DRAW FOR TENNIS TOURNEY

About Forty Contestants for the Omaha Interstate Meet.

MANY OUTSIDERS WILL TAKE PART

Play Will Begin on Harney Street Courts This Afternoon and Many Interesting Struggles Are Expected During the Week.

At 4 o'clock this afternoon on the grounds of the Omaha Lawn Tennis club on Harney street will be played the first games in the fourth annual interstate tournament held by this club. The list of entries is an excellent one and some fine contests may be expectset during the week. Seven Chicago men, two from Hinsdale, Ill., two from Kansas City, one from West Point, N. Y .. one from Philadelphia, one from Council Bluffs, in addition to twenty-five Omaha players, make up an aggregation that is a credit to the local club. Of the Chicago delegation only Ralph Condee has been seen on the Omaha courts before. He was one of the contestants a year ago and although others carried off greater honors in that tournament, no one made himself a more general favorite on the ground. Justin Bowersock of Kaneas City took part in the tournament in Omaha two years ago. play on that occasion was a disappointment to those who were watching the contesta. but he has had good practice this sesson and comes here direct from the Kansas state tournament at Emporia, where he has been very successful. Gordon of West Point has been practicing in Omaha for two three weeks, Spencer of Council Bluffs is well known here, but all the other outsiders are strangers, and there will be much interest to see how the local cracks stand up against them.

One match in doubles and six in singles are on the card for tonight. It is curious that Coleman and Fred Lake, who will play this afternoon, were pitted against each other in the first round of the tournament three years ago. Coleman won on that occesion, but only after a match in which one set reached the extraordinary score to 16. That desperate struggle took place on the memorable hot day of July 26, 1894. Following is the draw:

I was at Philadelphia and heard and saw nothing of this nature excepting the statement made to me by the clerk at the Walton hotel (the headquarters of the Indianapolis delegation), who told me that a banker named "Ford" was stopping there, and that he stated that "Omaha did not want the '98 league meet of American Wheelmen," and further stated that Mr. Ford said that the "Omaha parties in Philadelphia who were working for the meet were not authorized by Omaha authorities. There was no occasion for these remarks state of affairs as was mentioned in the McCorthy letter.

I have written Mr. McCarthy for his source of information and the names of the parties he claims were "fighting for leader-ship" (I den't know of what), in order that his answer may be published. This rume was probably started by friends of the was probably started by friends of the Indianapolis delegation in order to injure Omaha and help Indianapolis. The Indianapolis "advocates" were not too good to "kangeroo" one of Omaha's boys in order to rob of him of buttons and badges and destroy them—why should they be too good to start such a rumor? And why should Omaha papers publish and comment upon such a private letter founded upon hearsay and uncertainty as though it were a fact? The parties who went from Omaha to Philadelphia went of their own volition and were dot chosen by any one. Headquarters were established at the Lafavette heat by the finish, for any distance, in a match race. Hoping that Mr. Mierstein will see his way clear to give me a race, I remain very respectfully. Many delegates outside of Philadelphia called at our headquarters and were welcome, although we were unable financially to concrtain them as we would liked to have done. All delegates who called there pledged their support for Omaha for '98. I must say, however, that very few Philadelphia boys called at our headquarters, excepting representatives from the Philadelphia Turner Cyclers' club, Kenilworth Wheel and the Century Wheel club of Philadelphia.

If Omaha's chances for securing the national meet for 1898 were good before the Philadelphia meet, they are still good, and outside the city of Philadelphia will get a outside the city of Philadelphia will get a large vote. But the business men of Omaha must go after it. If they do not, "Omaha is out of it." Indianapolis was represented at Phil's hia by a club of twenty-five business men, of which Mayor Taggart was at the head, and accompanied by her postmaster, one judge of the supreme court of Indiana four members of the city council, several members of the Board of Trade and $3,000 in cash to spend in Philadelphia at banquets, for souvenirs, refreshments and Nearly the first move they made was to give a banquet to the newspaper men of Philadelphia at the Walton hotel. from the Commercial club and a few dol lars raised by subscription, and this was spent mostly for badges, buttons and spent mostly couvenirs. Notwithstanding this great disadvantage Omaha made a good fight, and outside of Philadelphia (which, I venture to say, was bought by Indianapolia gold before Omaha arrived on the ground), the sentiment of the delegates was for Omaha, and still is, unless it is ruined by "home kickers" and publications founded on rumor.

In addition to the Omaha delegation we were assisted by the Kansas City boys, the Denver Wheel club and other former Omaha citizens now residing in Philadelphia, among whom were Buck Taylor, a Mr. Kelley Charles Kaempfer, Robert Wells and other friends of the city Now, let me add that if the Omaha busl-

The league wheelmen of Omaha without help never will successfully land the '98 national meet, and if they should they cannot without help entertain them. The business men of the city are the ones who will receive the benefits, and the business men of the city can, if they will give onehalf the efforts and attention that Indian-apolis has already done, land the meet and properly care for it. if it is a good thing for Indianapolis it is a good thing for Omaha, especially during the Transmississippl Exposition. MIERSTEIN GETS FIRST MONEY. End of the Bieycle Race Comes Amid

Much Excitement. The greatest bicycle race ever run in Omaha was that which reached its climar at the Charles Street park last evening. Over 3,000 people crowded the grand stand and bleachers and a wilder, noisier, more and bleachers and a wilder, noisier, more enthusiastic crowd never assembled to witness an athletic event in this neck of the woods. The fun began from the very instant the starter's pistol sent the bunch away on the last night of their weary journey, and after an hour of the hardezt, maddest and best riding ever seen on a local track, George Mierstein, the popular little favorite, shot like a warm meteor over the tape, a few yards the best of Virgil Hall, and cinched the first prize, ties in gold. As popular as Mierstein's victory was, it is extremely doubtful whether his host of friends would have been accorded the opportunity to yell their lungs out, had it not been for the accident that happened "Birdie" Bird, the St. Paul floor.

