation in carrying the mails to the Klondike country, but there is not much hope of being able to reach an adjustment as the American contractor may not accept a modification of his contract. The proposition made is that the two governments should co-operate and arrange for an interchange of mail at Circle City and Dawson City, the United States to maintain a service once a month, and Canada the same. This would give two mails every month. No reply has been received from the Canadian government, and even if it was favorable arrangements must be made with the contractor who carries mail to Circle City to carry the mail destined for Dawson City in Canada. His representatives in Washington has intimated that he will not care to contract, and indications that in case there is to be an increase in the service the contractor should have considerable more compensation. The Postoffice department cannot modify the contract and impose more labor on the contractor without his consent. It is recognized at the department that the arrangement must be a mutual agreement, not only with the Canadian government, but with the Alaska contractor.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whisky nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding Nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price 50c and $1.00 per bottle at Kuhn & Co.'s drug store.

Arrested for Incendiarism.

IRONWOOD, Mich., Aug. 13.—An alleged attempt to defraud insurance companies has been disappered here. Charles H. Rose of Hurley and Henry Lynsall of this place have been arrested on a charge of incendiarism. Only yesterday fire destroyed three buildings, two of which belonged to Rose. According to the police, Lynsall has confessed that Rose hired him to fire the buildings.

Not Willing to Prosecute.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 13.—J. F. Liebke, the young St. Louis society man who was arrested on a charge of detaining Miss Bayless in a carriage for immoral purposes, appeared in the police court this morning to answer the charge. The relatives of the young woman and her attorneys asked that the case be dismissed. The court so ordered.

Heirs Sue the Railroad.

Rudolph Hohna, administrator of the estate of Anton Kaspar, commenced suit yesterday against the Union Pacific railway receivers for $5,000 on account of the killing of Kaspar. It was alleged in the petition that Kaspar was a passenger on a Union Pacific train October 5, 1896, en route from Schuyler to Omaha, and was killed in a collision at Fremont. It is alleged that Kaspar left a widow and thirteen children, whose ages ranged from 25 years to 6 months.

The answer of the receivers was filed with the petition, and asks a confession of judgment in the sum of $5,000.

Hurt by a Reckless Driver.

L. L. Green, while crossing the street near Sixteenth and Webster last night, was knocked down and run over by Frank Snyder, who was driving a fast horse. Snyder was arrested for fast driving and for being drunk. Green was picked up and taken to his home at 1521 Burt street, where it was found that he had been seriously injured.

Seriously Hurt in a Fight.

G. W. Carter and Ray Sellers got into a fight last night near Ruser's park, over a trivial matter and the latter pulling a knife from his pocket, cut Carter across the stomach. He then made his escape. Carter was brought to this city and taken to the Presbyterian hospital, where he now lies in a precarious condition.

It heals everything except a broken heart, may be said of De Witt's Witch Hazel Salve. Piles and rectal diseases, cuts, burns, bruises, tetter, eczema and all skin troubles may be cured by it quickly and permanently.
