Twelve Ballots Taken Without Result, the Vote Being a Tie Each Time, and Question is Postponed.

The deadlock in the Board of Education on the selection of a fifteenth member to Jonathan Edwards, remains unbroken. Both factions united at the regular meeting tast night in accepting the resignation, but when it came to the selection of his successor they drifted hopelessly apart. Bandhauer, Dennis, Hess, Irey, Lunt, Sears and Van Gilder voted for J. L. Weishans, and Anderson, Davidson, Gratton, Johnson, Jordan, Moore and Penfold cast their votes for Andrew Kiewit. Each of these candidates received seven votes on a dozen successive ballots, after which the fight was called of until the next meeting. In the meantime Vice President Penfold remains in the chair, and neither element has a controlling majority in the board. The resignation of President Edwards was the first document road after two or three routine reports had been disposed of, and on motion of Sears it was accepted by a unan-imous vote. Jordan moved that the board proceed to ballot to fill the vacancy, and the long-drawn-out ordeal was promptly begun. The first ballot set the pure which was kept up without a break. J. L. Welshans re-ceived the seven Lunt votes, while the remaining seven went to Andrew Klewit. The second ballot produced no change and Lunt moved that further balloting be deferred. until the next regular meeting. Jordan raised the point that the third ballot was already in progress and was sustained. Lunt had been announced, and Davidson amended to the effect that the regular order of busi-ness should be taken up and the halloting renewed after this had been disposed of. Both motions were lost by a tie vote and the fourth ballot was ordered. This was followed by numerous others until the total reached twelve and neither rank was broken, Finally Dr. Moore grew tired of the dead-lock and assisted the opposition to postpone further action until the next regular