REPLIES TO MCARTHY LETTER.

Fitch Tells of the Work Done at Philadelphia.

OMAHA. Aug. 16.—To the Editor of The Bee: In the Bee of August 13 is published what purports to be a private letter from George L. McCarthy, editor of the American Wheelman, to D. J. O'Brien of this city, criticising and reflecting upon all Omaha portes in attendance at the national meet in Philadelphia. I say all parties, because in thematter to which I refer no particular party is mentioned.

Just why publicity should be given to a private letter of this nature, founded, as it shows from its face, upon rumor and hearmay, and reflecting upon Omaha's representatives and their work and conduct at Philadelphia during the national meet of the League of American Wheelmen, without investigation, in view of the fact that all parties are interested in getting that meet for Omaha next year, I leave for your readem to easy. Why does not Mr. McCarthy, head can be supported to be fighting for the leadership. Leadership of what? There was no occasion to be fighting for anything excepting to procure for Omaha he vis meet. The Omaha boys had no occasion for a leader:

Argonaut Wins.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 16.—The pairoared shell race for the American championship, which was ordered to be rowed over ship, which was ordered to be rowed over by the referee of the National regatta because of the crews fouling each other at the turn stake Saturday, was won by the Argonaut Rowing club of Toronio. There were three starters. West Philadelphia had the shore buoy, Argonaut the middle one and the Vespers of Philadelphia the outside course. Argonaut rowed beautifully and crossed the line a winner by three lengths. Time: 10:111-5.

Exciting Incidents Transpire in the Pennsylvania Coal Regions.

MUTINY, MURDER, COURT RROCEEDINGS

De Armitt's Injunction Case Comes Up and Pending a Decision the Temporary Restraining Order is Continued.

PITTSBURG Ang. 16 .- Today was fraught with exciting incidents on matters pertaining to the miners' strike. Mutiny in the miners' camp, a murder in the deputies' ranks, filing of criminal and civil suito against the De Armitts and the hearing in the injunction case against President Dolan and others kept both sides to the struggle busy and on the qui vive all day long.

The hearing in the injunction case before Judges Stowe and Collier was perhaps one of the most important and interesting ever held in the federal court. It was a hearing in which both capital and the rights of labor were interested and the decision is expected to have a telling effect on the conduct of the great coal miners' strike, which has been on since July 5.

From the testimony adduced and from the expressions of the court it can be safely said that there will be some surprises. That the injunction will be materially modified there can be no doubt, which on its face would indicate a victory for the strikers. The preliminary decree has been contin-ued pending a consultation of the judges and an opinion will probably be handed down by noon tomorrow.

Judge Collier said in court today that the strike would go down in history as one of the wonders of the century and remarkable on account of the utter lack of disorder for which the strikers are commended and have the sympathy of the court. Said he: "There can be no question as to what our duty is under all the testimony, but I am somewhat in doubt as to whether or not the order should be modified. We exanot determine this without a consultation.

Judge Stowe said this evening: "This injunction will not justify the issuing of act attachment against any marchers who are ot found in company with the men named in the injunction.

He let it be understood that the injunetion is not so sweeping as has been thought that only the five men camed in the writ-Patrick Dolan, William Warner, Cameron Miller, Uriah Bellingham and Edward Me-Kay-are restrained from marching or trespassing on the company's property. The others mentioned can be only those found in company of the five named in the injunction. As near as can be learned, the strikrs, under the injunction, can march, but not at stated times, as long as they are not in company with any of these defendants.

Judge Stowe decided both motions out of order and President De Armitt was called to the stand. His testimony did not materially differ from the affidavits filed when the preliminary injunctions were secured.

Superintendent Thomas De Armitt, next witness, described the marches of the strikers and their camps and said that 200 or 300 of their men had told him they were stay in the house or he would be "done up" and that he had been shot at. The witness refused to give the name of his informant and Judge Stowe said that anything that was endangered was competent. They were here, he said, to find out if the conduct of the atrikers was such as to cause the injunction to be continued. President Dolan was next called for crossexamination, and during his testimony said that the strike was made at the request of several operators. Among the number were James Shields, Captain J. J. Steytier and Captain Blythe. These operators, he said, had told him that De Armitt was ruining the trade and the only thing that would save them from the sheriff and the miners from nounced that the final decision would be rendered tomorrow and pending this the preliminary injunction would be continued.

Taking advantage of the suspension of marching, a number of men went to work during the morning at the Oak Hill mine.

They were gotten in by strategy and the strikers were outwitted. Agents of the company have been at work among the strikers for over a week and although they have induced some to retern, the result has been disappointing. It was thought enough men could be procured to run the mine in full. The agents worked hard, but found about one-half of the men in full sympathy with the demand for 69 cents, while the remainder were afraid to go to

There was open rebellion at the Sandy Creek strikers' camp this morning. Some fifteen or twenty foreigners who were dis satisfied with the commissary complained to Captain May and demanded better food. He told them that the man in charge of the commissary department was doing all right and they were being well treated. foreigners then threatened to march, and Captain May ordered the deputies to arrest them if they did not keep quiet.
